GREAT BONA-FIDE CLEARING SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, TRUNKS AND VALISES, IS BOOMING!

The Goods are Going Out Rapid. Our System of conducting the Sale meets with general Approval. ☞ Come with the Crowds.

Having decided to retire from the Boot and Shoe Business, I have placed my $8000 Stock of Boots and Shoes on the market at actual Cost. Ten Thousand Pairs of Boots and Shoes must be Cleared Out within the next TWO MONTHS. I have made arrangements to enter into another branch of business on Sept. 15th, and have decided to sell my entire Stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Valises, etc., AT ACTUAL COST. Remember this is a Genuine Clearing Out Sale, and Great Bargains may be looked for. Any Goods remaining on the above date will be either removed from Town or sold en bloc, as the Stock must be Cleared. The public have shown their appreciation of my way of doing business for the past five years. The Goods have always been marked in plain figures, and there has been only one price to all. Our prices have always been as Low as the Lowest. All parties attending this Clearing Sale will be able to see the Reduction at a glance, as the Reduced Price will be plainly marked underneath the Original Prices.

THE STOCK IS ALL FRESH AND WELL ASSORTED.

Come early and secure the Choice of the Stock at WHOLESALE PRICES. Our shop, from the Eighth of July, will be open every evening till Nine o'clock. Don't Mistake the Place: BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM, West Side of George Street, Sign of the RED FLAG.

To Whom it May Concern.

A Good Opening.

By reference to advertisement on first page it will be seen that there is an excellent position open for a first-class insurance man. It is worth the attention of a good man.

East Riding Exhibition.

The nineteenth annual exhibition of the East Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society, says the Register, will be held in Norwood on the 11th and 12th of October. Over $1,000.00 in premiums will be offered.

Postponed.

The firemen's excursion to Grimsby, announced for July 28th, has been postponed till August 4th, the C.P.R. company being unable to supply the special train on that day. Bear the date in mind and make no other engagements.

Tug of War Team.

The following will likely compose the P. A.A.A. team who will pull against the Fire Brigade team to-night on the Association grounds, in the "Tug-of-War":—Dr. Fred. Brennan, Dr. Geo. Burnham, and Messrs. R. B. Rogers, J. Thomas, Moore, Max Hamilton, Geo. A. Schofield, Packenham, Gale, S. May, C. J. Logan, and A. St. A. Smith.

Conquered by the Elements.

Owing to the rain, the lawn social under the auspices of the Mission Band of the George street church, to have been held at the residence of Mrs. Dixon last night, was declared off. This is the second time rain has interfered, and the idea of holding the social has been totally abandoned.

Honours for Canadian Boatmen.

The Canadian boatmen who took part in the Soudan Campaign are, it seems, to share in the bestowal of bronze stars which the Khedive of Egypt is about to make, and they certainly merit the reward. The star will be of a similar pattern to that granted for the Egyptian campaign of 1882, and will bear on it the years 1884-85.—London Canadian Gazette.

Lawn Social

On Thursday evening, July 21st, at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Dixon, Smithtown Hill. There will be a sale of both useful and fancy articles, also ice cream, etc., on the grounds. The Fire Brigade Band will be in attendance. Buses will convey parties from the Post Office corner to the grounds from 7 o'clock—fare 10c. Admission 10 cents.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

Camp Supplies.

Messrs. Elliott & Tierney have now everything ready for their store at Stoney Lake where camping parties can have all their wants in the grocery and provision line supplied, and save themselves the trouble of carrying their supplies from town. The goods will be sold at Peterborough prices. The store will be in running order, particularly for the A. C. A. meet, but it will be continued as long as there are sufficient campers at the lake to make it a paying investment.

West Durham Farmers' Institute.

At a meeting of Darlington farmers held a Hampton on the 15th inst., the West Durham Farmers' Institute was organized with the following officers:—President, Mr. J. Pen-dound; Vice-President, Mr. W. Rose; Treasurer, J. Littlejohns; Secretary, Mr. F. L. Squair; Executive Committee, Messrs. T. Baker, E. Worden, M. Frost, J. Trull, W. Pollard, B. Werry, E. Pascoe.

The Debenture By-law.

The by-law to authorize the issuing of debentures to the amount of $20,000 for the purpose of raising funds to build bridges over the creek on several streets and to crib Crescent street will be voted on next Thursday. No advantage was taken of the clause in the by-law empowering citizens who objected thereto to demand the appointment of scrutineers for polling day, the time for which expired yesterday. Voting takes place in each ward as follows:—No. 1 Ward, at the Mission School; No. 2 Ward, the old Music Hall; No. 3 Ward, Rathbun's office, Murray street; No. 4 Ward, Wm. Lee's shop.

Remnants of Prints and Muslins must all be cleared out this week, at Turnbull's; for Genuine Bargains call at Turnbull's.

Templar Offices.

The following officers of Peterborough Council, No. 97, Royal Templars of Temperance, were installed at the last regular meeting. The Order of Royal Templars is a temperance, insurance, and sick benefit society, the two latter being optional with the members. Peterborough Council is thriving:—

Two Cases Contrasted.

Says the Brockville Recorder:—"Peterborough, though it has nothing like the fire appliances Brockville has, is trying to get into class B. In some correspondence which took place the secretary of the Underwriters Association concluded a letter with an assurance that the association are anxious to meet the demands of towns like Peterborough which are making laudable efforts to improve their fire protection appliances. Why don't they show their desire in the case of Brockville? After all we cannot blame them so much, when we find that their action is the result of people in the town who misrepresent our position, betray the trust which has been reposed in them, and throw obstacles in the way of our claims being properly considered. We hope Peterborough has not such traitors to her interests in her midst."

"Jack" McBride.

John McBride hails from Harwood, and wears a red flannel shirt which gives him the appearance of a Salvation soldier. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Jas. English saw "Jack" wading out into the water from the river bank, and thinking probably it was some unfortunate Salvationist suffering from religious mono-mania, who became tired of life and was bound for the "other shore," immediately hauled him out and conducted him to the police station. There it was discovered that Jack was full, and had been taking a bath. At the Police Court this morning Mayor Stevenson (acting in the absence of Mr. Dumble) discharged the delinquent with a warning that if he was found drunk in town again he would be sent to gaol for 30 days. "Oh, you wont catch Jack drunk in Peterborough again, you bet," was the smiling rejoinder as the happy Jack ambled pleasantly out of the court room.

Smith's Falls Short Line.

The opening of the above road will take place about the first of next month, and it will then be the shortest route between Montreal and Toronto by forty miles. The line is looked upon by practical men as the best laid and equipped in the country, and as it is wholly free from curves, fast time it is expected will be made. The grading began in May 1886, and both grading and masonry work was finished by December. The whole of the ballasting is now completed, and the large span of the St. Anne's bridge will be in place in a few days, and then the road will be ready for trains from end to end. The rails used weigh 72 pounds to the yard, and the ties are 9 feet long with seven inch face and 6½ inches thick. The grades are slight, and the culverts and cattle guards are all built of stone. The masonry of all the bridges is laid on concrete foundations. Between Smith's Falls and Montreal there are nine bridges, the chief ones being at St. Anne's and Vaudreuil, crossing the two branches of the Ottawa river. The masonry of the piers of these bridges is pronounced by engineers as strong as in those of the Victoria bridge.

Willow and Wicket.

Peterborough vs. Belmont.

This match, which has been looked forward to with much interest by the cricket community, was played yesterday. Unfortunately the weather was against the game, the luncheon interval being extended to over two hours. After the rain ceased, a new wicket had to be pitched, the first time this has ever occurred on the Peterborough grounds.

Peterborough won the toss and batted first. The wicket played beautifully, and how a strong batting team like the Peterborough's got out for 52 runs is a mystery to themselves and the spectators. Pacey has several Pase(y)s, and by means of changing these he got rid of several good bats. Rogers played well for 13. Rutherford, strange to say, took 35 minutes to get 11 runs, a proof of the excellence of the bowling and the closeness of the fielding. H. Ray was a long time at the wickets for the few he got, while Miles Hamilton led the fielders a merry dance during his tenancy of the wickets.

When Belmont went to bat, the scene was changed. The two cracks, J. A. and W. Scott, were got rid of cheaply, but Pacey and Machin hit merrily for their runs. The great stand of the innings was made by Smith (a name which sounds strangely familiar), and Coates, the latter of whom played a rattling game for his 46. Work was dismissed by a grand catch by Logan in slips. Before Smith was disposed of he had run up 58 in fine style. The rest of the team were easily disposed of, the innings closing for 173.

In Peterborough's second innings, Sam Ray and Bell started well, getting 30 before Bell was well caught in slips. H. Ray was caught at point off his body, but Sam was not got rid of until he had got 24 by splendid cricket. Rogers fell to a grand catch by the bowler at 45. Rutherford had some fine hits and then he hit once too often and got left in the long field. Stratton and Thomas played out time, Stratton's score being got by very patient play. At 6 o'clock stumps were pulled, according to agreement, the visitors having to leave for Toronto, where they play to-day. The score at the close stood 67 runs for five wickets down. NOTES.

"Old timers" who were on the grounds from start to finish were delighted with the fine display of good cricket afforded by the match.

The team of the Belmonts are all young men and all native Americans except three, Pacey, (the professional) of the celebrated Notts club, being a tower of strength to the eleven.

While the excellent batting and bowling of the visitors contributed largely to their success, the sharpness of their fielding was no inconsiderable factor.

The Belmonts while on the turf are continuously practising fielding. The ball is in perpetual motion from the umpires' "out" to the captains' cry "man in." The Quakers have reduced fielding to a science, and its efficacy in keeping down a score was made evident yesterday.

Yesterdays' match ought to demonstrate to the home eleven that success at cricket is not to be gained without constant and systematic practice. Striking a position, spreading a bat and making imaginary drives at balls is not practice.

Their record in the second innings showed that they can play cricket when they settle down to their work. Their practice in the first innings, if it had been had previously, would have resulted in triple figures in their first innings instead of a little half hundred.

The Peterborough eleven have the timber in them to play as good cricket as the Belmonts. Practice is all that is required to develop it.

The Canadian and American flags floated amicably together yesterday on either side of the entrance to the grounds.

There was an unusually large assemblage of spectators present—for a cricket match—and but for the rain the number would have been larger.

In the first innings the Belmonts did not find it necessary to make any change in the bowling. In the first half of the second several changes were made, and more would have been necessary before the other five wickets were disposed of.

The lady friends of the club contributed materials for the spreading of an excellent luncheon. Mrs. (Dr.) Burnham and Mrs. (Hon.) Hamilton were the leading spirits and personally superintended the serving of the refreshments.

By Electric Light.

The Attraction of the Season—Sports by Electric Light.

The directors of the P. A. A. A. having decided to hold a series of athletic sports by electric light, will inaugurate the new movement this evening. The Ashburnham grounds will be brilliantly illuminated for the occasion, and as the track is in splendid condition fine sport is expected. Following is the programme:—

1. One Hundred Yards Run (open).—Medal.
2. One Mile Bicycle (closed).—Medal.
3. One quarter Mile run (open).—Medal.
4. 120 Yards Hurdle (open).—Prize.
5. Two Mile Bicycle, Handicap (closed).—Medal.
6. One-fifth Mile Bicycle, slow race (closed).—Prize.
7. Tug of War, between P. A. A. A. and Fire Brigade.—Box Cigars.

Prizes in events Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 5, to be won twice.

The sports will begin at 8 o'clock; admission to grounds, 15c. The fire brigade band will be in attendance and discourse music. The medals and prizes are unusually handsome and expensive, and well worth the winning. Everyone should attend.

The Very Place.

When you want fine, prime, fresh groceries or provisions, go to the nobbiest, best stocked, neatest, completest shop in town, which is to say Elliot & Tierney's,

Piles of Remnants in Every Department now being cleared out for whatever they will bring, at Turnbull's.

Fruit Jars.

In canning fruit, it is absolutely necessary that you should have good reliable jars. These may be obtained at the very lowest price only at "China Hall."

A Proverb Belied.

The proverb says: "To-morrow never comes"; but W. J. Morrow will always be found at the town clock grocery, ready to sell groceries at the very lowest prices for cash Call and see him.

THE Orange and Green agree that the "Eagle" boot and shoe store is the place to buy, so the Kidd is pleased.

DEMONSTRATION

IN

PETERBOROUGH.

The Annual Sessions of the Grand Encampment and Grand Lodge of Ontario, I. O. O. F., will be held in Peterborough, from

AUGUST 9th to 12th,

On Wednesday, August the 10th, a magnificent and imposing Demonstration under the distinguished patronage of Lieut. General Underwood and Staff, "P.M." of Covington, Kentucky, will commence at 1 P. M., from the Central Park, where the Several Branches of the Order consisting of Cantons, Encampments, and Lodges, who will assemble and form in procession and accompanied by several of the Finest Bands in the Dominion, will parade through the principal streets of the city to the Driving Park and Agricultural Grounds. On arriving at the Grounds.

THE EXHIBITION DRILL,

Consisting of Militant and Fancy Movements, and Evolutions, will be given by several "Cantons."

At the conclusion of the Exhibition an Elegant Silk Flag, (regulation colors), will be presented with appropriate ceremonies, to each "Canton" present. The Parade, Procession and Militant Exhibition, will comprise hundreds of Superbly Uniformed "Chevaliers" of the Military Branch of the Order, and will constitute a spectacle never equalled in attractiveness in Ontario. The Montreal "Canton" will be accompanied by a number of "Highland Pipers," in costume, who will play a selection of Scottish airs on the grounds.

An attractive Programme of Events will be carried out consisting of: Trotting Race, Purse for all, $250.00 purse, Bicyle Race, Foot Race, Highland Fling, 100 yards Dash, Sword Dance, Fat Men's Race, Tug of War and Consolation Race,

On the evening of the same day a GRAND CONCERT will take place in the Opera House.

An OPEN AIR CONCERT will be given by several bands in the Horticultural Garden and Central Park. The Gardens will be brilliantly illuminated from the Electric Tower of 12 lamps and the general decoration and illumination of the town will prove to all a sight long to be remembered.

To visitors who purpose staying in and around Peterborough for several days, the Committee have arranged for

From the Pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa: I have been troubled with Catarrh so badly for several years that it seriously affected my voice. I tried Dr. ——'s remedy without the slightest relief. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored and my head feels better than it has for years.

B. F. LIEPSNER, (A.M.)

We recommend Ely's Cream Balm where a cure for Catarrh is called for, and consider that we are doing the public a service by making its virtues known to those afflicted with this loathesome disease, for which it is in most instances a perfect cure. HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

THE REFORM NOMINEE OF RENFREW CONVENTION.

Mr. Duncan McIntyre Accepts the Nomination—A Cabinet Council About Railway Matters—The Announcements in The Official Gazette.

OTTAWA, July 22.—Information was received here to-day that Mr. Duncan McIntyre has telegraphed his acceptance of the Grit nomination for South Renfrew.

An extra Canada Gazette was issued this morning containing quarantine regulations for Grosse Isle and other quarantine stations. They provide that no one shall be allowed to land at Rimouski, unless the quarantine officer is satisfied that such landing will not be detrimental to the public health, that all persons ill with cholera shall be landed at Grosse Isle and the vessel disinfected; also that all steerage passengers are to be vaccinated unless they can show that they have been vaccinated or have had the smallpox within seven years. And in case of there having been a case of smallpox on board during the voyage then every person on the vessel is to be vaccinated and if any person refuses to be vaccinated he is to be landed at Grosse Isle and put in quarantine and the expense of keeping him charged to the vessel.

A meeting of the Council was held this evening to settle some routine business connected with the Railway Department. Hon. Mr. Pope presided, and Hon. Mr. Thompson, Hon. Mr. Costigan, Sir Adolphe Caron and Hon. Mr. Carling were also present. The two last left this evening, Sir Adolphe Caron for Gaspe and Hon. Mr. Carling for Dalhousie. Hon. Mr. Pope left to-night for the Eastern Townships.

The Ottawa County election case has been settled by the petition against Mr. Cormier being withdrawn. It is understood that Mr. Cormier will now tender his resignation.

The Department of Agriculture has been notified that the Buenos Ayres has left Glasgow with 800 Icelanders on board bound for the Northwest.

Mr. John Mather of this city is preparing plans for a manimoth flour mill to be built on the Lake of the Woods for the company in which Sir Donald Smith, Sir George Stephen, Allan Gilmour and others are interested. The mill will be as large as any in Minneapolis.

From the Gazette.

OTTAWA, July 22.—To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain only one appointment, that of W. Armstrong of Grand Falls, N.B., as sub-collector of Customs.

Notice is given that on Sept. 26, at the office of the Minister of Railways and Canals, the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company and the Western Ontario Pacific Railway Company will apply to the Governor-in-Council for sanction of the lease to the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company of the portion of the railway of the Western Ontario Pacific Railway Company lying between Woodstock and London, executed on July 21.

The rules and regulations and tariffs of tolls are published with reference to the Government public wharves at Cascades, P.Q., and Buctouche, N.B.

Supplementary letters patent have been issued to the Hart Emery Wheel Company of Hamilton, increasing the capital stock from $10,000 to $25,000.

An order-in-council has been passed setting apart Brome Lake and the adjacent waters, including Scud Lake, P.Q., for the natural or artificial propagation of fish, and fixing the close season from March 1 to June 1.

Orders-in-council have been passed with reference to the issue of special permits for the removal of the duty paid on spirits in five and ten gallon packages into British Columbia; reserving certain lands in the Rocky Mountain part for mounted police purposes and placing certain classes of wines in the free class.

Notice is given that the excise promotion examinations will be held in London, Toronto, Montreal and St. John, N.B., on Aug. 23 and following days, and a special examination will be held in Toronto and Montreal on Sept. 13 and following days.

The following is a statement of goods entered for consumption for the month of June: Dutiable goods, $7,105,366; coin and bullion, $161,481; free goods $2,860,316; total $10,126,163. Duty collected, $930,472.04.

The exports for the month of June aggregate $10,797,400, of which $9,483,308 was the produce of Canada and $1,314,092 the produce of other countries. This shows an increase over June of last year of $860,753 in the produce of Canada and a decrease of $171,421 in the produce of other countries. The total exports for the twelve months ended June 30 aggregate over $86,500,000, of which the products of Canada amounted to $78,000,000 and the products of other countries to $8,500,000. This shows an increase of $3,000,000 in the produce of Canada and $1,000,000 in the produce of other countries. The increase in Canadian goods is made up of over $2,000,000 in animals and their products, nearly $1,100,000 in agricultural products and over $300,000 in manufactures. There is a falling off in products of the mine of about $150,000 and in products of the forest of over $300,000. The fisheries are fast $800 more than last year.

He Had Been Drinking Hard.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The New York Life Insurance and Investment Company was yesterday ordered to part with $75,000 on collateral, consisting of thirty-seven shares of the Chemical National Bank, to Marcus P. Woodruff, who abstracted them from the Safe Deposit Company's safe, to which he had access as trustee, the shares belonging to his father's estate. Woodruff has recently been drinking hard, and some say he is insane.

FROM THE QUEEN CITY.

A PAINTER'S TERRIBLE FALL FROM A SCAFFOLDING.

Wanted For a Year—A Case of Alleged Kidnapping—To Open the Industrial Exhibition—Ex-Mayor Manning's Condition—Other Items of Interest.

TORONTO, July 23.

An accident of a serious nature occurred yesterday morning to Mr. William Booth, painter. While working at the Clarry Wool and Manufactoring Company's premises, in Church-street, he fell from the scaffold, a distance of about thirty feet, and sustained injuries so serious that for a time his life was despaired of, and when a reporter called last night at 11 o'clock the sufferer still lay in an unconscious and most precarious condition at his residence, at Bay and Wellington streets. Mr. Booth was in the habit of using scaffolding plant of his own invention. The plan he adopted was to attach ropes and pulleys to the planks in use, and by means of cleats fasten the ropes to the opposite part of the building to that at which he worked. A tarred roof, however, intervened in this instance, and the ordinary plan was not feasible. Stakes were accordingly driven into the wall in the usual way, and the plank, on which was seated Mr. Booth, hoisted up to the second story of the building—about thirty feet in height. The masonry was fresh and no sooner had Mr. Booth attained the required position than the old-fasts gave way, and down came the scaffold with some five or six feet of masonry. The unfortunate man was precipitated with great violence, the debris falling on top of him. When taken up he was quite unconscious and examination proved that although there were no bones broken, the head, arms and body were more or less mangled, and it is feared he has also sustained internal injuries. His medical advisers do not think the accident will result fatally, but the sufferer may have been permanently injured.

David Dewar, who does or did run the Commercial Hotel at Milton, has four convictions hanging over his head for Scott Act violations in that town. Mr. Dewar's combined offences entitle him to an eight months' sojourn in prison. His last conviction was over a year ago. Ever since that time, although it is said he lived for the greater part of the year in Milton, License Inspector and Constable Brothers has never been able to lay his hands on Dewar and satisfy the law's behests. He has carried a warrant for Dewar's arrest during these long twelve months, but never a chance he got to execute it.

Yesterday Inspector Brothers heard that Dewar had passed through Oakville on his way to Toronto. The Inspector lost no time in reaching the city. He had his warrant backed by a J.P., and asked Inspector Stephen of Police Headquarters for assistance in executing it.

Policeman Vaughan of Inspector Archibald's staff was detailed for the work. Officer Vaughan went to Union Station and was not long in finding his man. Dewar was arrested as he was about to step aboard the 4.20 train on the Credit Valley Railway. He was locked up at Police Headquarters and he will be handed over to Inspector Brothers to-day.

Warrants for the arrest of Hastings Porter and Edwin Langstaff, two well known York county farmers, residing in the vicinity of Thornhill, were issued yesterday at the instance of a gentleman claiming to be aware of the circumstances and who alleges that they kidnapped a boy named Harry Sylvester, son of a London, Eng., physician, who came out to this county a short time ago to learn farming, and who, becoming dissatisfied with his first instructor, Porter, engaged with another and was mysteriously spirited away again. The information alleges a collusion on the part of the two farmers. County Crown Attorney Badgerow is investigating the case.

Last Saturday night Ben Williams, an old pensioner living at 142 King-street west, was taken to the General Hospital. During a drunken row with his wife Helen she struck him over the skull with a beer bottle. The wound did not amount to much. Early yesterday morning Williams died in Ward 15, where men suffering from d.t.'s are kept. Supt. O'Reilly and Dr. Adam Wright registered the death as delirium tremens. Deceased's wife is in jail awaiting trial for assaulting him.

His Excellency the Governor General has telegraphed to the Industrial Exhibition Association to say that, with Lady Lansdowne, His Excellency will be pleased to accept their invitation to open the Dominion and Industrial Exhibition at Toronto on Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Ex-Mayor Manning is still confined to his room at the Queen's. He is very weak after his prolonged and severe illness. When he gains sufficient strength he will seek a change at some health resort.

The carpenters are now the only branch of the building trade still out on strike. The men are quite as determined to establish their claims as the bosses are resolute in resisting them. At the commencement of the trouble the matter in dispute was more a question of time than of money—the bosses agreed to the increased rate of wage demanded, but declined to maintain the nine-hours movement. Against this the carpenters kicked, and subsequently, as already stated in the press, demanded an extra 2½ cents per working hour. This widened the gulf between them and the bosses, the result being that the carpenters are the only branch of the building trade on the lock-out to-day.

The argument to quash the conviction against James Bennett, the Orangeville hotelkeeper, came up yesterday before Chief Justice Wilson. Bennett was tried and convicted and sentenced to six months in jail for assaulting the constable who came to serve the summons upon him for violating the Scott Act. Several other hotel men were likewise implicated in the assault. The grounds taken against the conviction were technical ones, the principal being that the presiding magistrate had not given the prisoner the option of electing before whom he would be tried. The conviction upon the grounds taken was quashed.

The Toronto Police Athletic Association yesterday decided to hold its annual games on the Toronto Baseball Grounds, Aug. 24.

ABOUT A CHURCH ORGAN.

A Dispute as to Who Shall Manipulate the Instrument.

OTTAWA, July 22.—A large amount of discord is being developed between the congregations of the Dominion Methodist Church and Knox Presbyterian Church, all about a new organ and a new organist. Some time ago several of the leading members of the Dominion Methodist Church subscribed $3000 to buy a new organ on the condition that Mrs. Bourne, who has been organist of the church for twenty years, should be retained in her position, if after trial she was found competent to manage so large an instrument, some doubts as to this having been raised. The trustees of the church, however, took the matter in their own hands and engaged Mr. S. J. Jenkins, Private Secretary to Hon. Mr. Foster, who is organist at Knox Church. And now there is a rumpus in both churches.

The Knox Church people do not want Mr. Jenkins to go, and the subscribers for the new organ for the Methodist Church declare they won't pay their subscription unless Mrs. Bourne is retained. The trustees stoutly maintain that it is none of the subscribers' business who plays the organ.

THE DISCONTENTED OKAS.

THEY WANT A PROTESTANT CHURCH BUT ARE NOT ALLOWED IT.

The Seminary Authorities Own the Land and Insist on Controlling the Residents Thereon—A Methodist Clergyman's Views on the Matter.

MONTREAL, July 22.—The difficulty between the Seminary of St. Sulpice and the Oka Indians regarding the rights of the latter is creating a great deal of interest in religious circles in this city. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago an appeal was issued by the Protestant Minister, Rev. Mr. Maudsley, and Chief Timothee asking the assistance of white people in their efforts to obtain a church edifice in which to worship God according to the Protestant faith. A few days afterwards Mr. Maudsley and the Indians were served with a protest warning them against building on the reserve, as the Seminary claimed the exclusive ownership of the land, and threatened to take legal proceedings if an attempt to construct a Protestant church was persisted in.

Since the serving of the protest upon the missionary, Rev. Dr. Shaw, president of the Methodist Conference, and other influential friends of the Indians in this city have been in consultation as to the best measures to adopt in the interests of the Indians. Conferences have been held with the seminary authorities and a number of propositions have been agreed upon and submitted to the Indians for their consideration. The seminary offers as compensation $10 an acre for their improved land, which the Indians say is worth at least $30 or $40 an acre, and they do not seem prepared to accept the propositions as they now stand. The Indian Council has held several meetings to consider the matter, but as yet no decision has been arrived at.

A Methodist Clergyman's Opinion.

OTTAWA, July 22.—Rev. Wm. Scott, a Methodist clergyman of this city, who investigated the Oka Indian troubles some years ago on behalf of the Indian Department, and who is thoroughly acquainted with the subject was interviewed to-day. "No settlement" said he, "can be arrived at except upon the basis proposed several years ago by the seminary which agreed, in the event of the removal of the Indians, to award them compensation for improvements to the lands. I regard the offer as very fair and reasonable. The seminary authorities own the soil, so I don't see how it will avail the Protestant Indians to appeal to the Privy Council. Even should they obtain a favorable decision, the land being vested in the Crown, and the Crown, meaning the Legislature, no better settlement than that proposed can be arrived at. Parliament has already made provision for the Indians by setting apart for their use, free, about 25,500 acres of land in Muskoka. The hitch arises because they prefer to be transferred to Manitoba. Those members of the tribe already settled in Muskoka are making rapid progress. Only at the last session Parliament reserved $6000 to assist in removing and settling these discontented Indians in Northern Ontario, while the Seminary has agreed to give a similar amount. The Toronto Mail has made some regretable errors in its editorials about this matter."

THE CLERICAL IMPOSTOR.

He Has Been Identified as Jack Clarke, a Well-Known Swindler.

MONTREAL, July 22.—The clerical impostor who managed to swindle Grothe Bros. of $300 in the parlor of St. Mary's College on Monday last, has been identified as Jack Clarke, alias Sutherland. Some years ago he succeeded in collecting $4000 on the representation that it was for a Jesuit college, and then fled to New York, where he was arrested and sent to penitentiary. After his release he made his way to Montreal, where he commenced operations and outwitted a number of jewelers, always wanting the watches sent to St. Mary's College at a certain hour, when he invariably offered a check for $300 on the Merchants', Molsons and Bank of Montreal. One of the jewelers has received a watch pawned for $40 which was worth $115.

A TRAIN-WRECKER HANGED.

David Hoffman Put to Death at Nebraska City, Neb., Yesterday.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 22.—David Hoffman was hanged here to-day for wrecking a Missouri Pacific passenger train on the night of Jan. 11 last at Dunbar, when Engineer Dewitt was killed and a number of passengers were seriously injured.

Hoffman ascended the scaffold with a firm tread. He made an effort to say something, but broke down. The trap was sprung at 10.34, and he was strangled to death in eight minutes. His confederate in the train-wrecking is serving a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary, having turned state's evidence. The militia company was called out to keep order, but everything passed off quietly.

THE TRADE BOUNTY SYSTEM.

A European Conference to be Held to Consider the Matter.

LONDON, July 22.—The Marquis of Salisbury, replying to a deputation which called to urge the Government to take some action to protest British trade from the effects of foreign competition, assisted by bounties, said it was impossible to speak too strongly of the injustice which foreign bounty systems inflicted on British workmen. A European conference would soon consider the matter, and in the meantime he could only say that there were two ways for Englishmen to deal with their assailants in this contest. If reasoning failed Englishmen might return the blow.

News of Stanley.

BRUSSELS, July 22.—Gov. Janssen of the Congo Free State on July 2 telegraphed Gen. Strauch, Administrator General of the Interior Department of the States' Central Government here, as follows: "Send me 600 pieces of stuff. Stanley started on July 2 to Wadelai."

This despatch was sent from St. Thomas, and Gen. Strauch says he considers that the tenor of the message shows that Gen. Janssen, in ordering the places, relied on the expedition making regular progress.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

TURNED OUT OF THE OLD HOME.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

(Written for the Daily Examiner)

It is a sad sight to see a family turned out of their old home. The home where the children have all been born, and which the parents worked hard to retain. Sometimes this arises from one cause and sometimes from another; but generally speaking, it is brought about through misfortune of some kind, after hard trials to overcome their loss. Everyone knows the difficulties of acquiring a home. How the father and mother worked, toiled and labored to insure success. How they denied themselves the common necessaries of life in order the better to help them on the way. Early and late they were always found toiling and saving, putting these little earnings into the common fund to help them to pay for and improve there land. In sickness and in health they worked on, always wishing for better times. And when they thought they had well nigh succeeded, some misfortune overtakes them, and they see the fruits of their long lives swept away, with the prospect near of being turned out upon the highway, with the health and strength nearly gone, and no way before them open to farther success. Almost every one has seen cases of this kind. In a new country like Ontario cases of this kind are less frequent than in older lands. Yet they are far more common here than they should be, or than they would be if men were honest and acted rightly. And where a case of this kind does occur, it has been brought about through over-confidence and through the greed and dishonesty of men who live upon the necessities and wants of the inexperienced and thoughtless, and who care for no one so long as they themselves get rich, and oftentimes through extravagance and drink. There are too many mortgages in existence for a country like ours, where the wants and necessities of life are so easily supplied, and many of them should never have been given, and would not have been given, had the people been wiser and more careful and considered the probable consequences of so burdening their land. But they seldom think of this until it is too late, and the result too often is the loss of their homes and often the loss of hope as well. I could point out many instances where men had borrowed money and given security upon their houses or farms, in full expectation of being able to repay the loan, and many of whom could have done without the money, yet they were disappointed in their ability to repay, and were turned out of their house, sometimes with sickly wives and numerous little children, and left to do the best they could for future subsistence. Some of these poor unfortunates became discouraged, and could do nothing to redeem their losses, and their families became separated and scattered, and I never knew how they fared or what became of them. It is a sad sight to look upon cases of this kind, but another half where the result was far worse than this. Many a bright, honest young person has been driven to distraction through the misfortunes of their parents, losing all hope in the future, and giving themselves up to despair, and at last to ruin. Few people have the courage and elasticity to meet trouble and overcome it. Trouble does not look so formidable when at a distance, but it is a different thing when it comes upon you, and especially when least expecting it. Some of the greatest miseries which people have undergone, some of the worst incidents of degradation and ruin, have been caused by misfortunes and losses of this kind. All that is valuable in life has been thrown away through "brooding" and discouragement, which, in many cases, might have been overcome through patience and perseverance. But the other sex people are too apt to give up all hope and suffer themselves to sink down to a position far below their former lives. And too often they keep going down lower and lower until they are lost to sight and remembered no more. And all this and more has been the fate of very many good and worthy people, who were used to, and who deserved, better things. It is a hard experience to be reduced from affluence to poverty, but harder still to be forced down, as it were, into the depths of despair. Many a poor mother and daughter have mourned over their hard lot, wondering if the time would ever come when they could hold up their heads again and enjoy the respect and confidence of their fellow creatures. Two young women lived in a city of Christian people in poverty and want. They tried hard to make an honest living and failed. Little by little they pawned their scanty clothing to give them bread, and when these were all gone they were left destitute and knew not what to do. They had seen better times, but when father and mother were turned out of their old home they went out into the world to try to earn their own support. They did not think of the difficulties before them, and, being timid and inexperienced, they failed. They tried to keep up their courage, tried to obtain employment, but all their efforts were in vain. Starvation stared them in the face, and they sat down together in their barren, lonely room, and wondered what they could do, but no relief came. At length, seeing they could not live honestly, they decided to end their sorrows by drowning. And so it came to pass that one day, shortly after, their dead bodies were found in the waters of the deep river near by. And these all their troubles in this mad world were ended. They had suffered with hunger and cold, they had suffered with the neglect of their fellow creatures. No kind, Christian women ever came to their help; they sobbed and cried as none but the friendless can cry through many a long, weary night, and when the sun rose it found them crying still. How was it that in a Christian land, and in a Christian city surrounded by professedly Christian people, these poor, helpless, broken hearted young people were left without comfort and hope, and without even one kind word. In every community there are men and women who claim to make it their special mission to look after and help the destitute and distressed. They make professions of their Christianity and charity, and I fear that, too often, they end with professions and are satisfied. And how is it that ministers of the gospel, men whose spiritual duty it is to do good and to look after the poor and the weary, very often know nothing of the cases of destitution around them. Surely the time will come when they will have to give an account of their short-comings and will have to face those whom they neglected in this hard world. These two forsaken young girls are now in eternity, and it is to be hoped are with their loving Saviour. There they will hunger no more, weep no more, suffer no more forever. They have passed through the dark valley and they are at peace.

The darkness falls, the wind is high,
In nine black clouds fill the western sky.
The storm will soon be here,
The thunders roar, the lightnings flash,
I hear the great rough rain drops dash.
Are all the children in?

They're coming softly to my side,
Their forms within my arms I hide.
No other arms are safe,
The storm may rage with fury wild,
While trusting faith's own little child
With mother fonds secure.

But future days are drawing near.
They'll spread from the warm nest it here,
Out in the world to live,
The rain will fall, the cold winds blow,
I'll sit, alone, to long to know
Are all the children in?

Will they have shelter there secure
When hearts are waiting strong and sure,
And love is the white tried,
Or will they find a broken reed.
When breaking gift of heart they need,
To help them home the tide?

God knows it all, His will is best.
I'll shield them now and yield the rest.
In His no mighty soul-hand,
Sometimes the souls beloved are riven,
By tempest, wind, and thus are driven,
Nearer the better land.

If He should call us home before
The children land on that blest shore,
After from earth and sin,
I know that I shall watch and wait
Till, at the Heavenly golden gate,
I see all the children in.

THE ST. THOMAS DISASTER.

ST. THOMAS, July 22.—As the gloom which prevailed in the community for the few days following the accident disappears the citizens look calmly into the harrowing details only to realize more fully that an awful calamity has fallen upon the city, and are resolved that a most searching investigation shall be made to determine upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility for the dreadful occurrence. Feeling is very strong against Superintendent Larmour of London for his unsympathetic conduct in compelling hundreds of friends and relatives of the victims to remain in suspense at Port Stanley five or six hours after the collision occurred.

The death list remains at twelve, no others of the injured having yet succumbed. The number of injured by the collision and explosion reported is over 120, most of whom are recovering rapidly. Mrs. Zealand passed a bad night. Her sufferings are intense and her recovery is doubtful. Christopher Calcott, fireman, has taken a turn for the worse and now lies in a very critical condition. He was much seriously burned on the face and breast than was at first supposed and is thought to have inhaled a portion of the flame. Mrs. Howarth's injuries are very serious, but it is thought she will recover. Charles Dake, who was badly burned, is now thought out of danger, but is suffering great pain. Many others will be unable to work for weeks.

The inquest was resumed to-night. A young man named David McCoubrey, assistant secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, who was on Donnelly's engine a few minutes before the train left Port Stanley, swore positively that the engineer was not drunk.

John Clarkson, station agent at Port Stanley, also swore that the engineer was sober. He would not have allowed him to leave with the train had it been otherwise. Clarkson also testified that a coach was cut out of the train a few minutes before it left. He did not observe that the air brakes were examined subsequently by the conductor, whose duty it was to examine the same.

The examination of the fireman, Henry Angeles, was completed at 12.30. He swore positively that engineer Donnelly was not drunk; that he applied the air brakes in plenty of time to stop the train 200 feet from the crossing had the brakes worked, and that when he found the brakes did not work he reversed his engine and had done everything possible to stop his train. Angeles would not swear that he whistled for brakes. Donnelly never spoke to his fireman after he attempted to apply the brakes. The report that he refused to jump is untrue. Conductor Spettigue admitted to Angeles that he never examined the air brakes at Port Stanley before his leaving, although his duty was to do so. The fact also came out that a man named Nichols of London was riding in the cab, and jumped just before the collision.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Conductor Spettigue on charge of manslaughter and he was taken into custody.

LIGHTNING TOUCHES POWDER.

Disastrous Effects of an Explosion at Streator, Ill.

STREATOR, Ill., July 21.—The powder house of the C. W. and V. Coal Company was struck by lightning at 2.30 a.m., causing a terrible explosion, killing one man and wounding many and demolishing all property for blocks around it. There was not a window left unbroken within half a mile of the explosion.

Not a vestige of the powder house remains, while where it stood is an excavation about sixty feet long, forty feet wide and twenty feet deep. Mangling portions were found, and the search for the dead and injured began. Strange as it may seem, only one fatality has been reported, but a large number were seriously injured. The number of minor casualties will reach a hundred.

There were forty-five dwellings almost totally demolished, and there is not a pane of glass left in the residence part of the city. It is impossible at this early hour to estimate the loss, but it will probably reach $100,000.

PARIS, July 21.—M. Rochefort states that the members of the party of the Right, after the Schnaebele incident, proposed to Gen. Boulanger that he head a "memorable coup d'etat." He responded: "If ever I take part in a coup d'etat it will be against the mean architects and to maintain the republic."

The Baseball Scores—Other Affairs in the World of Sports.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The arrangements for the jubilee yacht race at Halifax on Aug. 16, 17 and 18 are exciting a great deal of interest in New York. Nearly $1000 has been subscribed by prominent residents of New York and Boston towards a cup to be contested for by Canadian yachts in Halifax Bay. Among the subscribers are George William Curtis, William Astor, Jas. Russell Lowell, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Allan Thorndyke Rice and others. The cup is an elegant one, and the design for it was to-day approved by the committee, of which Erastus Wiman is chairman. The cup is the most elegant one ever contested for by Canadian yachtsmen.

Tecumseh Wants to Row Hanlan.

The following letter has been received at the office of The Turf, Field and Farm with a deposit of $50:

After the race at Pullman, on Decoration Day, Edward Hanlan, according to newspaper report, said that if I had been a contestant I would have been beaten twenty lengths. That was simply the talk of a disappointed man. If Hanlan is twenty lengths better than myself, he should be eager for a race with me. I send you $250 to bind a challenge to Edward Hanlan for a race of three miles at single sculls for $1,000 a side, to be rowed in August, before Hanlan goes to Australia. I will meet Edward Hanlan or his representative at the office of The Turf, Field and Farm any time he may name, to discuss conditions and sign articles of agreement. Awaiting a prompt reply, respectfully, JOHN TECUMSEH.

TANNER'S APOLOGY ACCEPTED.

Proposed Government Amendments to the Land Bill.

LONDON, July 22.—In the House of Commons last night, after [illegible] Mr. Gladstone moved [illegible] Dr. Tanner's apology should be accepted. He said he had introduced an ill-advised element into the discussion by suggesting that Dr. Tanner purposed a [illegible] to Mr. Ellis, Mr. Long in the chair, [illegible] a duel between Dr. Tanner and Mr. Ellis. Was it [illegible] Irish member one thing and an imputation upon an English member another?

The Speaker here intervened and told the House that Dr. Tanner's apology should be held to cover the offence of which he was accused.

Mr. Smith thereupon withdrew his motion and the incident ended.

The Irish Land Bill.

Mr. Balfour, in [illegible] the amendments the Government proposed making to the Land Bill, said the only important amendments the Government proposed related to what had been called the "back door" given to landlords for evictions, and to the question of the arrangement of rent. With regard to the first amendment, it had been framed to prevent a creditor from proceeding, not against the ordinary assets of a debtor, but against the tenant right. (Cheers.) With regard to the second, Mr. Balfour said the Government was unable to accept any such proposal as Mr. Morley's amendment, which seemed to be merely to throw all judicial issues into the melting pot, and bring out broad new cuts, sorted on the principle scale of prices. The Government believed to the idea that the judicial rents ought not to be revised, but recognizing the fact that the House had undertaken to manage land contracts in Ireland, and make the landlords [illegible] Act of Parliament, and recognizing also the revolution in prices, they propose to do what the English landlords would do in a similar case. They would adopt, in a rough way, the Cowper Commission plan on a sliding scale, which would produce the necessary abatements for the next three years until the Purchase Act was in force. It was consequently proposed that the Land Court be instructed to devise a scale of remission, based solely on the varying prices in different districts. (Cheers.)

Mr. Parnell admitted that the bill as altered would do much toward relieving the Irish tenants, and he therefore heartily welcomed it, but he hoped the Government would go a step further, and endeavor to mitigate the hardships resulting from their delay in dealing with the question. He urged that the judicial decisions of the commission should affect the present year's rent.

After further remarks by Messrs. Goschen, Dillon and Russell the House went into committee pro forma.

Mr. Smith Surprised.

LONDON, July 22.—W. H. Smith, Government leader in the House of Commons, was asked this afternoon by Mr. Ellis if there was any truth in the wide-spread report that the Queen had sent for Lord Hartington to induce him to join the Ministry.

Mr. Smith replied that he had only now heard the statement for the first time and could only say that it caused him great surprise. [Laughter.]

O'NEIL COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

The Slayer of William McLaren to be Tried on a Charge of Manslaughter.

HAMILTON, July 22.—James O'Neil, who has been in jail since last Sunday pending the result of the coroner's inquest on the death of William McLaren, was committed to trial this morning by Coroner Biggar on the charge of manslaughter. The jury decided that the deceased was killed by O'Neil. Under the section of the statute by which the prisoner was committed it will not be necessary for him to appear before the Police Magistrate.

Serious Charge Against a Contractor.

MILTON, July 22.—The Champion of this week says: Miss Louisa Patton, who is about 17 years of age, has laid an information before S. R. Listog and James Menzies, J.P.s, charging W. J. Decker with having committed a rape on her on July 7. Miss Patton, at the date of the alleged offence, was visiting at the house of her brother, who lives at Haltonville, Nassagaweya Township, and Decker, who is a contractor on the proposed branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Campbellville to Guelph, was boarding at the Haltonville hotel. The complainant swore that on the evening of July 7 she walked with Decker to the postoffice and that on the way back this prisoner dragged her into Beishman's bush and assaulted her. Her evidence was corroborated on some points by that of another witness, and the prisoner was committed for trial at the fall assizes, but bail was accepted for his appearance and he was not sent to jail.

A Great Gain.

"I used a good deal of doctor's medicine for kidney complaint during five years, was getting worse all the time until I tried B. B. B. I took three bottles, gained in weight from 130 to 159 lbs. I can highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to be a good medicine." Thus testifies John Walton, of Springfield, N.B. 2w29d

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 2w29d

After Long Years.

"I was troubled with liver complaint for a number of years, finding no cure. I tried B.B.B. I took four bottles, and am perfectly cured, strong and hearty." Mrs. Maria Askett, Alma, Ont. 2w29d

Market Items.

The market was pretty lively this morning. A few cabbages and green corn appeared, the former selling at 15c. per head, and the latter at 30c. per dozen. Potatoes went at 25c. a peck; apples, in plenty, sold at from 25 to 40c. a peck. Black currants, 12 and 13c. a quart; raspberries, 75 to 90c. a pail (according to size); cucumbers, 12c. a dozen; eggs, 14c. a dozen; butter, 23c. a pound. There was an abundance of beans, green and yellow, onions, radishes, celery, carrots, green tomatoes, peas, beets, lettuce, rhubarb, etc., at the usual "5c. a bunch" prices.

Brockville's Insurance.

Mr. N. B. Colcock, of the Brockville Times, writes Mr. A. McNeil, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, asking for information regarding the condition and efficiency of our Fire Brigade and system. Mr. Colcock states that the people of Brockville are waking up on the insurance question and are seeking more favorable rates.

To Be Rebuilt.

Mr. T. Beavis has begun operations for the rebuilding of his tenement terrace on Simcoe Street, to replace the row destroyed by fire. The new building will be placed on the same foundations as the former one, but the superstructure will be improved on and additional modern conveniences will be included in the new plans.

Begins to Look Like It.

Things begin to look as if the new government building on Water street were to be our new post office. The building is drawing well on to completion. The sculptors are busy converting the rough hewn belting courses on the outside into beautiful representations of foliage, flowers, and fruits. Internally the work is pretty well advancing, and the screens and pigeon holes for letters, etc., are nearly all in place. The lock boxes are also in place but are not yet provided with fittings. The heating apparatus is, however, not yet put in. As far as the building proper goes, the work will be completed by the first of September. The raising of the tower a few feet higher is said to be under contemplation, but it is not probable that that will be done this year. Without the tower is raised, the clock dials, from certain points of view, will be a light under a bushel.

Spots of Sport.

A cricket match has been arranged between Peterborough and Lindsay clubs for Thursday, July 28th, at Lindsay. Wickets will be pitched at 10.30 a.m.

Lindsay Post:—"Mr. George Curtis, of Ops, left for Peterborough this week with his trotting stallion, Valentyne, which he intends to train upon the track in that town. The big chestnut possesses great speed, and with sufficient work it will require a "rare good 'un" to do him up.... It is to be regretted that there is not sufficient enterprise amongst our local horsemen to place the track in the agricultural park in a state of repair sufficient to enable parties owning horses to develop the same at home, instead of forcing them to go to outside towns."

At Home and Abroad.

Energy, enterprise and business thrift will meet their reward. Among our hundreds of pushing business men, there is one who takes the lead every day. The superior excellence of the furniture of Mr. D. Belleghem has established a firm reputation and created a liberal demand at home and now he is creating a sensation abroad. In the last issue of the Lindsay Post Belleghem and his first-class furniture are referred to by nearly all the country correspondents of that journal. Belleghem's business has long out grown the merely local demand, and it is no surprise that it is gaining a firm footing abroad. When he can enter into competition with and beat the furniture kings of Toronto and carry off contracts in furnishing some of the best residences there, there is no reason why he should not monopolize the trade of this district, and he is doing it, too. Steadily and surely his trade is extending and penetrating every district. The secret is that he supplies the best, neatest and most stylish furniture at the lowest prices, and recognizes the value of printer's ink in making it known. Against such conditions all competition is paralyzed and Belleghem stands acknowledged the Furniture King of the Midland District.

The Insurance Question.

Mayor Stevenson placed before the Council last night a statement of the action of the Fire, Water and Light Committee regarding the insurance rating of Peterborough, as published in the EXAMINER the other day. A letter has been sent to the secretary of the Underwriters' Association notifying the Association that the town acceded to the demands of the Underwriters, and that all necessary requirements for the efficiency of the fire system had been secured, asking the Association to place the town in class "B" by the first of August. A new team of horses has been purchased by the town, which will be kept at the fire station continually. It is proposed to place the ward electric alarms at the following places:—No. 1 Ward at the corner of Dalhousie and Stewart streets; No. 2 Ward, corner of Downie and Simcoe streets; No. 3 Ward, corner of Park and Elm streets; and No. 4 Ward at the corner of George and Antrim streets. The bells have been ordered, and the construction of the lines has been begun. The minds of some councillors who objected to the extra expense because they were informed that the new insurance rating would affect only George street or the immediate business vicinity, were set at rest when told that every landowner or householder in town who insured would receive the benefit of it. The reduced rates will effect a saving to the poorest citizen who insures, but of course the merchant and real estate owner, carrying heavy risks, will be the more benefitted by it.

Nocturnal Sports.

Athletic Events on the Amateur Athletic Grounds.

'Twas a delightful evening, was yesterday, to those who attended the nocturnal sports in the P.A.A.A. grounds. The rain of the afternoon had cooled the atmosphere, and though the ground was wet, the cinder track, on which all the races were run, was in good condition. Four electric lamps, in the corners of the grounds, supplied sufficient light, though there should be another erected in the middle, if possible without doing irreparable injury to the sod. The fire brigade band played the crowd over to the grounds, and afterwards rendered several of their finest selection "between acts", as it were. There were about two hundred spectators present, about 25 per cent. of whom were ladies, and doubtless there would have been twice that number but for the rain, which fell between six and seven o'clock. many thinking that the sports would have to be postponed in consequence.

At eight o'clock or shortly after the first event was called. Dr. Brennan acted as starter; Messrs. Salisbury and Greenwood as judges. The time given below is pretty nearly accurate:—

100 YARDS DASH.—Archie Moore came in an easy first, with A. E. Scott, second, and H. L. Kirby only three or four feet behind; A. St. A. Smith in the rear of all. ½Time, 11 3-5 seconds.

ONE MILE BICYCLE RACE.—There were three entries, Herbert Haultain, George Schofield and A. E. Ames. The race was between Ames and Haultain, Schofield dropping out after a couple of rounds. Haultain led all around, Ames following close upon his heels. but on the home stretch the former increased his distance to ten yards, winning in 4 minutes, 4 1-5 seconds.

QUARTER MILE HANDICAP.—The quarter mile (handicap) foot race was the next event. There were four entries, A. St. A. Smith, J. Rose, A. E. Scott, and A. Moore, Smith and Scott being given 45 yards start, Moore again came in first, with Rose second at a safe distance behind, the other two not finishing. Time 59 seconds.

120 YARDS HURDLE.—In the 120 yards hurdle race Moore, Rose, Scott, Kirby and Smith entered, the former finishing a good first with Rose, Scott and Kirby in a lump, though perhaps Rose was a pencil length ahead. Time, 15 1/5 seconds.

SLOW RACE.—V. Halliday, Geo. Schofield and Alex. Miller entered. After a number of starts at last they got away. Schofield and Halliday hung back well together, but the track was too soft, and ran foul of each other. Miller then sailed in and claimed the race.

TUG OF WAR.—This was probably the most exciting event of all. The P. A. A. A. team were:—Messrs. Schofield, Moore, Smith, Brennan, Scott, Hatton, J. Thomas, C. Brown, R. B. Rogers and Greenwood. The fire brigade were:—Capt. J. Craig, E. Jones, J. McFarlane, R. Hamilton, W. Greer, T. Burdette, J. Gibbs, R. Moore, J. Fraser and Fred. Price. The first pull was a good one. For several minutes the knot wavered first on one side of the line, then on another. Finally the firemen won by a long, strong, steady pull together. In the next tug the firemen had the opposite team over before they had got set to their work.

That closed the programme. Everybody was thoroughly pleased with the sports, though there should have been more entries in some of the events. It is the intention of the directors of the P. A. A. A to repeat the entertainment about every two weeks during the summer months. It is to be hoped finer weather and larger crowds will add to the success of the first enterprise.

Church Chimes.

The Rev. Canon Matheson, of St. John's College, Winnipeg, will take both the services at St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, on Sunday, July the 24th (to-morrow).

Rev. Mr. McKay, of Peterborough, will preach in the Port Hope Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Principal Grant will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's Church to-morrow, both morning and evening.

In the Mark Street Methodist Church the pastor, Rev. J. C. Wilson, will preach at 11 a.m., and Rev. I. Tovell at 7 p.m.

In the Charlotte street church, the morning services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. I. Tovell, and in the evening, by Rev. F. H. Wallace, B.D.

Complimentary for the Doctor.

Referring to the poem in honor of the Queen's Jubilee, printed in the EXAMINER last month, a neatly bound copy of which was sent to her Majesty, the Kingston Whig says:—

"We have seen many poems suggested by the Queen's Jubilee and written in honor of that event, but among the best is that of Dr. Massie, of Keene, a value. contributor to the Whig. It has been beautifully printed at the "EXAMINER" Office, Peterborough."

The Cobourg World also says:—"From a 25-stanza Jubilee poem—the best of a dozen we have read—we clip three stanzas. This poem throughout has been much admired. It could have been written by no ordinary metre ballad-monger and on reference to the title page we find the name of no less a Literateur than Dr. John Massie, of Keene. Dr. Massie is of Scottish parentage, and is a native of Seymour township Northumberland County, Ontario,—a township that has given birth to no fewer than 20 leading professional men of this Province. The Doctor is a prominent Reformer and a zealous advocate of temperance."

A Gem of a Store.

A New Store For Dawson Brothers—Alterations and Improvements.

Hunter street will soon be able to claim the neatest little dry goods and fancy store in town. The Dawson Bros., who purchased the stock of the late John Erskine, have been selling off for the last month or so at a great sacrifice and have succeeded in reducing the old stock to a mere bagatelle. Before laying in a fresh supply of the latest and best goods, their store on Hunter street will be overhauled and improved in a metropolitan style to suit the demands of the present age of progress and prosperity. Mr. Jas. Stevenson, who owns the block, intends making the little store second to none in the city in appearance. The floor (one half of which is higher than the rest) will be made level, and a new hardwood covering laid down. The ceiling also will be renewed and decorated in the latest style. The staircase at the rear and the office close by the front windows will be removed, likewise the two large wooden pillars which support the ceiling, their place being taken by one slender iron column. The interior of the store will be entirely rearranged. In place of the square, grained counters of antique appearance which formerly ranged about the walls, a handsome semi-circular counter of black ash, with walnut top, will stretch from side to side. Behind this will be a high bed of shelving. This arrangement is the modern style, in vogue in all large cities. In the very middle of the floor a smaller oval counter will be placed, with a couple of entrance passages on either side, in the centre of which high, narrow shelving will be reared for the display of goods. This will be the gloves and hosiery department. New gas fixtures will also be added. The two doorways will be left as at present, that being the most desirable arrangement, but instead of the brick wall which separates the two middle plate glasses will be substituted an iron pillar at the front, leaving the largest display window in town. The improvements when finished will make the store a little gem of its kind, and other attractions will be added as the business increases. The Dawson Bros. leave next week for Toronto, to purchase supplies of the latest and most fashionable goods for the fall trade. After Wednesday the place will be in the hands of Mr. Robert Roe, who expects to complete his work in about a month.

Since we wrote you last the Union Sunday School pic-nic excursion took place. The "Beaver" and scow conveyed the happy crowd to Idyl Wild, where they remained till evening.

Rathbun's 32,000 logs have at last disappeared from our river, to the great satistaction of all who love fishing.

Mrs. Dr. Harrison is away for a fortnight's visit west.

Mrs. Thos. Laing is quite recovered.

Jas. McNeil, Esq., is also about again.

Mr. Charles Massie, of Campbellford, is staying at Dr. Massie's.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thos. Blezard was attended by an immense concourse of people. Over a hundred carriages followed her remains to Westwood Cemetery. The deceased lady was much respected, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of loving relatives and friends.

Mr. Alex. Graham, of Westwood continues in a very precarious condition.

Poor Charlie Nelson is also gone to his long home.

The heat and drouth are affecting root growths very much.

The hay is mostly saved, and fall crops are being harvested.

Parties wishing for copies of Dr. Massie's Jubilee Ode can purchase them from Wm. Campbell, postmaster, Keene, also from Peterborough bookstores. This notice will please answer inquiring correspondents.

Mr. Peter Henry has returned from a three weeks holidaying at Avon, New York state.

The following is from the Dominion Oddfellow of Friday, July, 22nd:—"Bro. E. E. Henderson, D.D.G.M., Peterborough, will pass through this city to-morrow a. m. (Saturday), arriving at 11.45 and leaving on the 12.20 G.T.R., for New York, where he goes after his family, who have been visiting in New York State for several weeks past. Bro. Henderson will be in the city again on Tuesday afternoon, the 26th inst., and Wednesday afternoon (the 27th) at the Grand Secretary's office, where any information can be obtained about the Peterborough demonstration, etc., from Bro. Henderson, by brothers in the city, or those who may happen to be visiting Toronto at that time."

Dr. T. W. Beeman of Napanee has been in town for a few days, in search of a desirable location for the practice of his profession. He is a graduate of Queen's, Kingston, and has been in practice ten years.

Dr. Geo. A. Bingham, Professor in Trinity Medical College, Toronto, is visiting his uncle, Dr. Bingham, town.

Mr. Edwin Carter, of Pittsburg, Penn., and Dr. Doyle, of the same place, are spending their holidays in this section. Mr. Carter is visiting his old home, Lakefield, from which he has been absent six years. He is now an electrician of some note in the Smoky City. Dr. Doyle has just taken his degrees.

Mr. Alex. Elliott returned home to-day from California. He is looking extremely well and says he enjoyed his holiday immensely.

SALISBURY'S SUBMISSION.

BY COMPLYING WITH UNIONIST DEMANDS HE AVERTS A CRISIS.

Lord Hartington's Refusal to Enter the Cabinet—Parnell's Proposal to Reinstate Evicted Tenants—Mr. Morley's Criticism of the Government.

LONDON, July 23.—The complete submission of Lord Salisbury to the demands of the Liberal-Unionists with regard to the Land Bill has averted a Cabinet crisis. The discontent in the Conservative ranks is supreme, and discord in the Cabinet would lead immediately to the secession of several Ministers if it were not for Lord Salisbury's threat of a dissolution of Parliament if he is not sustained by his colleagues at this juncture. During the week the Premier prolonged negotiations with Lord Hartington as much as possible, trying all the time to induce him to enter the Cabinet. A section of the Unionists, including Sir Henry James, Earl Selborne and the Duke of Argyle urged Lord Hartington to accede to the desire of the Government. On consulting with Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Hartington said that a coalition Ministry would not be assured the support of the Radical Unionists, while they would certainly have the opposition of Lord Randolph Churchill and his clique and the Irish Conservatives to contend with. They were therefore forced to abandon the coalition project. Lord Salisbury accepted the alternative, which was the adoption of the Liberal-Unionist policy without Lord Hartington as Minister to give countenance and reason to this right about face.

The Land Bill in committee will now meet with only one formidable amendment. This will consist in Mr. Parnell's proposal to reinstate evicted tenants. This amendment covers all cases of eviction for non-payment of rent, and also all acts of tenant's interests. It further provides that where the landlord can show to the satisfaction of the court that a reinstating of the tenant will cause serious loss to him, compensation from the church fund shall be paid to him by the Land Commission from the Irish church surplus. An exciting discussion will certainly arise over this amendment and the issue is doubtful.

Morley's Criticism.

LONDON, July 23.—The Right Hon. John Morley, in opening the Liberal Club at Hackney to-night, said that the Government had waited half a year in passing a measure that was intended to suppress the National League, but directly they obtained it Lord Salisbury changed his attitude and said he would adopt the League's policy regarding rents in Ireland. Lord Salisbury, Mr. Goschen and other Conservatives had contended that to interfere with rent contracts would be dishonest. It was useless now to say that they only meant to be dishonest three years. They were deluding themselves if they thought the proposals depended upon the passing of the Tory Land Purchase Bill would only be temporary. Were the Government likely to agree among themselves on a land purchase bill when it was introduced? They would be obliged to frame a measure that would satisfy the Tory landlords on one hand and the English electors on the other. In February the Government promised a land purchase bill which would settle the land question in Ireland. It was stated that the bill was nearly prepared. It would have been better to have introduced it instead of wasting time on the Coercion Bill and then be compelled to deal with a temporary revision of rents.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

The Campaign Against Russian Securities Suspended for a Time.

BERLIN, July 23.—The campaign against Russian securities has abated, but the belief on the Bourse is that the cessation of the newspaper attacks is a mere armistice. The renewal of the raid depends partly on the alteration of Russia's economic policy, and partly on the power of the small German capitalist having Russian investments to stand a further strain. The war has already taught Russia that Germany has effective means of retaliation for the hostile tariffs and commercial restrictions imposed upon German trade and traders. The Russian Ambassador's return to Berlin on Wednesday was unexpected at the Embassy and was due solely to the alarm felt at St. Petersburg over the depreciation of Russian securities and the stoppage of Russian credit at all European financial centers.

Count Schouvaloff conferred with the chiefs of the firms of Mendelssohn and the Bleichroders and with other eminent bankers, and tried to influence them by assurances of Russia's desire to cultivate more friendly economic relations with Germany. The Ambassador, however, made no official representation of the subject to the German Foreign Office. His statements were communicated to Prince Bismarck through the Bleichroders, and as the bankers recommended a cessation of the attacks on account of German investors, the Russians have been allowed a period of rest. It is impossible to calculate with exactitude the loss to holders of Russian securities since official inspiration set the raid agoing. Estimates range from 150,000,000 to 250,000,000 marks as the amount of Russian securities sold by scared investors, who were willing to get rid of them at any sacrifice. The bona fide sales thrown on the Bourse had nothing to do with speculation.

REVIEWED BY THE QUEEN

A GRAND DISPLAY BY THE ENGLISH NAVY AT SPITHEAD.

A Sight Such as Has Not Been Witnessed Before in the Mother Land—A Line of Battle Ships Reaching Four Miles—Her Majesty's Reception.

PORTSMOUTH, July 23.—This city has been thronged for days past by crowds gathered to witness the jubilee naval review at Spithead, and the harbor has been crowded with craft of every description. The crowds were immensely augmented this morning by visitors from all parts of the Kingdom.

The scene in Portsmouth harbor was most glorious. In and out among the grim and ponderous men-of-war darted the hundreds of small boats, yachts, both sail and steam, and boats of all descriptions. When the invited guests arrived they were taken on the troop-ships, which were to convey the visitors to Spithead. The ladies were dressed in charming costumes, mostly white, trimmed with colors; the men for the most part—that is, the civilians—wore flannels and light material. The brilliant uniforms of the countless officers, both military and naval, presented a sight seldom witnessed in the old town.

The vessels forming the vast fleet at Spithead were divided into their cruising squadrons and moved in columns of division, line ahead, ships two cables apart, columns at three cables apart. The flagships headed each division and faced eastward. There were also formed in columns of division parallel to the other squadrons and arranged in the same manner five coast defence squadrons, each consisting of coast defence ships, gunboats and torpedo boats. Six training ships were moved in a single column inshore, parallel to the other lines. The foreign ships of war present were anchored off Broundoun. The Monotaur kept clear the east approach to the alley between the ironclad columns and the Agincourt did the same for the east approach to the alley between the divisions and the flotillas. At 10 o'clock the two Devonshire tugs blocked the west entrance to the lines to all but ships of war, and the Manly and the Malta at 2 o'clock went on duty keeping the eastern entrance lines clear, the four tugs being under the orders of the master of the fleet.

The troop ship and other vessels carrying visitors were permitted to make a tour of the columns before 2 o'clock, after which they took up the positions assigned to them. The small vessels appropriated to visitors anchored at 2 o'clock abreast the torpedo flotillas. The private craft carrying sight-seers must have numbered several hundred. They represented the pleasure boats of all nations and climes and darted about like birds of different plumage, imparting unparalleled beauty to a scene otherwise unprecedented.

The whole scene surveyed just before 3 o'clock, when the naval vessels were all in place, their decorations full flung and their crews in holiday pose, the private craft hurrying to good places, and the multitudes ashore packing themselves to best see the event of the day, was glorious in the extreme. Probably no such fleet was ever seen before in time of peace. Every class of the British navy was represented.

The review of the Crimean fleet by the Queen and the Prince Consort thirty-one years ago would suffer by comparison with this. Some of the stout wooden ships which figured in that review were visible in Portsmouth harbor to-day, decked out for the occasion. Nelson's old ship, the Victory, was also a conspicuous object, and her old timbers echoed again and again as boat after boat passed her, the full complement cheering vociferously. More than that, the old ship mounted a gun or two and joined in the universal salute to the Queen.

Shortly after 2 o'clock, when order was perceptible on the water, the Euphrates, the Crocodile and the Malabar proceeded to the westward of Osborne and stood in readiness to escort the royal yachts when the Queen embarked at 3 o'clock to review the fleet. The Queen left Osborne House a few minutes before 3 o'clock and went aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. Her Majesty left the buoy in Osborne Bay promptly at 3 o'clock. She was preceded by the Trinity yacht and was followed by the royal yachts Osborne and Alberta and the ships Enchantress, Helicon, Euphrates, Crocodile and Malabar.

The royal procession proceeded straight to its destination and passed between the lines, leaving the coast-defence ships, gun boats and torpedo boats on the port hand. After proceeding as far as the Horse Elbow Buoy the Victoria and Albert turned to the starboard, passed between the two columns of large ships forming A, B and C squadrons, and then between the lines of foreign ships of war. As her Majesty passed through the lines of these endless war ships, each yard being manned with brawny tars, deafening cheer after cheer was sent up from the lusty crews to greet their sovereign, but it was not until the Queen had gone through the double lines that the great cannon of the big ships began to thunder forth the royal salute with a roar that caused the great vessels to roll and the sea to increase its heaving as shot after shot came booming over the water.

In such vessels as had no masts the turrets, breastworks and decks were lined by Jack Tars, and the Queen had no reason to complain of her reception, either on her progress down the line or on her return to Osborne, which was safely reached before 6 o'clock. Taken altogether the vessels drawn up in line when the Queen passed extended over four miles, and even this length was added to by the great troopships laden with spectators also falling into line and saluting the Queen as she made her progress.

The ships and the town are illuminated to-night. Electric search lights are sweeping the fleet and the spectacle afloat and ashore has never been equalled.

Fire at Georgetown.

GEORGETOWN, July 24.—At an early hour this morning the Bennett House stables and contents and the livery stable occupied by McCallum & Watson and part of the contents were destroyed by fire. McCallum & Watson lose 18 buggies and rigs of all descriptions, harness, 700 bushels of oats and a ton of hay. The horses were saved.

In Bennett's stables were five horses and a cow which were lost. One span of horses and a carriage came from Hamilton, owner unknown. One of the wagons contained $600 worth of cigars owned by Saugler of Hamilton; loss $1000.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be get rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A BULLET'S SHINING MARK

PERLEY MACDONALD MEETS DEATH OFF THE BUTTS AT TORONTO.

He Receives a Mortal Wound in Presence of His Two Cousins in a Row-Boat—Sad Termination to a Saturday Afternoon Pleasure Party—A Grief-Stricken Home in Charles-Street.

TORONTO, July 24.

A fatality occurred off the Garrison Common butts Saturday afternoon which resulted in the death of one of Toronto's most promising youths. John Parley Macdonald, verging on 17 years, eldest son of Mr. John K. Macdonald, Managing Director of the Confederation Life Association and Treasurer of the County of York, lies cold in death at his father's residence at No. 20 Charles-street, with two gaping, angry, rugged bullet holes in his muscular young frame.

Where the Accident Happened.

Saturday afternoon Parley, as he was familiarly called, accompanied by his cousins Miss Elsie Parley of Brantford and James Macdonald, a few years older than himself and a brother of Capt. Macdonald, started from Ashcroyd's boat house in a three-seated row-boat. Miss Parley, who is on a visit at her uncle's house, sat in the stern of the boat, Parley in the centre and James was in the bow. Their intention was to go to the Island to see friends. They, however, decided first to pull up towards Exhibition Park, between the eastern line fence of which and the New Fort stretches Garrison Common. Arranged along the shore line of the common, and overlooking the blue waters of Lake Ontario are what are familiarly known to Torontonians as "The Butts," the practising ground of the city volunteer regiments and the Toronto Rifle Association, a corps of crack shots. Garrison Common is a large tract of ordnance lands under control of the Ontario Rifle Association, of which Lieut.-Col. Gibson, M.P.P., of Hamilton is President. The Industrial Exhibition Association has long endeavored to get a slice of this common—the very part where the butts are located—for fair purposes, but signally failed in every attempt. Had they been successful, Saturday's terrible accident would probably not have happened.

The butts are mounds of earth about 120 feet long, 12 feet high and 10 or 12 feet thick. They are three in number, at distances of something over 100 yards apart in a diagonal line. No. 1 is to the east, No. 2 in the centre and No. 3 to the west. They are about 10 to 20 yards from the edge of the lake bank. In front of the butts are the trenches where the markers are stationed while shooting is going on, which it more or less frequent throughout the summer except during the exhibition, when it is entirely suspended. Facing the butts, away to the north on the common, are the ranges, on small elevations on which the marksman stands, at distances of 200, 400, 500, 600, 800 yards, etc. The targets, which are of paper, are attached to small poles arranged along the face of the mound, easily accessible from the markers' trenches.

The Fatal Bullet.

Saturday afternoon some 200 or 250 volunteers from the Queen's Own, the Royal Grenadiers, the Toronto Garrison Artillery and the Toronto Field Battery, and members of the Toronto Rifle Association were practising at the butts. The firing was very animated and kept up with spirit until the fatal accident occurred, as about 4.30. This put a sudden stop to the practice. The artillerymen had possession of No. 1 butt, to which was attached three targets; No. 2 butt, with eight targets, was divided between the Queen's Own and the Grenadiers, the former having the east five and the latter the west three; No. 3 butt, with three targets, was in possession of the Toronto Rifle Association.

The row boat with the three young people on board had proceeded on the lake to a point a little west of No. 2 butt, or about midway between Nos. 2 and 3. The little craft was about 200 yards from the shore. Miss Parley remarked upon the rattle of the rifles up on the common and asked her cousin Perley if there was no danger. The youth, who probably knew little of the great chances they ran, assured her that there was not the slightest. Miss Perley, not quite satisfied with her cousin's assurance of safety, made the request at least that the boat be pulled ashore or out of the reach of danger. At the point named Perley and his cousin James decided to turn their boat and head towards the Island. They had just wheeled about and were pulling eastward (they were both rowing), when Perley suddenly dropped his oars and fell backward in the boat. His cousins, especially the young lady, gave several agonizing screams. A bullet from a Snider rifle had pierced the youth's body, passed through the port gunwale of the boat just under the row-lock, and was lost beneath the waves out of sight. The hole left in the gunwale was fully as big as a 25-cent piece. Miss Perley was the first to discover that her cousin had been struck with a bullet. His face turned ashen pale and then he fell backwards. The young lady was soon at his side and tried to soothe him. The consternation in that little craft for the next few minutes can better be imagined than described. Miss Parley continued to scream until the attention of the markers in the trenches was aroused. It was about ten minutes before she succeeded in alarming any of those on shore. Private Annis and Barlow of "C" company were marking in No. 3 trench. Private Annis, anticipating, from the screams he heard, that something was wrong out in the lake, at once ran up the danger flag and drew down the targets. Firing ceased. He and Barlow then came out and looked towards the lake. Miss Parley was waving a handkerchief. The markers beckoned for the boat to come in. The occupants of the boat were so terrified that they were at first afraid to come towards the shore. Then they came slowly in. James Macdonald was rowing, his unfortunate cousin was writhing in agony in the bottom of the boat, and Miss Parley was almost frenzied. Private Barlow ran down the embankment and met the boat as it touched the shore. The wounded youth was carried boat and all, up to the common, and subsequently to Exhibition Park.

Summoning a Physician.

It took three-quarters of an hour to get a physician to the spot. Private Annis ran to the New Fort and telephoned to Dr. Strange, surgeon of "C" company. The Doctor was not at home, but his assistant, Dr. Roach, lost no time in answering the summons. Messengers were also despatched to Parkdale, and Dr. Lynd at once started for Exhibition Park. The wounded boy's father was also summoned by telephone.

The greatest excitement prevailed on the common among the volunteers and those who had gathered around. Capt. Macdonald, who was practising with the Toronto Rifle Association, was horrified when the boat came ashore to learn that his own cousin had received a mortal wound from a stray bullet from a marksman's rifle. Capt. Macdonald, it is said, had not done any firing himself.

Drs. Lynd and Roach arrived within a few minutes of each other. The wound was examined and dressed as well as circumstances would permit. The ball broke through the eighth rib on the right side, just behind the middle line of the armpit, and came out four inches directly below the left nipple, and its course probably passed through the right lung cavity and the upper part of the liver. Young Macdonald was a remarkably hardy boy, or undoubtedly death would have resulted instantaneously. His robust constitution withstood the fatal track of the bullet until exactly 8 o'clock yesterday morning, when he quietly passed away. Excessive internal hemorrhage was the immediate cause of death.

Dr. Lynd accompanied the ambulance to the residence in Charles-street. Dr. A. B. Atherton, the family physician, was then summoned and remained with the wounded boy until death relieved him of his sufferings. After his arrival at home and the administration of opiates, Perley rallied considerably, and faint hopes were entertained that he might possibly survive the treacherous wound. But these expectations were merely hopes against hope. He regained consciousness several times during the night, and during these moments spoke of his wound and its probable termination. The members of the family watched at the bedside of the dying youth, as he gasped at times for breath, with eyes red with weeping. The cousins who were in the boat seemed to take the sad calamity much more to heart than any of the others. James Macdonald was almost distracted. Mrs. Macdonald was absent from the city at the time in Tilsonburg and she was telegraphed for, but did not reach the city, over the Credit Valley Railway, until 9.30 o'clock yesterday morning, an hour and a half after Perley's death.

When the boat touched shore after the accident Perley was not removed. The boat and all was carried up on the bank. The carpet on the bottom of the boat was saturated with blood. The boat was left at Exhibition Park until yesterday afternoon when it was taken back to Ackroyd's boat-house.

About the time of the shooting, the Grenadiers and Queen's Own were firing at the targets on No. 2 butt at 400 yard range. They were using Snider rifles, which will kill at 1000 yards. Supposing that the boat was 200 yards from shore, the distance from the muzzle of the rifle to the boat's occupants would be some 620 yards. It is not probable, from the position of the boat, that the bullet came from any of the rifles on either Nos. 1 or 3 ranges. At all events it will probably never be known where it came from or who fired the fatal shot.

The Trial of the Chicago Boodlers.

CHICAGO, July 23.—The interest in the big boodle case this morning was greater than ever on account of the damaging testimony given by ex-Commissioner Lynn yesterday. To-day he was subjected to a severe cross-examination, but in the main his testimony was unbroken. The members of the firm of C. Low & Co. next gave their experience with the boodlers. They testified that Ed. McDonald demanded commissions from them on all orders, and when they appealed to Klehm and the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners and one of the defendants, he said they had better take care of the "boys" or else they would find themselves at the end of their rope.

"HOW FIELDS WERE WON."

The reminiscent ex-warrior of Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" when he "shouldered his crutch and showed how fields were won", did not, one can safely venture to assert, succeed in more graphically illustrating his tale that the Montreal Gazette has done in describing, in effect, the victory of Digby. With an effrontery without parallel, the Tory organ asserts that the question of Commercial Union was at issue in the Digby election. A more preposterous claim could not be made. We all know that the issue of Dominion Government warrants, or the promise of them, were the issue that decided the day. Here is the testimony of the Montreal Gazette, at present the official organ of the Government. The Gazette said:—

"The Government has shown its appreciation of the action of this constituency last February in electing a Government supporter by the very liberal grants we have this year for the break-waters, etc., in this county, no less than $51,500. Thus:

Digby Pier	$40,000
Salmon River, Metaghan and Comeauville	2,000
Troth Cove	5,500

Beside the above, they have voted $500,000 to complete the railway from Digby to Annapolis. These works will give a great deal of employment to our people, and make a market for a great deal of timber, etc.

Remember these facts on Saturday, 16th inst., and vote for Jones."

Jones was the Tory candidate. Could any newspaper print a more brazen bid for votes, or more corruptly turn bribery funds to account? Commercial Union, nor any matter was the issue. Five hundred and fifty-one thousand dollars appropriated in indirect bribery was the magic factor in winning the riding for the government, whose majority, however, in spite of the corrupt means so lavishly employed, was reduced by a clean hundred—from 131 to 31. The hypocrisy which presumes to call this election result a condemnation of commercial union or any other principle, is simply heinous.

THERE is a possibility of an explosion in Bulgaria at any moment. The name of the president of the Sobranje is Toutchoff.

THE report comes from Ottawa that the Dominion Government proposes to create another batch of Q.C.s. If this sort of wholesale and indiscriminate distribution of honors continues, it will not be long before the highest distinction a legal gentleman can enjoy will be that of being termed a plain lawyer.

THE Liberals of South Renfrew have nominated Mr. Duncan McIntyre, formerly Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as candidate for the representation of South Renfrew, rendered vacant during the session by the death of the sitting member, Mr. Robt. L. Campbell. Mr. Campbell was returned by a majority of 66 last February, but it is probable that Mr. McIntyre, who has accepted the nomination, will largely increase those figures. He is at present in the North West, travelling with Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, but will return at once and enter upon the active work of the campaign.

THE Conservatives are in evident hot water respecting the Kingston election protest. They claim that, no matter how corrupt have been other contest in that city, Sir John enjoyed the remarkable distinction of being fairly and honestly elected last February. Yet they have made two energetic attempts to swap off the protest which hangs over the premier's head. One proposal was made to East Durham which Mr. Blake declined with thanks, and the other was to East Hastings, but that, too, has been politely but firmly declined by Mr. Bardette. It seems now that Sir John will have to again experience the sensation of being dropped from his seat by a judge.

The Dominion and Industrial Exhibition, Toronto.

The Dominion Exhibition for the present year is to be held at Toronto, from the 5th to the 17th of September next, in conjunction with the great Industrial Fair, and these two exhibitions combined in one will, without doubt, be the grandest affair of the kind we have yet had in Canada. The Prizes offered amount to the large sum of $30,000. The Toronto people are making great preparations for the show, and although their exhibition grounds and buildings are already the best and most extensive in the country, yet they are adding $40,000 worth of additional buildings this year. With a view of securing the show of live stock the first week as well as the second, large special prizes are offered for horses, cattle, sheep and pigs, to be shown during the first week of the exhibition in addition to the regular prizes to be awarded the second week. A large number of superior special attractions are being secured for the exhibition, and they will be distributed throughout the whole time, so that the show the first week will be equally as attractive as the second. Cheap railway rates and excursions will also be given during the whole time of the exhibition, so that everyone will be afforded an equal opportunity of visiting this great show. Entries in all departments, except for fruit and flowers, have to be made before the 12th of August, and any intending exhibitors who have not yet obtained a copy of the prize list should lose no time in doing so. They can be obtained from the Secretaries of all Agricultural Societies and Mechanics' Institutes, or by dropping a post card to Mr. Hill, the Secretary at Toronto. The Toronto exhibition this year promises to be unusually attractive, and our readers who may receive an visiting the Queen City at the time of the Fair in September, will, we are sure, have no cause for disappointment.

The International Race.

Newark continues in the lead but by a reduced percentage. Buffalo has again advanced to second position, Syracuse falling back to third through Rochester's victory Saturday. Toronto is well up in fourth place. Rochester is a good fifth. Jersey City now leads Hamilton. Wilkesbarre has done remarkably well, having lost only one game out of five played during the week. Scranton is falling back steadily.

THE IMPORTATION OF CATTLE.

Neat Cattle Will not be Admitted Except for Stock-Breeding Purposes.

OTTAWA, July 23.—An order-in-council has been passed rescinding all previous orders respecting the importation from the United States into Manitoba, the Northwest and British Columbia of neat cattle, horses, sheep and swine, and prescribing new rules and regulations. The importation of neat cattle is prohibited, except for stock-breeding purposes, or in transit from one point to another in the United States through Canada. All animals are required to be inspected, and swine are to be quarantined for twenty-one days.

American Boodlers in Canada.

MONTREAL, July 23.—Ex-Ald. Henry L. Bayles and Charles Dempsey are registered at the Leon Springs Hotel. Moloney is still at Lachine, and Keenan at the Windsor. The latter is in poor health and is being treated for kidney trouble. The Moloneys continue to be quite at home at Lachine, and take things remarkably easy. Bill Moloney says that the old man, referring to Jake Sharp, will never live out his sentence.

Both Satisfied.

NEW ORLEANS, July 23.—A shooting affray occurred here at noon to-day at the depot of the Natchez, Jackson and Columbus Railroad between Griffith Enders, a master mechanic, and another employe of that road, Joe Owens, resulting in the death of both. It is reported that the cause of the difficulty was the discharge of Owens by the master mechanic.

THE HANLAN-GAUDAUR RACE.

A Fiasco on Lake Carnegie in Which Gaudaur Comes in Ahead.

PULLMAN, Ill., July 23.—Probably the greatest fiasco of a boat race ever pulled off in the West was the one here this afternoon in which Edward Hanlan nominally defeated Jacob Gaudaur. It had been announced that the contest would begin the determination of America, Gaudaur club, and no end of the paraphernalia a fake of that character at the public. In addition it was expected that the result would definitely decide whether Hanlan, whom many people still believed the world's greatest oarsman, had virtually closed his career. The race settled nothing and was in no particular a success, not even in the matter of gate receipts. About 1200 people only were present, instead of the 5000 or 10,000 expected. Those who stayed away had cause to congratulate themselves, for the whole affair was characterized by execrable management, to say nothing of the suspicion that the race itself partook of the nature of a hippodrome. Like the last contest between the two men, to-day's race was rowed under popular expectations. Their race on Hamilton Duck place in the midst of a blinding rain that prevented a close watch being kept. To-day they rowed in the dark, and watching of any kind was impossible. When Hanlan finished in front of the grand stand Gaudaur was a quarter of a mile away, out in the middle of the lake. No one on shore could see him, and rumors of all kinds were prevalent, some holding that he had given up and had been taken aboard the press boat.

Notwithstanding that the water was not particularly rough, though a fresh northwest breeze was blowing, it was nearly 5 p.m., and the moon was faintly shining before the two men made their appearance. The delay was ostensibly due to a disagreement between the two oarsmen. Gaudaur claiming that the articles of agreement guaranteed him "smooth water." At last, when everybody was tantalized and disgusted, Referee Alexander Hamilton, of the Pullman Athletic Club decided that he would wait no longer, and Gaudaur must row or the race would be given to Hanlan.

At the outset Gaudaur took the lead and was half a length ahead as long as the pair could be seen from the press boat. That was scarcely more than a third of the course, for the smoke of the tugs and the darkness soon effectually hid them from view. Both were pulling thirty-four strokes to the minute. They had turned the stake and were nearly all the way to the line before the wrecked tug provided us a press boat again allowed a sight of an oarsman. Hanlan was now eight or ten boat lengths ahead of Gaudaur, who was sculling very wide of the course and kept so. Shortly after, friendly ghosts from the reporters. At this juncture Gaudaur spurted in a way that showed he could have won if he chose, but, though finishing on about equal terms with Hanlan as near as could be judged, was disqualified by his position, and the race was given to Hanlan.

After the contest was over, Mr. St. John, the backer of Gaudaur, stated then he had told Gaudaur to go out and lose the race. Mr. St. John explained that he did this knowing that Gaudaur could not afford to attempt to win when the agreement was not complied with and the water was so much in favor of Hanlan. Mr. St. John said he would allow the race awarded to Hanlan without a struggle, only that he wished to satisfy the people by showing them something for their money. Hanlan's time was 20.33; distance three miles.

MERCIER AT LAPRAIRIE.

The Tax on Banking and Insurance Companies Will Produce $200,000.

MONTREAL, July 24.—At Laprairie yesterday Dr. Brisson, Conservative, and Mr. Gayette, Liberal, were nominated to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Charlebois, M.P.P., for the county. After the nomination a political meeting was held when a large number of addresses were made. Premier Mercier in the course of his speech read a telegram from the Pope in answer to one from him to the effect that he had been charged with insulting the church and with being a rebel against the church for supporting the Jesuits' Bill passed at the last session of the Legislature. Cardinal Simeoni, the Pope's secretary replied: "You cannot be a rebel, as the Holy Father gave permission to the Jesuits to seek incorporation."

He also stated that the arrears, including costs, to be paid by the banking and insurance corporations, etc., as a result of the tax being declared legal, would be over $300,000; that his government has accepted the offer of the City of Montreal to pay $125,000 to clear off all the claims of the Quebec Government against it, and that in consequence of receiving these moneys, together with $100,000 from the Ontario Government in connection with the school lands question, there might not be a necessity for so large a provincial loan.

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it. eodw30

Sunday Amusements.

The services in St. Paul's Church Sunday night were seriously disturbed by loud shouting and laughter in the Court House Park, which would break out at intervals and distract the attention of all. The uproar was caused by the ludicrous attitudes assumed by unwary ones who sat upon a disabled bench which had been propped up for their benefit with slender sticks, but which immediately collapsed on being touched. Whenever a luckless lounger undertook to seat himself and was placed hors de combat, the crowd would manifest its appreciation of his dilemma vociferously as he extricated himself.

Stands will be erected in the middle of the grounds for the Victoria Rifles Band, of Montreal, comprising 45 pieces, and for the Highland pipers and dancers who will accompany the Montreal Canton Militant here. These Highlanders will give an exhibition of their dancing. Besides this, the Montreal Canton will give an exhibition drill. There will be an entire change of programme for each evening.

Exclusive Rights.

Commodore Rogers left this morning for Stony Lake, to superintend the preparations being made for the A.C.A. meet, beginning August 1st. The numerous islands on the lake are being so rapidly filled up that it was feared the premises reserved for members of the Association might be encroached upon, and the Commodore has gone north to prevent any such imposition. The islands thus reserved are Juniper, Bear, Otter, and another smaller nameless one. By joining the Northern Division of A.C.A. a first-class camping place can be secured, and all the privileges connected with the Association. The fee is low, only $3; $2 to those who formerly at any time belonged to the A.C.A. Application can be made to the Purser of the Division, Mr. J. D. Collins, Peterborough. This year's meet at Stony Lake will be one of the most successful of its kind ever held in Canada.

Gospel Tent Meeting.

The evangelistic services being held in the tent by Messrs. Marshall and Irving were well attended yesterday. At night numbers were unable to obtain admission, and the sides were taken down and seats provided for the occasion. Earnest addresses were delivered by both evangelists. Mr. Irving's discourse was based on St. Luke 13-24-28, while Mr. Marshall preached from St. Luke 17-32, "Remember Lot's wife." He spoke of her as a type of the procrastinator. She had had many privileges but she was lost; she was warned of impending judgment and pointed to a way of escape, but she lingered and perished.

The services are to be continued each night during the week (Saturday excepted at 8 p.m.) As there are no collections taken up at the meetings much curiosity has been manifested and many enquiries have been made as to the way in which the preachers are supported. The ground they take is that the gospel must be preached freely to the unconverted: that if God calls men to preach the gospel he will support them without appeals being made to men. The evangelists are not under the control or direction of any committee or society and depend on the Lord alone for their support. Mr. Irving was, for several sessions in a college in London, England, and for a number of years has been laboring as an evangelist. For over eleven years Mr. Marshall has been conducting similar services in England, Scotland, Ireland, the United States and Canada.

Progress Towards Perfection.

An Able Sermon by Rev. Principal Grant in St. Paul's Church.

Unusually large congregations attended both services in St. Paul's church, Sunday, the announcement that Rev. Principal Grant, of Queen's University, would preach, being largely the cause thereof. The choir assisted ably at the services, Miss Maclaim presiding at the organ. In the morning the reverend gentleman chose for his text Hebrews VI, 1:—

"Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on into perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith towards God."

There have been a great many discussions in the church on the subject of whether a man can be sinless in this life. By some this text has been quoted on the subject, but it has nothing whatever to do with it. The question itself was not one of practical importance, because, the preacher said, by his experience the men and women who think themselves perfect are very, very far from being perfect, and he was inclined to think that the notion that they are has more to do with their contention than the passage under consideration. The real meaning of this text was to be got out by remembering the verses just before it, where the apostle said, "Strong meat belongs to them that are of full age." Now, that has the same meaning, and it was a pity it was not translated in the same way in both verses. Let us go on to full age, until we are full grown. He said to this people, and he was right too, "You are in a stage of arrested growth, in a state of incomplete development." That is not the right thing. That is the condition of a broken pillar. Let us go on, he says, to the full development of our beings to a rightful issue." He uses three illustrations to show how preposterous is their present condition of

ARRESTED DEVELOPMENT.

He speaks of those persons who have remained babes for a long time. Everyone could see at once what that suggested. You look, said the preacher, with delight on the little baby—nothing more beautiful. But if told that that babe, which seems to you only a few months old, is really twenty or thirty years old, you look with horror and pity. What a condition! The apostle uses the illustration of the food. There is nothing better for babes than milk, nothing so good at any time of life; but if the man told you, the preacher said, that he could not eat or drink anything but milk, as if he were a babe, you would be sorry for him. You would feel at any rate that that was not the man to do the rough work of the world. You would not set him to do any hard work. So again the apostle uses another illustration. He says, "not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works." Not hammering forever at the foundation! That brings before us the man who builds. Of course like a wise man he begins at the foundation, says the preacher, and lays it carefully in the spring, and you go away expecting when you return to see the superstructure erected. But you come back again in the winter and he is still hammering away at the foundation. And you say, "Why have you not put something on the foundation?" He replies, "I mean to establish the importance of a good foundation. Can we have too good a foundation?" Why, you answer, you would rather have the poorest shanty in the place than the foundation. The mere foundation will not shelter any one. You must go on to build, to complete your superstructure, or you have not the building complete.

These three illustrations of the apostle show what is his mind is the relation between what he calls the and the full growth to which he exhorts them to attain. The preacher then went on to ascertain what was meant by the first principles of Christianity and the full growth.

The apostle tells what he means by the first principles of Christianity. He mentions six things, and they can be classified under three heads, two each. First, he mentions the essence of a correct doctrine and a correct evangelical creed; then the doctrine of correct church ritual and baptism; lastly, the resurrection from the dead. Upon each of these the preacher enlarged at length, referring to the tenacity with which some of the early Hebrew Christians clung to old forms and old ceremonies instituted by Moses, in direct opposition to Paul's views, who endeavored to show them that, though once there was need of them, that time had long since passed, and the new church should go on to build upon the foundation, and arrive at a state of completion. The whole sermon was intended to impress that thought upon the congregation whom the preacher was addressing. No matter how good a foundation any church had, if all its rituals, doctrines and creed were correct, unless it proceeded to build upon this foundation, it would be practically dead, and would never attain to complete development. This led up to the subject of the application of Christian principles to society. Society to-day was acknowledged to be corrupt, but by individual and united efforts of Christian people it could be remedied. To this end the preacher concluded by urging his hearers to take to heart the text and not thinking each one only of his own salvation, take an interest in those about him, and work for the Master.

In the evening the Rev. Principal Grant continued the subject of the morning's discourse, in the text of which the Apostle had intended to teach first personal holiness, and secondly the application of Christian principles to Society. The first was easily understood; but the second touching was more difficult, and the evening's discourse was a skillful exposition of it.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,500,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w20d

IT WAS A GRAND VICTORY.

THE GREAT AND HEROIC BATTLE OF LUNDY'S LANE.

A Graphic Description of an All Night Struggle Which Took Place Seventy-Three Years Ago—A Commemorative Gathering on the Battle Field.

LUNDY'S LANE, July 25.

LOOKING from the top of the crest where, seventy - three years ago today, Canadian, British and American troops struggled for the vantage in the bloodiest battle ever fought on Canadian soil, the mists of Niagara Cataract rise in a thick white filmy veil over the tree tops a mile away, and the thunder of the mighty rush of waters reverberates through the forests and rolls over the farm lands until its echoes are lost among the fruit orchards of the Eden of Canada, the famed Niagara Peninsula.

Three miles to the front is Chippewa, where Major-Gen. Riall on July 5, with 1500 regulars, 500 militia and 200 Indians, attacked the American forces, 4000 strong, and was defeated after a hard fought contest, and where, too, the beaten American forces halted for one night after their taste of British cold steel at Lundy's Lane.

Seventeen miles further on is Fort Erie, where the Americans were subsequently cooped up by half their numbers of British and Canadian soldiers until finally they betook themselves across the frontier and sat down amid the devastation that blackened their country and left not a building standing from Niagara to Black Rock, and seven miles to the left can be seen the dark shaft of Brock's Monument towering aloft on Queenston Heights, while away to the right stretches the road that gives its name to one of the most glorious bits of Canadian history.

You can get to Lundy's Lane in two ways. Stopping on the Canadian side you come out by the horse cars at a cost of the smallest coin of the currency of the realm. If you go over to the American side you have to take a carriage at a cost of many shekels, while the bridge-keeper dives deep into your pocket; the custom house officer mangles your grip-sack, and the driver impresses you with the idea that about $2 will be the correct thing to solace him for having bestowed on you the honor of his company. He will also point out to you the various places along the way where spirituous viands are to be had for money—your money, of course—and if you refuse to take the hint, will look at you and breathe hard in a most uncomfortable, not to say demoniac, way that begets in you an unholy desire to revive on the spot the rite of human sacrifice.

Seventy-three years ago Gen. Brown, commanding the American forces, lay at Chippewa with 5000 men. Riall lay at Lundy's Lane, whither, at 5.30 in the evening, came Gen. Drummond from Toronto by way of Queenston with 800 regulars and militia. Brown had been threatening an attack with his whole force, and when Drummond arrived Riall had already commenced a retreat, his advance guard, 800 strong, being already some distance away. Drummond promptly sent to recall them and at once formed his line of battle. On the summit of the hill he planted a battery of five field guns, with two brass 24-pounders slightly in advance. In rear of the battery he posted the 89th Regiment, a detachment of the Royal Scots and the light companies of the 41st. The Glengarry Light Infantry held the right and the Canadian militia and a detachment of the 3d Bulls the left, while a squadron of the 19th Light Dragoons were placed slightly in the rear. The enemy were already within 600 yards, the advance guard consisting of Scott's battalion, being 2000 strong, with Ripley's brigade, which soon joined, added 2000 more, and Brown himself shortly arrived with another 1000 men.

From 5.30 until 9 o'clock Drummond fought the American forces, his cannon doing terrible execution and his men standing firm, even when his left flank was flung back to the crest of the hill by sheer weight of numbers and his gunners were being bayonetted as they worked their pieces. At the latter hour Riall's advance guard, which had been recalled, came up and with it 400 militia, reinforcing Drummond with 1200 men. Then the battle raged with greater fury than ever. Darkness shed a faint light that failed to show the battle parties and was lost before the spouting flame of the artillery and the volleying musket. By a desperate charge the Americans at length captured the battery and drove the British troops over the hill, but old Drummond threw off his hat, called his men, and with a grand cheer they swept back again over the hill, retook their own battery, and, capturing one gun of the enemy, turned it against the Americans. But the latter were not yet satisfied. Pushing their guns close up to Drummond's batteries there ensued a cannon duel at a few paces, dealing wreck and ruin about in horrible manner. But British cold steel was again brought into play and at midnight, with the bayonet guarding his rides, Brown reluctantly bore his retreat, halting at Chippewa and finally falling back on Fort Erie.

The battle field was a terrible spectacle. Seventeen hundred men lay dead and wounded on the trampled and torn sod, while those unhurt were literally exhausted. The British loss was 878. The Americans had 860 killed and wounded and lost 300 prisoners. The Americans call the battle Bridgewater and claim it as a victory for themselves.

To-day there is scare a trace of the battle to be found. Standing on the eminence that formed the key of the position one cannot understand how Drummond's 1800 could stand before Brown's 5000. The hill is nothing more than a gentle slope up which a regiment could come at the double without winding them. In no place is there anything like a deadivity, and Brown could have marched around either of the British flanks with the utmost ease. There is not a strong piece of ground within miles, and there was no forest on the hill to screen its defenders. Lundy's Lane is a nice piece of sandy country road that comes up the little ascent and then runs along towards Welland. It was back over this road that the left was thrown when that flank was turned, and it was across this road that both armies swept in the carnage of their bayonet charges. At the foot of the hill there is a cross road, and on this road and the lane stands the town of Drummondville, now called Niagara Falls South, presumably because it is not south from Niagara. On this cross-road there still stands a house and stable belonging to Mr. Spence, which were in existence at the time of the battle. Both were pierced with cannon balls, and to this day show the scars of the strife. The only other building near at the time was on the old Cook farm. The house has since been torn down, but on the day of the battle it was used as a hospital, and when the family returned to it the morning after there were three inches of congealed blood on the floor.

The famous hill was turned into a burying ground and is a cemetery to this day. The whole place is a grave. You walk over graves, stand on them, and the sexton digs in them. Close by the fence, next the church, is the grave of the Americas, Capt. Abraham Hull, who was buried where he fell and in the position his body occupied when found. He must have fallen within ten feet of the battery. He was a son of the Gen. Hull who surrendered at Detroit. Along the top of the hill the infantry were buried, principally in trenches, but the whole enclosure is covered with mounds. The artillerymen were buried on the slope of the hill. The dead were only buried about two feet deep and nowadays the spade of the sexton turns up skulls in the ghastly manner of the Shakesperean grave-digger or old Kaspar's ploughshare.

At the gate leading to the church is pointed out the place where the American dead who could not be buried were burned. Two hundred bodies, local tradition says, were piled up, fuel piled over them, the torch applied and the whole given over to the most awful holocaust that has ever mulched Canadian soil. No grave-digger disturbs their bones. The cemetery has been shamefully neglected. The ground is overgrown and run wild, the old gray stones that marked the resting places of the dead are in many instances overthrown, broken and defaced. The wooden tablets have been, with three exceptions, destroyed, fences are rotting and tumbled down and the place uncared for and desolate. Yet it is full of interest to the student. It was a burying ground before and it became a shambles on the day of battle.

I found one little tablet to-day, a piece of rough brown stone, rudely carved, bearing date 1793. It records the death of one Mr. Skinner. Another moss grown, old yellow slab, crumbling with age, is in memory of James Heaslip, who died Jan. 7, 1833. But those stones in memory of men who died in the battle possess the greatest interest. They are very few in number and many cannot now be deciphered. There is one, a substantial granite pillar, to the memory of Captain Robert Dennis Patterson of the 6th Regiment of Infantry, Royal 1st Warwickshire. Above the inscription is the crest of the regiment and on the reverse side these words: "Erected by order of his surviving brothers and sisters—T. C. P." The T. C. P. stands for T. C. Patteson, the postmaster of Toronto. Capt. Pattieson served under Sir John Moore and the Duke of Wellington in Spain, and was killed at Fort Erie after Lundy's Lane. Just above it is a marble slab to the memory of Lieut. William Hemphill, of the Royals, who was killed at Lundy's Lane, erected by his son, Lieut.-Col. Hemphill, of the 29th Cameronians, in 1854, and beside it one to Lieut.-Col. Gordon and Capt. Terrens, both killed at Fort Erie, erected by Major Barry Fox, their friend and companion, in 1851.

Wandering through this city of the dead I came to an iron fence surrounding a stone cairn, surmounted by a flat marble slab, marking the tomb of Lieut.-Col. the Hon. Cecil Bishopp of the 1st Foot Guards and Inspecting Field Officer of Upper Canada at that time. He had served with distinction in Holland, Spain and Portugal, was mortally wounded while engaged at Black Rock on July 13, 1813, and died three days after. He was the only son of the Baron de La Zouche Sir Cecil Bishopp. The tomb was restored in 1846 by his sisters. Of the three wooden slabs remaining only one can be deciphered, that of Private Wilson of the Royal Canadian Rifle Regiment. Several old warriors have been buried here in later times, among others Lieut.-Col. Philip Delatre and Major Richard Leonard of the 104th Regiment.

Here, too, is the family burying ground of Mr. Street, within whose enclosure there are eleven graves, from the big gray slab that marks the last resting place of Samuel Street of Connecticut, who settled here in 1790 and died in 1844, to the marble tomb of Thomas Clarke Street, M.P., who died in 1872. Here also are the graves of the Pearls, the Cooks, the Biggars, the Jarmalins, all old families, and there are numberless graves so overgrown with bushes that the stones cannot be seen and the names even are forgotten. The old sexton, himself an old soldier, tells wonderful stories of this old graveyard and moralizes amiably when his spade turns up the bones of forgotten heroes.

Yet, neglected and all, the spot is one of pride to our people, for there, at the foot of the hill on the left of the line where snug homes and smiling cottages now stand, Canadian soldiers, not English regulars, but native born Canadian militia, when overborne by Col. Miller's advance, fighting with odds of three to one, fell back only to the crest of the road, and there they stopped and there they stayed. They were there when the sun sank below the ridges over against the Chippewa, they were there when the great crush overpowered the battery and threw the 41st and the Bulls clean off the ridge, leaving the foe at their backs; they were there when that terrible lull came about 9 o'clock, waiting for the moon to rise, so that they could see to fight; they were there when the weary soldiers, spent by hard work were there to the end, fighting desperately all the time, never again receding, and the last men to cease firing that night. Wellington's Peninsular veterans fought not steadier that day than did the Canadian militia.

The Lundy's Lane Historical Society held a celebration here to-day. The society is newly created and the object is to restore the grounds in some way. They met at the cemetery this afternoon, the principal persons present being Rev. Mr. Ball, President; Richard Speer,

J. C. Hall, Wm. Dafoe, H. G. A. Cook, V. M. Porter and James Murray. The intention was to have an interchange of ideas, but, as nobody appeared to have any, they put up a sign showing that this was federal the site of the great battle, opened some American and Canadian flags above and then fell to thinking. Finally somebody got shovels and all hands went to work digging for relics. There was no difficulty in finding remains and many interesting mementoes were unearthed. Your reporter secured a very fine couple of skull and cross-bones, sundry petrified teeth and other similar debris and a pair of buttons of more or less value.

About 6 o'clock a wind fell appeared in the shape of an American county school convention, some fifty strong. Being learned they quickly consented to remain and subsequently partook of lemonade, cake and other light refreshment at the Misshanse' Hall. Later a meeting was held in the Town Hall which was fairly well attended. The principal speakers were the Americans, and being there, nobody, of course, could claim that there had been a Canadian victory. The historical part was done by a person named Remmington, who runs a cashabery in Buffalo and is naturally interested in dead things. His version of the little unpleasantness was to the effect that the American Col. Miller crept around the Canadian flank, captured the guns from behind, and then both sides marched off the field and quit fighting. Commissioner Walsh of Buffalo was also one of the principal speakers, as was a Gen. Hull. Rev. Canon Houston, Rev. Mr. Hubbs and other clerical gentlemen and lay fellow-citizens from both sides of the line also spoke, the burden of their address being that it was wrong for nation to make war against nation, and that the sword should be beaten, etc., and the spear turned into, etc.

Resolutions were carried in favor of erecting a monument and repairing the grounds, and the American brethren will be expected to chip in and help with the finances, and Government will also be interceded with.

As it stands Lundy's Lane Cemetery is a disgrace to the country and to the people. It would be no more than an act of decency for the Government to restore the place and make it what it commemorates, a place of glory to every Canadian.

THE ST. THOMAS ACCIDENT.

Continuation of the Inquest—The Evidence of the Train Hands.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., July 25.—The adjourned inquest on the death of the victims of the late collision opened this evening at 7.30 in the Court House before Coroner Vanbuskirk.

The first witness was brakeman John Mason, who testified to being on the train on the day of the disaster. He saw both Donnelly and the conductor, neither of whom were under the influence of liquor. He examined the first two coaches at the Port and saw that the brakes worked all right. He saw the conductor examine several other cars. He came upon the last coach, but heard no whistle on approaching the crossing at St. Thomas.

Allan Davis, brakeman on the front part of the train, was standing two or three coaches from the rear of the train at the Port when the engineer applied the brakes and he felt the brakes working all right. He heard two whistles at St. Thomas. The first was for the semaphore and the second was an uncertain one. He did not apply brakes. He believed the engineer and the conductor were both sober. He did not think the conductor tested the brakes at Port Stanley. Assistant-Superintendent Larmour explained the action taken by the Grand Trunk Railway Company on the night of the accident. He did not think from the evidence given that Brakeman Mason or Conductor Spettigue had done their duty.

Mechanical Superintendent McIlwain fully explained the working of the air brakes. He stated that the brake on the burned coach was of different mechanism from those on the other coaches, and if similarly used would have a directly opposite effect from that intended. His version of the affair was that when the last coach of the train which went down was switched on the ill-fated train the air tap, which had been closed going down, was left closed, and thus prevented the action of the air from the engine on all the cars back of the tender on the train.

The inquest was adjourned at 12.30 until to-morrow evening at 7.30.

A BIG BLAZE AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, July 25.—What threatened to be a very disastrous fire broke out about 8 o'clock this evening in some sheds in the rear of A. S. Woodburn's printing office, Elgin-street, and in a few minutes spread to the third floor of the building used as a bindery, where the official debates of the Senate and Commons for last session were laid out for binding. The flames made short work of the sheds and did some damage to The Journal printing office, but nothing of consequence and the issue of the paper will not be affected. The fire was very fierce for awhile and threatened to sweep away the whole block, but the firemen worked splendidly and in half an hour after they arrived had it under control. The fire was burning for some time before the alarm was struck and had made great headway before any water was thrown on it.

The loss on the building and plant, except the debates, will probably not exceed $5000, and is fully covered by insurance. The Senate debates are safe and uninjured. There was no insurance on them. There is some doubt whether the Commons debates can be used or not. They were all folded ready for binding and the flames scorched the edges and they were also pretty well drenched, but it is thought that with close trimming of the edges, the margins being large, they can be utilized.

AN AMERICAN FISHING SCHOONER SEIZED.

Two Boats with Seines and Fourteen Men Found Taking Fish in Shore Gathered in by One of the Canadian Fisheries Protective Fleet.

HALIFAX, N.S., July 25.—A despatch from Shelburne says: "The Gloucester fishing schooner, Annie W. Hudgson, Capt. Morrison, was brought up the harbor to-day by Capt. Knowlton of the Dominion Fishery Cruiser Advance. The facts connected with the vessel's arrest, as given by Capt. Morrison, are that during a fog yesterday the Hodgson lost a dory containing two men. After beating around in a vain search for the missing dory she at last, about daylight this morning, made Shelburne harbor and a boat was sent ashore to make enquiries, when the lost men were found. Just as the Hodgson was getting under way again she was boarded by a boat's crew from the Advance, and Capt. Knowlton taking charge of her brought her into the harbor, where she is now anchored. The charge made against her is violation of the conditions laws in not reporting at the Customs House. Capt. Knowlton declines to give any information about the seizure.

Caught Above Fishing.

SOURIS, P.E.I., July 25.—The cruiser Critic yesterday captured two seine boats and seines and fourteen men belonging to the schooners Col. J. H. French and Argonaut, of Gloucester. They were caught above fishing off East Point, with their seines full of mackerel. The schooners left the boats and crews. The boats were towed in to Souris.

The U. S. Consul's Report.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 25.—A telegram was received to-day from U.S. Consul Carleton at Souris, P.E.I., stating that the seines and boats with all the crews of the schooners Col. J. H. France and Argonaut were seized yesterday off East Point, P.E.I., by the Dominion cutter Critic. It is said the vessels' boats were close in shore with the seines out when the cutter appeared. The vessels cleared out and escaped the cutter, but before the boats could escape they were seized. It is thought the vessels will be seized before getting home as they will have to put in for assistance.

Returned From the Fishing Grounds.

OTTAWA, July 25.—Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, returned to the city on Saturday night from a three weeks' trip in the Acadia, during which time he sailed over 1000 miles and visited all the principal fishing grounds and personally inspected the means adopted to protect our fisheries. In conversation to-night he confirmed previous reports that the American fishermen were making more efforts this year to conform to Canadian law and to respect the Canadian fisheries than they did last year. The American fleet, he said, numbered at present over 120 sail, and they were reported to be having very hard luck outside the three mile limit, scarcely catching anything. On the other hand, the Canadian inshore fishing has been very good, especially in mackerel, and the price having gone up considerably in the United States markets on account of the small American catch, Canadian fishermen were doing exceedingly well. The lobster fishery in many sections has been a total failure and many of the lobster fishermen have taken up their pots and gone in for mackerel fishing. There is a very general opinion that the lobster business has been overdone and that unless stringent measures are adopted the crustacean will be exterminated.

LOST IN THE BAY OF BENGAL.

Particulars of the Wreck of the Sir John Lawrence.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The steamer City of Rio de Janeiro arrived last night, bringing Hong Kong advices to July 1, and Yokohama news to July 9. By the loss of the steamer Sir John Lawrence on the Bay of Bengal, before reported, 800 lives were lost, mainly females of the best families in Bengal on a pilgrimage to Juggernaut.

From May 21 to May 26 a cyclone raged in the Bay of Bengal with disastrous results to shipping, and attended with great loss of life. The storm was the severest experienced in the local quarter since 1866, judging from the reports of vessels which weathered it. The passengers on board the Sir John Lawrence numbered 730, the officers and crew numbering fifty.

BOULANGER'S TEMPTERS.

Ninety-four Generals Offered to Assist Him in a Coup d'Etat.

LONDON, July 23.—The statement made in France that the Monarchists incited Gen. Boulanger to a coup d'etat is now generally credited. Boulanger caused the information indirectly to reach the newspapers. Ninety-four generals assured Boulanger of their readiness to assist him in a coup d'etat. Their names will be published if M. Ferron authorizes it. Boulanger's aim in sending confidential communications to the press is to persuade the country of his fidelity to the Republic and to keep himself in the public eye. The Moderates are urging M. Rouvier, the Premier, to remove Gen. Boulanger from any command in the army and to place him on the retired list.

DEPUTY RETURNING OFFICERS' PAY.

In reference to a paragraph in yesterday's edition, Mr. S. Morrow, returning officer for East Peterborough, states that at once he received the money for the payment of deputy-returning-officers, poll clerks, etc., from the government (which was some months ago), he disbursed it to the parties entitled to it. Mr. J. A. Hall, returning officer for West Peterborough, states that he has not yet received a cheque from the government representing the amount due those officials. Consequently the latter will see that the blame for delay must be placed upon the broad shoulders of the government. The government's delay is quite excusable when one reflects that the attention of the department of the government charged with election matters has had its time fully employed in placing or retaining in a seat in the House, Mr. George Frederick Baird, the good Conservative who did not receive a majority of votes. It is too much to expect from the government to manufacture members of parliament unaided by the electors, and at the same time to attend to payment for the services of election officials.

THE Tory party thinks it can stand its own sins and shoulder the responsibility of those of others. Baird, the member of parliament who was not elected, but who was forced into the seat by the party seal of Deputy-returning officer Dunn, at first felt ashamed to take the seat he had no right to, but members of the Tory party persuaded him and he gulped down the disgrace, accepted the stolen goods and fraudulently pocketed $1000 of public money as sessional indemnity, to which he had no more right than a navvy. He got so mercilessly roasted during the session and so cold-shouldered as an intruder amongst honestly elected members, that he decided to resign the seat he held by the grace of a partizan Tory election official backed by a shameless Tory majority in Parliament, but, at the ernest solicitation of the Tory party, again he has decided to hang on to a position which he holds by fraud. At this rate representative government is a mockery.

"REVENGE is sweet especially to women" says Byron, and he might have justly added, to politicians of light calibre. An Ottawa dispatch states that Mr. McLelan, the Postmaster-General, and at one time Finance Minister, has undertaken to get even with Sir Richard Cartwright for the drubbing which the latter gave him in the House of Commons the session before last, after Mr. McLelan had delivered his first and last Budget speech. He has ordered that the name of the postoffice at Cartwright, in West Durham, be changed from Cartwright to Blackstock, in honor of the gentleman who opposed Mr. Blake in that riding last February. Having thus erected a monument to Mr. Blackstock and sat upon Sir Richard, Mr. McLelan has gone off to enjoy a two months' holiday. His dark and deep revenge will not much disturb Sir Richard's sleep nor destroy his usefulness as one of our leading statesmen, nor will it help the oft-defeated barrister of Toronto to a seat in parliament.

THE Guelph Mercury was first issued as a daily twenty years ago. Entering life contemporaneously with the Dominion of Canada, it has shared the progress and advancement which mark the first twenty years of our national existence. The Mercury is one of our most valuable and reliable publications. Liberal in politics it has always staunchly advocated measures and men tending to forward the best interests of the country, and valiantly and effectively assisted in fighting the battles of the party, whose success would most surely contribute to the promotion of the welfare of the country at large. It is a thrifty, steady-going, reliable and responsible publication, which fills its place creditably in the first ranks of rural daily journals. The EXAMINER congratulates the Mercury upon the attainment of its majority and hopes that it has many other scores of years of prosperity before it.

THE Belleville Intelligencer asks, "What do the Commercial Unionists want?" Commercial Union—that's an easy one.

Literary Notes.

Our Little Men and Women for August comes with its 24 pages of half-and-half reading and pictures, as usual.

In it we learn that a village of ants numbers sometimes half-a-million, and that all the inhabitants not only know one another when they meet on the street, but remember one another for months. A naturalist found that out by catching some and keeping them four months and then putting them back among their old neighbors. Their friends were so glad to see them that they actually took them up and caressed and carried them in their—arms?

Ants talk with their horns. That is, they toss their horns and understand one another.

Little folks have the advantage nowadays of picking up a great deal of knowledge in learning to read. That is really what this magazine is for—fun and fact together. You can get a specimen copy of it by sending five cents to D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A Great Gain.

"I used a good deal of doctor's medicine for kidney complaint during five years, was getting worse all the time until I tried B. B. B. I took three bottles, gained in weight from 130 to 150 lbs. I can highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to be a good medicine." Thus testifies John Walton, of Springfield, N.B. 2w29d

ANOTHER TYNDALL LETTER.

The Eminent Scientist Comments on the Secretary of Trevelyan.

LONDON, July 26.—Prof. Tyndall publishes another anti-Gladstone letter, making the candidacy of Sir G. O. Trevelyan on the Liberal ticket for Bridgeton the occasion. In this letter Prof. Tyndall uses the following language: "Something has been gained for the cause of healthy political action when Sir George Otto Trevelyan, whose presence hitherto has been a dry rot in the tissues of Gladstone, takes his proper place under his appropriate master. . . . I must record my solemn protest against the scattered loyalists of Ireland being handed over to the tender mercies of the Romish hierarchy and the Irish National League, where, the necessity aside, I would be prepared to go beyond mere protest against so infamous a consummation. To what a pass have we come! Liberal England and Liberal Scotland fooled to the nowhere of one perverted intellect. Sir George Otto Trevelyan has abandoned the company of men of truth and honor to follow the fortunes of a honey rhetorician who sets at naught the plainest dictates of political morality."

Carelessness Causes Two Deaths.

HUDSON, Wis., July 26.—The south bound passenger train on the North Wisconsin division of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway, ran into an open switch at Cumberland station. Engineer John Donohue of Hudson and Fireman Webster of Altoona were killed. The engine, express and baggage cars were wrecked. Carelessness caused the accident.

DUBLIN, July 26.—At a meeting of campaign tenants on the Vandeleur estate in West Clare on Sunday it was decided to accept the offer of a reduction of thirty per cent in rents.

A Protest Against the Bill.

LONDON, July 26.—A protest against the Irish Crimes Act Amendment (the Coercion Bill) has been issued over the signatures of the Earl of Granville and twenty-eight Liberal peers, including the Earl of Rosebery, the Marquis of Ripon, the Earl of Kimberly and Earl Spencer. The protest denounces the act as a measure of lasting irritation, of hatred and mistrust of the law, and declares that the measure deprives Irishmen of individual rights and creates and stimulates the growth of secret societies.

A Nationalist Convention.

DUBLIN, July 26.—A Nationalist convention was held at Newry to-day, attended by sixty delegates, including many priests. The meeting unanimously resolved to treat as a leper any traitor testifying under the Crimes Act. It was also resolved that if the league should be proclaimed the Newry branch should use every stratagem to continue its meeting by night, in the fields, in the streets, or private houses.

Regarding the Proclamation.

LONDON, July 26.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Morley asked what had happened to explain the proclamation of the whole of Ireland, since the Government has assured the House that the law was as well obeyed in some parts of Ireland as in any part of Great Britain.

Mr. Balfour replied that he had no reason to change his opinion, that parts of Ireland were as quiet as parts of England. What the Government had done was not to apply the whole Crimes Act to Ireland generally, but only the sub-sections dealing with rioting, unlawful assemblies and obstruction of the public.

Mr. Sexton asked whether the executive, before issuing the proclamation, distinguished the counties where it was necessary to prevent crime from those where it was necessary to punish crime.

Mr. Balfour stated that in every case in which a county had been specially proclaimed the proclamation had been issued because the Government believed in the actual existence of crime or intimidation.

THE CASS CASE.

Contemptible Conduct of the Police in the Enquiry.

LONDON, July 25.—The line some inferior police officials have taken in the Regent-street case scandalizes the London public. They have stirred the slums of Stockton, where Miss Cass formerly lived, in order to rake up evidence against her, which they seem to have failed to find and which at any rate has nothing to do with this matter. Then they collected and repeated a quantity of gossip about her presence in Regent-street as corroboration of the testimony of the policeman Endicott, who arrested her. This effort also broke down. The alleged witnesses do not appear, though second-hand hearsay evidence is allowed in this singular enquiry.

Sir Charles Warren has now given orders which will compel counsel either to produce witnesses or abandon the charges against Miss Cass. These proceedings strengthen public opinion against the conduct of the police and in favor of the girl. A leading magistrate who has hitherto supported his colleagues now tells me he is convinced of Miss Cass' innocence.

Drowned in the Grand River.

GALT, July 25.—Charlie Kinsman, aged about 12, eldest son of J. H. Kinsman, was drowned in the Grand River here this afternoon by falling off a small raft he had been using to float himself around the river. The body was recovered half an hour afterwards.

A Child Run Over and Killed.

MONTREAL, July 25.—A 7-year-old son of Charles Labelle, professor of music, was run over by an empty stone cart to-day and killed.

Ill Temper

is more rapidly improved by relief from physical suffering than from any other way. Step on your friend's corn, and the impulse to strike is strongest. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, by quickly and painlessly removing them insures good nature. Fifty imitations prove its value. Beware of substitutes. "Putnam's," sure, safe, painless. 6w30

A Node to the Hair.

Young ladies, in addition to bangs on the forehead, are now wearing their hair in a knot behind. This knot, queerly enough, is "louder" than the bang. The girls say it's "knotty, but nice."

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 2w29d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Are You Going to Travel?

Don't forget a supply of that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a superior remedy for sea sickness, and a positive cure for all bowel complaints induced by bad water, change of diet, or of climate. Whether at home or abroad, it should be kept at hand in case of emergency. 2w29d

Central Park.

A number of the directors of the Horticultural Society yesterday afternoon visited Central Park and decided upon a course of action in the laying out and improving Central Park. Mr. Sid. Blade has assumed charge of the projected work and began this morning with a staff of men. From Sid's well known taste and experience in landscape gardening and floriculture, it is expected that Central Park will, ere long, rival the Court House Park.

A Swindler's Game.

A questionable character, calling what he claims to be an infallible preventive of explosion in a lamp, has been making the rounds of the town last week and this. Wherever he sold the preparation he gave strict instructions to the purchaser to not open the package until the stuff was wanted for use, as the action of the air would spoil it. One young lady, though, promptly disobeyed the instruction, and found inside the wrapper—a piece of chalk enclosed in a red flannel rag. After perusing this paragraph our readers will scarcely need a warning to have nothing to do with the swindler.

Complimentary Notice.

Referring to the Victoria Rifles Band, of Montreal, which will be present at the Oddfellows' Demonstration in Peterborough next August, and give a couple of promenade concerts, the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press of August, 1884, says:—"The celebrated Victoria Rifles Band, of Montreal, fully realized the high expectations which had been formed of it. It is certainly a magnificent band, and its playing was universally admired. * * * The Victoria Rifles Band gave a concert in City Park at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was an immense crowd in the park, and the concert was listened to with every token of the highest appreciation."

A Cheap Excursion.

Wednesday, July 27th, Belleville holds her civic holiday; and the congregation have selected that day for holding a grand picnic in aid of St. Michael's Church building fund, on the Fair grounds park. The committee of management have arranged an elaborate programme of sports, games, races, running, trotting, etc., for which handsome prizes will be awarded. A baseball match between the Belleville and Kingston clubs will be a feature of the day. A train will leave the Midland station for Belleville at 7:30 a.m. on July 27. Remember the fare for the round trip only one dollar. 2d

Demonstration Dots.

Capt. Briggs, of the Montreal Canton Militant, writes that his corps is drilling industriously for the Peterborough Oddfellows' Demonstration, in August, and suggests that the prettiest girl in town be engaged to present the souvenir banner to the Montreal Canton while here.

The posters giving the programme of the promenade concerts to be given by the Victoria Rifles Band the evenings of August 9th and 10th, and tickets therefor will be issued shortly. The programme will be the finest of the kind ever seen in Peterborough. Tickets should be purchased at once.

A mammoth excursion will be run from Ottawa to the Oddfellows' Demonstration, comprising two trains, one on the 9th and the other on the 10th.

Pinned and Ringed.

Last night Mr. Wm. Armstrong, who has for a number of years been employed in Le Brun's clothing store, left for Montreal, where he has accepted a position in a large clothing house. Before leaving he was presented by his late fellow employes with a handsome breast-pin, and later on by a number of his young companions in social life with a handsome finger ring, as testimonials of their esteem for him and regret at his departure. The heartiest wishes for future prosperity and happiness accompanied him on his journey. Mr. Armstrong was admired by all his associates for his invariable affability and good humor, and for the kindness and unimpeachable integrity of his whole-souled nature. If anyone deserves to succeed in this life it is Mr. Armstrong—and there can be no doubt that he will.

These who visit Turnbull's this month are Treated to rare Bargains in Remnants of all descriptions.

Change of Time Table

Consequent on their resolve to stable no engines at Port Hope, the Grand Trunk authorities have the re-arrangement of the time table of the Midland division under consideration. One change comes into effect today, says the Times. The local train on the main line, running from Cobourg to Toronto in the morning and return at night, will, in future, run from Peterborough to Toronto in the morning and return at night, via Port Hope. At present there are three passenger trains run out of, and three come into Port Hope. Under the new arrangement there will be only the local train as given above and the mixed that comes in about nine o'clock and goes out at 10.45 a.m. The trains that by this plan are taken off the Midland, will be put on the Grand Junction and run from Belleville to Toronto, via Peterborough. At least this is the arrangement that is spoken of as decided upon.

Navigation Rights.

An important case was decided at Fenelon Falls the other day, in which both owners of steamers and other crafts as well as lumbermen are interested. Capt. Crandell, of the Steamer "Eva" had been greatly discommoded and put to loss by a drive of logs belonging to Mr. Strickland, obstructing Fenelon river, and he brought suit to recover $60 damages. Judge Dean tried the case. The Fenelon Falls' Gazette says that his honor on commenting on the case remarked that not even the Government had the right to block up a navigable river; that if he had been in Capt. Crandell's place he would have cut the boom and let the logs go; and that if lumbermen, to suit their own convenience, put their slavloys over the slide in such quantities as to stop boats from running, they must take the consequences. In this case, as the plaintiff had not proved, and could not swear to, the amount of damages sustained, he would give judgment for a nominal amount, namely $10, but if other cases of a similar kind came before him he would not deal so leniently with the defendant.

H. & J. GRIFFIN & Co., are always on the outlook for bargains. This week they bought several lines of goods at half price. Spot cash at this season can procure startling value. Another line of 12½c. prints for 7c. Ladies' sun hats, 20c. Childrens' sailors, 20c. Crompton's $1 corsets, 50c., etc., etc. 2d21

The Wolfe Street Gobble.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Would you kindly permit me the use of your valuable columns to call the attention of the civic authorities to the fact that the costs incurred in the legal proceedings to quash the Wolfe street by-law have not been recouped the town by the Canadian Pacific Railway? The costs incurred amounted to $300 which were paid by the town upon the assurance of the C. P. R. Company that this sum would be repaid. Now, several years have elapsed and the railway has failed to pay the amount, and they are enjoying the use of the money of the rate-payers without interest. I will give this credit to the chairman of the Finance Committee that, as a general thing he looks sharply after our finances, and I, as a rate-payer, as well as hundreds of others, should like to be informed why a wealthy corporation is not made to disgorge. The Company enjoys the use of Wolfe street to the great detriment of the public, especially property owners, in its vacinity, but that is no reason why they should have the use forever of over $300 of our money. The parties owning property along Wolfe street have suffered great injury without redress or compensation. Without compensation—for the petty bridge put across the creek to the north of the station is practically of no use to the public, being chiefly used by those teaming freight. The council is called upon to at once plug this leak. This $300 will come in exceedingly handy to pay the grant of $100 to the Jubilee committee and of $200 to the Oddfellows. I do not object to these appropriations, for they are such as a public-spirited corporation could not avoid making; but I do prefer that the money should be spent in this way rather than be absorbed by a corporation which has certainly had enough at our expense when it has gobbled one of our public streets without compensation. That's all we can afford in the way of generosity.

Yours faithfully,
TAX-EATEN.

Peterborough, July 26th, 1887.

The Scott Act.

Four Thousand Dollars in Three Months —A Big Morning's Work.

Since the first of May last some $4,000 in fines have been inflicted for breaches of the Scott Act in the West Riding of Peterborough. Out of 64 cases 60 convictions have been secured the other four failing only because the wrong parties were served. Inspector Cochrane lays nearly all the charges.

ANOTHER FIFTY.

County Police Magistrate Edmison fined Henry Gordon, of Ashburnham, $50 and costs for a breach of the Scott Act committed Friday July 15th, at the race course.

Isaih Guerin, of the same place, was arraigned on a similar charge, but it was found that the wrong man had been served and he was discharged.

A BIG MORNING'S WORK.

Eight hundred dollars were netted to the town as the result of this mornings' session of the Police Court. The money was raised by Scott Act fines. There were nine cases entered by Inspector Cochrane. Seven of the defendants in these were fined $100 and costs for second offences: the other two $50 each. All pleaded guilty.

Personal

Mr. T. B. Collins, of Millbrook, is in town to-day.

Mr. W. E. Roxborough, of Norwood, is in town to-day.

Mr. J. J. McBain and family are summering at the seaside, in Maine.

Dr. Bingham, of Toronto, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. S. B. Ferguson, of High Park.

Mr. E. C. Hill is attending the first annual meeting of the Canadian Billposters' Association at London.

After an absence of five weeks at Caledonia and Plantagenet Springs, Mr. J. O'Meara and family have returned to town much improved in health.

Miss Dixon, of San Francisco, Cal., daughter of the late John Dixon, formerly of Peterborough, has been visiting relatives in town for the past two weeks. She leaves for her home in 'Frisco to-morrow.

The many friends of Mr. J. W. Flavelle, who is about to remove to Toronto, will have an opportunity of saying a public farewell to him Wednesday evening, in connection with the prayer meeting in George St. Church.

The Emmerson, Man., Times of July 21st says:—Mrs. Geo. Walton and family left on Monday for Peterborough, Ont., the old home of both Mr. and Mrs. Walton, where they will spend the summer months with friends. At Winnipeg they were met by Mr. Jos. Walton and his daughter, who were returning east from a visit to this Province.

The Canton's Commencement.

The refreshment committee of the Oddfellows started yesterday on their purveying round—to collect the cash forms they had left with numerous ladies in the town, who, it was thought, would be willing to contribute towards the commissariat for the visiting Cantons. Each body filled in the blank form specifying the kind and amount of provisions also would furnish. The success of the first collection was very gratifying.

The score was 24 to 16.

A Chief Passes Away.

On Monday evening, Chief Joseph Wheetung, of the Chippawa tribe of Indians, lake Chemong, passed away to the lodge of eternal rest at the ripe age of seventy years. The deceased Chief was elected to the position recently occupied by him twenty years since, succeeding Chief John Bigman, and has been as a father to his subjects. He has exerted himself to the utmost of his influence to induce his people to lead honest, pious, sober, industrious lives, emphasizing his advice with the influence of example. He has been a member of the Methodist Church for the past forty years and has done all in his power to induce the members of his tribe to join the church. The dead chief leaves behind him a widow aged 65 years and two sons. The funeral takes place on Wednesday at ten o'clock. The body will be laid in the Chemong cemetery.

In Good Repute.

James McMurdock, writing from Kinsale, says: "B. B. B. as a remedy for diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, has an excellent reputation in this locality. I have used it, and speak from experience, as well as observation. It is the only medicine I want, and I advise others afflicted to try it." 2w29d

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,250,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

Do Not Eat Raw Eggs.

In the Monatschrift zum Schutze der Vogelwelt, Professor Liebe adduces reliable data in answer to the question whether living worms are to be found in hens' eggs. A short time previously his sister had found a round thread like worm, the length of a little finger, in the white of an egg. It moved itself in a very lively manner. She at once took the white of the egg to the druggist, who put the worm in alcohol. Professor Mobius, of Kiel, decided that the specimen was an example of the thread worm of fowls—Heterias inflexia—often found in the small intestine of the domestic hen. Only a few instances of the existence of the same in the white of the egg have been recorded.—Allgemeine Medicinische Central-Zeitung.

THE PROCLAIMED ISLAND.

MR. BALFOUR DEFENDS THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTION.

The Opposition Will Not Interfere With the Progress of the Land Bill as Long as the Government Defers to Home Rule Aims.

LONDON, July 26.—Mr. Balfour, in reply to a question in the House of Commons this afternoon, defended the proclaiming under the Crimes Act of counties in Ireland which are in a partially disturbed state. He said that it was true that the public statistics of crime did not indicate a serious state of things in Ireland, but he reminded the House that besides the recorded outrages the Government were guided by other information furnished by responsible officers. The Government could not admit, however, that the constitutional liberties of any body were taken away by the proclaiming of the counties. [Cries of "Oh!" "Oh!" and cheers.]

THE McDOUGALL & CO. FAILURE.

Mr. Logie Promises to Prepare a Statement of the Firm's Affairs.

MONTREAL, July 26.—The examination of Robert Logie, of the insolvent firm of McDougall, Logie & Co., was continued to-day. Mr. Logie was asked whether he had prepared statements of the firm's book debts, their interest in the Mechanical Cloak Company, the bills receivable either discounted or on hand, their interest in the Cyclone Pulverizing Company, and in the Ashbestos mines? a statement of the firm's real estate, their speculations and losses therein, as well as every detail in connection therewith. He declared that he had been unable to prepare them, as he had not been allowed to look at the books. He would endeavor to fill correct and complete statements by Thursday morning. A $30,000 mortgage to the British Empire Life Association on the Mill-street property, as well as discounts on the Bank of Montreal and also $80,000 of checks drawn on the Bank of Montreal, were not entered in the cash book, but he would prepare a statement showing where the money went to. None of his transactions with A. Clark were entered in the cash book and he had purchased with the firm's notes $12,000 worth of property in the Northwest.

THE INQUEST AT ST. THOMAS.

ST. THOMAS, July 26.—There were no new developments at the inquest to-night.

Henry Hough, captain of the Ruby, was summoned, for what purpose neither the witness nor the jury could make out. He had seen the engineer at a distance of forty rods and did not know whether he was drunk or not.

Grand Trunk Railway Constable Logan testified that he was with Engineer Donnelly three hours at Port Stanley prior to the excursion train leaving on the 15th and the engineer was sober.

George Hurst, for twenty-three years an engineer, was an eye witness of the collision. He testified that when the train approached the semaphore it was running nearly forty miles an hour. Two rods further Engineer Donnelly reversed his engine and whistled for hand brakes. Had they been applied, however, the collision could not have been averted. He could see that the air brake did not take.

The inquest was adjourned.

CASSAGNAC CHALLENGED.

The Famous Fighting Editor Will Likely Give M. Laur Satisfaction.

PARIS, July 25.—M. Cassagnac published a flat denial of the story that eighty-four generals proposed a coup d'etat to Gen. Boulanger, and challenged La France to publish their names. La France asked Gen. Ferron's permission to publish the names. After denying the story, M. Cassagnac printed an article headed "Coward liar." The result is that M. Laur, admitted himself to be the author of the original letters referring to the matter, and has challenged M. Cassagnac to fight a duel. Le Justice considers the letters of too small consequence to be worth any bother, and it expresses the opinion that too great liberties have been taken in twisting words uttered by Gen. Boulanger in the intimacy of the home circle.

ENGLAND AND TURKEY.

Sir Henry Wolff's Opinion Regarding the Relations Between the Two.

LONDON, July 26.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, the negotiator of the unsuccessful Anglo-Turkish Convention for the future administration of affairs in Egypt, said in an interview in Paris yesterday that he did not think the lapse of time would interfere with the relations between England and Turkey. This may be true, but it is inconceivable that England can retain the same relations with the Sultan's Government as before the Porte repudiated an all but consummated agreement, at the behest of two powers not over-friendly to Great Britain in any circumstances, and in pursuance of their European policy positively hostile to her.

A CALL FOR CENTRAL FAIRS.

TORONTO, July 27.

A meeting was held in the Rossin House yesterday afternoon, convened on a circular issued by President Gordon, of the Port Perry Central Fair Association. About a dozen gentlemen connected with agricultural societies attended the meeting. The circular invited those interested in the agricultural interests of the province to appoint a deputation to wait upon the Government, with the object of obtaining grants towards centralizing fairs or exhibitions. Mr. John Adams of the Central Fair Association of Port Perry presided, and said he would be anxious to hear the ideas of those present as to the advisability of concentrating or centralizing the fairs of the province. As at present, these fairs frequently clashed the one with the other, and the effect was that their usefulness was diminished. This might be avoided if some understanding was arrived at, and it might also be amalgamated or centralized. It was also contemplated to approach the Government with the object of securing grants of money to promote fairs in suitable and accessible centres.

Mr. P. Christie, also of Port Perry, supported the project. He considered that the small township fairs had outlived their sphere of usefulness. In his county (Simcoe) there were from eight to twelve of those small fairs, two or more of which were frequently held on the same date, with the natural result that the one detracted from the merits of the other. If a proper system of central fairs were established more good would accrue to the agricultural community generally. Of course they should take the lead from Toronto, which was the most important and best established exhibition in the province, but such arrangements might be made as would prevent the clashing of dates and thus avoid confusion and loss. It was desirable, in his opinion, that these fairs should be centralized, and the less important ones give place to those more favorably situated and circumstanced. To accomplish this it was contemplated to apply for Government aid. They did not want to interfere with the provincial grant, although some might be of opinion that it had outlived its usefulness. What he considered would be of advantage was that the Government should encourage large central fairs instead of distributing the money among small townships as at present.

Manager Hill of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition favored the project, which he hoped to see established on a sound basis. The Industrial Exhibition Association did not like to interfere in any project which would tend to do away with the provincial grants now made, but would like to see additional grants given, or a portion of existing grants devoted to such an object as that contemplated by the promoters of the meeting. A great deal of good would accrue from discussing such matters, and he hoped those present would attend the council meeting to be held the following day, and freely express their opinions.

The chairman asked if Mr. Hill considered this an opportune time for establishing such a society as that contemplated, to which Mr. Hill replied that the time was opportune, but that beyond forming the association not much could be done this year, as the calendar for the holding of the various fairs had already been made out.

Mr. George Moberly of Collingwood spoke of the injurious effects of having different fixtures clash, especially when the fairs were held in the same district. He was in favor of establishing fairs in favorable centers and asking the assistance of the Government in helping them. Those districts in which suitable buildings existed, and where railway facilities were good, would naturally be the best in which to hold fairs, and those in favor of which the Government would be most likely induced to make grants. Speaking of the difficulties with which promoters of exhibitions had to contend, should the weather or other causes interfere with the success of their undertakings, he said that they had frequently to curtail the prize list or borrow money to pay expenses. To avert such a contingency as the latter, he suggested that the committee should be empowered, under such circumstances, to deduct from the amount allocated to prizes any deficiency which might arise. He formed a poor opinion as to the efficacy of many of the minor fairs, and advocated the central system.

Dr. Gillespie of Cannington supported the centralization project, and instanced cases in which there were four township fairs within a radius of eight miles. Under such circumstances the exhibits could not be numerous or of a very high order.

Mr. Brunton of London was decidedly opposed to interfering with the provincial grant, and contended that by arrangement between the parties themselves they could effect an amalgamation of the township fairs. If they but gave each township its proper representation on their council they could easily secure a central or district fair instead of a number of township exhibitions. He also advocated the liberal introduction of amusements in the fair program.

Mr. Charles Lawrence (Collingwood), President of the Northern Agricultural Society, held that the farmers were the people of the country, and as such should demand money grants from the Government for the advancement of the agricultural interests, and if the Government refused to comply with the demand—why, run them out, and put in representatives of the people. [Laughter.]

Mr. Thos. Long, ex-M.P.P., Collingwood, said he knew for a fact that the Government were disposed to do away with the provincial and township grants, and would no doubt be favorable to supporting central fairs if established on a good scale and sound basis. Many of those township fairs were got up just to attract a crowd to the district, and were promoted, not in the interests of agriculture, but in the interests of the hotel and tavernkeepers, and other traders. He thought they should form themselves into an association, and appoint a committee to wait upon the Government to urge the claims of a central fair system.

Mr. Robert Vance, Peterboro, opposed the proposition to do away with township grants. He thought it unjust to do away with one township fair so as to promote the interests of another, and felt sure that such a proposition would not be favorably received by the people.

After some further discussion Mr. Moberly and Mr. Vance offered this resolution, which was carried unanimously:

That this meeting, believing that the time has arrived when the Provincial Legislature should be asked to give grants to each of the central exhibitions as may be established on such a financial basis and under such rules and regulations as may be laid down by the Government, resolved, That the chairman and secretary be instructed to call a general meeting of the representatives of the different central exhibitions in Ontario in order that this matter be more thoroughly discussed and placed in a proper shape, said meeting to be held sometime in the month of January, 1888, at Toronto.

On motion of Mr. Christie it was resolved that the meeting form the nucleus of an association to be called "The Canadian Institution," and that Messrs. Adams, Gordon, Christie, Brown and Moberly be appointed a committee to draft rules for their guidance, and prepare a statement of objects, etc., to be submitted at next meeting.

DALHOUSIE THE BLESSED.

CABINET MINISTERS FLOCKING TO THE NEW BRUNSWICK RESORT.

The Collector of Customs at Owen Sound Mentally Deranged and Unfit for Further Duty—A Canadian Steamer Seized in Behring Sea.

OTTAWA, July 26.—Dalhousie appears to be an attractive spot for ministers this year. Sir John and Hon. Mr. Carling are there at present, and Sir Hector Langevin left Bimouski to-day for a brief visit to the New Brunswick watering place, after which he will go on to Gaspe.

Mr. McLelan, Postmaster-General, is expected to return from Halifax to-morrow. It is probable that a council will be held on Friday or Saturday to consider the Behring Sea seizure case, that being understood to have been the immediate cause of Mr. Foster's return to Ottawa.

The City Council has at last agreed to extend the waterworks system so as to supply the Experimental Farm, provided the Government will pay the cost of the extension over and above $4000, which the city will contribute, and pay for its water by metre.

Last night's fire at Woodburn's was not so serious as at first supposed, the Commons' Debates proved, on examination, to be but little damaged, and their being reprinted will not be necessary.

The Department of Customs has received information that J. C. Stevens, Collector at Owen Sound, and one of the most efficient officers in the service, has become mentally deranged and not likely to be fit for duty again.

Assistant Customs Commissioner Parmalee, who is at present in British Columbia on official business, writes to Commissioner Johnson to the effect that he has learned from interested parties that the steamer Allabeck had been seized on July 22, in Behring Sea, by the United States revenue cutter Challenger and the crew sent to Sitka, Alaska. The Allabeck is registered at Victoria where her owners reside. He also states that the owners of the vessel seized last year says that neither they or the United States officials at Victoria have yet received any notice of the decision said to have been arrived at by the Washington authorities in their case.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Case which is Puzzling Four City Physicians—Alleged Lunatics in Court.

TORONTO, July 27.

The fifth annual convention of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions will be held here to-day and to-morrow. This means the annual gathering of fair presidents, managers and other head officers for mutual improvement. The last convention was held in Chicago, when over fifty members were present, and if the stoppage of free passes by the Inter-State Bill does not seriously interfere there will be fully as many attend the Toronto meeting.

Mr. William Booth, who on Friday morning last fell from a high scaffolding in Church-street where he was painting, still continues in a state of unconsciousness. Mr. Booth fell 80 feet and sustained injuries to the skull. He is attended by Drs. Grasett, Strange, Sweetnam and Constantinedes, all of whom are puzzled with this peculiar case. Nourishment in the form of milk and lime water is given him with a teaspoon, and there is no difference in his appearance than if asleep. He looks as well as ever, and retains his color. He sometimes has a convulsive movement, and had, up to 11 o'clock last night, been unconscious 100 hours. The attending physicians do not recollect a similar case in this city.

W. H. Laidley, a farmer hailing from the vicinity of Tiverton and Underwood, in the County of Bruce, was tried in the Police Court yesterday at the instance of Mr. Frank Wade, Secretary of the Agricultural and Arts Association, on a charge of wilfully signing a false pedigree. Mr. Laidley registered two twin calves, one of them being called Fancy Red, in the Dominion Herd Book, giving as their dam Daisy Queen and sire Alexander Ross, two eligible thoroughbreds. Mr. Laidley afterwards sold the animals on the strength of the herd book registration, but several rumors came to Secretary Wade that the sire of the calves was King William, which is not eligible for registration, and hence the summonses to the Police Court.

Witnesses examined could not prove or disprove the charges against Mr. Laidley, and further testimony will be taken on Friday.

There will be a great gathering of the temperance workers of the Dominion held in Toronto during the Exhibition. The local temperance men will endeavor to make it a big success.

The cases of four alleged lunatics were investigated by Judge Morgan yesterday. Edward Boyne and James Dingwall were discharged, while William McFarlane and James Robinson were committed as being insane.

THE SCHOONER HODGDON.

SHE IS TIED UP BY CUSTOMS OFFICERS AT SHELBURNE, N.S.

A Fine of $400 Imposed for Violation of the Entry Laws—The United States Consul-General at Halifax Says the Owners Have Been Harshly Treated.

HALIFAX, July 26.—The case of the Gloucester fishing schooner Annie W. Hodgdon, seized yesterday at Shelburne, is similar to most of last year's seizures for customs violations, and has no connection with the fisheries treaty. The vessel, which had previously been only detained awaiting orders from Ottawa, was to-day formally seized on the charge of violating the Canadian customs laws and a fine of $400 imposed.

All the vessels seized last season on similar grounds were fined either $200 or $400 each, the fines being deposited in every case under protest, and afterwards nearly the whole amount was refunded to the various owners, only a nominal fine of $200 or thereabouts being retained.

The Government's action respecting the Hodgdon is therefore somewhat odd, the offence being no more serious than any of those committed before. Capt. Knowlton of the cruiser Advance, who made the capture, was informed some days ago that the Annie W. Hodgdon was on the western coast, and it was suspected that she was in search of bait, but so far as has yet developed there is no proof of a treaty violation, and she is held simply for the customs offence. When the was seized there were some fresh codfish in a tub on deck which Capt. Morrison stated had been brought on board by the missing men who were just found. There is no evidence in contradiction of this, and it is probable that the fish were really caught on Brown's Bank, being taken from the trawls before the men strayed away in the fog.

After instructions had been received from Ottawa to impose the $400 fine Customs Collector Atwood requested Captain Morrison to bring the schooner to a wharf, which was done, and she now lies in dock, in charge of the Collector's men. Morrison has telegraphed to his owners asking whether the fine shall be paid, but has not so far received an answer.

The fourteen men on the two seine boats seized off Souris are still at that place in charge of the American Consul. There are no late developments in the Souris case, but there is no doubt that should the Colonel J. H. French or the Argonaut, to which the boats belonged, be found within the three mile limit they will be immediately seized for violation of the treaty. There is no question as to what vessels the seine boats belonged, as besides the admissions of the men the names of the schooners are painted on them.

United States Consul-General Phelan has been officially notified of the seizures at Shelburne and Souris, but his telegrams contain nothing new in connection with the cases. The Consul-General regards the Hodgdon affair as a rather extraordinary one and considers that the crew and the vessels owners have been harshly treated. The schooner, he says, was on a mission of humanity in searching for lost fishermen. She did not enter Shelburne harbor proper and the captain of the cruiser might very arbitrarily and without stepping beyond his powers have himself entered and cleared the vessel and permitted her to continue on her way unmolested. With regard to the Souris seizures the Consul-General has not sufficient information to express a confident opinion, but he believes that situated as the boats appear to have been when arrested, there must be a doubt as to whether they were actually trespassing. Great interest in fishery affairs is exhibited by the officers of the American warships Richmond and Lans, but until fuller particulars of the seizures are received they do not feel warranted in speaking about these cases.

The Cruisers Pursuing Offenders.

OTTAWA, July 26.—The Department of Fisheries has received confirmation of the seizure of the American fishery boats and schooner, but no fuller particulars than have been already published. It is confidently expected that the two schooners, the French and the Argonaut, which escaped at the time their boats were caught seining, will be captured. The cruisers are after them, and as they are very short handed they will probably be forced to put into some port for help.

A Bigamist Bondsman Pays Up.

ST. THOMAS, July 26.—In April last a young man named John W. Mills of Aylmer, was arrested for bigamy in having married Lucy Brooks of Mitchell and subsequently while she was visiting her father who had meantime removed to Mecosta, Mich., married Aggie Roe, daughter of a widow at Aylmer. Mills was released on bail, his father, John Mills, a wealthy resident of Aylmer, becoming his bondsman in $1000. Young Mills levanted and his father was called upon to pay over the recognizance, which he did, though very reluctantly, yesterday morning, and will ask the Government to refund the sum.

OUR CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

The energy displayed by the directorate of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition, backed as it has been, by the active sympathy of the citizens generally, has hitherto resulted in both making the exhibition a signal success, and in inundating the city with visitors, who have left thousands of dollars addition to the current money circulation of the city. Now the various committees connected with the exhibition are on the alert, and vigorously arranging attractions for the multitude. Arrangements have been completed for securing the presence of the Governor-General to open the exhibition, and, in reference to his visit, subscriptions are being solicited from King street merchants for illumination of their thoroughfare, while many other attractive features are being provided for. These circumstances are not referred to by way of boosting the Toronto Big Show, but by way of stirring up the minds of the directorate of the Peterborough Central to the necessity of their emulating so commendable examples. There is no earthly reason, except not doing it, why the Central should not be made three times the success it has been in the past, both in the extent of the exhibits, the amount and value of the prizes and the attendance of the public. To secure the largest measure of success, there should be the completest possible co-operation of all classes of citizens. Without such co-operation the chances of success are discounted to start with. This universal co-operation should be brought about because everybody is interested. The presence in town of thousands of visitors four or five days means the daily distribution of thousands of dollars for four or five days. Those persons who do directly reap monetary advantage, do so indirectly; for these who directly take in money have to spend it among the business men and merchants of the town, and thus it becomes distributed and at length all share in the season of prosperity induced by the visit of money-spending outsiders. It is to be hoped our merchants and business men will see this and act accordingly. The measure of their liberality in contributing to the funds of the society will be the measure of the success of the exhibition and the attendance of visitors, and the measure of this attendance will be the measure of the direct benefit our business men will receive. The directors should not be above asking and taking advice from those who are competent to give it in respect to special features it is desirable to incorporate with the exhibition to make it attractive. By this course invaluable suggestions will be received and fatal mistakes avoided. It might be suggested that the Town Council is not without a part to play in the matter. If this body is in doubt as to the position it should assume towards the Central Exhibition, let the fact that the City Council of Ottawa on Monday evening voted $1,000 towards the expense of holding the Provincial Exhibition in that city, operate as a hint. In truth all classes of citizens are deeply concerned in doing their best in every way to promote the success of the Central Exhibition, next October, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. No one can consider himself exempt from adding his quota thereto. As the sailors say, let there be a "long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether," and the next exhibition will be a success eclipsing every effort and effect of the past.

WITH pleasure the EXAMINER acknowledges the receipt of a copy of a valuable little work, prepared by Mr. Arthur H. Sydere, Assistant Clerk of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. It is a comprehensive and complete index to the debates and speeches in the Assembly from 1867-8 to the session of 1887, both inclusive. The index refers by date to reports of speeches as published in the Globe, Mail and Leader newspapers. Since the Assembly publishes no Hansard, these are the only available sources of reference to the debates of the Assembly. The little book constitutes an invaluable medium of access to the only available record of the utterances of our provincial politicians on the floor of the House. It will be supplied to the public at $1.00, on application to the Queen's printer, Toronto.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe in good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, gluey food, hot cookery, mouldy cookery, fat bacon, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in relieving this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Smith and Kilrain Agree to Fight.

LONDON, July 26.—The articles for the prize fight between Jake Kilrain of America and Jem Smith of England were signed to-day in the office of The Sporting Life. According to the agreement the encounter will take place in Spain on Jan. 3 next, within 100 miles of Madrid. Mr. Atkinson, editor of The Sporting Life, conducted the arrangements. Both sides paid the deposits, and a date was fixed for future payments. Smith was the first to sign the papers, the act evidently costing him considerable effort. Mr. Fox signed for Kilrain, and Jack Burke witnessed the signature.

Mr. Atkinson said Smith had never had a good fight yet, but wanted it, and Smith replied "I hope to get it now." Mason will train Kilrain, while Jimmy Hogg will take Smith in charge. Smith and Kilrain will each appoint an umpire who in turn will select a referee. Only fifty spectators of the fight will be allowed. The battle ground will be selected by mutual agreements. The fight will take place somewhere between 4 in the morning and 4 in the evening.

Sporting Gossip from the Capital.

OTTAWA, July 26.—The Capital Lacrosse Club has arranged for a match with the Shamrocks on Ottawa's Civic Holiday, Aug. 2.

The Ottawa Cricket Club left for the west at noon to-day. They play in Toronto to-morrow and in Hamilton on Thursday. The Ottawa cricketers arrived in the city (Toronto) last night and registered at the Walker House.

On Friday and Saturday a mixed team from Montreal and Ottawa will play the Ontario Association at Toronto.

They Speak for Themselves.

PICTON, Feb. 17.—This is to certify that I have used Polson's NERVILINE for rheumatism, and have found it a valuable remedy for all internal pain, and would greatly recommend it to the public.—N. T. KINGSLEY.

LEEDS County, Jan. 9.—We are not in the habit of puffing patent medicines, but we cannot withhold our testimony as to the great value of Nerviline as a remedy for pain. We have pleasure in recommending it as a never-failing remedy.—Rev. H. J. ALLEN, Benj. DILLON, and many others.

P. A. Churchill states:—There seems to be no end to the success of Nerviline. I sent you a few testimonials, and can send you plenty more if of use to you.

A Good Act.

"As a cure for all summer complaints I highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, having often used it with the best results. I have often been thanked for recommending it." William Haw, Ancaster, Ont. 2w29d

A BRAKEMAN'S HARDSHIP.

Summons of a Dissolute Servant Set aside With Costs Awarded.

BUFFALO, July 26.—A [illegible] case was brought before Justice [illegible] day. Magnus Sinclair, [illegible] and his wife were [illegible] white [illegible] and began [illegible] South Division-street. A servant named Sadie Woodward was living with them and it was Sandy's use of [illegible] that caused the [illegible] day. She [illegible] and [illegible] was raided and Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair were arrested. In the morning Justice Woods fined the husband $20 and the wife $25. Sinclair managed to pay his fine, but to get out on an old [illegible] his position, but his wife was sent to the penitentiary. She was released yesterday by a writ of habeas corpus, a number of gentlemen having interested themselves in the case.

Judge Hammond took occasion to say that the action of the police was hasty and that of Justice Wood unnecessarily harsh and inconsiderate.

Inhuman Treatment of an Orphan.

MONTREAL, July 26.—The detectives have received a [illegible] in which a most serious charge is made against a woman living at Sorel. It is alleged that the woman adopted an orphan girl from an asylum at Quebec as her own, but instead of treating her as a human being she ill-used and beat her to such an extent that the child became ill and was found alone in the house covered with bruises and with several of her teeth knocked out by blows she had received. The child afterwards died in the hospital at Sorel. The matter will be looked into at once.

Destructive Rain Storms.

SUSQUEHANNA, Pa., July 26.—The rain storm here has been the most destructive ever experienced. One thousand feet of the Erie Railroad's main line track was washed into the Susquehanna River four miles west of this place. The Erie's Jefferson branch has been abandoned on account of land slides. Bridges have been washed away on the highway roads and some houses have been carried down the creeks. The loss will be very heavy. Travel on the Erie will be resumed this evening.

Failure of a Banking Firm.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 26.—Attachments to the amount of $115,603 have been made on the cattle firm of Curtis & Atkinson and E. F. & W. Linard of Henrietta, Texas. Their liabilities are $550,000 and assets $1,115,000.

The Henrietta National Bank, with a capital stock of $150,000 and deposits of $87,000 closed its doors yesterday. The cause of the failure was the depressed condition of the cattle markets.

Murdered by a Child of Seven.

GRANVILLE, S. C., July 26.—Virginia Hudson, a colored child, of 7 years, was jailed here yesterday for murder. She killed a child 1 year old in Butler township on Saturday and threw the body in a well. She struck the infant over the head with a board till it was dead. This is the youngest murderess ever known in this section. Her imprisonment is merely a matter of form.

The Cause for Railway Building.

ST. PAUL, July 26.—The Railway Navigation Company was incorporated here yesterday, with a capital stock of $10,000,000. The incorporators are all citizens of St. Paul. The object is to build a road from the twin cities to a point on Lake Superior, and to establish a new line of boats in connection therewith. The road is to be an extension of the Minnesota and Northwestern, and will be a substantial double-track air line.

He Blames His Mother-in-law.

MONTREAL, July 26.—Mrs. D. A. Melvin, the wife of the proprietor of the New York House, has obtained an alimony of $30 per month, pending the result of civil proceedings she has taken against Mr. Melvin for separation as to bed and board. She alleges she has been badly treated. Melvin denies the charges and blames his mother-in-law.

Parent, the Embezzler.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The case of Adolph Parent indicted for embezzlement of funds while cashier of the Banque de Hochelaga of Montreal, came up for trial to-day, and at the request of the attorney for the defence was postponed until to-morrow. Among the attorneys are S. M. Greenshields, Crown prosecutor, and H. C. Pierre, both of Montreal. The former will assist in the prosecution and the latter help in parent's defence.

Held on a Capias.

MONTREAL, July 26.—John Street, jeweler, who failed a few weeks ago with more assets than liabilities, was arrested on a capias for $1350 this afternoon on ground of alleged secreting of goods.

Ill Temper

is more rapidly improved by relief from physical suffering than from any other way. Step on your friend's corn, and the impulse to strike is strongest. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, by quickly and painlessly removing them insures good nature. Fifty imitations prove its value. Beware of substitutes. "Putnam's," sure, safe, painless. 6w30

Ladies troubled with Pimples, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face, or sores of any description, should use McGregor's & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will leave the skin in perfect health, smooth, clean and good color. Be sure and get the genuine, made by McGregor & Parke. Price 25 cents. Sold at John McKee's Drug store. eodw28

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 2w29d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Are You Going to Travel?

Don't forget a supply of that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a superior remedy for sea sickness, and a positive cure for all bowel complaints induced by bad water, change of diet, or of climate. Whether at home or abroad, it should be kept at hand in case of emergency. 2w29d

GREAT BONA-FIDE CLEARING SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, TRUNKS AND VALISES, IS BOOMING!

The Goods are Going Out Rapid. Our System of conducting the Sale meets with general Approval. ☞ Come with the Crowds.

Having decided to retire from the Boot and Shoe Business, I have placed my $8000 Stock of Boots and Shoes on the market at actual Cost. Ten Thousand Pairs of Boots and Shoes must be Cleared Out within the next TWO MONTHS. I have made arrangements to enter into another branch of business on Sept. 15th, and have decided to sell my entire Stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Valises, etc., AT ACTUAL COST. Remember this is a Genuine Clearing Out Sale, and Great Bargains may be looked for. Any Goods remaining on the above date will be either removed from Town or sold en bloc, as the Stock must be Cleared. The public have shown their appreciation of my way of doing business for the past five years. The Goods have always been marked in plain figures, and there has been only one price to all. Our prices have always been as Low as the Lowest. All parties attending this Clearing Sale will be able to see the Reduction at a glance, as the Reduced Price will be plainly marked underneath the Original Prices.

THE STOCK IS ALL FRESH AND WELL ASSORTED.

Come early and secure the Choice of the Stock at WHOLESALE PRICES. Our shop, from the Eighth of July, will be open every evening till Nine o'clock. Don't Mistake the Place: BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM, West Side of George Street, Sign of the RED FLAG.

The Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1887.

LOCAL NEWS.

Parties going out of Town, to the A.C.A. Camp, or elsewhere, for their Summer Holidays, can have THE DAILY EXAMINER sent to their address for Ten Cents per Week.

Union Picnic.

The United Workmen of Cobourg, Port Hope and Peterborough, says the Sentinel-Star, are making arrangements for a union pic-nic at Idyl Wild on August 10th.

Weather Lore.

Ninety-five degrees in the shade is to-day's record of Hartley's self-registering thermometer. Other mercuries ranged from 94° to 98°.

KIDD has cut the price of boots and shoes to the bone. Call and see.

On the Diamond.

The Peterborough baseball club is practicing industriously for their match with the Campbellford ball tossers Saturday afternoon. The managers are negotiating for other matches at an early date.

Christen Your Canoe.

All owners of canoes should purchase one of Mr. Carl Smart's new and handsome bronze and nickel name plates. They are very cheap and durable. Orders left at D. Smart's music store will be filled promptly.

Rubber Paint is ready for Use.

Is easily applied and holds its rich glossy appearance for many years. Rubber floor paint dries hard in twelve hours, is durable and economical. All the choicest new shades in stock of this the best paint in the world. dw GEORGE STETHEM.

Steamer Fairy and A. C. A. Camp.

Beginning to-day, the steamer Fairy will run a trip from Lakefield every evening to the A. C. A. camp, thus running two trips every day—one on the arrival of the morning train and one on the arrival of the evening train from Peterborough.

Market Moms.

The market was fairly lively this morning. Potatoes sold at $1.00 per bushel; apples 25c to 40c. peck; berries in abundance at 80, 90 and $1 per pail; eggs, 13 and 14c.; butter, 23c.; cucumbers, 15c. dozen; other vegetables in large quantities and usual prices.

Babyland.

Baby's fingers and toes have always been favorite play-things because they are handy. [Think of toes being handy!] Babyland, Lothrop's 50-cents-a-year magazine for mothers quite as much as for babies, is having every month this year two picture-pages of "finger-play." There is wonderful variety in "finger-play" and no end of fun for the baby. Fun for the baby is fun, or something as good, for somebody else.

The Bridge By-law.

To-morrow the freeholders of Peterborough will be allowed to pass their opinion upon the by-law authorizing the issuing of debentures to the amount of $20,000 to raise funds for the building of new bridges over the creek on several of the streets, and for the cribbing of Crescent street. Only freeholders are allowed to vote, of which there are 1013 in town. Polling will be held at the usual places, closing at 5 p.m., at the Mission school, old music hall, Rathbun's office and Wm. Lee's shop, for the first, second, third and fourth wards respectively.

Stone Throwers in Court.

Detective Spence, of the G. T. R., had three boys before the Police Magistrate this morning charged with committing injury to property. It seems that on the 25th of last month the lads were on the High Bridge, just a little way out of town, on the Missing Link line, and threw stones at a train passing underneath, breaking one of the windows in the engineer's cab. They were fined $4 and ordered to pay damages. The money was handed over and the youths allowed to go with a warning.

Sunday School Pic-nics.

Tuesday afternoon the Sunday School of St. Luke's Church held its annual pic-nic at Savigny's. The steamer Golden Eye carried a happy load of children, with a few elders, to the grove early in the afternoon, returning about half-past eight in the evening. An enjoyable time was had.

This (Wednesday) morning a special train of half-a-dozen coaches conveyed the Sunday School of St. John's Church to Lindsay, where steamer was taken to Sturgeon Point. There was a big attendance of both scholars and parents. The weather is excellent for pic-nicking, and, doubtless, the excursionists are enjoying themselves to their hearts' content.

A Runaway.

One of Pete Moffat's cab horses started off for a frolic last evening, but its career was cut short. It was standing hitched to a buggy in front of the Morgan House and started to run away. It swung around the corner, heading down Water Street, passing over the sidewalk between Cavanagh's hotel and a telegraph pole, knocking endways some chairs which were standing against the building, and inflicting some cuts and bruises on Mr. Johnson, who happened to be in the way. It was stopped before going any further.

Firemen's Grimsby Excursion.

Owing to a misunderstanding with the C. P. Railway, the committee is compelled to announce a change in the tickets for the excursion on August 4th. The offer of return tickets to Toronto at $1.50 has been cancelled, and only through tickets to Grimsby camp will be issued, at $1.75 for the round trip. This is an exceedingly low rate, and both the route and terminus of the excursion cannot be surpassed for a day's outing. Remember the date, Thursday, August 4th, and the fare, $1.75 for return tickets to Grimsby Park, called the "Chatauqua of Canada."

New Cheese Box Factory.

Mr. Robt. Bickle, of Port Hope, is about to begin the manufacture of cheese boxes in Peterborough, in order to the better fulfillment of his contracts with several cheese factories of this district for their seasons' supply of boxes. The unused factory in Ashburnham, between Wand's and Mowry's establishments, is being fitted up for the purpose, and by next week it will be in operation with a full staff of men, competent to turn out 2,000 boxes per week. At present a portion of Mr. Irwin's mill is being utilized and the manufacture of boxes is being carried on on a small scale, but by next week the new factory will be ready for operation, when Mr. Bickle will be ready not only to supply his contract customers but as many new ones as will favor him with their patronage.

Those who visit Turnbull's this month are Treated to rare Bargains in Remnants of all descriptions.

Central Park.

Mr. Sidney Blade is at work upon the laying out of the Central Park. The plans when executed will make the place as popular and beautiful as the Court House Park. There will be a central flower bed, with walks radiating in eight directions, dividing the park in eight triangular segments. These will be sodded and planted with trees. The walk running east and, west from the Brown memorial fountain, will be ten feet wide; the others will be six feet in width. The drill shed of course takes up a considerable space, and the lot directly behind that will be separated from the park proper by a walk and reserved as a parade ground. It is expected next spring the drill shed will be removed and a brick armoury built in its stead, which will be placed farther back from the street and the site of the present drill shed also preserved as a parade ground. These projected alterations though, will in no wise affect the park.

A Dangerous Practice.

Last Sunday a number of boys were congregated about the lumber yard of Hazlitt's mill, on the Ashburnham side of the river, and began aimlessly (it is thought) throwing stones. All unperceived, evidently by them, Miss Lizzie Tighe crossed the bridge, and a stray stone struck her on the cheek bone, making a nasty cut. She laid an information against the boys, but afterwards withdrew the charge on their explanation that they had not seen her and it was by accident she had been struck, and offering to pay all costs. Constable Craig, however, took the matter in hand, and re-entered the complaint, as he said, to make an example of them. The people of Ashburnham are greatly annoyed by this dangerous practice of stone-throwing, and have been complaining to the authorities of it. Three of the boys were arraigned before P. M. Edmison this morning, and the case was adjourned for a week to allow the youths to pay the costs. They will be dismissed. The magistrate gave them a word of warning about such conduct in future.

Victoria Rifles' Band.

Referring to the visit of this band to Boston last year, the Boston Herald speaks as follows:—"The music by the Victoria Rifles' Band is very fine indeed. The band comprises some forty-five pieces, and its members are all accomplished musicians. It is a great pleasure to sit in the gallery of Washington Hall and look down at the moving spectacle on the floor of the hall, while listening to the music floating upward from the band stand in the centre. * * * * General C. B. Norton, Secretary of the Foreign Exhibition Association, was serenaded last evening at the Hotel Vendome by the Victoria Rifles' Band of Montreal, forty-five pieces. A grand march was played on the way from the exhibition building to the hotel, and two selections were played after arrival. General Norton responded as follows:—'I thank you, gentlemen, in the name of our association, for the admirable music you have given us during our exhibition, and I wish to thank you personally for the compliment you have paid me this evening. I hope to see you again in Boston soon, and wish you a very pleasant voyage on your journey home.' The band played another selection, after which the members were invited to a spread at the Hotel Vendome by General Norton."

Duffers Downed by Buffers.

A Lively Cricket Match.—Old Hands and New Ones at the Bat.

There wasn't exactly an earthquake yesterday afternoon—but the "Buffers" beat the "Duffers" at cricket, and so the country is safe again until next Friday, when the return match will be played. Listen for something heavy to drop that day with a d——ll thud, or the earth to leave its axis.

There was plenty of enthusiasm and good (?) playing wasted on the empty benches Tuesday afternoon. For the "Buffers", Milmore did the slugging, popping the ball over the fences twice. The bowling of E. Stratton, who was put on the latter half of the innings, was destructive, as the score shows, while Hamilton was scarcely behind in the number of wickets taken. Messrs. W. H. Wrighton and M. Giroux also were towers of strength for the "Buffers."

The "Duffers" played an up-hill game—the "Buffers" were too strong for them from the start. Only Hartley and E. Stratton took double figures. The bowling of Rutherford and W. A. Stratton was too effective, and a good number were caught out. Score:—

- Omemee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The harvest is coming in very fast and some farmers say while the sample of barley and wheat is bright still the yield will be small.

There is an unusually poor demand for harvest hands and wages small owing to so many self binders.

Redpath & Evans, Machinists, are kept very busy repairing all kinds of machinery, and say that Hamilton's Binder of Peterborough is one of the completest and most satisfactory.

The Orange Young Britons, of Omemee, consider the EXAMINER comment of the 12th July the proper and correct item.

Our cricketers would appreciate an exhibition game from a Peterborough eleven on Saturday 30th instant, hoping to see some of the Belmont team form exhibited.

Jas. A. Tulley, leading salesman at the Wonderful Cheap Clothing House in Peterborough, is spending his holidays in Omemee with his parents, amusing himself on our waters and is about as expert at capturing fish and cricketing to show that Gough must appreciate his business catches.

In Good Repute.

James McMurdock, writing from Kinsale, says: "B. B. B. as a remedy for diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, has an excellent reputation in this locality. I have used it, and speak from experience, as well as observation. It is the only medicine I want, and I advise others afflicted to try it." 2w29d

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,250,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomaches and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it. eodw30

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are: Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. DEBATING THE LAND BILL.

THE PARNELLITES FIND MUCH IN IT TO FIND FAULT WITH.

Mr. Healy Grows Somewhat Warm in Discussing the Eviction Clauses—Mr. Parnell Said He Did Not Agree With That Gentleman's Persistent Opposition.

LONDON, July 27.—In the House of Commons last night in the debate upon clause 2 of the Land Bill the Government accepted Mr. Morley's amendment, making compulsory instead of permissive the court order that the rent as revised be the rent payable by the tenant.

Mr. Finucane (Nationalist) moved to make the revision retrospective to the extent of one gale.

Mr. Balfour opposed the motion.

Mr. Smith said that the Government was unable to accept such a compromise, but he promised that if the motion were withdrawn that the Government would try and deal with the matter in the report stage. The motion was thereupon withdrawn, and clauses 2 and 3 were adopted.

Mr. Parnell moved to eliminate clause 4, which provides for written notification of eviction.

Mr. Balfour said he appreciated the warning of prolonged opposition to the clause, but he had to announce the firm determination of the Government to adhere to it.

Messrs. Morley and Dillon supported Mr. Parnell's motion. After further remarks by Messrs. Smith and Chamberlain the amendment was rejected by 212 to 150.

The debate on the Land Bill was resumed in the House of Commons to-day.

Mr. O'Doherty moved, on behalf of Mr. Parnell, to limit to three years the clause providing for written notices of evictions instead of the present method.

Mr. Balfour declined to accept the modification.

John Dillon asked whether the Government would accept an amendment securing to the tenant undisturbed possession between the service of notice of eviction and the time of its redemption.

Mr. Balfour said the Government would consider favorably any amendment that would secure the tenant a slight delay between the service of notice of eviction and the execution of it.

J. W. Russell (Liberal Unionist) suggested a compromise whereby evicted tenants might be reinstated as caretakers, and in that capacity have six months' time in which to redeem their holdings. He supported the clause generally, because it would stop one-quarter of the evictions and prevent public scandals.

Maurice Healy (Home Ruler) denied that the clause would abolish evictions. He contended that it would double evictions. The argument contrary was a hollow sham and a lying pretence.

The Chairman: "The member from Cork must restrain his language." [Cries of "Hear, hear."]

Mr. Healy, continuing, said it was an electioneering dodge to pretend that the Government's object was to abolish the scandal of evictions. The cause was so bad that it outweighed all the benefits of the bill. He would rather lose the bill than to have the clause retained. The clause was a deadly hostile blow at the tenants.

Hon. Geo. Shaw Lefevre (Home Ruler) said the Parnellites had a strong case. The clause was liable to great abuse and therefore should be temporary. A harsh landlord could easily convert his tenants into caretakers, when they would be at his mercy and liable to eviction at any moment.

Mr. Balfour said in that respect the clause did not change the existing law.

Mr. Parnell urged that the Government postpone decision on the clause until clause 22, dealing with the powers of the Land Court to settle evictions, was settled. He did not agree with Maurice Healy's persistent opposition, but preferred to defer final judgment until he could balance the risk of losing the bill against the undoubted risks to which the clause would subject tenants.

The chairman ruled against further debate.

The amendment offered by O'Doherty was lost, the vote being 156 for and 212 against it.

The Loss of the Mystery.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The coroner's jury in the case of the Mystery disaster in Jamaica Bay returned a verdict that the accident was due to Capt. Hendricks carrying too much sail in a squall of wind and the fouling of the yacht's jib sheets and other portions of her outrigging.

A NOTABLE GATHERING YESTERDAY AT TORONTO.

Presidents and Officers of Agricultural Societies and Expositions in Session—A Trip Around the City—Who Were There and What Was Done.

TORONTO, July 28.

The fifth annual meeting of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions was held in the Rossin House yesterday. The association met in December last at Chicago, when it was arranged that Toronto should be the rendezvous this year, many of the American friends expressing a wish to visit the Queen City of the West. The meeting of yesterday was summoned for 11 o'clock, but from the scant attendance of delegates present at that hour, it was deemed advisable to adjourn till 1.30, the President, Col. A. A. Stevenson of Montreal, expressing the hope that the incoming trains would bring a large number of delegates. He also announced the receipt of a telegram from Mr. Festus J. Wade, the Secretary, announcing that gentleman's unavoidable absence, and intimating that he hoped to arrive in Toronto during the evening.

At the last annual convention there was but one lady present, Mrs. A. M. Noe, President of the Women's State Fair Association of Indiana. Yesterday there were three: Mrs. A. M. Noe, President; Miss Heron, Secretary, and Miss Kate Connolly, of the Women's State Fair Association of Indiana. Mrs. Noe was the first lady member of the International Association. In acknowledging the compliment paid her on that occasion, Mrs. Noe explained the object of her association to be, in addition to furthering state affairs, "the promotion of woman and woman's work, bringing it to the same level and placing it on an equality with that of man, that she might receive the compensation that was due her for the work of her hands." The motto of the association is: "Give her the fruit of her own hand, and let the work praise her in the gates."

When the convention assembled at 2 o'clock the President appointed Mr. Hill of this city Secretary pro tem.

These delegates were awarded seats:

Industrial Exhibition of Toronto—J. J. Withrow, president; J. McGee, treasurer; and H. J. Hill, manager-secretary.

Agricultural and Arts Association of Ontario—J. C. Snell, president; Ira Morgan, Metcalf, vice-president; George Moore and J. C. Rykert, M.P., directors; and H. Wade, secretary.

Central Live Stock Association—James J. Davidson, president; John Adams, vice-president; Peter Christie, Port Perry.

Norfolk Union Fair (Simcoe)—J. Thomas Murphy, secretary.

South Grimsby Agricultural Society—W. H. Morgan, secretary-treasurer; Dr. McMurchie and M. J. Dalton, directors, Smithfield.

Great Northern Exhibition Association—Chas. Lawrence, president; J. J. Crawford, secretary, and George Moberly and Thos. Long, directors.

New York State Agricultural Society—H. Bowen, Medina, vice-president, and J. S. Woodsword, Lockport, secretary.

Women's State Fair Association, Indiana—Mrs. A. N. Noe, president; Miss Mary Heron, secretary, and Miss Kate Connolly, delegate.

The President heartily welcomed the American friends to Canada, and to Toronto, whose hospitable citizens had invited the association to a tour through the city that day, and several good things which were to follow. For the information of his American friends he would say that the products of this country was considerable, that of the farmers being estimated at $400,000,000 annually, and of the manufacturers $500,000,000. Their population was an industrious one, or those results could never have been attained, and, considering the small percentage of farm produce exported, it was evident their people lived well. They were progressing as rapidly as any country, although living under the shadow of a country whose population was ten times as great. He hoped the American visitors would consider this, and not expect to see such great things here as they were accustomed to at the other side.

The president then asked for any information delegates might have to offer.

Mr. Brunton of London said that on the Western Fair Board there was a resolution on their books to the effect that no director could be an exhibitor in any class of which he is a committeeman or chairman. He wished to know if a similar rule was applied in other districts.

Mr. Landrigan of Illinois said he had been a member of the State Board for a number of years, and from his experience he not only approved of the rule, but he did not think it went far enough.

Mr. Hill moved that a committee of three be appointed to consider the subject of the question and report thereon. Mr. Christie seconded the motion. Mr. Bowman moved that the matter be now discussed by the convention, and Mr. Brunton proposed "that it is advisable that no director shall be an exhibitor in any class in which he is chairman or one of the committee in that particular class."

Mr. S. C. Stevenson strongly opposed the adoption of the latter motion on the ground that it would be a means of handicapping men who were often those who took the greatest interest in promoting exhibitions, and this without any just cause.

Mr. Brunton said there was no reason why a man should not be an exhibitor, but not in the class of which he was a judge.

Mr. Hill said that they could not prevent men from exhibiting who were judges; all they could say was that it was not desirable that they should exhibit.

After some further discussion the subject was allowed to stand over.

Mr. Moberly of Collingwood asked how the Interstate Bill affected the Association and exhibitors, and if there was any reduction in fares to exhibitors.

Mr. Londrigan replied that the bill was not long enough in operation to form a correct judgment, but he did not think it would have a favorable effect.

At this stage of the proceedings, 4 o'clock, the president announced that the Corporation of Toronto had invited the members of the convention to a drive through the city, and he hoped they would avail themselves of it. The invitation was accepted, and fifteen minutes later found every member of the convention seated in carriages drawn up at the hotel door.

The party had a pleasant drive to all the points of interest in the city, under the able guidance of Chairman Piper, of the Reception Committee.

At the Council Chamber they were received by Mayor Howland, to whom the members were individually introduced by Mr. Hill. The Mayor extended a hearty welcome to the visitors, and regretted that they did not bring more ladies with them.

Ald. Piper suggested that the President of the Association, Col. Stevenson, should be called upon for a few words, and the Mayor adopted the suggestion.

The gallant Colonel thanked the Mayor, Corporation and citizens of Toronto for the hearty welcome extended to the members of the International Association, and said that should they go where they pleased and do as they pleased in the city, the Mayor would make it all right with the gentlemen in the blue coats.

The party, after being joined by several prominent citizens, visited the reservoir, where speeches were made and refreshments partaken of. A jolly time was spent.

At 9 o'clock last evening the convention reassembled, and heard an excellent paper read by Mr. Shaw, editor of the Chicago Live Stock Journal, on "The Influence of Fairs on the Improvement of Live Stock."

The convention will meet again to-day and this evening a banquet will be given at the Hotel Hanlan.

MALTA, July 25.—A violent volcanic eruption has occurred on the Island of Galita, off the coast of Tunis. Streams of lava are rushing from the crater of the volcano and the glare of the flames is visible for fifty miles.

A SEPARATE SCHOOL CASE.

The Holders' Status at Hamilton Settled—A Fall in Plaster.

HAMILTON, July 27.—A very important case came up before Judge Sinclair at the Court of Revision in Dundas Tuesday, respecting taxation for school purposes. William Land and Angus McIntosh of Dundas were assessed as supporters of the Roman Catholic separate schools. They conceived the idea of becoming supporters of public schools, and declined to sever their connection as supporters of separate schools, and appealed to the Court of Revision to have the assessment changed. Judge Sinclair held that according to section 62 of the Separate School Act, Victoria 49, chapter 46, before a property owner can withdraw his support from the separate schools he must give notice to the clerk of the municipality before the second Wednesday in January. The applicants neglected to serve the notice, so His Honor dismissed the appeal and confirmed the assessment.

Henry Grovier and George Healey, charged with having driven a horse to death on Sunday last, were each fined $20 and costs at the Police Court this morning.

At the conference between representatives of the Iron Molders' Union and the employers yesterday the manufacturers proposed an immediate advance of 5 per cent. on board prices and 25 cents per day on day wages, to continue until March 1, 1889, and will increase piece prices on March 1 next to 10 per cent. on board prices. It is understood that no change in prices shall be made until March 1, 1889, when, if a change is desired, notice shall be given by the molders on or before Feb. 1, 1889, and by the manufacturers on or before Feb. 20, 1889. This proposition was accepted by the Molders' Union at the meeting held last night, and the bosses were so notified.

Before the end of the week it is expected that all the foundries will be running as before the strike.

About 4 o'clock this morning the policemen on duty on King-street and the several watchmen going their rounds were startled by a loud crash, which proceeded from the Anchor Hotel, corner of King William and Hughson streets. The noise awakened all the people living in the neighborhood of the hotel. Mr. Hill, the proprietor, was as much surprised as any body else. When he entered his barroom he discovered that a large portion of plaster had fallen from the ceiling on top of the bar sideboard, completely demolishing everything in its way. A splendid large mirror was smashed to atoms, several valuable pictures were destroyed and scores of bottles containing choice liquors were broken. Mr. Hill estimates his loss at over $100.

SHOT BY A BURGLAR.

A Desperate Struggle With Thieves at Sault Au Recollet.

MONTREAL, July 27.—A most daring burglary was committed at 2 o'clock this morning at the residence of John Prevost, proprietor of the grist mill at Sault Au Recollet. With him reside Mr. Pilon and his wife. The burglars effected an entrance through one of the second story windows by means of a ladder which they took from the yard of Picard's Hotel. The burglars then descended to the ground floor and entered the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Pilon, awakening them. Mr. Pilon was covered with a revolver by one of the men, both of whom were masked with canvas, and ordered to be silent. The other burglar then proceeded to tie Mrs. Pilon, but she resisted vigorously and screamed. Upon this the ruffian struck her a violent blow over the head with a chisel, inflicting a serious wound.

Mr. Prevost, who was alarmed, hastened to see what was wrong, and on entering Mr. Pilon's room, promptly grappled with one of the masked men and endeavored to secure him. During his struggle with the fellow, the other left Mrs. Pilon, and her husband being free, both burglars came to the conclusion that it was time to effect a retreat. However, the companion of the man engaged in the struggle with Mr. Prevost fired at him several times, inflicting two wounds in his head of a serious character.

The burglars then made good their escape, and though an alarm was given they have not since been heard of. Mr. Prevost has received two bullet wounds in the head, one of them being a scalp wound, but the other attempt to kill him came nearer effecting its purpose. The burglar fired from behind Mr. Prevost, and the bullet struck below the ear and fortunately passed outward at a small angle, plowing up the flesh.

Suing the Vermont Central.

MONTREAL, July 27.—Mrs. Chas. Cadieux of Rockville, Conn., whose husband was killed in the White River Junction disaster, has taken an action for $5000 damages against the Central Vermont Railway Company.

DE CASSAGNAC AND LAUR.

The Champion of Monarchy will Have to Fight the Deputy.

PARIS, July 27.—Deputy Laur, in answer to the taunts of Paul De Cassagnac that the former lied when he stated that Gen. Boulanger had been invited by eighty-four generals in the French army to head a coup d'etat in favor of a restoration of the monarchy and that Gen. Boulanger declined, has published a letter to his seconds in his coming duel giving the names of the generals. "This letter," Deputy Laur says, "M. De Cassagnac can deal with on the field of the duel, if he appears at the time appointed." M. Laur then taunts his antagonist with having hidden in a cellar during the battle of Sedan.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Here to the "Mailed" Ballots—Held Up in the Street—Other Items of Interest.

TORONTO, July 28.

The trouble with the Pharmaceutical Council has taken on a new phase, and the legal proceedings, it is almost certain, will now take the form of an application for an injunction restraining the present council from acting. The prosecutors, it seems, have sent out new ballot papers to each member asking him to mark it exactly as he had done at the annual election. Nearly all of the members have complied, and the result, it is understood, is such as to warrant the application to restrain the old council from acting.

The discovery of an implicatory telegram that is strongly presumptive evidence of fraud is also claimed by the defendants, who promise interesting developments when the case comes into court, which it will immediately upon the close of the long vacation.

The Bricklayers' Union of Toronto, one of the best organized and wealthiest of the trades societies, met in Temperance Hall last night and voted $1000 to the striking carpenters. The Bricklayers' Union of this city has a membership of about 245 and their international connections are very strong and even opulent.

During Tuesday night thieves managed to get away with 100 dozen of silk handkerchiefs, which are very portable, from the third floor of the warehouse of Cuthy, Alexander & Alexander, at Front and Bay-streets. Two valises left in the store were used to remove the goods. The detectives, after surveying the premises, came to the conclusion that the thieves secreted themselves in the store before closing time Tuesday evening. After packing the valises they had no trouble in letting themselves out into the lane in rear of the warehouse. The firm offers a reward of $200 for the recovery of the property.

One of the boldest cases of chain snatching on record occurred at 11.30 last night at York and Front streets, right under the glare of the electric light on that corner and in presence of half a dozen guests sitting in front of the Walker House. A corpulent, well-dressed man, evidently a stranger in the city and pretty much under the influence of liquor, was walking leisurely down York-street. At Front-street a young man darted out of the shade on the north side and walking up to the stranger grabbed his heavy gold chain and made away. The thief did not secure the watch, as the fastener broke. Those who witnessed the deed thought it was about as bold a piece of highway business as they had ever heard of.

He Preferred the Society of Negroes.

BOWMAN, Tex., July 26.—Tom Bean, the wealthiest, oldest, and altogether the most eccentric of the residents of this county, died here yesterday surrounded by negroes with whom he had lived for many years. His real estate is estimated at $1,000,000. He claimed to have no relatives. He is supposed to have been 70 years old. If a will is found it is believed his property will be left to negroes.

SHOT THROUGH THE BRAIN.

A Dispute Over an Unpaid Board Bill Leads to Murder.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 27.—Chas. J. Weimar, late agent of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, and living at Paterson, N.J., had a dispute this morning with Mrs. Susan Bonfaly, his landlady, over an unpaid board bill. Weimar drew a revolver and shot Mrs. Bonfaly through the brain, killing her instantly. He then killed himself.

Another Boodler Reaches Safety.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The Journal's St. Ignace, Mich., special says: Mayor Reed of this city positively states that he saw the missing Chicago boodler, McGarigle, at Sault Ste. Marie, on the Canadian side, on Monday night. He claims to know McGarigle and is positive of his identity.

The Porte Reopens Negotiations.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—The Porte has decided to reopen the negotiations with England direct for settlement of the Egyptian question. The object of the Porte is that the negotiations shall proceed without the other Powers being consulted.

A Prohibition Ticket.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Delegates from the various prohibition party organizations of the city and county of New York met at Lyric Hall last night in convention and made nominations for the city and county offices, to be voted for next fall.

Fire at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 27.—The building occupied by the Boston clothing house and Spanklin's house furnishing bazar was burned last evening. Loss $150,000. Adjoining buildings were damaged to the extent of $20,000.

Flogged His Wife to Death.

COLUMBIA, S.C., July 27.—Pickens Bryant of Hampton County has been jailed for killing his wife. He gave her a terrible lashing, taking off the skin in many places. She lived only a few hours.

DISCRIMINATING DISALLOWANCE.

With the recent exceptions of Manitoba and Quebec, Sir John has made a specialty of disallowing Ontario provincial legislatures. Since Hon Mr. Mowat has come into power, the Dominion Government has disallowed six provincial acts as follows:

An Act to amend the law respecting Escheats and Forfeitures. Disallowed on 1st April, 1875.

An Act respecting the Administration of Justice in the Northerly and Westerly parts of Ontario. Disallowed on 22nd March, 1880.

An Act for protecting the Public Interest in Rivers, Streams, and Creeks. Disallowed on 16th May, 1881.

An Act for protecting the Public Interest in Rivers, Streams, and Creeks. Disallowed on 20th September, 1882.

An Act for protecting the Public Interest in Rivers, Streams, and Creeks. Disallowed on 19th March, 1883.

An Act respecting License Duties. Disallowed on 30th April, 1884.

The reason in Ontario has been hostile to Sir John politically. Quebec has been in political sympathy with Sir John till Mr. Mercer came into power, then disallowance of provincial legislation began. Speaking on this subject the Ottawa Free Press says:—

"The work of disallowing Manitoba bills having grown monotonous, the Dominion government have apparently turned their attention to those passed by the Quebec legislature, and one Quebec act, providing that the lieutenant-governor may be sued in his official capacity, and authorizing him to accept securities from public officers, has been vetoed. So long as the Quebec legislature was controlled by the Tories the Dominion government never ventured to interfere with any of the legislation of that province. Why did not Sir John Macdonald disallow the bill passed by the Chapleau government imposing special taxes upon banks, factories, railways, insurance companies, and other corporations, which the Tory papers are now denouncing as iniquitous? The Montreal Gazette asserts that the assessment authorized by Mr. Chapleau's act fall almost exclusively upon the English-speaking people of Quebec province, and that it is a most unequal and unjust tax. Why then did not Sir John disallow the act? That is a case in which the veto power might, perhaps, have been exercised with some degree of propriety. Had Mr. Mercier passed such a bill it would no doubt, have been promptly set aside, but Mr. Chapleau was not interfered with. All of which goes to show that the veto power has become an instrument to be used, or rather abused, solely to promote the interests of the Tory party. The disallowance of the Quebec act respecting the lieutenant-governor is a very small piece of business.

THE total number of the disasters on the Great Lakes last year was 137, viz:—

	No. Vessels.	Loss.
Lake Superior	13	$338,000
Lake Michigan	40	376,000
Lake Huron	34	158,000
Lake Erie	27	314,000
Lake Ontario	21	298,000
Total for 1886	137	$1,333,800

Of these, twelve occurred in September, 22 in October and 62 in November. Seventy-four vessels were driven ashore, 29 were sunk and eight were burned.

THAT freight rates on the C.P.R. are high is evident from the fact that a schooner of 92 tons has just cleared from Halifax for Victoria, B. C., with one hundred and ten casks, fifty-five cases of whiskey, twenty-two tons coal, ten cases of preserved milk, and a lot of lumber and other building materials. For want of a canal at the Isthmus of Panama she is obliged to sail around Cape Horn, and expects to make her voyage of 20,000 miles in about five months. If the C. P. R. freight rates were reasonable, shippers would gladly take that route instead of a sea voyage, involving a risky doubling of the Horn passage of twenty thousand miles.

THE gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for June were $1,050,597, showing a net profit of $386,703, as compared with $376,449 for June 1886. For the six months ending June there was a net profit of $941,337, as compared with $1,293,615 for the first six months of last year.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung disorders, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Ramsdell's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A Great Gain.

"I used a good deal of doctor's medicine for kidney complaint during five years, was getting worse all the time until I tried B. B. B. I took three bottles, gained in weight from 120 to 150 lbs. I can highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to be a good medicine." Thus testifies John Walton, of Springfield, N.B. 2w29d

Their Best Record.

The Port Hope papers state that their baseball club have reached home. That's the first time they've got beyond third base for many a day.

In Good Repute.

James McMurdock, writing from Kinmle, says: "B. B. B. as a remedy for diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, has an excellent reputation in this locality. I have used it, and speak from experience, as well as observation. It is the only medicine I want, and I advise others afflicted to try it." 2w29d

After Long Years.

"I was troubled with liver complaint for a number of years, finding no cure. I tried B.B.B. I took four bottles, and am perfectly cured, strong and hearty." Mrs. Maria Askett, Alma, Ont. 2w29d

IN

PETERBOROUGH.

The Annual Sessions of the Grand Encampment and Grand Lodge of Ontario, I. O. O. F., will be held in Peterborough, from

AUGUST 9th to 12th,

On Wednesday, August the 10th, a magnificent and imposing Demonstration under the distinguished patronage of Lieut. General Underwood and Staff, "P.M." of Covington, Kentucky, will commence at 1 P. M., from the Central Park, where the Several Branches of the Order consisting of Cantons, Encampments, and Lodges, who will assemble and form in procession and accompanied by several of the Finest Bands in the Dominion, will parade through the principal streets of the city to the Driving Park and Agricultural Grounds. On arriving at the Grounds,

THE EXHIBITION DRILL,

Consisting of Militant and Fancy Movements, and Evolutions, will be given by several "Cantons."

At the conclusion of the Exhibition an Elegant Silk Flag, (regulation colors), will be presented with appropriate ceremonies, to each "Canton" present. The Parade, Procession and Military Exhibition, will comprise hundreds of Superbly Uniformed "Chevaliers" of the Military Branch of the Order, and will constitute a spectacle never equalled in attractiveness in Ontario. The Montreal "Canton" will be accompanied by a number of "Highland Pipers," in costume, who will play a selection of Scottish airs on the grounds.

An attractive Programme of Events will be carried out consisting of: Trotting Race, free for all, $300.00 purse. Boys' Race, Foot Race, Highland Fling, 100 yards Dash, Sword Dance, Fat Men's Race, Tug of War and Consolation Race.

On the evening of the same day a GRAND CONCERT will take place in the Opera House.

An OPEN AIR CONCERT will be given by several bands in the Horticultural Garden and Central Park. The Gardens will be brilliantly illuminated from the Electric Tower of 12 lamps and the general decoration and illumination of the town will prove to all a sight long to be remembered.

To visitors who purpose staying in and around Peterborough for several days, the Committee have arranged for A Fight Decided in One Round.

BOSTON, July 27—A fight occurred last night between the middle-weights Denny Kelleher and Jack McGee. The men came together, with arms around each other's necks, but were parted by the referee before they could do any work. More cautious sparring followed, and another minute elapsed, when McGee got Kelleher over in the latter's corner and delivered a left hander on Quincy lad's chest, together with a swinging right hander on his jaw. Kelleher, then seeing an opening, dexterously crossed his right, and sending it home with force caught McGee on the point of the jaw. He dropped to the floor, face down, like a log. At the end of 18 seconds McGee began to move, and turned his eyes up to the crowd around him. Ten seconds later he was picked up by his seconds and carried off. Referee Colville then declared Kelleher the winner. The fight lasted just two minutes and twenty seconds.

The Boston Yacht Volunteer.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., July 27.—The Volunteer went to Marblehead this morning, arriving about 11.30 o'clock. Her crew were busy for an hour stretching her sails. Her mainsail set nicely, having been set on boom and gaff. At 12.45 she hoisted her club topsail over her working topsail and left the harbor. There was a fresh wind blowing from the eastward, but the Volunteer had no sooner reached Marblehead rock than a thick fog shut down on the bay. Capt. Huff then headed for Boston, where she arrived this evening. The Volunteer will go upon the ways at Lockwoods to prepare for a cruise east.

BLAINE ON ANNEXATION.

The Tattooed Man Has no Doubt That Canada Would Like to Join the States.

CHICAGO, July 27.—A special cable from Bridge of Earn says: G. D. Peters, the celebrated Moorgate ironmonger, called at Kilgraston to-day and had a brief chat with Mr. Blaine. Mr. Peters has heavy land and other interests in Canada. Though he is an Englishman, the prospective annexation of Canada to the United States is no bogey. He was anxious to get Mr. Blaine's views on the subject, but Mr. Blaine was extremely shy. He listened attentively till Mr. Peters was through, and then ended the interview in his characteristic way.

"It is the same old story," said he. "We don't need Canada, and we don't want her. Yes, I have no doubt she would like to join us, but it's just as I asked Macdonald once, what are you going to give us in return for what we give you?"

Mr. Peters couldn't answer this any more than Macdonald, to the latter dropped.

THE VATICAN AND THE K. OF L.

There is no Occasion for the Intervention of the Church.

ROME, July 27.—It transpires that the conclave of twelve American bishops, asked by the Vatican for a decision as to the advisability of the Roman Catholic Church interfering with the Knights of Labor, voted 10 to 2 against intervention. The technical decision reached was that "there is no occasion for the church to make a special deliverance regarding the Knights of Labor." The congregation here after examining the question, arrived at the same decision and the secretary of the congregation communicated this resolution to Cardinal Gibbons in a note containing the usual formula—nihil innovetur. Subsequently an attempt was made from the United States to induce the Vatican to reverse the decision, but the Holy See refused to reopen the question.

THE BOY AND THE GUN.

A 6-Year-Old Girl Accidentally Shot and Killed at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, July 27.—A lamentable affair occurred this afternoon in the east end of the city, by which a 6-year-old child of Thomas Kilvington, florist, lost its life. The family of a neighbor named Nichols were at Mr. Kilvington's house playing, when the loud report of a gun and the shrieks of frightened children suggested something wrong. Mrs. Kilvington rushed into the room and found her daughter Marietta lying on the floor dead, the blood gushing from a wound in the head.

Just how the accident occurred is unknown, except that the gun was in the hands of Mr. Nichols' boy, also aged about 6 years, and that all the children were playing in a bedroom where the weapon was usually kept. No inquest was considered necessary.

Sudden Death on Shipboard.

LONDON, July 27.—Daniel Conroy of New York dropped dead in the saloon of the City of Chicago, which sailed from Liverpool yesterday for New York and touched at Queenstown to-day.

A real estate agent in Southern California recently posted the following notice on a piece of land: "For Sale Cheap, The Best Climate on the Pacific Coast, The Land Thrown In."

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 2w29d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Are You Going to Travel?

Don't forget a supply of that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a superior remedy for sea sickness, and a positive cure for all bowel complaints induced by bad water, change of diet, or of climate. Whether at home or abroad, it should be kept at hand in case of emergency. 2w29d

DEAR SIR.—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and today the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all thus troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

A meeting of the directors of the P. A. A. A. will be held to-morrow afternoon to arrange for the second of the series of evening sports by electric light, to be held on the grounds this summer. There will be a change in the programme of events. This second entertainment will probably be held Friday evening, August 5th. Further particulars will be announced later on.

The New Superintendent.

At a meeting of the officers and teachers of the George Street Methodist Sunday School last night Mr. H. S Griffin was unanimously elected to succeed Mr. J. W. Flavelle as superintendent of the school. Mr. Griffin has since his residence in Peterborough taken a prominent part in Sunday School and church work, and there can be no doubt of his ability to fill the responsible position to which he has been elected.

Broke Her Collar Bone.

Yesterday forenoon Mr. Mauly, a North Monaghan farmer, was driving to town with market produce, accompanied by his wife and a young lady visiting at his home, who were sitting in the back seat of the spring waggon. The seat somehow became detached and slipping off fell to the ground, carrying both women with it. Mrs. Mauly was unhurt, but the young lady sustained a fracture of the collar bone besides other minor injuries. Dr. Kincaid attended her.

The Market Square.

Between the singing of the Salvation Army, the beating of their drums, the playing of Burk's circus band, the shouting of a ticket agent and a "fakir" selling miscellaneous articles, and the subdued roar of the large crowd gathered round, things were made to "hum" on the market square last evening for a while. For about half an hour it lasted—then the Salvationists filed off to their barracks, the circus band withdrew to its tent to open the performance, the ticket agent closed up business shortly after, the "fakir" did likewise, and all was comparatively peaceful once more.

Superior and Acceptable.

Referring to the Victoria Rifles' Band, which will give a couple of promenade concerts in the P. A. A. A. grounds on the evenings of August 9th and 10th, the Boston Sunday Herald says:—"The Victoria Rifles' Band, of Montreal, completed a week's engagement at the Exhibition yesterday, and the satisfaction given by them is best attested by the good impression they have made on all who heard them, and who regret their early departure. Their performances, on the whole, have been very superior and acceptable, and the wonder is expressed that they shall not be retained during the continuance of the fair. It is said, however, that later on this band will pay us another visit, and perform at the fair for a limited time. If they do they will find many warm admirers to welcome them to Boston." Secure your tickets early; they are on sale now.

The Locks Bridge.

A meeting of the joint committee of the town and county councils, appointed to take into consideration the petition of the people of South Monaghan and Otonabee to have the present locks bridge rebuilt and removed farther down the stream to the end of George street, was held Tuesday afternoon. It was decided to leave the bridge on its present site, as its removal would seriously depreciate the value of property along the main road crossing the bridge, especially on the town side. Another and greater reason which prompted the action of the committee, was that the removal and rebuilding of the bridge would cost about $4,000 more than if the old site was retained and a new bridge erected thereon. It was, however, decided to build a new iron bridge in place of the old one, and tenders will be advertised for at once, the work to begin in the winter, when farmers can have the advantage of crossing the ice instead of having to go around by Ashburnham. The advertisements will call for tenders for single and double span iron bridges, and the committee will accept the cheapest of these. In the meantime the old bridge will be repaired and strengthened to give perfect safety until replaced by the new one.

Sad Drowning Accident.

Deep gloom has fallen over the camping community in Stony Lake. A sad drowning accident occurred there last night. Mr. Wm. R. Deeprose, a young man about 25 years of age, living at Lakefield, who was married within a year back to a daughter of Mr. Wm. Simpson, 4th line of Smith, had been camping near the A.C.A. grounds for a few days, and went in bathing about 6 o'clock last evening with two or three companions. Not being a swimmer, he remained about a rock washing himself, while the others were swimming and plunging about a short distance off, and as Mr. Deeprose was "splashing" himself, they did not pay any particular attention to him until they heard a heavy splash in his direction. They looked, but he had disappeared—he had slipped off the rock into deep water, and sank immediately to rise no more, and although they at once went to his rescue, they could see nothing of him, he having apparently sank immediately upon being immersed in the water. However, search was made for the body by those in the locality, and it was recovered about an hour afterwards and conveyed to Burleigh. An undertaker had been summoned from Lakefield, and the remains were taken home to his disconsolate young widow, who, with a number of friends, awaited in sorrow the arrival of her dead husband, about two o'clock in the morning. Mr. Wm. Simpson, father-in-law of the deceased, received intelligence of the accident about twelve o'clock at night. Deceased's parents reside in England. The young widow and friends have the sincerest sympathy of all in their sad affliction, and the sudden demise of one who was well-known in Lakefield and vicinity, and esteemed by all his acquaintances, has shrouded the place in universal sorrow. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at one o'clock to Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough.

Mr. Flavelle's Farewell.

His Friends Say Good Bye Ere He Departs for Toronto.

Last evening, after the usual weekly prayer service in the George street Methodist church, a farewell address was read to Mr. J. W. Flavelle, who is about to remove to Toronto. Rev. Mr. Wallace, after a few complimentary introductory remarks, read the following address:—

To J. W. Flavelle, Esq.

DEAR BROTHER.—On behalf of the congregation and Sunday School of the George street Methodist church, Peterborough, we beg to express to you, on the occasion of your departure for Toronto, our great sorrow at parting with you, our high appreciation of the life and character which have endeared you to us all, and our gratitude to Almighty God for the good work which you have done in our midst.

You have grown with the growth of our beautiful town, you have been a boy among the boys, a man among the men of Peterborough, and all through, while your abilities have made your career prominent, your consecration to God has kept your record clean.

You have been known to all men as a lover of truth, earnest in the search after it, bold in the advocacy of it. You have shrunk from no responsibility which God and your brethren have placed upon you. You have feared no consequences of righteous action. We honor that manliness in you which has been an example and an inspiration to the young men of our town.

Becoming at an early age a member and an official of the Methodist church, you have been assiduous in your attention to the interests of the church, liberal in your support of its enterprises, faithful to its doctrines and usages.

As lovers of temperance, law, and order, we recognize and honor in you a leader who has consecrated without stint money, time, and energies to the great and arduous task of promoting sobriety, of securing prohibition of the liquor traffic, and openly forcing without fear or favor the righteous law of the land.

It is with special pleasure that we refer to your great work during the past five years as superintendent of the large and flourishing Sunday School of our church. Here you have gathered about you a band of officers and teachers who have loved you, who have been invited to earnest Christian service by your example, who have been trained in methods of Christian work by your instruction. Here you have won the affections of the hundreds of scholars who have come under your influence, and have led many of them to a knowledge of their Saviour. Here you will be affectionately remembered; here your teaching will, we believe, abide as good seed in good soil, and bring forth the fruit of holy living.

With one heart we bid you, dear Brother, a loving farewell as you go from us, and a hearty God-speed as you enter upon the duties of your new sphere of labor; and with you, in these good wishes, we associate your esteemed wife and dear child. May the Lord be to you and yours a "shield and an exceeding great reward."

We beg you to do us the pleasure to accept the accompanying gold watch as a slight token of our affectionate regard.

F. H. WALLACE, Pastor.
D. W. DUMBLE, Recording Steward.
H. S. GRIFFIN, Superintendent of the S.S.

The gift alluded to in the address was a magnificent gold watch, suitably inscribed, which was presented by Mr. D. W. Dumble, who expressed his gratification upon hearing the above address read to one whom he had known from his boyhood, one who had strong convictions, and had the courage of his convictions and ready at all times to exert his influence in behalf of those convictions. He referred to Mr. Flavelle's amiable and upright character, and felt extreme regret at his departure; but it would be a pleasure to him (the speaker) to know that he would always have in Toronto a manly and honest friend. He wished him God speed.

Mr. FLAVELLE in reply stated that the previous night he had received an intimation that he was to meet the kind people of the church that evening to say a final farewell, and he had daring the day endeavored, to prepare a few words to say on the occasion; but he was as far from it as ever. He said he was utterly unable to express his feelings. Referring to his connection with the church, Mr. Flavelle said that to the George Street Methodist Church and the teachings of a pious mother, he owed all that he had and was. As superintendent of the Sunday School he had always done his best, and if he had been the means of doing any good, he thanked God for it. And he wished to speak a word regarding the rumor that because of his exertions in behalf of the Scott Act his business had suffered, and he had been obliged to leave the town. That was, he said, utterly untrue; long before the Scott Act came to Peterborough this move had been decided upon, but could not be carried out until now, the man he had with him in business declining at first to assume charge of the Peterborough store. He made this statement, he said, so that the young men would not be deterred from doing their duty from fear engendered by this false report. Mr. Flavelle spoke a good word for his successor as superintendent of the school, and concluded with a touching expression of thanks for himself and on behalf of his wife and child for the kind farewell tendered him.

Mr. W. J. MASON also spoke briefly but feelingly on the subject of Mr. Flavelle's departure.

There was an unusually large attendance at the gathering, showing the high esteem in which Mr. Flavelle was held by all his friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Flavelle left to-day for his new home in Toronto.

Three Straight Games.

The Millbrook Lacrosse Club Downed by the Ætnas.

Yesterday afternoon on Riverside Park the Millbrook (junior) lacrosse club met the Young Ætnas in a friendly game, the latter winning in three straight games. The two teams were nearly of a size, the visitors if anything having the advantage, but in point of playing the Ætnas were away ahead.

For the Millbrooks Richards in goal played carefully and kept out many a well-thrown ball, while in the field probably Bateson did the best of any. Sullivan for the Ætnas played the most brilliant game of all. He seemed to be everywhere at the same time and never failed to secure the ball in a tussle. The rest all played well, not excepting Dumble, the youngest member of the club, who was as agile and quick as a cat.

From the first it was evident that the Millbrooks were out-matched. The ball hovered around their goal the whole time. Three goals were taken by the Ætnas in 27, 20 and 15 minutes respectively. Metherall scored the first goal and Duncan the other two.

Following are the teams:—

Personal.

Mr. Alexander McDonald and bride will leave by the G. T. R. and connections for British Columbia this evening at 5:15 o'clock.

Mr. E. E. Henderson returned from New York State on Wednesday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Henderson, who has been visiting friends in that State for the past few weeks.

Mr. Robert Vance, representing the Peterborough Central Exhibition, was present in Toronto on Tuesday at a meeting of the managers of Central fairs, met to discuss matters relating to exhibitions, and the desirability of concerted actions to establish central fairs throughout Ontario.

The press generally throughout the country expresses great satisfaction at the appointment by the Government of the Rev. Dr. Dewart, editor of the Christian Guardian, to the Senate of the Toronto University in room of the late Judge Cameron. The honor conferred on Dr. Dewart is well merited.

Baseball.

An interesting game of baseball will be played on the Association grounds, Ashburnham, on Saturday, July 30th, 1887, between Campbellford and Peterborough. Game will be called at 2 o'clock, p.m., sharp. All lovers of the game should not fail to attend as a close and exciting match may be expected.

The Belleville club defeated the Kingston club yesterday afternoon by 13 to 7. Umpire, Gilman, of Toronto. Time of game, 1 hour 55 minutes.

Terrible Accidents

Always occurring. Now that the A. C. A. camp sports are commencing every person should take a Partial Accident Insurance Policy from Wilson & Morrison; the only one given in Canada, without extra cost.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,250,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

OTTAWA NEWS.

OTTAWA, July 28.—The last thin tie which bound The Toronto Mail to the Conservative party was ruthlessly torn a few days ago, when the Ottawa correspondent of The Mail was refused The Canada Gazette notes. This class of news, principally relating to appointments and statements of revenue, has in the past been published in advance exclusively every Saturday morning by The Montreal Gazette, Ottawa Citizen and Toronto Mail. It seems that the order was issued by the Secretary of State, who took occasion to remark that he did not see why The Mail should be treated differently from any other Opposition paper.

The White Cross Society, which has been in existence here for two or three years, and whose object is to promote social morality, propose to institute a crusade against the alleged traffic in young girls said to exist in Ottawa. If only half the stories current are true they have a big contract on hand.

Hon. Mr. McLelan, Postmaster General, returned last night from Halifax, where he transacted postal and departmental business. He stated to-day that there was no intention of rescinding the recent order reducing the commission on the sale of postage stamps from three to one per cent. Arrangements would be made for continuing the sale of stamps in city postoffices. He also stated that arrangements are being made with the United States for establishment of a parcel mail, which, he expected, would be in operation before the end of the year.

It is stated that the managers of Dufferin Lake have been trying to make an engagement with Mr. Laurier for a picnic in commemoration of the triple Liberal victory in the Wellington, but he has so far declined to fix a date.

It is understood that Sir S. Black wood, Secretary of the Imperial Postoffice Department, sails for Canada on Aug. 6 for the purpose of studying the advantages offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway as an Imperial mail route to the East. He will be accompanied over the line to the Pacific coast by the Hon. Mr. McLelan, Postmaster-General, who will supply his distinguished visitor with all information regarding all the facilities afforded for quick transhipment of mails across the continent. The report of Sir S. Blackwood will, it is understood, decide the prospects of the C.P.R. route.

If Mr. Kemper carried out the program laid down by him when he left Canada, he met Sir Charles Tupper to-day and submitted to him, on behalf of the syndicate he represented, a new proposal with reference to acquiring control of the Intercolonial Railway, the establishing of iron works, etc., about which, it will be remembered, he had several interviews with the Government last session, his proposal being finally rejected.

A rumor is current that it is the intention of the Government to replace the present suspension bridge across the Chaudiere Falls by a large and more modern structure, and that the work will be commenced next spring. Some such rumor was afloat before the meeting of Parliament, but, as no vote was taken for the purpose, it does not seem probable that any action will be taken, at least until after another session.

Senator Miller, ex-Speaker of the Senate, who left shortly after the close of the session for a trip to British Columbia, arrived here to-day on his way home. He expresses himself as very much pleased with his visit.

It is understood that an effort will be made to improve the ventilation of the Railway Committee room in the House of Commons before next session, but no attempt to provide a new or larger room will be made, Parliament not having voted any money for the purpose.

The Pontiac Pacific Railway Company will, in a few days, award the contract for ten miles of road from Coulonge River westward. The bridge across the river will probably not be built until next winter.

It is understood that the Canada Atlantic has completed the necessary financial arrangements for bridging the St. Lawrence at Coteau, and the work will be proceeded with immediately.

The Department of Agriculture has decided to establish a botanical museum in connection with the Experimental Farm at Ottawa. It will be filled with collections of rare plants, etc., and conducted on a basis similar to those already in existence in Europe and the United States. It will be a valuable adjunct and serve a good purpose.

The Church and the Knights.

BALTIMORE, July 28.—Cardinal Gibbons was yesterday shown the cablegram announcing that the Pope had decided that there was no ground for interference with the Knights of Labor, and he told an Associated Press reporter that he had as yet received no information concerning the subject. He said that he would be equally sorry and surprised to see the organization condemned. He believes, however, that there will be no condemnation so long as the Knights of Labor steer clear of Anarchists and other dangerous associations and confine themselves to their lawful and praiseworthy efforts to better the condition of the working people without interfering with the rights of others.

Drowned in Lake Beauport.

QUEBEC, July 28.—Louis Dion, a well-known grocer of St. John-street, who went on a fishing excursion a few days ago, was drowned in Lake Beauport. His body was brought home this morning. Details of the accident have not been learned.

The Work of Women at the Agricultural Shows and Expositions—All the Old Officers Elected and the Next Meeting to be Held at Chicago.

TORONTO, July 28.

The International Exposition Convention met again yesterday morning at the Rossin House, elected all its old officers, adjourned to meet at Chicago next year, had a grand sail on the lake, and attended a banquet in the evening at the Hotel Haulan.

Mr. T. J. Wade, the Secretary, was in attendance yesterday, as was also Mr. A. Blue, Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture and Secretary of the Bureau of Industries of Ontario.

The Committee on Classification (Messrs. Landrigan, Morgan and Adams) reported in favor of maintaining the classification at present in operation, and which had not as yet been fully tested.

The Committee on Printing and Advertising reported that they could lay down no hard-and-fast rule on this point. However, they recommended judicious advertising, especially in the press.

The Committee on Gates and Tickets reported as follows:

Your committee, to whom was referred this very important question, beg leave to report that the very short time at their disposal for its consideration will not warrant them in making any extended report. They would, therefore, endorse the leading recommendation of the able paper presented by Mr. Samuel Dysart at the meeting of this association held in Chicago last December. The question of the issue of tickets to their proper use is of so much importance, and the abuse of the privileges conferred by them so prevalent, that we recommend the appointment of a committee to take this subject into consideration, and that they report at the next Council meeting. That they especially consider the propriety of discontinuing the use of complimentary tickets and the issue in their stead of a special ticket, to which shall be added such restrictions and conditions as shall prevent its use [illegible] than the person to whom issued. [illegible] also want have this committee consider the adoption of some uniform rule governing the privileges conferred by exhibitors' tickets, and as to the best methods of passing helpers or assistants, and to make such other recommendation as shall reduce to the minimum the great leak which we are confident results from the misuse of tickets.

A long discussion ensued on this report, in which Secretary Wade gave his experience. In St. Louis they dispensed altogether with the free list, and charged everyone who passed through the gates; and furthermore did not allow any person to leave and re-enter without paying again. They found the plan to work well. In reply to a delegate he said that they also charged exhibitors an entrance fee for their exhibits. They imposed a charge for the use of stalls, and men who, previous to this rule, insisted upon getting a box stall for every animal were now content to put several in the same stall.

Mr. Hill asked if there were no exceptions to the rule—not even in favor of the press—and received the reply that pressmen were provided with one ticket, but that they could not run in and out as they pleased. The ticket was collected at the gate the same as the ticket of other people. The family ticket was also done away with, for it was extraordinary how a man's family increased on a show day. They gave complimentary tickets to clergymen, prominent politicians, etc. They found it a great source of income to dispense with the free list, and it also had the effect of saving a great deal of trouble and annoyance to the committee and secretary.

The Committee on Railway Transportation and Rates noted with pleasure the increased facilities afforded by many railway companies to foster those fairs and expositions. They thought that all the railway companies should follow the example.

The report of the Committee on Fees and Privileges also referred to the free-ticket system, and advised its curtailment.

Mrs. Noe, Miss Mary R. Heron and Miss R. Connolly, the committee appointed to report as to "how to interest women in fair work," recommended that the cooperation of women interested in woman's work should be secured and given control over the management of the department with a fair proportion of funds placed at their disposal.

President J. J. Withrow asked what proportion the ladies would consider fair?

Mrs. Noe replied that they would expect a vote in proportion to that given in other departments. In Illinois they were only allowed $400 the first year of their operations, and now they were getting $4,900, and even this they considered insufficient. The ladies' branch of those fairs and exhibitions had arduous duties to perform, but proved themselves equal to the task.

Mr. Withrow referred to professional exhibitors as a great source of annoyance, and this was especially apparent in the ladies' department. Hence the necessity of having the assistance of ladies. He instanced a case in which one of those professional exhibitors took several prizes for the same article.

Mrs. Noe said this might occur with gentlemen, but would soon be detected by ladies. They did not object to professional exhibitors showing their goods and obtaining prizes at different shows, but they did object to their taking a prize more than once for the same article at the same show.

Mr. Stevenson suggested that the report should be referred back to the ladies for a more extended report, to be submitted at the next convention. He would like to have the assistance of ladies in their shows, but where he saw the objection was to get rid of that class of woman who would force her way on a street car with seventy-five or eighty men on it. [Laughter.] If such a class of women were entrusted with the management of the department it would prevent ladies of more modesty from patronizing the show.

The report was adopted, and the committee requested to present a more detailed report next convention.

The committee on the program for next convention recommended that members should be called upon to name the papers and subjects for discussion, and that the program should be distributed before the meeting of the convention. The reports were agreed to, and a committee appointed to enquire into the ticket system and report.

Mr. Henry Wade, secretary of the Agricultural and Arts Association of Ontario, read an able paper on "How to Secure Co-operation of Breeders and Herd-book Associations with Managers of Fairs and Expositions," and was accorded a warm vote of thanks.

Mr. A. Blue, Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture, read a paper on "The Educational Features of Fairs and Expositions." The paper was a practical one, and its author's description of primitive farming elicited great laughter.

Mr. S. C. Stevenson, secretary of the Quebec Board of Agriculture, read a capital paper on "Management of Industrial Expositions."

The idea of holding an international exhibition in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America was approved of, and will be discussed at next convention.

The Secretary's report showed that six new associations had been added to this association since the last meeting. The receipts were $336 and after defraying expenses there were on hand $60.

The officers of last year were all reelected, and the place of next meeting was fixed for Chicago in November, 1878.

Those officers are:

President—Col. A. A. Stevenson, Montreal.
Vice-Presidents—Chas. Green (President St. Louis Fair), St. Louis; Lafayette Funk (Vice-President Illinois State Fair), Shorey, Ill.; Henry Wade (Secretary Agriculture and Arts Association), Toronto; S. C. Mr. Landrigan moved a vote of thanks to the Mayor and Corporation of Toronto for the kindness and hospitality extended to the convention, which was carried with acclamation.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Wills, Illinois; Hill, Ontario; Furness, Nebraska; Woodward, New York; S. C. Stevenson, Montreal; Leonhart, Indiana, and Secretary Wade was appointed to consider the best means of increasing the membership.

A vote of thanks to the proprietor of the Rossin House for his kindness in placing the committee room at the disposal of the association, concluded the business of the convention.

THE CANAL CONVENTION.

Canada to be Asked to Make Her Canals Free to Americans.

ROCHESTER, July 28.—The Canal Convention opened this morning and was largely attended. Among the resolutions adopted was one approving of the Seymour plan of doubling the length of the locks of the state canals, thus passing two boats instead of one, thereby reducing the cost of transportation and lessening the power of the railways to divert the trade of the west from the State and City of New York to rural and competing points. The Legislature will be urged to make a liberal appropriation for the purpose.

It was also resolved: That this convention looks with favor upon the adoption of a commercial treaty with the Dominion of Canada whereby all tariff rates between the two countries may be abolished, thereby largely increasing the trade and commerce of our sister states.

The resolutions further say: "The canals of our State have been made free of tolls upon all property passing over the same, including the property of the Dominion of Canada as well as of the States of the Union. Resolved, That in the judgment of this convention just reciprocity demands that the canals of the Dominion be made free of tolls to the commerce of the cities of the United States passing through the same, and that a committee of three be appointed by the President of the Convention (Hon. George Clinton of Buffalo) to confer with the Canadian authorities, and to present the same to the treaty making power at Washington."

KILLED IN SELF-DEFENCE.

A Welland County Farmer Slays a Man Who Threatens to Assail Him.

VICTORIA, County Welland, July 28.—Last evening about 8 o'clock, while John Keller, grocer, James Lonergan, fisherman (of Buffalo, and George Stevens, escaped from the Central Prison, Toronto, were hauling a seine at Nettle's Point, about two miles below the International Bridge, Niagara River, Peter Nettle, owner of the fishing ground, came along carrying a double-barrelled gun. He had been shooting blackbirds on his farm. Some angry words passed between Nettle and the party, especially Stevens, about a gun which had been stolen. Stevens approached Nettle in a threatening manner, carrying a large stone in his hand. Nettle warned him to keep back or he would shoot. Stevens still advanced, until within a rod, when Nettle fired both barrels, the first taking effect in the right breast, going through the right lung. The second barrel followed quickly, going through the heart. Death was instantaneous. Nettle immediately went to Fort Erie and gave himself up to Ontario Policeman Griffin.

Lotteridge got assistance and brought the remains to Victoria, where an inquest was held to-day by Coroner Brewster of Ridgeway. Seventeen jurymen were empannelled and the verdict was that "George Stevens came to his death at the hands of Peter Nettle, while acting in self-defence." The community appear to be well satisfied with the verdict. Nettle is a farmer and bears a good reputation.

A Dishonest Postal Clerk.

KANSAS CITY, July 28.—For six or seven months numerous complaints have gone to Postmaster Shelly of Kansas City of the loss of letters containing money and postal notes, and for a long time special officers have been working on the case, endeavoring to discover the thief. Yesterday they arrested L. I. Wilson, a clerk at station A, at the Union Depot. Wilson confessed having opened several letters containing money. He is 33 years old, and has been in the postal service for nine months. He punctured letters with a hatpin; and by a microscope ascertained the contents. If no money or postal notes were seen the punctured places were obliterated by a nibber.

THE FOURTEEN SEINERS.

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT ALLOWS THEM TO DEPART.

But They Will Not be Permitted to Embark in a Fishing Vessel as Fishermen in Distress—The Schooner Hodgdon Being Released, Puts to Sea.

HALIFAX, July 28.—The report is confirmed that the Americans who were on the seine boat seized at Souris were not allowed by the Collector of Customs at that port to return to Gloucester on other United States fishing vessels, as fishermen in distress.

United States Consular Agent Carleton applied to the collector for permission to forward them in that manner, and the collector said he could not grant the application. It is contended that there was no necessity for the Consular Agent to ask the customs officer whether or not the men could proceed on American vessels, but that if it was desired he should have requested the master of some vessel to take them, which would not be a violation of any Canadian law or of the Fisheries Treaty. If an American schooner happened to be in port it is to be presumed she was there legally, taking advantage of the privileges or rights accorded to United States vessels, and as men cast adrift, as those belonging to the French and the Argonaut are to be considered, they would be carried home free of charge. Therefore, the placing of them on board for free transportation cannot be said to be shipping men, which is prohibited, nor the acceptance of passenger traffic, as no passage money is paid. The Consul is empowered to command the captain of a vessel to accept the men and the captain cannot, under the American law, refuse to take them. This is the side of the question as presented by the friends of the fishermen. Why the collector at Souris declined to grant the Consular Agent's application has not been learned, but it is presumed that he thought he was asked to allow a violation of the law.

From an American Source.

BUFFALO, July 28.—A despatch from Halifax says: United States Consul George telegraphed to Consul-General Phelan yesterday morning that the collector at Souris, P.E.I., had refused to allow the fourteen men captured in the seine boats on Sunday to go home in a fishing vessel. These men, when taken, had only shirts and trousers on, and the Charlottetown Consul thought this was hard treatment and telegraphed here for instructions. Mr. Phelan instructed the consul to send the men home by the first vessel sailing, be she a fishing schooner or not. The United States man-of-war Richmond, with Admiral Lee on board, and the cruiser Yantic are here and are placed under the consul's orders. The Consul General instructed Consul George that if the slightest resistance was offered, to let him know immediately, and he would take charge of the matter.

The Hodgdon Released.

HALIFAX, July 28.—A despatch from Shelburne states that the schooner Hodgdon has sailed for sea, having been released by the Collector of Customs. It is not known what arrangements have been made respecting the expenses, payment of which was demanded by the collector.

A BAD GANG IN HAMILTON.

Hogs Suffocated in a Railway Car—The Millington Shooting.

HAMILTON, July 28.—Phil Muller, James Barrowes, Henry Jenkins, John Stoneman, John Bain and Fred Kane were up in court this morning charged with having been the perpetrators of several burglaries of recent date. Chief McKinnon informed the Court that he hoped to be able to show not only that they were the parties who broke into the McNab-street establishment and stole revolvers in March last, but that they had been guilty of a large number of other offences, which had occurred during the past nine months, such as pocket-picking, burglary, etc. The Magistrate remanded the gang until Monday next.

Yesterday a Caledonia man named Wicket shipped fifty-eight hogs for this city. The animals were loaded on close box cars, and when they arrived in this city it was found that all but five had been suffocated.

Further inquiry in relation to the shooting of the little girl Kilvington yesterday elicits the fact that the lad Nichols replaced the gun in the corner after the shooting, and that he rested the centre of the gun on the edge of the bed in order to give the muzzle sufficient elevation to send the charge where it went. The victim of the shooting was buried this afternoon.

The Railway Wreck at Hopedale, Ill.

PEKIN, Ill., July 28.—Ten dead bodies have been taken from the wreck of the construction train at Hopedale, and eight men are unaccounted for. It is supposed that the missing men are dead in the wreck, in which case the number of dead is eighteen, with the probability that the list will be swelled to twenty-two by the death of those supposed to be fatally hurt.

THE PROGRESS OF SOCIETY.

We live in an era of strikes or rumours of strikes. At present the building trade of the city of Toronto is completely demoralized by a strike of some weeks' duration among the carpenters and bricklayers. Hardly a month passes, indeed, that an account of some labor trouble between employer and employed is not published, and those which, for the time being, are averted, may break out again at any time. This indicates what we may term a perpetual feud between labor and capital. It is owing to a widespread feeling among workmen that they do not get their fair share of the profits which accrue from their work. They see the visible evidence of these profits in the houses and establishments, the horses and carriages, the plate and pictures of their employers; they contrast these with the sordid lives and narrow circumstances and scanty pleasures which fall to their own lot, and, without stopping to enquire in what degree they may be themselves responsible for this, they leap to the conclusion that their labor does more for others than for themselves. From this idea arises, not only the occasional outbreak of strike and lock-out, but also the wide favor with which any scheme for the taxation of capital, or the nationalization of land, or any other form of socialism or collectivism, is regarded.

Now let us enquire how far this feeling is justified. Have the classes that subsist on weekly wages participated fairly in the great increase of wealth and comfort and enjoyment which the nation has undoubtedly made in these latter times? If we compare the condition of the wage earning classes now with what it was fifty years ago, we shall see they have had their full share in the progress of the nation. Then their condition was simply miserable. Wages were low and prices high, and bread, in England, was almost unattainable.

A well-informed and careful writer has said that the condition of the working men in Britain fifty years ago was one of periodic starvation. Unquestionably things are better now. Wages have increased and hours of labour have diminished. The work man of to-day receives from 30 to 100 per cent more money for 20 per cent less work than he did fifty years ago. A number of new commodities have been brought within the workman's reach. Meat and house rent, it is true, have increased in value but not sufficiently to neutralize the advantages the workman has gained in other respects. A vast amount of expenditure is incurred, mainly for the benefit of the working man in education, in sanitary measures, in the inspection of mines and factories and in free libraries, all of which help to make life sweeter and better for him, and to open out careers even to the poorest. The result of all this is registered in the tables of mortality, which shows that within the last forty years, two years have been added to the average duration of human life!

These are astonishing statistics. Most of us probably have supposed the labourer's lot to have improved considerably since Queen Victoria ascended the throne, but few have imagined that it could have improved so much. These figures, of course represent averages, and averages are very different from individual incomes. Statistics can always be made to astonish. There can be no denying the fact that thousands still in our large cities pass their lives, are housed, and fed, and clothed, and exist in utter misery. It is undoubtedly true that the increase in the material comfort and well being of the labouring classes is as nothing when compared with the enormous advance "in the wealth of the wealthy, in the luxury of the luxurious, and in the splendor of the splendid." It is therefore in vain to expect the earners of modest wages to be content with their lot when they see this "glaring wealth" flaunted so ostentatiously in their faces, and society may well consider whether it should not strive to save itself by voluntarily abandoning an ostentation and a luxury which cannot bring happiness, but which sets class against class, undermines the stability of our institutions and menaces the continuity of our history.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people as healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A Great Gain.

"I used a good deal of doctor's medicine for kidney complaint during five years, was getting worse all the time until I tried B. B. B. I took three bottles, gained in weight from 130 to 150 lbs. I can highly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to be a good medicine." Thus testifies John Walton, of Springfield, N.B. 2w29d

The best medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The more distressing symptoms quickly yield to it. eodw30

In Good Health.

James McMurdock, writing from Kinsale, says: "B. B. B. as a remedy for diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, has an excellent reputation in this locality. I have used it, and speak from experience, as well as observation. It is the only medicine I want, and I advise others afflicted to try it." 2w29d

After Long Years.

"I was troubled with liver complaint for a number of years, finding no cure. I tried B.B.B. I took four bottles, and am perfectly cured, strong and hearty." Mrs. Maria Ackett, Alma, Ont. 2w29d

A Farmer Boy's Awful Ben.

ST. THOMAS, July 28.—A terrible accident happened in the township of Dutrid, county of Elgin, on the evening of July 23. A young fellow named James McLean was riding a horse home from the harvest field on a gallop, when he lost the insufficient hold he had of the halter and fell off. The hip-strap became wound round his ankle and he was dragged about a quarter of a mile. His scalp was torn completely off, and his face and shoulders fearfully mangled. He was dead when taken up. His father had died but a few weeks before.

Burglars Get Away With Gold.

SMITHVILLE, July 28.—Smith Bros., having made a sale of about $700 worth of butter yesterday, took the money into the house. But about 11 o'clock, feeling uneasy on having such a sum in the house Mr. Scrash thought it best to put it in the safe in the store, although not in the habit of leaving money there. Between 2 and 3 in the morning burglars entered the store, burst open the safe and carried off the money. Those young men, whose actions were rather suspicious, were noticed in the village in the morning, but of them now no trace is to be found.

A Murder in Maryland.

CUMBERLAND, Md., July 28.—Henry Spencer shot and killed Scott Dawson last night at Rawlings, five miles from here. Dawson three years ago was convicted of assault upon a woman and was sentenced to the penitentiary. When released recently he resolved to lead a better life. Shortly after Dawson's conviction Spencer married the woman assaulted, and since then has felt bitter toward Dawson. The murder was premeditated.

They Speak for Themselves.

PICTON, Feb. 17.—This is to certify that I have used Polson's NERVILINE for rheumatism, and have found it a valuable remedy for all internal pain, and would greatly recommend it to the public.—N. T. KINGSLEY.

LEEDS County, Jan. 2.—We are not in the habit of puffing patent medicines, but we cannot withhold our testimony as to the great value of Nerviline as a remedy for pain. We have pleasure in recommending it as a never-failing remedy.—Rev. M. J. ALLEN, Benj. DILLON, and many others.

P. A. Churchill states:—There seems to be no end to the success of Nerviline. I sent you a few testimonials, and can send you plenty more if of use to you.

A Good Act.

"As a cure for all summer complaints I highly recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, having often used it with the best results. I have often been thanked for recommending it." William Haw, Ancaster, Ont. 2w29d

CHICAGO'S BUCKET SHOPS.

The Act Restoring Them Stopped Unanswered Telegrams.

CHICAGO, July 28.—The [illegible] making bucket shops illegal [illegible] pounded in Judge Horton's court this morning by Sidney Smith, yesterday, [illegible] ed substantially valueless, through the case with which a bucket shop may secure an exparte injunction restraining the Chicago Board of Trade from [illegible] quotations. The Legislature [illegible] the case of appeal, whose case presented the objectionable injunction from the Circuit Court in the case of several shops against the Board of Trade and the Western Union Telegraph Company, restraining them from sending off the complainants' quotations.

Judge Smith went before Judge Horton yesterday to have the injunction dissolved. He said it was useless for the Legislature to pass acts and the Board of Trade to take steps to clean out the objectionable dealers in grain, if the courts are practically to tie their hands by injunctions. Further than this, the issues involved in this case were identically the same as those recently decided in a case by Judge Bagley. The rule of the Circuit Court was that when one judge settled the law other judges in the same court would refuse to change it, else this case must be argued before eleven judges. What was the use of multiplying the number of judges if they were all to try the same questions? The Board of Trade was tied up by an injunction in a case similar in all respects to a case it had won, and it was not allowed to untie itself. Judge Horton finally agreed to let the matter lie over until Monday, when Judge Tuley will probably take it up.

A "Ticker" Glimpsed in Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 28.—The "ticker" has been taken out of Doran & Wright's office by the Great North Western Telegraph Company by order of the Chicago Board of Trade, and that firm consequently has some difficulty in obtaining Chicago quotations. This action is in pursuance of the determination of the Chicago Board of Trade to crush out, if possible, bucket shops. This is brought about by the refusal of the Chicago Board of Trade to furnish quotations to the Western Union Telegraph Company, should the latter continue to transmit them to bucket shops.

Legal advice has been obtained to the effect that bucket shops here are illegal and can be prosecuted. The advisability of taking action is under consideration.

THE ST. THOMAS INQUEST.

A Witness Sworn That Donnelly was Drunk During the Afternoon.

ST. THOMAS, July 28.—At the adjourned inquest on the railway collision this evening, John C. Long, an eye-witness of the collision, testified that the train was running fast until the engine was reversed.

Geo. D. McMullen, who rode in the cab of Donnelly's engine from Port Stanley, was heard but his evidence, contrary to general expectations, did not throw much light on the cause of the accident. Donnelly never spoke to McMullen from the time the air brakes refused to work. McMullen jumped five lengths from the crossing. Donnelly was still working at the engine. His evidence was not very satisfactory to the jury.

J. W. Hyman of London testified that he was in Donnelly's company at Port Stanley on the 11th and he was sober.

Charles Ashe, Clerk of the St. Thomas Division Court, swore that when he saw Donnelly at the Port at 3.30 on the 13th he was under the influence of liquor.

The inquest was adjourned.

INSURANCE MEN ALARMED.

The Great Increase in the Number of Fires a Matter of Serious Concern.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The number of large fires throughout the country within the past two months has become a matter of serious concern with insurance companies.

The best posted men in the business say that in that time the amount of losses has been from two to three times what it was for the whole of last year. The annual losses average about $1,000,000,000. The companies are all exercised over the question of how to meet what they call these "terrific losses," coming as they do in an unprecedented sequence.

There is one striking phase of this matter which has come to the fore prominently in a few days, and that is the relation of Herr Most and his sympathizers to many of these fires. A special meeting of the New York Board of Underwriters was held yesterday to discuss this subject and adopt ways and means to meet the emergency.

The Anti-Coercion Association.

CHICAGO, July 28.—At a large meeting of prominent local Irishmen last night a new association was formed to be known as the "Anti-Coercion Association." A plan of organization and government was adopted. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the coercion law and calling for its repeal.

"Where does it have the largest sale?"

Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee Druggist. eodw28

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 2w29d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Fine Musical Organization.

From the Boston Journal:—"The music of the Victoria Rifles Band has won a great deal of admiration. Coming here without any pretentious heralding, this organization has secured marked favor among the lovers of good music."

Baseball.

An interesting game of baseball will be played on the Association grounds, Ashburnham, on Saturday, July 30th, 1887, between Campbellford and Peterborough. Game will be called at 2 o'clock, p.m., sharp. All lovers of the game should not fail to attend as a close and exciting match may be expected.

Anxious to Come.

Yesterday's Ottawa Free Press has the following:—"A regular cantonment will be held in the Oddfellows' hall to-morrow. The members will assemble in full uniform, and several novices will be initiated. These are already members of the Encampment and are anxious to join in the Peterborough parade."

Those who visit Turnbull's this month are treated to rare Bargains in Remnants of all descriptions.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

Petty Pilfering.

On Wednesday night some one "lifted" a pick belonging to Mr. A. McCarthy and made off with it. It was left beside the horse power at the Romaine Brick Works, the men forgetting to put it away. Last week a shovel and some carpenters' tools were taken out of a house Mr. McCarthy was moving. Picks and shovels must be in great demand. The guilty parties are advised to stop at once, for if found out they will have to pay the penalty of the law.

Weekly Practice.

The weekly practice of the Rifle Association was held yesterday. The third monthly match will be held next Thursday. Following are the scores of yesterday's firing at 200, 400, 500, and 600 yards range:—

Firemen's Grimsby Excursion.

Owing to a misunderstanding with the C. P. Railway, the committee is compelled to announce a change in the tickets for the excursion on August 4th. The offer of return tickets to Toronto at $1.50 has been cancelled, and only through tickets to Grimsby camp will be issued, at $1.75 for the round trip. This is an exceedingly low rate, and both the route and terminus of the excursion cannot be surpassed for a day's outing. Remember the date, Thursday, August 4th, and the fare, $1.75 for return tickets to Grimsby Park, called the "Chatauqua of Canada."

A Puff For Peterborough.

In the last issue of the Dominion Oddfellow is the following:—"Peterborough is no mean city. It has long been noted for its fine buildings, beautiful streets and its generally attractive surroundings. It boasts perhaps more solid wealth that any other town in Ontario of its population, and its local newspapers are second to none anywhere in the Dominion. We are sure that from what is known of the place and people, all who attend the meetings of the Grand Lodge will receive a right hearty welcome from the brethren and people of Peterborough, and carry away with them when they depart pleasing recollections of their visit."

Willow and Wicket.

A team of Peterborough cricketers went to Lindsay to-day to play the club of that place.

The second eleven went to Omemee this morning to play the High School Cricket Club there.

A cricket match between the local hotel keepers and bankers will probably be played on the Ashburnham grounds next Thursday.

The annual match between Ontario and Quebec takes place to-day and to-morrow on the grounds of the Toronto club, corner of St. George and Bloor streets. Wickets are to be pitched at 10:30 a.m. sharp each day. Both sides are strongly represented and the the game will be well contested from start to finish. Among the names of the Quebec team in the Mail are Max Hamilton and H. Rutherford of Peterborough.

The Coming Change.

The Victoria, B. C., Times says:—"A few years since a 'bit' was the smallest coin in circulation in this city, while nothing less than 25 cents was to be met with in the country. A little over two years ago the Times finding it difficult to procure change for the newsboys bought up all the 5 cent pieces to be found in the city, amounting in all to some $35. These were procured at the banks and elsewhere, where they had been done up carefully in $2.50 packages. They were given to the news boys and at once went into circulation. For a time the prejudice against them was strong, but as their convenience for making change became known they soon crept into popularity and are now quite plentiful. To-day at the post-office a gentleman called for three postal cards and in payment therefor presented three one cent copper pieces. At once wonder took possession of the obliging and affa-clerks, some of whom had never before seen a cent piece. As a coin of the realm they are equally as good for their face value as is our paper money or a $20 gold piece. The railway, it was asserted, would bring about a great change in the affairs of the Province. The introduction of copper coin as a circulating medium will certainly be a great change. All the same it is bound to come.

Narrow Escape.

The Lakefield Chronicle records an occurrence which might have resulted fatally to all parties concerned, which happened at Hurricane Point on Friday last. It appears that three campers, Messrs. John Carlisle, H. Taylor, and Geo. Little, all of Peterborough, were at the Point bathing when Little suddenly stepped into deep water. He was unable to swim, and his cry for help brought Taylor to the rescue. When Taylor reached Little the latter clinched him by the neck, and both of them went down under water. Taylor succeeded, when under water, in freeing himself from Little's grasp, but no sooner had they come to the top of the water when drowning Little again seized him, and again they went under the water. By this time Carlisle had reached the scene with the canoe in which he had been sitting near the shore, but as he had no paddle and had to paddle with his hands to the drowning men his progress was slow. Little still retained his death-like grasp of Taylor, who buoyed himself up by the canoe until they got to shore, dragging Little after him. Both the men are said to have been in a very exhausted condition when they reached the shore, and had it not been for the timely arrival of the canoe both would have been drowned.

Interesting Statistics.

Scott Act Convictions and Fines: Fees and Emoluments of County Officers.

From the fourth annual report of the Ontario Inspector of Legal Offices for 1886, some interesting statistics may be gleaned. The number of convictions for breach of the Canada Temperance (Scott) Act in the town and county of Peterborough were 81, and the total amount of fines imposed was $4350. The number of convictions and the amount imposed in fines are exceeded by only one of the 24 counties in Ontario in which the Act is in force, and that is Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, where the convictions number 103 and the fines amount to $5,600. Of the total sum of fines, $2,075 in Peterborough went to the municipality, and in Dundas, etc., only $1,248. Regarding these statistics as evidence of the strict enforcement of the Scott Act, it would appear that the Act is more rigidly enforced in Peterborough than any other county in the province. From the same report it is learned that the business transacted by the County Clerk represented among other things the filing of 264 chattel mortgages and bills of sale, not including 64 mortgages renewed. The number of discharges filed were only 5, and the number of assignments filed was 7. The amount of fees received by the clerk as clerk, local registrar and surrogate registrar, was $1383.06. In the office of the Sheriff the total amount of fees earned was $2030.95, and the total amount of disbursements $324.50, and the net income $1706.37 The fees accruing to the Surrogate Judge and Local Master in Chancery were $1015.45. The fees earned by the County Attorney and Clerk of the Peace, (since appointed) amount to $695.20.

Vanished in the Night.

Bark, the circus-man, who has held forth on the market square for the last two days, "folded his tent, like the Arab, and silently stole away" during the early morning to locate in some other town. Fair audiences attended the performances here, all agreeing that the show was worth the price of admission, 10c. The exhibition, however, was of the customary stale nature of small travelling circuses.

The Demonstration Committee Meeting.

All the sub-committees of the I. O. O. F. Demonstration Committee will meet in Otonabee Lodge Room this, Friday, evening at 8 p.m. All members of the Order who are willing to assist in the successful carrying out of the Demonstration are cordially invited to be present. Let there be a large attendance. The time is drawing near, and work must be done if they desire success.

Nearly Killed.

Thomas Greer, a painter living at Corbyville, a station on the Grand Junction Railway near Belleville, met with an accident Tuesday evening which nearly cost him his life. His recovery is yet doubtful. He was sitting on the track, on the end of a tie, near his own residence, when the regular train from Peterborough came along. Greer, though the engineer sounded his whistle, did not notice the approach of the train and remained sitting. The first steps of the engine struck him on the head and shoulders and he was knocked violently into the ditch, where he was picked up unconscious and carried home. His head was badly cut, and it was found he had sustained a dangerous injury to his right lung. His recovery is doubtful.

Orchard Thieves.

Last night about nine o'clock a prominent clergyman of the town might have been seen lugging a small boy down Simcoe street to the police station. The reverend gentleman had a strong grip on the youth's collar, and never relaxed until he landed his blubbering, pleading charge in the station house, where after a warning to hereafter abstain from coveting the luscious apples in the clergyman's garden and allowing his passion to lead him into trouble, (and into the clutches of the angry proprietor lying in wait to catch the despoiler of his apple trees), as it did on this occasion, he was dismissed.

The police magistrate will to-morrow adjudicate on a charge of orchard thieving preferred against three boys by a resident of Water street.

Demonstration Dots.

In several districts, comprising Port Hope and Cobourg, Port Perry and Lindsay, and Belleville, Madoc and Campbellford, negotiations are being forwarded with the railway authorities for special excursion trains to Peterborough August 10th, for the Oddfellows' Demonstration. Port Hope, Cobourg and Campbellford civic holidays are on that day.

The bills and tickets for the promenade concerts to be given in the P.A.A.A. grounds on the evenings of August 9th and 10th by the Victoria Rifles' Band are out. Tickets for the concerts should be purchased at once.

There is a probability of the 7th Fusiliers' Band of London accompanying the London Canton to Peterborough on the 10th. It will be definitely known next week.

Montreal Star:—"Mount Royal Canton No. 1, I.O.O.F., have completed arrangements for attending the grand demonstration of Odd Fellows in Peterborough, Ont., on the 8th August. The band of the Victoria Rifles will accompany them on the occasion and give two promenade concerts in that town."

Personal.

Mr. L. A. Morrison and family, of Toronto, are in town on their return trip from a two weeks' outing on Stony Lake.

The Dominion Oddfellow says:—"Brother Henderson, P.G., D.D.G.M., of Peterborough, was in Toronto on Tuesday last, and is full of the Grand Lodge meeting in his pretty Eastern city. Our worthy brother is Chairman of the Reception Committee, and right well is he discharging the somewhat arduous duties of that responsible position. Everything that energy, tact and executive ability can accomplish will be done to make the Grand Lodge officers, representatives and visiting brethren comfortable and happy during their stay in Peterborough."

The Tramp Epidemic.

The south-western part of the town has been troubled with the uninvited attentions of the ubiquitous tramp. They make it a practice to invade back premises with the object of laying hands on any portable article they may think it possible to convert into whisky. They watch their opportunity when its occupants are absent, be it ever so short a time, and then pay them domiciliary visits. Householders should be on their guard against these gentlemen and keep all stealable articles out of their reach—except soap—the average tramp has no use for soap and he seldom uses water either as a beverage or bath.

A Moving Epistle.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—During the last few days several of the citizens of Peterborough visited the Romaine Brick Works to witness the moving of the ponderous engine from the south end to the north, and to see it placed by the tall "chimney." The contract was in the hands of Mr. Allan McCarthy, who in spite of the great weight of the engine, 30 or 35 tons, conducted the moving of it with little difficulty and in a manner to suit all parties interested. This is not to be wondered at, for Mr. McCarthy has all the necessary apparatus for moving wooden buildings as well as machinery etc. He has followed the business with great success till he became thoroughly expert, and is able and willing at all times to give advice and do moving for any persons requiring his services. I understand that he has done a good deal of moving this spring for the Grand Trunk, and that he has given satisfaction in every case. For any one wanting buildings moved, Mr. McCarthy is the man to apply to.

Yours truly,
SPECTATOR.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 1,250,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

THE CONTEST IN RENFREW

THE BATTLE IS PARTICULARLY HOT AND GETTING HOTTER.

Mr. McIntyre Will not Take a Personal Part in the Campaign—Notices in The Gazette—The Gilchrist Scholarship to be Withdrawn.

OTTAWA, July 29.—Hugh Ryan, contractor for the Red River Valley Railway, arrived here from Winnipeg this morning, and went west on the midday train. He reports that everything with regard to the road is progressing satisfactorily, and says it will be surely completed early in October.

The contest in South Renfrew waxes warmer and both sides claim to be a little ahead at present and will continue so until Tuesday night, when one side will discover it is a little behind. The county is fairly alive with speakers on both sides. Meetings are being held in two or three places every night and dead loads of campaign literature are being thrown broadcast over the unfortunate electors. The Renfrew Mercury, Liberal, has come out as a daily during the campaign, and among the campaign circulars are lithographed fac similes of the telegraphed message of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie to Mr. McIntyre, congratulating him on his acceptance of the Liberal nomination.

Mr. McIntyre will take no personal part in the contest, as he is now in British Columbia, not having started on the return journey as reported. The principal meeting of the campaign takes place this evening at Arnprior, when all the principal speakers will be present. Renfrew has never had a more exciting contest, both sides going into it as a matter of life and death.

Lieut.-Col. Holmes of Victoria, B.C., has returned to this city for the purpose of completing business with the Militia Department relating to the organization of "C" Battery of Artillery on the Pacific coast.

To-morrow's official Gazette will contain the following appointments:

James E. Robertson, barrister, of Osgoode Hall, to be Deputy Judge of the County of York until Sept. 10.

Patrick O'Toole of Louisburg, N.S., and Robert Kirkpatrick of St. Stephen, N.B., to be sub-collectors of customs.

Lieut.-Col. Herchmer and Wm. Hardmer to be Commissioners of Police under the Preservation of the Peace Act.

A circular despatch from the Colonial Office will be published to-morrow containing the prospectus of the proposed Centennial Exhibition at Melbourne, Australia, next year. Also a circular despatch containing copies of Imperial Order-in-Council under the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, relating to the Ottoman Empire, China, Japan and Corea, Siam, Zanzibar and West Africa.

On the recommendation of the Minister of Justice an Order-in-Council has been passed amending the regulations made under the Naturalization Act of 1881. The amendment refers to the Northwest Territories only and provides for oaths being taken before and certificates of naturalization issued by the Judges of the Supreme Court and a record of naturalization kept by the Clerks of the Supreme Court.

A despatch will be published to-morrow giving notice that the Gilchrist Trust has decided to withdraw the Gilchrist Scholarship, heretofore open to competition, from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

The Valliant Company of Toronto gives notice of application for incorporation by letters patent, capital $100,000. This company gave notice about a month ago. This second notice is given because it is decided to reduce the capital from $400,000 to $100,000.

An order-in-council has been passed amending one of March 3 last with reference to the close season for lobster fishing, by extending for the present year only the fishing season in the Counties of Guysboro, Richmond, Cape Breton and Victoria, Province of Nova Scotia, until Aug. 15.

Notice is given of changes in the lights at Penetanguishene and St. Mary's Canal.

Letters patent of incorporation have been granted to the High River Horse Company and the Sarnia Tug and Transit Company.

The annual general meeting of the Winnipeg and Hudson Bay Railway and Steamship Company will be held at Winnipeg on Sept. 1 next.

The Quebec Legislature will probably meet in November or early in December.

OTTAWA, July 29.—Quite a sensation has been caused by the arrest of Rev. Father Pardis, O.M.I., parish priest at Montserf, near the River Desert, Ottawa County, on a charge made by Gilmour & Co., of removing the firm's marks from their logs, remarking the logs and selling them, and on another charge, that of forgery, made by J. R. Tremblay of Montserf. The first charge was tried before Recorder Champagne in Hull this morning and postponed until Monday and the second will be up for hearing before Recorder Prentiss of Aylmer.

The facts of the cases are rather intricate. With regard to the charge of altering the mark of Gilmour & Co., and selling their timber, it seems to arise from a dispute between the Gilligans and Father Paradis as to the extent of the Gilmour limits. Father Paradis last year took up for colonization purposes several lots in the sixth range of Egan Township, Ottawa County, he cut timber on them in the way of colonization work and the clearing of the land. Messrs. Gilmour & Company, believing the lots were on their forest reserve, appealed to the Quebec Government for a cancellation of the lots taken by the priest. Notice is said to have been given by the Government that the grant would be cancelled in sixty days, but before the expiration of the sixty days there was a change of government in Quebec, and the new Mercier Government cancelled the cancellation. Father Paradis continued his operations and took action against Gilmour & Co. by injunction to restrain them from cutting and marking logs on the disputed lots; and during the month of April last he is alleged to have removed the trade mark from some 1200 logs belonging to Gilmour & Co. and cut by them on their limits, not on the disputed lots, and to have replaced their mark with another.

Father Paradis states that the logs he sold were all cut on the lots disputed by Gilmour & Co., and which he claims were indisputably the property of the colonization company.

With regard to the charge of forgery, it is based upon Father Paradis having endorsed the name of Major White of Aumonde on a cheque for some payment in connection with the disputed lots. Father Paradis does not deny the endorsation, and says he had full authority to use Mr. White's name.

AN ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.

A Man 83 Years Old Cuts His Throat with a Razor.

LONDON, July 27.—A sad affair occurred on the Cedar Swamp Line recently, when Mr. John Bruin, sr., attempted to take his own life by cutting his throat. The old man, who is 83 years old and lives with his son, went back to the bush in the afternoon, ostensibly on his way to Granton, and while there cut a deep gash in his throat with a razor which he had taken with him. The cut not being deep enough to wound the blood vessels he was unsuccessful in his object, and after a time returned to the house. The old man has been for some time past somewhat deranged in mind, and, tiring of life, took this method of getting rid of his supposed troubles. At last accounts there were good prospects of his recovery.

SMASH-UP NEAR PITTSBURG.

One Man Killed and Several Wounded in a Collision on the B. & O.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—Express train No. 4, west bound, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, due in this city at 6.50 this morning, dashed into the first section of the west bound freight train No. 51, standing on the main track at West Newton, 32 miles east of this city. Fireman Orbin of the freight train was instantly killed and Engineer Gilland fatally hurt. A number of the passengers were more or less injured by the concussion; none, however, were dangerously hurt.

MR. WHITE ON RECIPROCITY.

He Expounds the Government's Policy on the Question.

Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, is reported by an interviewer as having thus expressed himself at Winnipeg the other day, on the subject of reciprocity:

"Well, all I care to say about that is that it seems to me that the people are confounding two entirely different things. Reciprocity is the adoption of a treaty for the interchange of such products as we can fairly exchange, and is not only wise, but a thing that the Government is endeavoring to accomplish, and an offer is still standing in our statutes. Commercial union, as advocated by Mr. Wiman and others is entirely different from that. It means the surrender by Canada of all control over its fiscal policy, and the acceptance of the American tariff, with such changes from time to time as the requirements of the American people may render necessary. I think no self-respecting nation or community could consent to give up to a foreign power the control over its fiscal relations. I do not think the Imperial Government could consent for a moment to our adopting differential duties against England. It is said by those people that our present tariff is an ordinary declaration of our right to tax English goods as we please. But it is a declaration of our right to tax English goods in the same way in which we tax foreign goods. There is nothing in our present tariff that provides that we can tax English goods at higher rates than foreign goods. There is no more attack upon English interests, as far as we are concerned, in a tariff of 30 per cent., than there is in a tariff of 15 per cent. It is uniformity of the tariff upon imports from all countries that is the feature, and it is that they propose to make us abandon. It is, I think, without charging everybody who is in favor of commercial union with being an annexationist, tending in favor of annexation. The moment we transfer our commercial union legislation to Washington the question will arise; Why should we have all this trouble about dividing our receipts, why not unite in the regular way and take our position as one of the States of the Union? So that I do not think the people of Canada can accept commercial union unless they are prepared to go very much further. In saying that I may add that I am very much in favor of fair reciprocity, of a treaty for the free interchange of such productions of both countries as we can reasonably expect without interfering with the Mother Country."

In Danger of Inundation.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 29.—Grave fears are entertained regarding the possible inundation of the Capital. The rains for the last few days have been heavy and last evening many streets were submerged. Lake Tetcoco is some five centimetres above the level of the plaza, and with but slightly more rain the lower parts of the city will be inundated. The lake is filling up with dirt and debris from the city. The drainage is supposed to be flowing into it too, and it is most important that drainage plans be carried out with the utmost expedition. Even a partial inundation would damage the city to the extent of millions of dollars.

Mr. Wainwright Denies It.

MONTREAL, July 29.—Mr. Wainwright, Assistant Manager of the G.T.R., denies the statement that the company are seeking privileges from the British Columbian Government with a view to open up a fresh line through the Yellowstone Park, which should finally connect with the proposed new line in Manitoba.

Parent, the Embezzler.

MONTREAL, July 29.—Parent, the defaulting cashier of the Hochelaga Bank, arrived here to-night in charge of an American detective. He was met by High Constable Bissonnette at the depot and taken to jail. J. N. Greenshields returned by the same tram. Parent will be tried at the September sitting of the Court of Queen's Bench.

Merely a Rumor.

SOFIA, July 29.—No official knowledge is possessed here confirmatory of the rumor that Prince Ferdinand has decided to come here and assume possession of the Bulgarian throne, to which the Sobranje elected him, and not wait for the powers to confirm his election. The rumor is at least premature.

Business Will Go Right Along.

NEW YORK, July 29.—President John Taylor, of the Mormon Church, having died a few days ago, Wilford Woodruff, as President of the Twelve Apostles, has become President of the Church, the organization thus continuing without interruption.

A THANKLESS, CRUEL LIFE.

THUS MR. DILLON DESCRIBES THE EXISTENCE OF AGITATORS.

The Parnellites Question Every Clause of the Land Bill—The Proclaiming of Dublin—Lord Hartington Contradicts Sir G. Trevelyan.

LONDON, July 29.—In the House of Commons this evening, on a motion that clause 4 as amended stand as a part of the Land Bill, Mr. Dillon moved its rejection. He said if the rest of the bill was altered so as to do substantial justice to the tenant the objections to the clause would to some extent be met, but the Parnellites had no assurance that this would be done. Much had been said about the bill taking away the stock-in-trade of the agitation. He would rejoice to see that happen, for a more thankless, cruel, wearing life than that of the agitators has not yet been discovered.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt considered it a pity that when a message of peace was sent to Ireland the Government chose to infuse into it this drop of bitterness. The clause in question was designed to make ejectment easy. It was a Remish on the bill and the Government would be wise even now to remove it.

Mr. Balfour thought the Government had done everything in equity to prevent evictions being harsh or cruel. If the clause assisted in checking the nefarious system of intimidation which now prevailed in Ireland, it would be a blessing and a source of contentment and prosperity to Ireland.

The motion to retain the clause was carried by a vote of 143 to 111.

Trevelyan Flatly Contradicted.

LONDON, July 29.—The Marquis of Hartington publishes a letter to refute the assertion made by Sir G. O. Trevelyan that Mr. Gladstone had offered to confer with the Liberal Unionists on the question of Home Rule for Ireland, with a view to arriving by mutual concessions at a reunion of the Liberal party. "Mr. Gladstone never made such an offer to me," says Lord Hartington, adding: "Mr. Gladstone has not said a word to indicate a tendency to accept the conditions which I have stated are indispensable to a reunion of party. Mr. Trevelyan, therefore, has no right to attack the Liberal-Unionists for refraining from entering into negotiations tending to compromise their position."

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

A Case of Somnambulism in Hamilton—Liquor Dealers Fined.

HAMILTON, July 29.—William Fletcher is in custody on a charge of assaulting John Thompkins. During Jubilee week Thompkins, sr., who lived on King-street west, was choked to death while at dinner, through a bone sticking in his throat. His son, John Thompkins, also died suddenly next day. Now it has come to the knowledge of the police that Thompkins, the younger, was kicked in the head about a month before his death, and Fletcher, it is alleged, did the kicking. The case was called at the Police Court this morning, and further adjourned until Monday next in order that the testimony of Dr. Miller and other witnesses may be procured.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning as Michael Donovan, hackman, was driving towards his home he saw a human form lying on the crossing at the corner of John and Hunter streets. He called out loudly to the individual to get up, and in so doing alarmed the inmates of McDonald's and Gordon's hotels and some private houses thereabouts. The figure raised itself on one arm, and Donovan perceived that it was a woman, clothed only in nocturnal habiliments. She seemed greatly shocked at the condition in which she was found, and was led to her house on the south side of Hunter-street, not far from John. It seems that the female is a somnambulist, and until aroused by the hackman was sound asleep. She had left the house without making the least noise, walked to the crossing and sank down on it as if she was in her downy couch.

The visit of Whisky Informer George D. King cost the liquor dealers here $320. The fines of the first batch aggregated $320 and the magistrate gave judgment this morning in the other cases, imposing fines amounting to $270. He fined Luke Doyle, Emma Armstrong (two charges), Daniels & Wilson, Hood Bros., Peter Meegan, Alex. Dunn, George Heilig and John Hunter $30 each.

The Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The business failures throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 162, for Canada 22, a total of 184, as compared with a total of 172 last week, 179 the week previous to the last week, 192 for the corresponding week of last year.

Music at Beaumaris.

BEAUMARIS, Muskoka, July 28.—A grand concert was given here Wednesday night by several American and Canadian ladies and gentlemen. Among those who took part were Dr. and Mrs. Bellew, Mrs. Gordon, Mr. Hanna, Pennsylvania; Misses Wilkes, Miss Blevin, Miss Blanche Lockhardt and Mrs. Logan, Toronto, and the American Camp Glee Club. The success of this concert was due to Miss Andrews of Belleville and Ald. Ritchie of Toronto.

THE ST. THOMAS DISASTER.

Insurance Companies Claim that the Grand Trunk Railway is Responsible.

TORONTO, July 29.

The recent railway catastrophe at St. Thomas has brought on quite an agitation, to say the least, between the various insurance companies and the Grand Trunk Railway. It will be remembered that when the accident occurred the burning of the cars caused the explosion of two oil tanks and the flames spread to adjoining buildings, eight or ten of which were destroyed, including stores, cement works and a lumber factory.

The companies interested in these buildings number eight and they are: The Western, British American, Commercial Union, Northern Guardian, London Assurance, Phœnix, Waterloo and Mutual. While they have to pay the losses they claim that the Grand Trunk Railway should recoup them, and that the company is undoubtedly liable because of negligence on the part of its servants. They have asked for "requirements," if the word may be allowed, and have been told that if they have an appraisement made the matter will be considered and the great corporation will be ready to talk business.

Accordingly representatives of the companies met yesterday in the Commercial Union office and appointed Mr. E. Lye of Cobourg as their appraiser. Mr. Lye by the way, who was the first accountant hired to figure out things in the Toronto Waterworks investigation, will leave for St. Thomas today, with full instructions for procedure from the companies' solicitors, Messrs. Moss, Walkembridge & Hoyles. The Grand Trunk's interests will be looked after by the McCarthy Osler firm. When Mr. Lye makes his appraisement the companies will put in their claim on the G.T.R.

There may and there may not be a big law suit, but it is not likely that the matter will be amicably settled. The G.T.R. people's defence is based on the claim that the lands on which the burned buildings were situated belonged to them, and that when it was leased there were clauses adopted to the effect that they were not to be held responsible for loss by fire.

The doctors last night reported that Mr. Wm. Booth, whose case is exciting much interest, was somewhat better. There is a slight improvement in his condition. He several times opened his eyes and looked around in a semi-conscious state. He also made incoherent mutterings and showed more signs of vitality. The doctors do not consider the case thoroughly hopeless. With one slight intermission, and the above-named glimmerings of a return to consciousness, Mr. Booth had up to 10.30 last night been unconscious for 168 hours.

Mr. Charles McCaul, son of the late Rev. Dr. McCaul, who was seriously injured while shooting in the Northwest a couple of weeks ago, is still under treatment at Fort McLeod. It was thought at first that he would not survive, but since a recent operation he has much improved and there are great hopes of his ultimate restoration to health and strength.

A conference between the striking moulders and their employes was held Thursday night and the strike was brought to an end. The masters agreed to give the men an advance of 15 cents per day, the agreement to hold good for one year and to expire on June 1, 1888. It was also decided to allow an advance of 10 per cent. on the price of piecework.

The mystery in connection with the disappearance of Dan Kitchen has been made clear. He is now in England and will return in a few days.

THE ST. THOMAS DISASTER.

Another Witness of Opinion That Donnelly Was Drunk.

ST. THOMAS, July 29.—The evidence at the inquest to-night was dull and unimportant.

George J. Nunn testified that he believed from the actions of Engineer Donnelly at Port Stanley on July 15 that he was drunk.

The evidence of Michigan Central Railway Engineer Isaac Dryell was to the effect that if Donnelly tested his air brakes a quarter of a mile from the semaphore, as sworn to by the witness who rode in the cab, he should have whistled for brakes sooner than he did.

G. W. Babbitt testified with respect to the Michigan Central Railway plan of signaling, etc., at the diamond.

The evidence of Station Agent Stewart was to the effect that the air brakes were working satisfactorily when Donnelly's train went to Port Stanley on the morning of July 15.

The inquest was adjourned until Monday night.

TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

Nettle, the Welland Farmer Who Killed Stevens, Taken in Charge by the Crown.

WELLAND, July 29.—At the instance of the Crown, Peter Nettle, liberated by a coroner's jury at Fort Erie yesterday, will be brought before Police Magistrate Hill at Niagara Falls and given a hearing on a charge of murder. If sufficient evidence be obtained, Crown Attorney Raymond will ask that Nettle be committed for trial at the October Assizes.

Battenberg's "Pull."

LONDON, July 29.—Prince Louis of Battenberg has been appointed to the command of the British Ironclad Dreadnaught over the heads of scores of seniors. It is expected that the Radicals will criticize the appointment in Parliament.

Death of an Italian Statesman.

ROME, July 29.—Signor Augustin de Pretis, President of the Italian Council, and Minister of the Interior, died at Stradella, Italy, to-night.

AMBITION AND PRIDE AND HUMILITY.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

When girded by honesty and truth, ambition is a worthy feeling. It helps men to look upwards and onwards, and it sets a good example for others to follow. A principle of this kind is a true Christian principle because it leads its possessor to acts of goodness, generosity and mercy. There are various kinds of ambition in this world, most of them of an objectionable character. Some men live to make money and keep it, and they think that the mere possession of money confers upon them the right of superiority over others, confers upon them social standing and respectability, and enables them to look down upon and ignore their former acquaintances and friends. And enables them to forget their former lowly condition, and their former low and vulgar habits and inclinations. And enables them to affect refinement and delicacy, as if they had been used to it all their previous lives. To such people success is a misfortune, and makes them appear odious in the eyes of others. Of all kinds of pride, low, vulgar, ostentatious pride is the worst. It is a pride resting solely upon the possession of mere wealth, and has not one redeeming quality to commend it. And it is most offensive because it is selfish and out of place. And its possessor is almost always insolent and overbearing. And he or she has no respect for the feelings of others. They set themselves up solely upon the idea of their money, and they act as if everyone else should fall down and worship them. That is one kind of ambition, and is is the worst. The pride of wealth renders a person high handed, uncharitable and intolerent. It shuts the door against the best and the most worthy provided they have not money. Its vulgar possessor looks with contempt upon the good, the refined, and the wise. He imagines that the jingling of his money bags will assuredly overwhelm the public with feelings of veneration and respect. It will assuredly make them fall down and worship him. And his protentious wife sits in state looking for homage and smiles from those by whom she once thought it an honor to be spoken to. She talks grandiloquently of herself now, and takes care to let people know she has servents, for she is always telling how much trouble she has with her servents, and how very difficult it is to get good servents. She does not now know what a cow or a pig means, although she once took care of and fed them. This is one kind of ambition, and it is the worst kind. Another kind of ambition consists in doing good to others, in alleviating sorrow, in helping the needy and the sick, in carrying comfort where before there was fear and trouble. The possessor of this latter ambition does not allow selfish wants or feelings to come in between him and those requiring help. And when it is a choice between gratifying his own inclinations and helping the poor and needy, he gives to those in want And he is not ostentatious in his giving. He believes in the doctrine not to let the left hand know what the right hand doeth. And when he gives he gives quietly and pleasantly and with a free heart. His is a just and noble ambition, an ambition to do good and to help the needy, an ambition to alleviate trouble, an ambition to do as you would like to be done by, an ambition to show kindness and to bring peace and comfort and happiness to a weary soul. To bring the light of joy and hope to the friendless and the forsaken. To raise up the sick and the fallen, and to stay the cries of hunger and despair. It is the ambition of humility and kindness and the overflowings and work of the humble and true Christian.. Then there is another kind of ambition. The young man goes out into the world in early life to seek his fortune, and so he leaves his old home to go into other lands. He has been carefully taught, and he values the possession of a true heart and of honesty and justice. And he goes forth armed with all that kind and good parents could bestow upon him. His desire is not to benefit himself alone but to help others. He has been early taught self denial, and he carries this principle all through his life. He knows what charity means, and he is ready to take from his own store when he can help a fellow creature. And he not only has the satisfaction of giving, but he prospers in proportion as he gives. His ambition is successful and he is a true and honored man. And when he returns to his old home, he is able to say the Lord has been good to him. And his old father and mother justly feel proud of such a son. Again. A boy, of poor but worthy parents, is sent to school in a distant town. He knows what this effort will cost them, and he resolves that it shall not be misplaced. And his ambition is to show his appreciation of their kindness and to succeed. All his time is given to his studies, and on Saturdays, when there is no school, he goes home and shares in the work there, so as to relieve his parents as much as he can of their hardships and toil. His ambition is to attain a profession and make an honorable name for himself, hoping in the space of time to give his father and mother a comfortable and peaceful home. Years pass away and this poor humble boy is now a man, successful in life, and honored and respected by all who know him. His parents are getting old and infirm and now in his time comes to show them his gratitude. He brings them to his comfortable home and tells them to pass the remainder of their days in ease and comfort. He works hard, as he always did, feeling it a double pleasure to see his parents happy. And their days are days of pleasantness and their paths are peace. Verily truth and justice bring their reward. Ambition is a noble thing. When properly directed it brings confidence and respect. When accompanied by insolent pride it is hateful and dishonorable. But when accompanied by humility and kindness it brings happiness to its possessor and comfort and joy into many a household. And the end of that man is an example and an encouragement to others to go and do likewise. And when his life is closing he can look back over long years of well-doing and say that he is ready. He has nothing to fear. And the tears and gratitude of the poor will follow his remains to an honored grave. There is an ambition to do right and an ambition to do wrong. The latter may succeed for a time, but sooner or later he comes to grief and receives his reward in the loss of his own self respect and the respect of others as well. It it impossible to think well of a bad man. To think well of a man who, to accomplish his purpose robs his neighbour and damns his own soul. A man once said that he would get rich honestly if he could, but if he could not d it honestly then he would do it dishonestly. And well he kept his word. And, although to-day he is rich, yet he is despised by the world and racked by the tortures of his guilty conscience. And drink is his only resource against the presence of the devil and his angels, who are ever by his side. What is the wealth of such a man compared to the tortures of mind and body which he endures. Compared to the hatred and contempt of his fellow men. Compare his position to that of the just man. The man who loves truth for its own sake, and who takes pleasure in doing good. Such a man, be he ever so poor, is beloved and respected, and every man is his friend. The ambition of such a man is worthy of all praise. It is an example to the whole world, and if mankind would but follow it the world would be happier and better than it is. How much human suffering would thus be avoided. How would the poor and lowly be lifted up and be comforted. And vain, vulgar, silly pride, the pride of wealth and station, would be frowned down, and its possessors taught the lesson of humility and kindness. Would be taught to know that money brings with its possession no rights which everyone should not enjoy. Would be taught the valued lesson that justice and truth and right alone should govern the affairs of men, and that where these prevail there is peace and contentment and happiness for evermore.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A Great Gain.

In Good Repute.

James McMurdock, writing from Kinsale, says: "B. B. B. as a remedy for diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys, has an excellent reputation in this locality. I have used it, and speak from experience, as well as observation. It is the only medicine I want, and I advise others afflicted to try it." 2w29d

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

TORONTO, July 30.

Jersey City won its first game from the home team yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 1. Titcomb, whom it has been the fortune of the Torontos to have met for the second time was very effective, only three hits being made off his puzzling south paw delivery. He was also given good support. Baker pitched a good game for the home team, and promises to become a serviceable man in the box. The team's fielding was poor, which could be overlooked if it had not proved costly. Score.

A Regatta at Watkins.

WATKINS, N.Y., July 29.—A professional regatta has been arranged to take place here on Aug. 24 and 25. It is expected that Teemer, Bubear, Hamm, Courtney and others will enter. A purse of $700, divided $400 to first, $200 to second, $100 to third will be offered.

The Ottawa Regatta.

OTTAWA, July 30.—The interest in the regatta here to-morrow week has greatly increased since the victory of the Toronto four at Chautauqua, and the presence of the two champion crews, the Winnipegers and the Torontos, will make the event very interesting. The Ottawas are practising steadily, and expect to give a good account of themselves.

The Ottawa A.A.A.'s New Club House.

OTTAWA, July 29.—The directors of the Ottawa Amateur Athletic Association tonight decided to call for tenders at once for the erection of the proposed club house and gymnasium. The stock subscribed amounts to about $10,000, and it is proposed to raise the further sum needed by mortgage.

The Brighton Beach people became discouraged by the result of their experiment of racing on Saturday, and hence there will be no more half holiday racing.

A cyclone and waterspout destroyed the grand stand of the Latonia race track Tuesday evening. The force of the wind was so great as to twist the rafters like so many screws, and the pool sheds, fences and stables were also badly damaged. Loss $25,000.

They Speak for Themselves.

PICTON, Feb. 17.—This is to certify that I have used Polson's NERVILINE for rheumatism, and have found it a valuable remedy for all internal pain, and would greatly recommend it to the public.—N. T. KINGSLEY.

LEEDS County, Jan. 9.—We are not in the habit of puffing patent medicines, but we cannot withhold our testimony as to the great value of Nerviline as a remedy for pain. We have pleasure in recommending it as a never-failing remedy.—Rev. H. J. ALLEN, Bes). DILLON, and many others.

P. A. Churchill states:—There seems to be no end to the success of Nerviline. I sent you a few testimonials, and can send you plenty more if of use to you.

FATAL FIRE AT CHICAGO.

Several Lives Lost in the Burning of an Archer-avenue Bakery.

CHICAGO, July 30.—At 2.40 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the bakery of Costa Hellen on Archer-avenue. About after 3 o'clock it was discovered that a number of people living in the building were either dead or dying from the effects of the smoke and flames. The firemen and police hurried into the building, and soon began bearing out unconscious bodies, until eleven people had been removed. Maria Trugo, aged two years, was dead.

The four surviving Trugo children were almost suffocated, and their recovery is doubtful. Nelson Trugo attempted to lower his wife and 2-year-old baby out of the second story window. Captain Cowan of truck H attempted to rescue them, but a sudden outburst of smoke enveloped them and the captain, woman and child fell in the flames below. The captain is terribly burned and is thought to be fatally injured. The mother died a few minutes later.

A Horrible Spectacle.

The story of the attempted rescue of Mrs. Trugo and her babe, as described in later accounts, is one of peculiar horror and pathos. The police and firemen had rescued her husband and four eldest children but she was in some manner, readily ascribable to the confusion of the moment, neglected and left with her two year old baby Mary. The poor woman rushed to the window and a fireman saw her still plunging back through the smoke he returned to her chamber. All escape from the rear with such a burden as a woman and a child was impossible. He thought of the bed cord and, tearing it out, bound the woman and her baby with it and pushed them through the window. He paid out the rope until from the heat and smoke he was ready to fall to the floor, when he fastened the upper end to the bedpost and fled.

Far from accomplishing his gallant purpose, he had but too surely compassed the destruction of those he sought to save. His rope was too short and instead of dropping the woman and child to the ground, or within reach of those below, he had suspended them in front of the first floor window from which fire poured. She swung there, ten or twelve feet from the ground, writhing, shrieking and struggling as the fire swept off her garments and cooked and broiled alive the baby in her arms. By a most singular fatality the flames which were destroying her left the rope intact. It became a necessity, if not to save the woman to at least remove the revolting sight. This duty was assumed by Capt. Wm. A. Cowan, of truck No. 8. Seizing a ladder he threw it up to the blazing window and with an ax mounted and stood on its blazing rung. He deliberately entered the flames, and as they encircled him from helmet to boots he struck at the rope. He could not see the rope and struck with an inaccurate aim once, twice. As the clothing fell from him he struck in vain. At the third stroke the blade cut the rope. Simultaneously the burning ladder broke and the three blazing human beings fell to the ground. The baby was already dead, the mother died a few hours later and the captain lies in his home in death agonies.

Two bakers, Esen and Ansbetcher, who are believed to be responsible for the neglect which caused the fire, have been arrested. The police say the pair became drowsy from drink, and instead of watching the stove fell into a stupor from which they only awoke when they and the tenants were at the mercy of the flames.

A WOFUL MEETING.

The Murderer of Preller Has an Interview With His Father.

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Samuel N. Brooks of Hyde, Eng., yesterday visited his condemned son in the city jail. The meeting was very affecting. Maxwell almost collapsed at the sight of his father, and when he recovered sufficiently to carry on a conversation an interview began that did not terminate for two hours. Maxwell frequently shed tears, while his father's bowed head told of the agony in his heart. The execution is set for Aug. 20, and in the interval the father will make every effort to secure a stay.

BOULANGER WANTS BLOOD.

The Soldier Does Not Relish Criticism and Challenges Mr. Ferry.

PARIS, July 29.—Gen. Boulanger's seconds, Count Dillon and Gen. Faverette, have left Clermont Ferrand with a challenge to ex-Premier Ferry to fight a duel.

A Riot at Limerick.

LIMERICK, July 29.—Seven men have been arrested for participating in the riot yesterday of the striking dockmen against the imported Waterford laborers. Four policemen and many civilians were injured during the riot. The Mayor declares he will call troops to the aid of the police if the rioting is renewed.

Ill Temper

is more rapidly improved by relief from physical suffering than from any other way. Step on your friend's corn, and the impulse to strike is strongest. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, by quickly and painlessly removing them insures good nature. Fifty imitations prove its value. Beware of substitutes. "Putnam's," sure, safe, painless. 6w30

A Source of Danger.

The frequent source of danger attending bowel complaints during the summer and fall is the liability to check the diarrhœa too suddenly. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will not do this. Inflammation of the bowels does not follow its use, as is often the case with powerful opiates and astringents. It cures promptly and in a natural manner. 2w29d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

Grand Trunk Grimsby Excursion.

The Grand Trunk Railway will run an all rail excursion to Grimsby Park on August 4th, by regular trains, leaving Peterborough at 8.15 a.m., 10.25 a.m., and 5.15 p.m., at the low fare of $1.75 to Grimsby and return. Tickets good to return the following day by any regular train. For full particulars see bills.

It Should be 105.

Mr. George Cochrane, Lakefield, License Inspector for West Peterborough, called on the EXAMINER to-day and says that the report stating that there were 81 Scott Act convictions in Peterborough is not fully correct. There were, he asserts, from May 1886 to May 1887 in all 105 prosecutions in this county

Joined the Salvation Army.

An American exchange says:—"A lady (who does not care, however, to have her name made public) recently deeded over to her husband property to the value of $20,000, and he was given power of attorney for $20,000 more. The lady signified that she had concluded to join the Salvation Army, and so had renounced the world entirely and given up all care of money matters in order that she might devote herself absolutely to the concerns of the Lord."

Baseball Topics.

The Belleville and Park Nine (Kingston) teams are playing to-day.

The Campbellford club arrived in town this morning, and are playing Peterborough this afternoon. Play was begun at 2 o'clock. The batteries are Dr. Macoun and J. Moran for Campbellford, Galley and Landy for Peterborough. A close result is expected.

A series, consisting of five games each, has been arranged between the two Kingston baseball clubs and the Belleville club.

A Literary Family.

The Montreal Witness on the tenth of last February published a "Nameless Picture", and offered prizes to children for the best story founded on the subject. The stories were sent in by the tenth of March, but so great was their number that the examination of them is only just concluded. In the last issue of the Messenger (published from the Witness office) is given the names of the prize winners. The first prize was awarded to Miss E. F. Massie, daughter of Dr. Massie, of Keene, and the fourth prize also came into the same family. The family of Dr. Massie is to be congratulated upon the prominent place it assumes in the literary world. The laurels of the Doctor himself are by no means insignificant, and his children promise to tread in his footsteps.

Preparing for the Park.

This morning Engineer English and the steamer pumped the water out of the old tank corner of Charlotte and Park streets. This was done in contemplation of removing the tank and preparing the triangular plot formed by the intersection, at an acute angle, of Park and Charlotte streets, for a small park. The ground is to be levelled and filled in, and the property owners in the vicinity, Messrs. Hughes, Ostrom, Sawyer, Fry and Burnham, are willing to plant the park to trees. It will make a tidy little park with a little attention. This project was agreed upon some two or three years ago. If the tank had at that time been removed and the place filled in, the trees would now be growing upon it. It is important that the work should be done at once, so that trees can be planted and growing. There is no reason for delay.

Coming to the Camp.

There is a prospect that the N. D., A. C. A. will attract hundreds of visitors. The Fergus News Record says:—Mr. and Mrs. R. Craig, formerly of Peterborough and family, of Fergus, started off on Monday for a month's camping out at Stony Lake, north of Peterborough. The Canadian and American Canoe Association hold their annual meet there in August, which will bring hundreds of campers from all parts of the two countries. Mr. Craig's party will first erect their tents on an island near "Hyatt's Falls" at the mouth of Eels Creek, the best fishing locality on Stony Lake, many miles removed from cultivated field, travelled road, or human habitation. In the course of a fortnight they will probably remove, via Burleigh, to Dear Bay, Buckhorn, etc. Messrs John Craig of Fergus also a Peterborough boy, and J. M. Shaw of Elora intend going down next Tuesday to spend a week in the camp. Mr. T. E. Bennett is also going down.

An Excellent Programme.

The programme published below, for the promenade concert to be given by the Victoria Rifles' Band, of Montreal, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 10th, in connection with the Oddfellows' Demonstration, comprises some excellent selections, and it is to be hoped the music-loving people of our town and county will show their appreciation of the enterprise of the Committee in bringing this grand musical organization to Peterborough, by their presence at both concerts on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Aug. 9th and 10th:—

1. March ..... L'Eclaireur ..... Boisson
2. Overture ..... Beatrice de Tenda ..... Bellini
3. Cornet Solo ..... {Sur le Pont d'Avignon} ..... Reynaud
   Mr. Jules Wermenlinger.

Yesterday's Cricket Matches Briefly Recorded.

The Buffers and Duffers had it out again on the cricket grounds yesterday afternoon, the former, with the aid of a couple of extra men, "doing up" the Duffers to the tune of 14 runs. The sides were entirely different from those which tussled on Tuesday. The bowling of Minore and Sabine was unusually good for amateurs, while at the bat Hartley was the scorer of the day, closely followed by Giroux. Mr. Macdonald showed great improvement in batting. Score:—

PETERBOROUGH VS. LINDSAY.

Yesterday after the lapse of many years Peterborough renewed her former friendly cricket relations with Lindsay. On a rather hard, lumpy crease, Peterborough went first to bat and scored a total of 80 runs. Lindsay followed and collected 37. Peterborough again wielded the willow and ran up the very handsome score of 158 runs, upon which Lindsay in their second innings made 54. For Peterborough, Messrs. S. Ray, C. J. Logan and W. A. Stratton especially distinguished themselves. For Lindsay, Messrs. I. Grace and Mosgrove.

PETERBORO' JUNIORS VS. OMEMEE.

The junior eleven of the Peterborough club played the High School club of Omemee Friday afternoon at that village. The boys say the ground was the worst they ever played on. The Omemee team was composed largely of bearded men and a very few juniors, while none of the Peterborough lads were over 18 years old. They were, consequently, over-matched and defeated. Kincaid played a good game, while Hay's bowling was not to be sneezed at. He took three wickets in one over. Hamilton did not do as well as usual. For Omemee Rainey's bowling was very destructive. Several good batting scores were made. The boys speak in laudatory terms of the excellent treatment received at the hands of their entertainers. The return match will probably be played next week. There was a good attendance of visitors, more than half being ladies. Score:—

MISS VEALS

DESIRES to announce to the many friends of her consul in Peterborough that she has made arrangements to succeed Mrs. Nixon in Toronto, where she will re-open in September. While thanking them for the very warm support they have given her during nine years residence among them, she would express the hope, that those parents who desire the advantages for a city for their daughters, will be pleased to entrust them to her care. d25 w31

Livety Traffic.

During the tourist season on the Lakefield line G.T.R., passenger traffic has become so brisk that Conductor Steen's train has been made an express, and another train has been put on for freight and shunting purposes. As a consequence, the express makes good time and the convenience of passengers is perfectly subserved.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,500,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

JULY'S HIGH TEMPERATURE.

The Signal Office Reports the Hottest Weather in Seventeen Years.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The weather here continues warm and oppressive, and many persons engaged in outdoor work have succumbed to the heat within the past few days. The mortality has also been great among horses, especially those employed by the street car lines. The heat was so great to-day that it was found necessary to close the War and Navy Departments an hour earlier than usual, and if the present heat continues much longer such action will probably become a regular thing in all the executive departments. The President did not come into the city to-day, but all the members of his Cabinet were at their desks as usual.

A statement has been prepared at the Signal Office contrasting the temperature at Washington during the past month with the temperature during the same month of previous years since the organization of the service in 1871. From this it appears the present month leads the record for the highest temperature—102.8—which occurred on July 17. The minimum temperature during the month was 64.5. The average mean temperature was higher than any July since 1871. On thirteen days the minimum temperature was ninety degrees or over. In several years this number of days was exceeded, but only in one July—1872—was there such a small number of days in which the minimum temperature was seventy degrees or less, which is generally considered as the effect of a cool wave. There have been but eight such days in this month and seven of them were before July 14. Twenty-seven days out of the thirty the temperature was eighty-five or over. The temperature above stated was taken in a sheltered place, twelve feet above the roof of the signal office building, so arranged as to be protected from radiated or reflected heat and where there is a free passage of air. The temperature on the streets below when exposed to the direct rays of the sun is supposed to be greater by at least ten degrees.

Very Warm at New York.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The suffering from the heat in this city continues to be very great. The thermometer indicated 93 as 3.30 this afternoon and 81 at midnight, with an average of 86 for the day. The air is very warm. There were thirty-one cases of sunstroke and four resulted fatally.

The Mohawk Valley Red-Hot.

CANJOHARIE, N.Y., July 30.—The Mohawk Valley has been melting to-day under the excessive heat. The mercury in several places has risen to 100 degrees in the shade. At Sharon Springs, which is filled with summer guests, the thermometer registered 98.

Ninety-Two Degrees at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—The temperature in the city to-day reached ninety-two degrees. Several prostrations are reported, but none fatal. Mr. Ed. Locke, city editor of the Chronicle-Telegraph, was overcome by the heat this morning while at work at his desk. A doctor was sent for and everything possible done for him. His condition is extremely critical.

SMUGGLERS OF UPIUM.

Large Quantities of the Drug Sent Through in Bond to Chicago.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 30.—It has leaked out that 300 pounds of opium were shipped on Tuesday morning's steamer in bond for Chicago. The baggageman here has been given customs bonding tags in order to facilitate the bonding of baggage through American points, and by this means he was enabled to successfully arrange the opium for shipment to American cities. It is stated that four previous shipments have been successfully made, but this trip the secret leaked out and came to the ears of the reporters, and an exposure was made this morning. Two boxes were checked for Chicago and a man named McLeod held the checks. He was spotted and two other men followed for the purpose of seizing the opium after crossing the line. However, the railway officers discovered the fact and telegraphed to have the boxes retained at Winnipeg. An investigation will take place. The baggageman has been discharged and another appointed. It is supposed that a large amount got through safely by this means.

Ninety Pounds Seized at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., July 31.—For some time past the customs officials have been on the look-out for a cargo of opium, and on Friday night last Deputy Inspector Crick made a seizure of about ninety pounds of the drug on the persons of a well-known Chinaman, Lee Lann, who keeps a laundry on Main-street. A search was made at the laundry, and four more lots of opium were found. They were all in Oriental packages bearing a Chinese label. Lee, with a companion, was locked up and yesterday was taken to Lockport jail by United States Marshal Ashford.

A Steamer in a Hurricane.

QUEENSTOWN, July 30.—The steamship Etruria, which arrived here last night from New York, encountered a violent hurricane on Thursday. Mr. Kemp of Illinois, a passenger on the steamer, was thrown about during the storm with such force that one of his arms was fractured and his head badly cut. He was removed from the ship on her arrival here and is now at a hospital.

A GOOD TENANT MEASURE.

THE IRISH LAND BILL WILL SOFTEN THE CRIMES ACT.

The Landlords Do Not Look Upon It With Favor, as It Foreshadows the Destruction of Their Interests in Ireland.—An Election Contest.

LONDON, July 30.—The land bill will pass the committee stage in the House of Commons next Tuesday. Only two clauses now remain to be dealt with. One of these refers to local rates and the other deals with the revision of judicial rents. Over these two clauses a very animated discussion is likely to arise, but an extended debate will be prevented if necessary by closure. The bill will become a law by the middle of August. So far as the bill itself is concerned there is no question that it pleases the Parnellites and the Liberals to a certain extent. This is due, of course, to the Government's wholesale concessions. It is admitted on all sides to be a good tenant measure, and is generally acknowledged that it is certain to soften the operation of the Coercion Act. The only people who are dissatisfied with the Land Bill are the Irish Conservatives. They take the concessions which Lord Salisbury and his ministers have so freely made to the Unionists and Home Rule people as foreshadowing a landlord expropriation bill and as preparing Parliament at the next session for a new measure which shall be virtually destructive of landlord interests in Ireland.

The Government are certainly becoming undermined, partly by a growing feeling of insecurity with regard to their policy among their own party, and partly by the unmistakable tendency of the Unionist-Liberals toward the main body of the Liberal party. The dissatisfaction of the Irish landlord section with the land bill in its present shape greatly assists in weakening the Cabinet. The Irish Conservatives have the sympathy of the rank and file of the English Conservatives in accusing the Government of a plain intention to betray the Irish landlords. "If we are to be ruined," says a representative landlord writing to The Times, "we may as well be ruined by Parnell as by Salisbury. We will have probably a better chance to keep our lands when Ireland is made a nation than under British tyranny."

Increase in the Liberal Vote.

LONDON, July 30.—The Parliamentary election to fill the vacancy in the Forest of Dean Division of Gloucestershire, caused by the retirement of Mr. Thomas Blake (Home Ruler) has resulted in a large increase in the Liberal vote, Mr. Samuelson, the Liberal candidate, defeating Wyndham (Conservative) by a vote of 4286 to 2736. In the last election the district was carried by Mr. Blake over Mr. F. L. Lucas (Liberal-Unionist) by a majority of 1407, the total vote being 6227. The Liberals now carry it by a majority of 1550 in a total vote of 7023, the Liberals increasing their poll 464 votes, the Conservatives increasing theirs 231. A prominent politician, pointing to the election, says: "It shows that the Liberal-Unionists are returning to their allegiance."

An anti-coercion meeting was held at Manchester to-day. Mr. Michael Davitt made a speech, in the course of which he said that he feared the decease of the Government would not be delayed long enough to allow the digging of a grave wide and deep enough to bury it in.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

An Ottawa Young Man Meets a Violent Death While Canoeing.

OTTAWA, July 31.—Information was received here this evening of the accidental shooting to-day at East Templeton of an Ottawa young man named Robert Grayburn, aged about 20. From what can be learned, it will appear that he and a friend were in a canoe together when his gun was accidentally discharged, the charge of shot being lodged in his head, inflicting wounds from which he died in about four hours. He was employed in the Post Office Department and was a brother of "Johnnie" Grayburn, well-known to pressmen who attend the sessions of Parliament as page in the Reporters' Gallery. The family has been most unfortunate with regard to accidents. Some years ago Captain Grayburn, the father, who was in the Marine and Fisheries Department was drowned, and in November, 1879, Marmaduke Grayburn, an elder brother of Robert's, who was a member of the North-west Mounted Police was shot by Indians near Fort Walsh.

THE SHAH'S IMPENDING VISIT.

Royal Circles Said to be Horrified at the Coming of Persia's Ruler.

LONDON, July 30.—The news that the Shah of Persia is contemplating another visit to Europe has sent a chill of horror down the spines of the royal and imperial residents of the various continental capitals and has recalled with vivid clearness their former experiences with that slovenly monarch. It is just possible that the Shah's manners have improved since he availed himself of the opportunity of abusing European hospitality a few years ago, but the chances are that they have not. That the comments of the European press on his disgusting behavior at that time reached Teheran there is no doubt, but that there is a man in the Persian capital foolhardy enough to impart the gist of the journalistic strictures upon His Majesty's conduct to his master there is all manner of doubt. The Shah, however, is not an ignorant man On the contrary he is an educated man and possesses a sufficient degree of shrewdness as well to prevent the hordes of French, English, German and American capitalists and adventurers from seizing upon the resources of Persia and converting them into a source of revenue for themselves. But he is not shrewd enough to avail himself of the many opportunities of enriching his country that abound almost within gunshot of his palace. However, it is not natural for a Persian to seek opportunities of enrichment through industrial channels, so there is nobody to find fault with the lack of development of the country's resources.

FIRE AT HESPELER.

Harvey & McQuesten's Dye House Completely Destroyed.

HESPELER, July 30.—About 3 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the large building owned and used by Harvey & McQuesten as a dye house, wool house, etc., in connection with their extensive woolen and cotton mills here. The alarm was promptly given by the night watchman. Before the waterworks system on the premises could be got fairly into operation, the fire had made great headway. By strenuous efforts, however, the fire was got under control before the entire building was destroyed, the sorting and wool rooms being kept intact. The remainder of the building, comprising the picker, drying, scouring and dry-house department, was completely gutted, nothing but the walls remaining. The loss will be between $30,000 and $35,000, which is probably fairly covered by insurance.

BETRAYED HIS TRUST.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The details of a defalcation, which has few if any parallels in Wall-street, and which involves nearly $300,000, were whispered to a few people in that neighborhood to-day, and goes far to account for the severe drop in prices which the market suffered during the two short hours of business. Jerome L. Hill is a defaulter to the extent named, the plunder having been taken in the shape of bonds from one of the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company's vaults in the Equitable building, where they had been placed for safe keeping by the executors of the estate of the late William Lottimer, of whom Hill was one. These bonds were all deposited with three firms of brokers, all of whom appear to have received them in entire good faith, in the shape of margins against Hill's speculations, which were sometimes very heavy and occasionally covered a wide range of stocks. There was apparently no reason why they should not have done so, for he was known as a retired merchant and was generally reputed to be worth $250,000, though to the ordinary mind it might seem a little singular that he should always put up gilt-edged bonds instead of cash. It was known, too, that in the great boom of 1869 he had made something like $400,000, and this gave color to the many stories told of his wealth and success as a speculator. Like many another, however, he met his doom, so far as Wall-street was concerned, and it came only a few weeks ago with the great decline in the consolidated stock of the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Company and sell later with the breaking up of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad deal.

As soon as the discovery was made that Hill was pledging bonds as collateral, or to put it more technically, margins against his stock speculations, the contents of the vault were examined by his co-executors, and it was found that the total amount stolen was exactly $300,000 par value. This amount was made up of $50,000 of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul bonds, $100,000 of the bonds of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company of the issue maturing in 1890, and $150,000 of Chicago and Northwestern bonds. All these securities are now quoted at or above 102, so that the total money value stolen by Hill amounts to upwards of $375,000, as stated above. The $50,000 of St. Paul bonds are understood to have been all stolen in one batch and were taken in November last. The others were carried at divers times and in various amounts, according as Hill's speculative needs or the demands of his brokers for more margins forced him to either raise money or take the alternative of going under.

An effort will be made to recover the bonds from the brokers in whose possession they now are.

MURDER IN NEW YORK.

A Discharged Hotel Employe Kills the Man Who Succeeds Him.

NEW YORK, July 30.—John Emerson, until recently employed at the Bancroft House on Broadway, to-night called at the hotel and stabbed Chas. Green, a young man who had succeeded him in his position at the hotel, and then shot and killed himself. Green was of a good family. His father, Lieut. Thos. Feegas Green, is a retired officer of the British army and is a farmer in the county of Tyrone, Ireland. Charles came to this country about five months ago to visit friends. Becoming short of funds three weeks ago he sent home for more money and in the meantime he made up his mind to get something to do.

To-night Green went to his room to dress. As there was no glass in the room he went to the linen room, where there was one, in order to comb his hair. Mrs. Rutter, the head chambermaid, was there and assisted him with his tie. Emerson stepped in at this moment and made some remark about "women's help." Mrs. Rutter left the room, but had not gone far when she heard a struggle, and returning she saw Green on his knees in the corner. Emerson stood over him and she saw him plunge a dagger into the boy's breast. She rushed immediately to the office and after informing them of what had taken place, fainted. Manager Neal hurried to the scene and was just in time to see Emerson put a pistol to his head and blow his brains out. Mr. Neal found Green's body in the hall in a pool of blood, and life extinct.

The Case of Blind Tom, the Pianist.

BALTIMORE, July 30.—Judge Bond, sitting in the United States District Court, to-day decided that Thomas Wiggins, known all over the world as "Blind Tom," the pianist, shall be delivered on or before Aug. 16 into the custody of Mrs. Elias Bethune, who represents Charity Wiggins, the mother of Blind Tom, and that James S. Bethune, who has charge of him, shall at the same time pay over to Mrs. Bethune the sum of $7000 for past services. The case has been in the courts for several years and has attracted considerable attention from the fact that Tom has been held as a chattel by the Bethunes ever since his musical genius made him valuable. The suit was brought in the interest of his mother to regain possession of him.

Duckshooting at Two Paces.

NEW ORLEANS, July 27.—A fatal duel was fought yesterday evening opposite Greenwood, Miss., between George Evans and Bub Harris, both well known colored men. The men selected double-barrel shot-guns which were loaded with buckshot. Only two paces apart they stood, the muzzles of the guns almost touching. When the word was given to fire both responded almost at the same moment. Evans fell dead, his breast being torn to pieces, and Harris was fatally wounded.

M'GARIGLE, THE BOODLER.

THE FUGITIVE FROM CHICAGO SAFE IN SARNIA.

He Was Brought Down the Lakes on the Schooner Blake and was Landed at Point Edward in a Yawl—The Detectives Lose a Valuable Prize.

SARNIA, July 31.—McGarigle, the Chicago boodler, who lay in Chicago Jail on a sentence of three years and leaked through a bath tub from Sheriff Matson last Sunday night, was landed at Point Edward this morning about 8 o'clock from the schooner Edward Blake, on which he was suspected as leaving Chicago. The schooners Marsh and Blake were in the same tow, the Blake being last.

The tug Oriole had been on the look-out here and ran alongside the Blake and had some conversation with the officers. Then the Oriole, having Chicago detectives and reporters on board, steamed up to the Marsh, apparently to have the captain of the Marsh let the Blake's tow-line go when they were in American water, just opposite the Port Huron waterworks, where the detectives could take McGarigle. The Blake's line was let go, but at that instant a yawl was lowered from the Blake, and McGarigle and a sailor made for the Canada side, McGarigle being landed at Point Edward. The Marsh went on and the Blake remained in the river till this afternoon.

McGarigle made his way here and was driven to Courtright, twelve miles down the river, ostensibly to catch a boat. He was driven back here, however, and is in town. There are various rumors as to his whereabouts, the Chicago reporters stating that he left for the east on the 10 a.m. train. Such is not the case. McGarigle has his moustache and small sideboards still on, and looks browned after his trip on the lake. He is apparently nervous as to his safety here, but the Chief of Police states that he has no authority to arrest him. The detectives have arranged for communication all night between here and Port Huron in the hopes of being able to get him over, but McGarigle keeps away from the river and has been walking about most of the back streets with the party who drove him to Courtright and back.

The Chicago police have been notified of his landing here, but have not ordered his arrest. Apparently he is safe on Canadian soil. About 7 o'clock he hunted up a dry-goods merchant to purchase a new hat. He is fairly well dressed.

The Boodler Interviewed.

SARNIA, July 31.—A reporter hunted up McGarigle and had a talk with him this evening. Regarding how he got away from the sheriff at Chicago or who helped him he would say nothing, except that he came down on the schooner Blake, and was well treated. He says that he will open up communications at once with his friends in Chicago, and expects to go back there soon.

"I am not a bit worse than two-thirds of the men in Chicago in official positions," said McGarigle. "I'll be back there again, and the people will be glad to see me. I have lots of friends there, and I have to stand the heavy part of this load," he continued.

He was not extra communicative at first, but gradually began to question regarding affairs in Chicago during the past week. He had not seen any of the papers and was anxious to know how things were going with the rest of the parties being prosecuted.

"Do you intend remaining here" was asked.

"I haven't any definite idea on that point. I will communicate with Chicago and get matters arranged so I may go back. They will be glad to see me."

"Will you take breakfast here at any hotel?"

"Not for to-night. I will remain with my friend here who drove me to Courtright. Just what move I will make after that I cannot say."

From a general talk with McGarigle it seemed that the officers of the Blake were prepared to protect him and prevent his being taken off by American officers. The move to put him ashore here was made very quickly, as the officers of the Blake and McGarigle suspected that detectives were on the tug Oriole, which ran alongside and would use desperate means to take him. The yawl was pulled for the Canada shore at full speed and was lowered and under way before the officers and reporters could make a move to stop it. As McGarigle moved for the shore the crew on the Blake gave three hearty cheers, to the great discomfiture of the officers. The latter went back to Port Huron where they used their ingenuity in devising schemes to get McGarigle over the river. The reporter heard that an attempt would be made to take McGarigle by force during the night and stated so to him. He said nothing, but his piercing eyes shot out a little fire, as much as to say that he was prepared for any such move.

McGarigle is dressed in a dark grey suit, white shirt and collar, with no necktie. He has kept himself shaved without attempting to disguise himself, leaving on his moustache and sideboards as he had them when he left Chicago. He looks rather wearied, but cheers up when the fact that he is on Canadian soil is broached. When the reporter left him he was prepared to take a good night's rest.

Sheriff Matson Notified.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Sheriff Matson has received advice that the fugitive McGarigle has been landed at Point Edward, Ont., which is nearly opposite Port Huron, Mich., from the schooner Marsh. This is the vessel to which it was thought McGarigle was transferred at Mackinaw a couple of days ago from the schooner Blake. The information received by the sheriff was very meagre and efforts are now being made to have the report verified and details received.

ENGLAND'S REDUNDANT POPULATION.

One of the most troublesome questions which beset English statesmen, is the rapidly increasing population of the Kingdom and the difficulty of knowing how to cope with it. This is a problem which is becoming more and more difficult of solution. The present population of the United Kingdom is considered to be not less than twenty-seven millions, and, if we except Ireland (where the population is decreasing), Great Britain receives every ten years an addition to its population of over four millions. No wonder statesmen ask themselves, if the millions keep on growing in this way, how are they to be fed and employed within the limits of those little islands in the western seas? What makes this question still more difficult is the tendency of the multitudes to accumulate in large cities. This rapid and ever-growing population makes life more difficult, and, by increasing competition, brings down wages to starvation point. The troubles which may be expected to arise from this difficulty are seen in the Socialist agitation and in the loud demands of the unemployed for organization of labour and a re-division of the lands. These have by no means reached their height in the Old World, and we may expect farther trouble ere long.

Some writers admit that the most obvious and plausible remedy of over-population lies in emigration. In this Dominion, and in many other colonies of Great Britain, vast tracts of land may be found waiting for cultivation, and ready, if properly tilled, to supply food and clothing for the teeming thousands of the Old World. A properly directed scheme of state emigration, whereby emigrants of the right class might be aided by loans until they made good their footing in the new country, seems to be the best plan to meet the difficulty at present. This idea has been advanced quite recently by Mr. Osborne Morgan in the Nineteenth Century, and he enters upon the discussion of the subject with a full knowledge of the whole matter and of the difficulties which beset it. Of course it may be said emigration is going on very largely now. This is true, but it makes hardly any impression on the home population. The tide flows both ways. Every five persons who leave the country are balanced by two who come in. The excess of emigrants from Great Britain, as compared with immigrants, amounted to about 150,000 in 1884, 122,000 in 1885 and 152,000 in 1886. One may well ask, especially in view of the fact that a large proportion comes from Ireland "what are these among so many?"

We do not want Canada to be looked upon as a dustbin for Britain's failures. What we want in this country is not the refuse of English cities, but strong men to till our waste lands, and able women to manage our farm houses, those accustomed to agricultural pursuits, having a small capital, willing to rough it and able to turn their hands to anything, these are the most desirable emigrants, and such men are sure to prove successful, if they possess energy, "grit" and perseverance.

We are glad to notice that a large number of those who leave Britain now seek a home under the old flag. The first four months of this year showed a total of 118,248 persons leaving the British Isles, as compared with 82,757 for the corresponding period last year. Of these 11,720 settled in British North America, but still over 90,000 took up their abode in Uncle Sam's Dominions.

There is no reason that this should be the case. The fertile plains and magnificent resources of Canada, the vast pastures of Australia, or the richly diversified soils of New Zealand supply ample room for every possible diversity of taste or feeling in occupation, health or climate. It is certain that if any system of State assisted, or State-directed Colonization be adopted, it must be confined to British possessions, and therefore the adoption of some such scheme for emigration will be beneficial to the Dominion as well as relieve to some extent, the congested population of the old world.

VOODOISM.

A Peculiar Re case Offered in a Case of Insanity. Mich.

Lansing, Mich., July 30.—An interesting case, bringing to mind the Witch of Endor, flying broomsticks and other scenes of the days of superstition, occupied Justice Pinckney's court most of the forenoon. Henrietta Lee entered a complaint against George W. and Gertrude Strauthers, all colored, for assault and battery, the complaint alleging that the defendants had forcibly scratched the arm of the complainant with a needle. The defense of Strauthers and his wife was that the complainant is a witch, that she had, through divers charms and incantations, cast about them a spell which they were only able to break by scratching with a needle. She had placed in their house sponges saturated with peculiar odors, and when Mrs. Strauthers attempted to burn the sponges they burned to stone, from the effects of which they had gripes in their stomachs and other evidences of physical and mental disorganization. She had sent toads, lizards and spiders to their houses to scare and torment them. Mrs. Strauthers had sprinkled salt in the front yard and tried every other means known to her to ward off the evil influences which Mrs. Lee had thrown around her, but ineffectually, and therefore she and her husband felt fully justified in scratching the arm of the woman Lee as a matter of self-protection. Strauthers, who claims to be an attorney, conducted his own defense, and the manner in which he palliated the offense of himself and wife brought tears of laughter to the eyes of the spectators. He urged it as a duty which he owed not only to himself but to society in general to break the dreaded spells of the witch of Cedar-street.

Justice Pinckney took a different view of the matter. He thought if they cleaned out their cellar and made use of lime and water generally they would be less subject to cramps, spiders, lizards, etc. Their ghostly belief did not justify them in assaulting a harmless old woman, and, while he was sorry for them in the profundity of their superstition, he was compelled to assess them $5 each and costs or give them 30 days in jail at Mason.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

More About Reed, Who Defended the Assassin Guiteau.

New York, July 30.—Charles H. Reed, one of the lawyers who defended Guiteau, attempted suicide at about 6.30 this morning by jumping into the North River from a ferryboat. He was rescued by a police officer and taken to Chambers-street Hospital. The paddle wheel of the ferryboat struck Reed on the head. Reed had been stopping at a hotel in Jersey City for some time past.

Reed has lost all his legal practice and is reduced to great poverty. A few days ago he was arrested for trying to rob a bill at a saloon in Jersey City, but was not prosecuted. Reed was subsequently arraigned at the Tombs Police Court. He said he was drunk when he jumped into the river and did not know what he was doing. He was committed to the care of the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections to be examined as to his sanity.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

ONLY TWO BOTTLES.—Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report thrt some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both of the officers and the wife of a well known U.S.A. General had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm. eodw31

THE GRASS TOOK FIRE.

Out-Door Firemen Have a Three Hours' Struggle With the Flames.

OTTAWA, July 31.—It is not every city that can get up a prairie fire on a small scale, but Ottawa managed to do so to-day. Some old stumps were being burnt in a vacant lot on Florence street, west of the bank, and the fire spread to the grass which, being very dry, burnt rapidly. The brigade was called out and worked for about three hours. Nearly an acre was burnt over. The field is surrounded with houses, most of them of wood, and as a stiff breeze was blowing it was feared the fire might spread to them. The fire was, however, confined to the field and nothing but the grass, some stumps and a little fencing were burned.

Several bush fires are raging in the vicinity of the city. A large one beyond the canal caused a rumor this morning that the buildings of the Agricultural Association were on fire, but fortunately the rumor was untrue.

Action Against The Times.

LONDON, July 31.—It is credibly reported that Sir John Hope Hennessy, who was recently reinstated as Governor-General of the Mauritius after several months' suspension, has had a writ issued against The London Times for libel, laying damages at £20,000.

BOULANGER AND FERRY.

The Ex-Premier Declines to Accept the Challenge of the Gen.

PARIS, July 30.—Gen. Boulanger's friends have had an interview with ex-Premier Ferry and have formally presented the General's challenge to fight a duel. M. Ferry referred the seconds to two gentlemen, friends of his, who, he said, were willing to act for him. Some friends of M. Ferry are now urging him to fight Gen. Boulanger.

M. Ferry's seconds are Deputies Raynal and Casimer Price. They had a conference with Gen. Boulanger's seconds after the interview between the latter and M. Ferry.

Gen. Boulanger's seconds demanded that M. Ferry should apologize to him for the expression he used concerning him or fight. It is reported that M. Ferry declined to do either. In this course he is seconded by the people. Public opinion, apart from the expressions of the Boulangists, supports M. Ferry's arguments that a politician of his position has the right to indulge in a criticism of such men as Boulanger without being compelled to endure the inconvenience of a duel every time he does so. The Boulangists, on the other hand, contend that seeing that Boulanger, while Minister of War, fought a duel with M. Lareunty, a Senator, therefore M. Ferry could not be above engaging in a duel with an offended man.

The Duel Will Take Place.

PARIS, July 30.—The duel between Gen. Boulanger and ex-Premier Ferry will probably take place to-morrow. Gen. Boulanger allows M. Ferry the choice of weapons and pistols will probably be selected. The friends of Gen. Boulanger take a serious view of the affair.

QUITE UNNECESSARY.

President Fitzgerald's Opinion of the Chicago "Anti-Coercion Society."

LINCOLN, Neb., July 30.—The attention of President Fitzgerald of the Irish National League, having been drawn to the announcement of the formation of a new Irish organization in Chicago, to be known as the "Anti-Coercion Society," independent of the Irish National League of America, Mr. Fitzgerald said he could see no necessity of any such organization; on the contrary, he could see ample reason why honest Irishmen should discountenance the movement. The Irish National League of America, he said, is doing all that could possibly be done by any other organization to afford Ireland moral and financial assistance for any constitutional movement of Parnell and his colleagues. The platform is broad enough for men of every shade of opinion and funds entrusted to its reverend treasurer are placed beyond breath of mistrust. Furthermore, all branches working with the league receive all the credit that could be obtained by acting in connection with the home organization.

Mr. Fitzgerald said that any organization which refused to work in harmony with the National League stimulates dissension and disintegration. "As a rule," he added, "originators of these dissident bodies are disappointed factionalists, whose own idea of their importance is not shared by the authorities of the league."

MAIL COACHES ROBBED.

A Highwayman, Single-handed, Overcomes Two Drivers.

AUSTIN, Tex., July 30.—Both the outgoing and incoming mail coaches, running between Austin and Fredericksburg, were stopped by highwaymen near Dripping Springs, Blanco County, last night and the mail pouches robbed of their contents, with exception of two registered packages which escaped detection. The highwayman captured the incoming driver near where he was to meet the outgoing coach and kept him bound and gagged until the other driver came up, when he captured him and after despoiling the mail pouches mounted his horse and galloped off. The extent of his booty is not known. Neither of the drivers claim to be able to identify him as they were kept too busy watching the six-shooter leveled at their heads.

Mrs. Langtry's Citizenship.

LONDON, July 30.—Numerous letters are being written the papers about the report that Mrs. Langtry intends to become naturalized as an American citizen. They contend that the wife must by law be a citizen of her husband's country. While Mr. Langtry is a citizen of England, Mrs. Langtry cannot be a citizen of America. Further than this, it is stated that Mrs. Langtry has no ground on which to apply for a divorce, so that no avenue is open to her of accomplishing her purpose.

The Liberal Wins in Laprairie.

MONTREAL, July 31.—The latest returns received here to-night give Gayotte, Liberal, a majority of 95 over Brisson, Conservative, in the local elections in Laprairie.

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

The Moon's Influence

upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnams" and no other. 6dw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Catarrh of Years' Standing Cured.

N. WASHINGTON, M.D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and to-day the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all thus troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

GREAT BONA-FIDE CLEARING SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, TRUNKS AND VALISES, IS BOOMING!

The Goods are Going Out Rapid. Our System of conducting the Sale meets with general Approval. ☞ Come with the Crowds.

Having decided to retire from the Boot and Shoe Business, I have placed my $8000 Stock of Boots and Shoes on the market at actual Cost. Ten Thousand Pairs of Boots and Shoes must be Cleared Out within the next TWO MONTHS. I have made arrangements to enter into another branch of business on Sept. 15th, and have decided to sell my entire Stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Valises, etc., AT ACTUAL COST. Remember this is a Genuine Clearing Out Sale, and Great Bargains may be looked for. Any Goods remaining on the above date will be either removed from Town or sold en bloc, as the Stock must be Cleared. The public have shown their appreciation of my way of doing business for the past five years. The Goods have always been marked in plain figures, and there has been only one price to all. Our prices have always been as Low as the Lowest. All parties attending this Clearing Sale will be able to see the Reduction at a glance, as the Reduced Price will be plainly marked underneath the Original Prices.

THE STOCK IS ALL FRESH AND WELL ASSORTED.

Come early and secure the Choice of the Stock at WHOLESALE PRICES. Our shop, from the Eighth of July, will be open every evening till Nine o'clock. Don't Mistake the Place: BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM, West Side of George Street, Sign of the RED FLAG.

Stony Lake

The first annual meet of the Northern Division, A. C. A, opened at the Lake this morning. The lake is alive with campers, from east, west, north and south, and the meet will be entirely successful beyond a doubt.

A Trapezist's Fall.

William West, a performer in Burk's circus, which stopped here two days last week, while performing on the trapeze in Belleville on Friday afternoon, fell to the ground, a distance of twenty feet, breaking his right leg in two places and dislocating his arm at the elbow. He is recovering.

A Lindsay Residence.

Messrs. Richard Sheehy and Harry Macdonald have just completed a fine residence for Mr. J. G. Gilloogly, travelling agent for the Post. When a house of superior class is required, the citizens of Lindsay evidently know where to send for men fully competent to do the work.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

Early Harvesting.

Saturday, July 30th, Mr. Dawson Kennedy, of Otonabee, completed the cutting of his harvest, including barley and oats. This is the earliest date which Mr. Kennedy can remember. The very warm weather ripened the grain rapidly, and brought all the different grains for harvesting on almost at once.

The Scott Act.

Inspector Manning, chief of the Scott Act Inspectors, will hold an investigation in the Y.M.C.A. rooms to-morrow, to ascertain the true inwardness of numerous reports regarding the unsatisfactory working of the Scott Act in this riding. It is said that several charges have been preferred against both local inspectors and our police force in the matter, which will be ventilated.

Farm Residence Burned.

Saturday morning the brick residence of Mr. Johnston Cooney, River Road, Otonabee, took fire and was destroyed, but not before a considerable portion of the contents was removed. The dwelling and contents had on them an insurance of $1000 in the Grange Mutual Insurance Company. Unless the fire started from the pipes of the kitchen stove, it is not known how it originated.

A Proverb Belied.

The proverb says: "To-morrow never comes"; but W. J. Morrow will always be found at the town clock grocery, ready to sell groceries at the very lowest prices for cash. Call and see him.

The "Persian."

The Persian Laundry has been removed to more commodious premises on Aylmer street, just north of Hunter. Mr. J. S. Fanning, the proprietor, understands the business, and is better able than ever before to cater to customers.

Second of the Series.

The second of the series of night sports by electric light will be held on the P. A. A. A. grounds next Friday evening. The events include foot races of all kinds, for boys and men. For particulars see posters. The band will be in attendance as before.

Those who visit Turnbull's this month are Treated to rare Bargains in Remnants of all descriptions.

Victoria Rifle Band Concerts.

The Promenade Concerts, to be given on the A.A.A. Grounds, on the 9th and 10th of August, will no doubt prove a rich musical treat. The Lawrence, (Mass.) Daily American speaks concerning the Band's visit to the United States last year:—"Much has been said in praise of the music of the Victoria Rifles band of Canada, which it discoursed at intervals of a few hours throughout the day and evening. These concerts are each worth the price of admission, let alone the beautiful exhibition."

The New Barracks.

As soon as the plan for the new barracks and headquarters for the Salvation Army, to be erected on Simcoe street, are obtained from the Commissioner (which, it is expected, will be in a few days), work will be begun in removing the old buildings now occupying the site. Possession has been secured and the occupants of the houses are to be out to-day, August 1st. Capt. Williamson goes to Toronto Thursday to receive definite orders as to the purchasing of building material, etc.

The Commissariat.

It has been suggested (and the suggestion will be promptly acted upon) that the ladies who are taking charge of the commissariat department in connection with the Oddfellows' Demonstration, in the billeting of visiting cantons at the skating rink, should have a meeting in the Council Chamber some afternoon in order to decide upon the days of attendance at the rink of each. It will be necessary for a certain number to be there each day, and this matter is to be decided at the meeting, which will be called at once.

The Nicholls' Hospital.

Number of patients in hospital for the month ending July, 1887, 6. Diseases—spinal disease, 1; abscess, 2; synovitis, 2; anasarca, 1; cancer, 1; general debility, 1; discharged cured, 5; incurable, 1; improved, 1. Total number treated during month, 14; from Peterborough, 12; from the county, 2. Pay patients, 8; non-paying, 6. Dr. Pigeon attending physician for July.

The Lady Superintendent thankfully acknowledges the following donations to the hospital in July:—Mrs. J. E. Dennistoun, fruit and cakes; Mrs. Morrow, milk; Miss Shortley, flowers; Miss F. Rutherford, flowers; W.C.T.U., flowers and old cotton; a friend, black currant preserves.

Consigned to the Tomb.

A funeral under the auspices of the Salvation Army, Sunday afternoon, attracted a good deal of attention, the public turning out in large numbers to witness the unusual ceremony. The funeral was over the body of the late W. H. Mitchell, a member of the Army. At four o'clock the Salvationists paraded to the residence of the deceased, in Ashburnham, where a funeral service was held, four sturdy soldiers afterwards raising the coffin to their broad shoulders and marching along the route through the principal streets to the cemetery, preceded by the appointed pall-bearers in a hack and the empty hearse, a large procession of soldiers bringing up the rear. Directly behind the corpse were several cabs containing the relatives of the deceased, while on either side of the coffin marched a half dozen male members of the Army, who at intervals relieved those bearing the corpse of their burden. The cortege passed down George street, the soldiers singing their sweet Salvation songs, assisted by Lindsay band, which had come down for the occasion. At the C.P.R. depot the coffin was placed in the hearse and thus conveyed to Little Lake Cemetery, where Capt. Eaton, of Lindsay, read the impressive funeral service of the Army, consigning the body of their departed brother to the grave in the certain hope of seeing him once more on the resurrection morning.

A Slow, Wearying Game.

Campbellford Baseball Club Get the Small End of an 8–4 Score.

A slow game of baseball, long drawn out and no very good play, was stopped by the rain Saturday afternoon when only four innings had been finished. These four innings, though, occupied just one hour and twenty minutes. The rather slim audience were rather disappointed from various causes. The Peterborough players struggled aimlessly into the grounds from two o'clock (the hour advertised to begin play) until about three, when their deficient ranks were supplied with a couple of members of the club who were on the ground to witness the match, not to play, and game was called at just three—one hour behind-hand. A killing game was dragged on until 4.20, when the rain prevented further play. Had the rain not fallen, however, the game would have been discontinued at 4.30, as the Campbellfords had to leave on the train for home. In the first place, Campbellford should not have come under such unfavorable circumstances. The practice of coming to a town with only two or three hours to play ball, and that in an inconveniently early part of the forenoon, when everyone is busy, and having to quit play after three or four innings or miss the train, is altogether too puerile and antique for these days of modern baseball activity. Secondly, the Peterboroughs should have been on the ground in time, and if they expect to draw crowds in the future they must no more subject the anxious spectators to hours of tedious waiting.

The teams, collectively, were well matched, in only one point. Campbellford's pitcher is altogether too slow. His tossing should have been "pie" (though it wasn't to a very large extent) to the Peterboroughs. Moran did well behind the bat.

Galley was not in his usual pitching strain, while Landy, catcher, let several balls pass him. He was relieved by Callahan in the fourth innings. Col is a pretty sure catch.

No very brilliant play was exhibited on either side, though the Peterboroughs did smart throwing and fielding, and are better up in the rules of the game than were their opponents. Fligg, for Peterborough, made one home run, batting the leather over the fence to left. Several three and two base hits were made, mainly by the Peterboroughs.

Mr. Harry Walton umpired fairly satisfactorily, though not to the Campbellford players, who kicked vigorously. Following are the teams:—

Campbellford.		Peterborough.
J. Moran	catcher	Landy
Dr. Macoun	pitcher	Galley
D. Boanlostle	2nd base	Fligg
W. Cummings	1st base	Metherall
E. Platt	3rd base	Callahan
D. Archie	centre field	Brennan
F. Atkison	right field	Craig
A. Graham	short stop	Kincaid
T. Beatty	left field	Buntin

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Campbellford	1	0	3	0	4
Peterborough	0	0	1	0	3

The last innings was closed amid a shower of rain. The Campbellfords refused to play the match to a finish (five innings being necessary to constitute a game) and the umpire awarded the game to Peterborough by 9 to 0.

AN AUTHORITY'S OPINION.

Toronto Mail:—"At Peterborough, game called at 2 p.m. At three o'clock Peterborough appears on the field. Campbellford are willing to play. At the end of the fourth innings the game stood 3 to 4 in favor of Peterborough. Campbellford having to leave on the 5.15 train refused to continue the game after 4.20. The umpire declares the game 9 to 0 in favor of Peterborough. Is he right? Ans. Yes."

Personal.

Judge Weller and party left for the A. C. A. camp this morning.

Mr. Fred Might, of Turnbull & Co.'s, is spending his holidays at Brampton.

Mr. Jno. Hawkins, an old Peterborough boy, now city agent of the G.T.R. at Montreal, is in town to-day. He will spend his holidays at Stony Lake.

Mr. Sam. Fitzgerald's many friends are glad to see that he has sufficiently recovered from his recent severe illness to be about again and attending to his duties.

Mr. David Wallace, Jr., of Milwaukee, son of Mr. D. Wallace, of the Central Canada Loan and Saving's Company's offices, returned home last week looking well and hearty. He and his brother left for Stony Lake this morning for a short outing.

The Kingston Whig of Saturday says:—"Bishop Dowling, of Peterboro', brother-in law of Mr. P. M. Keough, was in the city yesterday. He, with Father Keough, of Hamilton, had accompanied Bishop Carbery o Montreal, on the way to Rome."

Mr. Henry Morris, for some time connected with the audit office of the Midland Railway, and Mr. Tremayne, both being now connected with the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway, St. Louis, and Rev. Chas. Hyde, of the Plymouth Congregational church, are in town to-day and gave us a call. They are on their way to Stony Lake for a few days outing.

Accident to Rev. Dr. Potts.

The Globe of to-day says:—"Rev. Dr. Potts met with a serious accident a few days ago which will confine him to his room for a month or more and perhaps leave permanent results. Dr. Potts was getting off a train at the North Toronto station when he stepped on a short plank in the platform, one end of which was not properly nailed down. The end on which he stepped went down under his weight and he fell heavily forward on one knee, injuring his knee-cap and slightly hurting one of his elbows. Dr. W. T. Aikins is attending Dr. Potts.

An Explanation Wanted.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—I would like to know whether there is any truth in the report that the Chairman of the Charity Committee in the South Ward, Mr. J. McNaughton, has stopped a weekly allowance of $1.50 towards the support of a Mrs. Daly and her dying daughter who live on the west side of Aylmer Street, between Dalhousie and Sherbrooke Streets.

If so, will the reason or reasons be given why such course has now been taken, which certainly does not bear out the character Mr. McNaughton has of being kind-hearted and humane.

Yours respectfully,
GEO. B. SPROULE.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Mr. Bailey, at present supplying Warsaw, preached in the Methodist churches Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Carmichael of Columbus, Ont., occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's Church, and Rev. Mr. McKay, of Toronto, the Baptist church.

Rev. C. L Adams, of Cavan, conducted the services in St. Luke's Church on Sunday evening in the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw.

Rev. Mr. Wallace Sunday morning delivered a masterly sermon on "The Gospel of Mark," touching on its authenticity, the fact that it was probably written the earliest of any of the four Gospels, and that Mark, the writer of the epistle, wrote down the story of Christ's life as he had heard it from the life of Paul. This epistle, the minister said, was written especially for the Romans, as evidenced by the numerous explanations of the customs and manners of the country (which were strange to the Romans) and Latin quotations and idioms contained in it. Mark was himself no eye-witness of Jesus' doings, but merely recorded faithfully and graphically the reminiscences related to him by Paul, the beloved apostle and companion of Jesus. Rev. Mr. Wallace a few Sundays ago referred in the same manner to the gospel of Matthew, and intends, on future occasions to complete qis series of sermons on the four gospel

A Hen-pecked Park.

Mr. Sid. Blade, caretaker of the Court House Park, was greatly annoyed Sunday morning to find that one of his choice flower beds, the first one on entering from the south, had been utterly destroyed by some hens belonging to people living just across the way. The injury is irreparable, and Sid talks of prosecution or throwing up the task of endeavoring to keep the Park in order, when those adjacent residents have apparently so little care. It would be no trouble for the owners of the fowls to keep them at home, and when it is remembered that one little speckled (or unspeckled) hen can do more damage in the Park flower beds in five minutes than can be repaired in five months, the necessity of such a course is obvious.

Home From England.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, County Solicitor, who went to England a couple of months ago to represent the county in its suit with the Grand Junction Railway Company, which had been carried to the Privy Council by the Company, has returned home looking as though the air of the mother country agreed with him immensely. In the matter of the suit he reports that the court rose on the 22nd of July instead of sitting on into August, as was first announced, and the result was that a number of appeals, among them that in which the county is interested, were not heard. These postponed cases will be argued at the November Sittings. However, the preliminary work of the county's case was settled, which is so much done anyway. The case for the county is in the hands of Sir Richard Webster, Attorney General, and Mr. Jenne, who have thoroughly sifted the evidence and speak most favorably of the county's prospects in the suit. In fact, they are quite confident that the position assumed by the county is the correct one. Mr. Edwards may have to return to England in the fall.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,500,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise (principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

"HONEST JOHN" EN ROUTE.

OHIO'S GREAT SENATOR IN TORONTO THIS MORNING.

Traveling to Alaska Over the Canadian Pacific Railway in Distinguished Company—A Night's Tarry at Niagara Falls—Some of the Republican Leader's Political Achievements.

TORONTO, Aug. 2.

Hon. John Sherman, representative from Ohio in the United States Senate, and candidate for the Presidency before the National Republican Convention, will arrive in Toronto by this morning's train en route for the east. "Honest" John, as he is called by his admirers, comes in with his war paint on and his feathers flying, fresh from the Toledo convention, where the Republicans of Ohio endorsed his nomination for the Presidency and promised to send him into the national gathering at Chicago with a solid state delegation at his back. The Toledo convention thought so much of "Honest" John that it passed unanimously this resolution:

Recognizing, as the Republicans of Ohio always have, the gifted and tried statesmen of the Republican party of other states, loyal and unfaltering in their devotion to the success of the organization in 1883, under whatever standard-bearer the Republican national convention may select, they have just pride in the record and career of John Sherman as a member of the Republican party and as a statesman of fidelity, large experience and great ability. His career as a statesman began with the birth of the Republican party. He has grown and developed with the growth of that organization, his genius and patriotism are stamped upon the records of the party and the statutes and constitution of the country, and believing that his nomination for the office of president would be wise and judicious, we respectfully present his name to the people of the United States as a candidate and announce our hearty and cordial support of him for that office.

Senator Sherman is one of the most prominent figures in American politics and has been since 1854, when he was elected to the 34th Congress, and especially since 1861, when he was chosen United States Senator from Ohio and given the chairmanship of the Committee on Finance. He was instrumental in bringing about the resumption of specie payment while Secretary of the Treasury in the Hayes Administration, and had much to do with the legislation that has dealt so successfully with their big war debt.

Senator Sherman comes from the same state as Ben Butterworth, but it is understood that his visit here is not connected with any design on the Great Canadian Hen, nor has it to do with that other national product of ours, the spring "broiler."

The Senator is accompanied on the present trip by Hon. Mr. Grosvenor and Hon. Mr. Thompson, ex-Congressmen Townsend and General J. S. Robinson, Secretary of State for Ohio. The party will put up at the Rossin House, where they have engaged rooms, and will leave in the evening for Montreal. At that point they will be joined by several prominent Canadian Pacific officials, and will at once start on a trip over that line through the Northwest and the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific coast. The trip may probably extend to Alaska—this will depend upon the state of the presidential boom. Hon. James G. Blaine being in Scotland favors the extended trip, but the calling of the State conventions is against it.

The great man was expected over by the Chicora, last evening, and fourteen hundred of Toronto's fairest young ladies went down to the wharf under the impression that it was Gen. Tecumseth Sherman, the hero of the "March Through Georgia" from Atlanta to the sea, brother of the Senator, who was to arrive. Tecumseth is reputed to kiss every pretty girl to whom he is introduced. But the General did not come, and neither did the Senator. The party remained over at Niagara Falls by the night and will cross into Canadian territory by the first train this morning.

Kershaw & Co.'s Liabilities.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The long looked-for statement of the affairs of the defunct wheat clique house of C. J. Kershaw & Co. was given to the public to-day, and shows that their liabilities aggregate $1,800,000, their gross assets $1,700,000, including $1,500,000 due from Wilshire, Eckert & Co. and other Cincinnati parties. This leaves assets, outside of the Cincinnati paper, of only $200,000. The Cincinnati claims are regarded by many creditors as worth 10 to 20 cents on the dollar, while others place the estimate higher.

TURNS THE TABLES UPON THE TIMBER MEN.

John and Allan Gilmour, Lumbermen of Ottawa Arrested on Complaint of Father Paradis, Who Lodges a Counter Charge Against Them.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—The fight between Father Paradis and Gilmour & Co. has assumed a new phase by the arrest of Messrs. John Gilmour and Allan Gilmour, jr., on a charge of stealing logs, made by an employe of Father Paradis named Brouillard, who was arrested at the same time as Paradis and admitted to bail. The Gilmours were at once bailed and will come up for examination before Recorder Champagne at Hull to-morrow.

The case of Gilmour & Co., v. Father Paradis came up this afternoon before Recorder Champagne. The defendant's counsel applied to have the case tried summarily before Recorder Champagne as Recorder, he having acted heretofore as a Justice of the Peace only. The application was granted, and Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock fixed as the hour of the trial, when evidence will be taken.

Mr. Allan Gilmour give the following account of his and his brother's arrest:

"It is the most outrageous proceeding I ever knew. The unutterable cheek of this man Paradis, who is, of course, at the bottom of my own and my brother's arrest on Saturday surprises me."

"What is the nature of the accusation?"

"The warrant accuses us of stealing our own logs, the very logs we are accusing Paradis of defacing and re-marking with the stamp of a man to whom he sold them. Paradis, assisted by Brouillard, removed the marks off some 1200 of our own logs, claiming that they were cut on lots 7 and 8 in Egan, which lots Rev. Father Paradis claims he has secured for colonization purposes. After these two men had removed our marks from these logs they sold them to a man named Adam, of Gatineau Point, and put his mark on them. But in the meantime we claimed the logs, took possession of them, and sawed one of them. The rest are lying about the River. Adam, as soon as he saw that there was a dispute about the logs refused to touch them; in fact, washed his hands of the whole matter. Now this man Brouillard, at the instigation of Father Paradis, has the cheek, knowing perfectly the whole facts of the case, to swear out a warrant against my brother and myself for stealing our own logs, and more than that, using the name of the man Adam who, I believe, actually does not know that his name is being used. I feel confident that Adam, as soon as he learns of the proceedings, will swear that Gilmour & Co. never took a log from him. That will of course quash the case."

"What do you intend doing?"

"I will have Brouillard brought up at once on a charge of false arrest and will push his case as well as the case against Father Paradis to the very last notch, even if I have to take the case to the Privy Council of England. This matter has been pushed so far now that I will never stop till I get justice."

ARRESTED FOR CONTEMPT.

HAMILTON, Aug. 1.—To-day Charles Hickok was arrested by Greenfield and Littlehales, County Constables, under a commitment for ten days for contempt of court, in the case of Davies Brewing & Malting Company, Toronto, vs. Hickok.

Miss Copley, daughter of George Copley, 85½ Hess-street north, was knocked down by a runaway horse on York-street last night and very badly injured.

The funeral of the late John Winer, which took place this afternoon, was the largest that Hamilton has seen in many years. The pall-bearers were Messrs Edward Browne, Richard Bonner, George Roach, Adam Brown, Lyman Moore, Horace Case and George Rutherford of Hamilton and Dr. Bethune of Toronto. The funeral cortege proceeded to Christ Church Cathedral, where Very Rev. Dean Geddes officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. Mockridge. Thence the funeral proceeded to Burlington Cemetery, where Hamilton's oldest merchant was laid to rest.

The total internal revenue department receipts for July were $19,570.75, a decrease compared with the same period last year of $2,524.93. The customs duties collected during July amounted to $43,503.27, a decrease from the figures of last July of $1,433.75.

At the Police Court this morning two witnesses swore that they saw William Fletcher kick John Tompkins in a fight on the Crystal Palace Grounds on May 24, from which it is supposed Tompkins died. If it can be proved that the deceased died from the effects of the injuries received the charge against Fletcher will be manslaughter, but as this late day it will be difficult to ascertain the direct cause of Tompkins' death. As the charge now stands it is common assault.

OPERATING FAR FROM HOME.

Jay Gould Said to be One of the Concerns That Will Manage Chinese Finances.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Standard has a despatch from Shanghai saying the American silver ring and Jay Gould, through the Polish Count Mitkiwitz and Viceroy Li, have founded an American-Chinese bank with a capital of $200,000,000, mostly American money. The bank will receive and disburse all moneys of the Imperial and Provincial Governments, and have charge of railway and telegraph contracts, coinage, the issue of bank notes, and the affairs of the War Department. The undertaking has created a panic among foreign financiers.

Gould Has Nothing to do with It.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Capt. E. W. Brady, who is connected with the Oriental Banking and Construction Company, said last night that while such an organization as the projected bank for China has received concessions in China, Jay Gould has nothing to do with it.

THE AMEER'S PROCLAMATION.

British Troops Ready for Action Should Russia Invade Afghanistan.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 1.—Advices from Candahar state that the Ameer of Afghanistan has caused a proclamation to be posted in the bazaars in that city informing his subjects that the British Government is holding six infantry divisions, each consisting of nine regiments, with cavalry and artillery in readiness to march into Afghanistan to suppress the revolt of the Ameer's enemies in the interior. The proclamation adds: "I can suppress the Ghilzais without them, but they remain ready in case Russia takes advantage of the revolution to invade the country." The Ameer invites the rebels to return to their homes, and says he will only punish the chiefs in the insurrection. He warns Great Britain against permitting Ayoub Khan to approach the frontier. The opponents of the Ameer explain that in issuing the proclamation the Ameer is playing his trump card, as he finds that the people value his alliance with England more than they value the Ameer himself.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

An Incident of the Railway Collision at St. Thomas.

HASTINGS, Neb., July 30.—James McConlay received on Sunday last the body of his son Hugh, who, it was reported, had been killed in the St. Thomas, Ont., accident about two weeks ago. The body was followed to the grave by the sorrowing relatives. Yesterday the old man was astonished to see his son walk into the house alive and well, and then the discovery was made that the body shipped here, mourned over and buried, was that of a young Canadian.

McGARIGLE IS LYING LOW.

DURING THE NIGHT HE HURRIES INTO OBSCURITY.

An Order From Chicago for His Arrest, Which is Not Executed—His Whereabouts at Present Unknown, But He is Believed to be Near Sarnia.

SARNIA, Aug. 1.—At midnight last night the Chief of Police received a telegram from State's Attorney Grinnell ordering McGarigle's immediate arrest on an indictment got out in Montreal. As the telegram did not state the nature of the charge, Chief Windrod hesitated about making the arrest. He, however, went at 2 a.m. to the house where McGarigle was supposed to be staying over night, and found upon investigation that he had gone, no person could or would tell where.

This morning two detectives arrived from Chicago to watch McGarigle's movements, and it is said they have devised a scheme to take him to the other side. This morning all kinds of reports and rumors were circulated regarding the whereabouts of McGarigle. Some people stated that he went east on the fast train at 3 this morning, others that he was driven in a rig to Wyoming and there took the 6.30 a.m. train for London and St. Catharines. It is supposed that his hiding place is not far from Sarnia, probably lodging with some farmer out in one of the adjoining townships where he can by easily communicated with by his friends, at the same time avoiding the detectives and the newspaper reporters.

He was driven off this morning between 1 and 2 o'clock by John Boyle, the livery stable proprietor, who drove him down to Courtright yesterday and at whose house he remained until leaving early this morning. Boyle states that McGarigle went away to get rid of the Chicago reporters. The Tribune man had an appointment with McGarigle this morning which the latter failed to keep.

Chief of Police Windrod stated this morning that he had consulted County Crown Attorney Meeks and that he was advised not to make the arrest without a proper warrant. Mr. Lister, M.P., has been retained by McGarigle as his legal adviser to look after his interests in case of trouble.

Two Arrests at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Dr. St. John of Chicago, owner of the schooner Blake, and who is believed to have personally assisted McGarigle to escape, was arrested this morning. The doctor at once furnished bail for $20,000.

A second gentleman was required on Dr. St. John's bond, but after many hours' search could not be found and late in the afternoon Dr. St. John was immured in a cell. The charge against him is conspiracy against the people in aiding in McGarigle's escape. A conviction entails a penalty of three years' imprisonment at hard labor or a fine of $1000. St. John is a Canadian of a respected and wealthy St. Catharines, Ont., family.

It was subsequently learned that a warrant was out for Dell. He was found at the County Hospital complaining of being sick. A guard was left with Dell until it could be ascertained whether he was in condition to be moved.

The Fugitive Goes to London.

SARNIA, Aug. 1.—Later advices are to the effect that the conductor of the train leaving here this morning came back at midnight tonight and states that he saw McGarigle get on his train at Wyoming, a station about fourteen miles from here, and that he got off at London. His story is corroborated by the brakeman. They recognized him by his picture.

Looking for the Boodler in Toronto.

"There is a limit to even a hotelman's endurance," said Mr. Harry Nolan as he stood in the Rossin House office at midnight last night. Fifty newspaper men, he explained, had been firing questions at him over the office counter during the evening in reference to Boodler McGarigle of Chicago, who is supposed to be in this vicinity. A dozen or more of Chicago reporters arrived yesterday bent on locating the escaped boodler, who seems to have thrown his pursuers off the scent after his safe arrival in Sarnia. So anxious are the Windy City papers for news regarding the location of McGarigle that one of the blanket sheets offered $100 for an exclusive despatch, however brief, announcing the boodler's arrival in Canada.

Fell From Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—James Martin, painter, 17 years old, who was working on the Brooklyn Bridge to-day, missed his footing on the scaffold and fell into the river. He was picked up by a tug and taken to the hospital. He complained of pain in the side where he struck the water, but apparently was not seriously injured. The distance he fell is about 100 feet. He was kept at the hospital as it was thought he might have suffered internal injuries.

Wife Murder in Jersey City.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Lilly Schlimmer, a 16-year-old wife, was murdered to-day by her youthful husband Joseph in Jersey City. The couple were married with the consent of the girl's parents, but on account of her age it was agreed they should not live together for two years. Schlimmer endeavored to persuade her to leave the parental roof. She refused and he stabbed her in the breast while she was walking with her grandmother.

Missing From Kingston.

KINGSTON, Aug. 1.—James McManus, a member of the paint firm of Webber & Co., is being enquired after. He left here a week ago and cannot be traced.

Suffocated by Gas.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 1.—This afternoon Alfred Burbanks, a married man about 30 years of age, was suffocated while cleaning out a tank at the gas works.

RUSSIA AND GERMANY.

The Crusade Against Russian Securities Will be Renewed.

BERLIN, July 31.—Instead of the Russian Government ceasing war on German commerce, as promised by Ambassador Schouvaloff, fresh measures paralyzing trading relations are either impending or already in operation. Under Schouvaloff's assurances the crusade against Russian stocks ceased. During the week Russian securities have been neither bought nor sold, but the anti-Russian feeling, again excited by the fresh display of hostility on the part of the St. Petersburg Government, will not now be allayed until some practical check is given to the systematic persecution of Germany by Russia. Not only have the interests of the financial community been threatened but the Government has also sustained an affront in the reception of communications sent to St. Petersburg aiming at friendlier relations. Gen. Schweinitz, acting under instructions from Prince Bismarck, made overtures to M. de Giers, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, suggesting a modification or a delay in the operation of the ukase affecting foreigners holding land in Russia. M. de Giers after a ministerial council, replied that the law upon which the imperial ukase was based could not be modified nor its operation delayed. At the same time negotiations, the object of which was to obtain a special exception in the cases of the Princes Radziwill and Hohenlohe and other German dignitaries who are land owners in Western Russia, met with a curt rejection. The St. Petersburg Cabinet has thus succeeded in affronting and offending high-placed dignitaries and the whole German commercial world.

Russian officialism shows a similar spirit to that of the ministry, an instance of which is the revival of a frontier law which had long lapsed, under which persons crossing the frontier are not permitted to carry German coinage of a denomination less than a thaler of gold money. All travelers holding Russian passports are obliged to show the Russian frontier commissioners what coinage they possess, and are not allowed to take into Russia anything less than a thaler piece. If the intention of the Russian Government be to further exasperate Germany and compel her to adopt more active retaliatory measures, it has been fully accomplished. The measures which the Reichsbank has under consideration to prevent German investments in Russian paper, and which were dropped under promise of the restoration of harmonious relations, are again under discussion, and it is expected that the result will be the absolute exclusion of all new Russian loans from German markets.

There is no whisper now of the Czar meeting the Emperor William. The former will go to Copenhagen Aug. 19 without touching at a German port.

A COMPLETE FAILURE.

The Columbian Bank of Philadelphia Closes Its Doors.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—The Columbian Bank, a State institution, closed its doors this morning, and on the door a notice was posted stating that by order of the Board of Directors the bank would make an assignment for the benefit of creditors. At noon another notice was issued saying that the assignment had been made to S. Edwin Megargee and F. P. Kernan, two attorneys. All efforts to obtain any statement as to the amount of liabilities or assets proved futile, both the bank officials and the assignees declaring that they had not had time to inquire into the condition of affairs as yet. It is believed, however, that the failure is a complete one.

President Bell of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, with whom the Columbian have kept an account for several years, stated that the checks of the latter were dishonored because they had no money to their credit, and, furthermore, had no securities on deposit, as was claimed by the Columbian's officers. Mr. Bell said that the securities referred to consisted of checks and drafts on outside banks, and that the Farmers' and Mechanics' would not accept them except for collection, and if they proved good the money would be paid, but nothing would be advanced. It is understood from reliable sources that the chief causes of the failure were heavy advances made on drafts of the Iron-Stayner party of New York, and advances made on consignments of merchandise shipped from South America and other points, which were not taken up by the consignees, thus leaving the bank in a crippled condition. A partial statement of assets and liabilities is promised for this afternoon, although it is doubtful if anything definite can be learned before a thorough examination has been made, and this will consume considerable time. The failure caused some excitement in the city, although among financial men it was not much of a surprise.

Nettle Committed for Murder.

WELLAND, Aug. 1.—Peter Nettle, the man who shot and killed George Stevens near the International Bridge on Wednesday, was to-day brought before A. G. Hill, Police Magistrate, and committed to the Welland Jail on a charge of murder. He will be tried in October.

THE FISHERY DIFFICULTY.

The British Government Hopeful of a Speedy Settlement.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Sir James Fergusson announced in the House of Commons to-day that the communications between the Government of the United States and that of Great Britain showed that progress was being made in the matter of adjusting the Canadian fisheries dispute, and he added that the British Government were hopeful of obtaining a satisfactory settlement at no distant date.

ODDFELLOWS' DEMONSTRATION.

A Gala Time for the Town of Peterborough.

Annual Sessions of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. and Grand Encampment.—A Day of Demonstration.

To all appearances the Oddfellow's Demonstration in Peterborough, beginning August 9th, will be an unqualified success. So far as heard from, four bands and seven Cantons Militants will participate in the demonstration—the Victoria Rifles Band of Montreal (45 pieces), Ottawa band (25 pieces), the Newmarket band (25 pieces), the Fire Brigade band (22 pieces), and in all probability the 7th Fusiliers' band of London. The Canton parade will comprise 40 uniformed members from London, 35 from Hamilton, 30 from St. Thomas, 40 from Toronto, 30 from Newmarket, 25 from Ottawa and 35 from Montreal.

The Montrealers will arrive by C. P. R., accompanied by the Victoria Rifles Band and three Highland Pipers in costume, on the 5.31 a.m., express on Tuesday, August 9th, and will be met at the station by the Fire Brigade Band and local members of the order, and escorted to the Charlotte Street Skating Rink, where breakfast will be served. At 9 a.m., the Fire Brigade Band, Victoria Rifles Band and the Montreal Canton will escort the representatives of

from the Oriental Hotel to the Court House, the place of meeting of the annual session of the Grand Encampment, where the business of the session will be transacted. At 11.30 a.m., Toronto (and and Newmarket Cantons will arrive at 6.42 p.m., the Ottawa Canton, and at 10.56 the Hamilton and London Cantons. Each contingent will be escorted to the Canton headquarters, the Skating Rink, by the Fire Brigade Band, where they will be billetted free of expense during their stay here. The lady friends of the order have taken hold of this matter with a will. The galleries of the spacious building have been transformed into dormitories, while the central floor will be used as a manoth dining room. The ladies will supply first-class fare under their own supervision.

At 7:30 of Tuesday evening, the Victoria Rifles Band will give a grand promenade concert in the P. A. A. A. grounds, Ashburnham, which will be illuminated by electric lights. This excellent band will render such music as it has not been the privilege of many of Peterborough's citizens to ever hear before. Besides this, the Montreal Canton will give an exhibition of fancy military drill. The uniform of these Cantons is gorgeous beyond compare, while the difficult and beautiful evolutions performed by them are something superb to see. In addition, the Highland pipers will play a number of selections at intervals and give an exhibition of sword and other dancing. The tickets for this novel and interesting feature of the demonstration are on sale now at a low figure.

THE GREAT DAY.

On Wednesday morning, the 10th, (civic holiday) the town will be en fete. Excursions will arrive from all points of the compass, and it is fully expected Peterborough will have the biggest day of her existence on the 10th inst. At 9 o'clock the representatives to the Grand Lodge, who will all arrive in town not later than Tuesday night, will proceed to the Court House, headed by the Fire Brigade band, where the annual session will be formally opened by Mayor Stevenson issuing an address of welcome on behalf of the citizens, and Bro. J. R. Stratton, P.G., M.P.P., delivering a similar address on behalf of the Oddfellows of the town. The Grand Lodge will then be opened for the transaction of business by the grand officers, afterwards adjourning at 12 o'clock noon to allow the officers and representatives an opportunity of participating in the demonstration and general festivities of the day.

At 1 p.m. the bands, cantons, encampments, grand lodge representatives and officers will assemble in Central Park and form in procession, marching down George street to the Driving Park, where the following programme of events will be carried out.

PROGRAMME.

Trotting Race, (free to all) Purse, $300; first prize, $150; 2nd, $90; 3rd, $60.

Bicycle race, one mile, 1st prize gold medal, 2nd prize silver medal.

100 yards dash, (in heats) 1st prize gold medal, 2nd prize silver medal.

Tug of war, 10 "Chevaliers" east of Peterborough vs. 10 "Chevaliers" west of Peterborough, prize box of 100 imported cigars; presented by G. W. Rubidge, of the "Indian Queen."

Consolation race, prize, box of cigars; presented by Quirk & Co., of Peterborough Cigar Factory.

For particulars as to entries, etc., see posters or apply to the Secretary, Mr. A. McNeil. The Judges are Hon. R. Hamilton, Dr. Halliday and Dr. Burnham; starter Dr. Brennan; time-keeper, R. W. Munoaster.

In the meantime, while the athletic events are going on, the various Cantons will engage in a fancy drill competition in the centre of the race course, each Canton being allowed 15 minutes. During the afternoon the several bands on the grounds will enliven the proceedings with their best selections of music. At the conclusion of the exhibition drill a handsome souvenir flag (Patriarchs Militant colors) will be presented to each Canton with appropriate ceremonies, Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., making a suitable address, and the presentation being made by Miss Daisy Hamilton, daughter of Hon. R. Hamilton.

It has been decided that all carriages shall enter at the Agricultural grounds gate to avoid confusion at the entrance to the Driving Park, the directors of the Society having very kindly placed both the building and grounds at the committee's disposal.

THE EVENING.

At 7.30 the same evening the Victoria Rifles Band will give another promenade concert in the Ashburnham grounds, assisted by the Cantons and Pipers, with an entire change of programme.

This will be followed by a general illumination of the town. The decoration committee is composed of able men who are laboring industriously to render the illumination an unparalleled success. There will be five arches erected on George street, all models of art and beauty, the mottoes and emblems for which are already completed and reflect the greatest credit upon the designer, Mr. H. W. Watson. In the evening the arches will be illuminated with transparencies, etc. The Jubilee arch erected by the Gas Company will be in operation, as will also be both electric light towers. But the committee are depending much of the success of the affair upon the individual efforts of private citizens and merchants to illuminate and decorate their premises. So far every assurance has been received that the townspeople in general will do their best in this line.

THE LAST DAYS.

The Grand Lodge sittings will be resumed Thursday morning.

To visitors staying in town an excellent opportunity is offered of visiting Stony Lake, during the time of the A. C. A. meet, and also of a trip down the Otonabee to Idyl Wyld. The train leaves for Lakefield at 8 a. m., where boat will be taken to Stony Lake. The boat leaves for Idyl Wyld at 8 a. m., from the Peterborough wharf. For time-table, rates, etc., see posters.

On Friday Cantons will return home. By Friday evening or Saturday morning the session of the Grand Lodge will be completed. The departing brethren will be escorted to the station by the local Oddfellows, and thus will close a Demonstration which bids fair to eclipse anything of the kind ever held here.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

"HAIR MAGIC"

GREAT

Will be found invaluable for the hair and scalp. It cleanses the scalp of all Dandruff, invigorates the growth of the hair, and in cases of baldness where there are the slightest stems of roots left it will produce good crops of hair. It restores grey hair to its original color, and is an excellent dressing.

DO NOT DELAY, if your hair is in a weak condition, get a bottle at once.

Monarch Line Steamers Sold.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The boats of the Monarch line of steamships between this port and London, which were put up at auction in the latter city some weeks ago, but could not be disposed of, were sold yesterday. There are five vessels in the service, each 4500 tons burden, and 2500 horse power. Three of these boats were purchased by the firm of Wilson & Sons of Hull, which owns the largest fleet of steamships of any private firm, and will probably now start a new line between New York and London. The other two boats were purchased by the Allan Line of Royal Mail Steamers, which plies between England and the Canadas.

The Rise in the Price of Tobacco.

NEW YORK, July 31.—A peculiar explanation is given by tobacco dealers of the rise in the prices of certain grades. Private firms contracted early in the year to supply France, Spain and Italy at low prices, and to injure these firms the dealers and planters in this country entered into a compact to restrict production. This would be somewhat in that line of "biting off your nose to spite your face." Perhaps it is a safe operation for the future if the foreign dealers are dependent solely on this market.

End of the Inquest.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 1.—The railway inquest was resumed at 3 p.m. The evidence having all been taken, County Crown Attorney Donahue addressed the jury for one hour. The jury retired at 9 p.m.

Midnight—The jury has not yet returned a verdict.

Death of Katkoff.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.—M. Katkoff, editor of The Moscow Gazette, died to-day.

As if by Magic.

This is always the case when Polson's NERVILINE is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world. Buy a bottle of Nerviline to-day and try its wonderful power of relieving pain of every description. Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in a house to meet a sudden attack of illness. Only 25c. a bottle. Sample bottles only 10c. at any drug store. 6dw31

An Old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly 30 years, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults. It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. 2w31d

CAPSIZED BY A SQUALL.

A Yachting Party Thrown Into the Delaware—Two Lives Lost.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—A party of twelve, consisting of prominent public and business men, started down the Delaware River on the sloop-yacht Minerva at noon to-day on a pleasure trip, the objective points being Newport, R.I., and New London, Conn. The party had provisions for two weeks on board and intended stopping at Cape May, Atlantic City, New York and other points. When off the lower part of the city a squall came up suddenly and capsized the yacht. A number of tugs and small boats immediately went to the assistance of the party and succeeded in picking up all but two, whose bodies have not yet been recovered. The unfortunate men were Thomas Kennedy, a member of the firm of Cambridge & Co., brass founders, and Thomas White, the colored cook.

FAMINE IN ASIA MINOR.

Five Thousand Persons at Adana Without Food.

BOSTON, July 31.—The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions received a cablegram from the Treasurer of the famine relief fund to-day at Constantinople saying: "3000 people at Adana have nothing to eat. Number increasing. Other towns ask help." Adana is the centre of the Cilician plain, ordinarily so fertile, but this year absolutely barren on account of drought. A little over $4000 has already been contributed in this country for the relief of starving people. Further contributions are greatly needed and may be forwarded to Langdon S. Ward, No. 1 Somerset-street, Boston. Gifts can be sent by telegraph so that in three days they will buy bread.

His Troubles Drove Him Insane.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., Aug. 1.—A terrific thunder and hail storm swept over Ashford, sixteen miles north of here, on Sunday afternoon. Rain and hail fell in torrents and washed the roads out terribly. Lightning struck the house of Nelson Hammond killing his wife, seriously shocking his son, and Hammond himself has gone insane.

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

The Moon's Influence

upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnams" and no other. 6dw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

GREAT BONA-FIDE CLEARING SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, TRUNKS AND VALISES, IS BOOMING!

The Goods are Going Out Rapid. Our System of conducting the Sale meets with general Approval. ☞ Come with the Crowds.

Having decided to retire from the Boot and Shoe Business, I have placed my $8000 Stock of Boots and Shoes on the market at actual Cost. Ten Thousand Pairs of Boots and Shoes must be Cleared Out within the next TWO MONTHS. I have made arrangements to enter into another branch of business on Sept. 15th, and have decided to sell my entire Stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Valises, etc., AT ACTUAL COST. Remember this is a Genuine Clearing Out Sale, and Great Bargains may be looked for. Any Goods remaining on the above date will be either removed from Town or sold en bloc, as the Stock must be Cleared. The public have shown their appreciation of my way of doing business for the past five years. The Goods have always been marked in plain figures, and there has been only one price to all. Our prices have always been as Low as the Lowest. All parties attending this Clearing Sale will be able to see the Reduction at a glance, as the Reduced Price will be plainly marked underneath the Original Prices.

THE STOCK IS ALL FRESH AND WELL ASSORTED.

Come early and secure the Choice of the Stock at WHOLESALE PRICES. Our shop, from the Eighth of July, will be open every evening till Nine o'clock. Don't Mistake the Place: BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM, West Side of George Street, Sign of the RED FLAG.

Change of Base.

Mr. J. F. Perchard has given up the insurance business and taken an agency for the Fonthill nurseries, representing Messrs. Stone and Wellington, Toronto. Mr. Perchard will make a good representative, and while faithfully discharging his duties to the company, is a gentleman who would never stop, to misrepresentation in order to make a sale. He has a complete stock of nursery material on hand.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

These who visit Turnbull's this month are Treated to rare Bargains in Remnants of all descriptions.

A Call to the Ladies.

A meeting of the ladies who have in hand the work of preparing the skating rink for the boarding and lodging of the members of the Cantons Militants during their stay in Peterborough, will be held in the Council Chamber Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. They will be received by a deputation of the committee. All the ladies finding it impossible to give their services the whole three days of the demonstration, arrangements will be made at this meeting for a certain number of ladies to be present each day, to avoid all possible confusion or trouble.

Four Goals to One.

The Riversides get the "Four"—An Interesting Lacrosse Match.

About 125 people witnessed the lacrosse match on Riverside Park on Monday afternoon between the "Riversides" of Peterborough and the Orillia Juniors. The match was a schedule game in the district championcontest of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, and the "Riversides" took four goals to their opponents' one.

Monday afternoon's game demonstrates the fact that with good practice the "Riversides" might in a very short time aspire to the standing in lacrosse circles of the old Peterboroughs. For the past week or two the club has had regular practice and its good effects were obvious in their contest with the Orillias. From the very start the ball hovered in dangerous proximity to the Orillia's goal, and it was by a streak of luck and over much confidence on the part of the Riverside defence, that the visitors secured a goal at all. The Orillia defence was weak. Both teams were about evenly matched in point of size, and some sharp playing was done, especially at the beginning of the game, before the players became wearied. Very little rough play and no quarrelling at all were welcome features of the match, though it was occasionally noticed that some of the Riversides used unnecessary violence. It was taken in good part though, and the whole match passed off without any trouble.

For the Riversides, Meagher, Packenham, F. Larone, Begley and Rogers distinguished themselves, though it is scarcely fair to individualize, as all played well together. Mr. H. LaBrun acted as referee and J. Hackett as umpire. Following is a synopsis of the play:—

Personal.

Mr. Daniel Coughlin, of Douro, returned to Peterborough on Thursday from Richardson County, Nebraska, where he has been on a visit with friends. Mr. Coughlin's visit was of a prospecting nature, but after a general tour of inspection, and seeing the spring harvests, which were good, he has decided to remain here, where he believes a farmer can do just as well if he devotes the same care and attention to his farm. During his visit to Falls City, he met Mr. James Hogan, who is engaged as traveller for a first-class brewery. He also saw Messrs. Edward and Thomas McKeiver, both being engaged as travellers. The former is travelling for a wholesale liquor merchant and the latter for a wholesale grocery establishment. He says they like the country and appear to be doing well. Mr. Coughlin's brother Martin, who accompanied him, remained over for the benefit of his health.

Mr. T. H. Yeomans, formerly of Peterborough, but now of T. Milburn & Co's. establishment, Toronto, was in town yesterday. He left last evening for Stony Lake to camp with Messrs. "Jack Hawkins, J. Fairweather and R. Stenson. These gentlemen will endeavor to uphold the honor of old "No. 17," of yore.

Messrs. Will. Dixon and E. Wood left this morning on an extended trip through New York state, visiting Albany, New York city, Coney Island and other places of interest.

Mr. George U. Ahern, of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, Montreal, represented by Mr. Geo. A Cox, is in town to-day.

The Kennealey Fortune.

Mr. Wm. Kennealey, of the Kennealey House, and his uncle, Mr. John Kennealey, have just returned from New York, where they have been looking after their interests in the celebrated Kennealey fortune. The investigation of claims is being continued. Mr. John Kennealey gave valuable evidence which will still further enhance the prospects of the Peterborough branch of the family.

Lt.-Col. Henry Smith.

The many friends in Peterborough of Major Smith (now Lieut.-Col.) will be pleased on reading the following, taken from the Mail:—"Major Smith, captain of "C" Company Royal School of Infantry, has been notified that his appointment to the command of "D" School, with the rank of lieut. colonel, has been confirmed by the Governor-in-council. This appointment is an unusually popular one with the members of the militia. The only regret felt is that this district will lose his valuable services. Having been for many years an officer in a rural regiment, he is thoroughly acquainted with the needs of the force. He was in London this week inspecting the barracks in course of erection there. They will not be completed for three months yet. In the meantime he is doing duty with "C" Company, and is Acting Brigade Major."

IN CAMP AND CANOE.

The Summer "Settlement" on Stony Lake.

Sparkling Water.—Clustering Islands.—Cottage Colonies.—Sportsmen in Tents.—Fishing and Flirting.—An Animated Scene.—Cosmo-Laden Air.—The A. C. A. Camp, and its Occupants.

Stony Lake and its countless islands is at present the Mecca of pleasure-seekers. They go and stay, they go and come; there is a ceaseless rush day after day. For the past month the out-going Lakefield express has daily taken northward contingents of campers and cottagers, with their impedimenta of beds and bedding, pots and pans, etc. The little steamers Fairy and Cruiser have had all they can do, and, as the days go on, their work is increasing.

The tourist takes the train, and, steaming up through Lake Katchewanoonka and the beautiful expanse of Clear Lake, enters upon the ever-varying scenery of isle-studded Stony Lake. Even before he reaches this, evidences of summer population reach the eye. Here and there on the main shore rise the

and as the lake is gained every island is decked with a substantial cottage or presents the white gleam of one or more tents pitched among the greenery of its surface. This season there has been great activity in the erection of summer cottages, and they, as well as those previously built, are all tenanted. From the entrance of Stony Lake to its northernmost limit is seen on either hand the cottages of summer visitors. The first to meet the eye from the steamers is that of Mr. Wm. Hamilton, and then follow in quick succession those of Mr. John McClelland and Mr. Wm. Lech on Pompadour Island. Mr. B. M. Eden's neat little nest on Paradise Island looks down upon Juniper Island and its festivities while, farther up "Kenmore Lodge," the large and beautiful island home of Mr. T. Menzies, dominates the wide sweep of view down the lake, having for its vis-a-vis the cottage of Mr. George Cochrane, the summit of whose island presents a splendid panorama. The Peplow cottage, close at hand, is a little village of itself representing a

SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTION OF THE POPULATION

of Port Hope. Further up the commanding position of Syndicate Camp shows up prominently the cottage, flanked with its outwork of tents, and away beyond the Narrows is the Swiss cottage of Messrs. J. E. McIntyre, John Hackett and Harry LeBrun. But it is useless with a few hours' cruise to attempt an enumeration of the scores of other cottages that dot the other islands of the lake. Besides these, on almost every island, are to be seen the tents of campers. The whole lake is a scene of animation. Wherever the eye falls there is to be seen the canoe and its occupants, sometimes the solitary fisherman, but more frequently the "light canoe of my dear"—tenanted by a spoony pair—"two souls with but a single thought"; four hands that paddle as one—for in this island world the little drama of urban life,

WITH ITS LOVE-MAKING AND FLIRTING, rolls on, in its little way, as the great world has done in heart affairs since it entered upon the serious business of revolving.

THE NORTHERN DIVISION OF THE A. C. A. CAMP

is at present the centre of attraction. "Gin" Island in deference to temperance sentiment—and euphony—has been re-christened "Juniper" a sufficiently cognate term not to destroy the association with the giniferous carouse of forty years ago, which gave the Island its original sobriquet. The Island is now a scene of bustle of preparation. The most prominent feature as seen from the main channel is the landing and the camp store of Messrs. Elliot & Tierney placed at the water's edge. It is a good sized booth, abundantly stocked with choice goods of a class peculiar to the demands of the clientale of the proprietors. This building and its environs are the rendez-vous of the whole lake, the Island especially. Here both steamers make their regular calls both going up and coming down, and their arrival, especially from town, is an event. The water about the landings is dotted with canoes, and, clustered on the shores, are picturesque groups clad in the free and easy negligé of camp costume, greeting new arrivals with hilarious heartiness and with visitors going further on by boat.

Monday, August 1st, was the opening day of the annual meet and a fair number of members of the Association had reported and were on the ground. Following Mr. Archie Moffat, the obliging purser, (who takes the burden of Mr. Collins' duties during the latter's absence in England) and also following the blazed trail leading to the further shore, the camps of the commodore are reached. First encountered are the members of the Lindsay canoe club, who were found busy getting their tents in shape. Captain Macgaughan rules the squad, which is twenty strong, or will be when all the members arrive. They are the first on the main camping ground. The Ubique Canoe Club, with some eight members, has been on hand for three or four days, Mr. J. N. McKendrick, Captain. The Bobcaygeon Canoe Club, the most recently organized club in the Association, were represented on Monday by an advance guard of five members—Captain, Mr. W. T. C. Boyd; Mate, Mr. W. J. Reid; Secretary, Mr. Frank Mines; The full strength of the club in camp will be fifteen. The totem of this club is a crane and the colors red, yellow and black.

On the shore opposite the camp store is situated

THE OFFICERS HEADQUARTERS.

The tent of the Commodore, Mr. Robert J. Wilkins, of Brooklyn, N.Y., is already pitched in a central position. When all the tents composing the officers' headquarters are pitched, there will be seven—there were four in position on Monday. On the shore in front of the headquarters is a floating dining hall and kitchen, the latter, the domain of Mr. Walk, the cuisinier of the officers' mess. Sergeant Billings, the military veteran, is steward of headquarters.

To the right of the headquarters is the ladies' camping ground. A spur of rock projecting into the lake provides an excellent bathing place for them.

But the Peterborough contingent camped on the island is the most populous and important.

Mr. G. M. Roger's party consists of himself and sisters and Mrs. Fairbairn.

The Rubidge-Laudy party is D. J. Laudy, G. W. Rubidge, and wife, Raf. Stevenson and hat, Mrs. Ward (Chaperone), Miss Archer, Miss Sherwood, Miss Ward, Miss Stapleton, Miss Millie Beck.

OTTER ISLAND AND BEAR ISLAND

are the other islands sacred to the purposes of the meet. On Bear Island is the tennis lawn, and here also is space for camping, which, on Monday, was only partially engaged. On Otter Island is the summer home of the Unique Club party and the site of the Otter-Tail camp, the snuggest "lay-out" on the lakes.

At the landing an excellent wharf has been built, and in a nicely shaded spot is pitched one of Turner's large marquees, divided into drawing room and dormitory. The former well floored, elegantly carpeted, and the latter provided with luxurious cots. A short distance away is the kitchen tent, larder and buffet, presided over by Mr. W. H. Bowman. This well equipped, is composed of Messrs. Andrew Mercer, F. G. Cox, H. S. Kirby, G. V. Clementi, R. G. Kingan and Harry Phelan. The party live on the "fat of the land," and their bill of fare would make an epicure hungry to read.

COMFORTABLE AND, WITHAL, JOLLY PARTY,

Such was the general condition of the camp on Monday, but it is probable that the population will rapidly increase for the next few days and when the race days arrive—beginning on Saturday and lasting till Monday inclusive, the festivities will be at their height.

A large party from Rochester was expected Tuesday, but, owing doubtless to the Rochester races being on they were delayed.

Monday night a party consisting of J. G. Hawkens, James Fairweather, Harry Yeomans and Robert J. Stenson, went into camp on Juniper.

NOTES.

Rear-Commodore Rogers and assistants on the yacht Undine, of the Messrs. Strickland was staking out the racing course Monday afternoon and placing the buoys and flags.

It is the intention of the Association to devote their territory exclusively to members of the Association. The most enthusiastic canoeists who do not think it worth while to become members will be hospitably treated to—"cold shoulder."

The camp police force consists of Mr. Jack man, who has the physical qualifications requisite to make his authority respected.

The two "Bricks" belonging to the Peterborough contingent, so named from the setting-sun effulgence which nestles under their hats, are pets.

A camp barber chair went up on Tuesday morning to take the place of the tonsorial artist whose Sunday experiences made him long for civilization.

Mr. K. G. Lech sports the only racing shell on the lake. He darts about among the islands like an amphibious maskinonge.

The Juniper Island campers, in a few days, transformed an invalid gentleman so thoroughly that his unwonted life and spirit earned him the title of "Frisky."

Mr. Alex. Elliott is "postmaster" at the A. C. A. Camp.

"I can eat ten times a day" said a camper—showing what voracious appetites the ozone and stir of the lakes give. "My good gracious", exclaimed a spirituelle young lady on Sunday, as she began on her second pound of cold roast rib of beef, "I'm perfectly ashamed of myself, but I'm hungry yet.'

Lucky LeBrun.

"It is better," the proverb says, "to be born lucky than rich"—for with the former wealth and other good things come. Mr. H. LeBrun seems to have been born under a lucky star. Heretofore he has held tickets in the London Art Union drawing and almost invariably drawn prizes. A short time since Mr. LeBrun remarked to Mr. C. Cameron who represents the "Royal Association for Promotion of the Fine Arts in Scotland," that he had just been notified by Mr. Roper that he had drawn a prize in the London Art Union, when Mr. Cameron, who was closing his list, suggested that he try a ticket in his Association. Mr. LeBrun did so, and the result is that he has been successful in drawing "Scant Pasturage," in oils, by A. G. Sinclair, value $100.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,500,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Fletcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so common among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomach and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

HERRING IN THEIR HOLDS.

TWO YANKEE FISHERS CAUGHT IN THE QUODDY RIVER.

The Americans Stand With Empty Nets, While the Canadians in the Full Enjoyment of the Inshore Fisheries, Fill Their Craft With Juicy Mackerel.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—Information was received by the Department of Fisheries to-day of the seizure of the American sloops Fanny and James Garfield, in the Quoddy River, bound for Eastport, Me., with cargoes of herring, the vessels having neither entered nor cleared at a custom house. Pending the receipt of further particulars instructions were issued by the Department to release the vessels on the deposit of a small fine.

In an interview with the Deputy Minister of Fisheries to-day he expressed his great regret that the statements generally communicated to the American press regarding the seizure or detention of fishing vessels recently was not of a more accurate character. It is made to appear from the statements published in American newspapers that the crews of the escaped fishing vessels Colonel French and Argonaut, brought to Souris, P.E.I., by the Canadian cruiser Critic, have not been treated well, and also that transport to their homes in other fishing vessels had been refused to them, while the facts are, with reference to the first point, that the collector of customs at Souris was instructed by the Fisheries Department, immediately after the advice as to the seizure of the boats and seines and the detention of the crew, to see that the men were provided with food. With reference to the second point the collector was instructed that upon receiving the assurance of the American consular agent at Souris that the men would not be put on board the escaped vessels, he should allow them to return by any fishing vessel bound for home. It would appear that prior to the receipt of these instructions the men had been sent home by steamer from Charlottetown.

In further conversation the Deputy said that the department had information that there are over two hundred United States fishing vessels in the vicinity of North Bay, P.E.I., very few of whom have secured anything like good fares. Some have abandoned the fishing voyage and gone home. Mackerel are plentiful and schooling well in shore, where the Canadian fishermen are securing large fares. The result of the season's operations will go far to settle the question as to the great value of our inshore fisheries. Their value has never been doubted by any one competent to judge, but after the contrast between American fishermen catching nothing outside the three mile limit and Canadian fishermen having more than they could catch inside the limit, which has been shown this year, no sensible man can any longer pretend that the inshore fisheries of Canada are not of immense value.

NOT A LAUGHING MATTER.

MR. DILLON CAUSES A SCENE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

He Denies That He Laughed When the Stoning of Women in Ireland Was Mentioned in the House and Half a Dozen Members Declare He Did.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Dillon complained of a statement that appeared in a provincial paper, which he suspected was supplied by a Conservative member, charging him in a recent debate with laughing in approval of the stoning of a daughter of the agent of Lord Sligo during a school procession in Belfast. Mr. Dillon said he made it a rule not to notice newspaper assertions, but this offensive and disgusting passage was too much for him. [Conservative cries of "It is true."]

Mr. Dillon: "Who says it is true? It is absolutely false."

Mr. Halsey: "I say it is true—I distinctly remember the occurrence."

Mr. Maclean of Oldham: "I heard it, too."

Mr. Webster: "So did I."

Mr. Price: "And I also."

Mr. Dillon: "I say it is false against the four of you." [Cries of "Order" and Home Rule cheers.]

Mr. Dillon: "It is part of a system of infamous and atrocious falsehood by which an attempt is being made to hunt the Irish members out of public life." [Home Rule cheers.]

The Speaker: "Order. You must not make such charges against members."

Mr. Dillon: "I have reason to suppose that the offensive passage was supplied by a member. No more atrocious an accusation could be made, yet other members shout that it is true. Are Irish members to have any protection here? I heard the Speaker call members to order for language which beside this sinks into insignificance."

The Speaker: "I am the judge of order here The members who said that occasion is true put their own voice in upon what passed during the debate referred to."

Mr. Maclean, amid an uproar, maintained that when the assault upon the girl was mentioned laughter was heard among the Parnellites, and that Conservative members indignantly cried "shame." The fact would be found mentioned in the House reports. He would acquit Mr. Dillon of sharing in the laughter if he repudiated such conduct.

Mr. Dillon: "You misrepresent what occurred. I ask justice at the Speaker's hands. The accusation ought to be withdrawn. If charges of this character are allowed to be hurled against us there will be an end to all public decency and order in Parliament."

The Speaker: "The laughter which members declare they heard was meant to be interpreted in an offensive sense. If Mr. Dillon repudiates the statement the House can accept the repudiation."

Mr. Dillon insisted that this was insufficient. He demanded the protection of the Chair in the withdrawal of the charges, or that the Speaker require the members to withdraw.

The Speaker: "Order. I have settled the incident."

Mr. Dillon: "These measures of justice are for one set of members, and there is no justice for another set." [Home Rule cheers].

The debate on the Land Bill was then resumed.

BOULANGER AND FERRY.

The Seconds Unable to Arrange the Terms of the Duel.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The seconds of ex-Premier Ferry and General Boulanger have decided that a duel is necessary.

Gen. Boulanger's seconds publish a report of what they say transpired at the conference between them and the seconds of M. Ferry. This report is in substance as follows: Gen. Boulanger desired a serious reparation—one properly proportioned to the gravity of M. Ferry's affront. On this account he proposed that the combatants exchange shots until one was hit, the choice of the distance to be left to the seconds of M. Ferry. These conditions not being accepted Gen. Boulanger's seconds agreed to be content with an exchange of shots between the principals at twenty paces without any word of command. Considering this proposal to embody the extreme limit of Gen. Boulanger's formal instruction his seconds did not feel authorized to make any further proposition. Ferry's seconds would only accept a duel at twenty-five paces with a single exchange of shots, the fire to be opened at word of command. Thereupon as the offended party has the right to dictate the conditions of a duel without being obliged to submit to terms dictated by his adversary's seconds, Gen. Boulanger's seconds withdrew from the affair.

STOLE AWAY FROM STRATFORD.

Mr. Jameson Lets the Montreal Bank in for $12,000.

STRATFORD, Aug. 2.—On Thursday last H. A. Jameson, who has been in the grain business here for about five years, left the city, saying he would return on Saturday. The Bank of Montreal held, it is said, about $12,000 worth of warehouse receipts of his, and his failure to return aroused suspicion and an investigation was deemed advisable. The key of his warehouse was given to Messrs. Ross and Fortune, who made the startling discovery that beyond about three carloads of barley, the property of W. R. Marshall & Son, there was very little in the warehouse. The mythical 20,000 bushels of grain shown in the receipts were insured, and the insurance company's agent holds Jameson's note for $200 premium.

The issuing of false warehouse receipts being only a misdemeanor, punishable with two years' imprisonment, Jameson cannot be extradited, and it is said by those who claim to be in his confidence that he intends treating with the bank for a settlement that will permit of his return to Stratford. Jameson went to Stratford from St. Mary's about five years ago, and has always taken an active interest in church and municipal matters. He is a member of the Collegiate Institute Board and the Board of Aldermen, in which he is Chairman of the Finance Committee. A short time ago he was a partner in the Stratford Herald. He has been a frequenter of the bucket shops, but whether he was ruined by wildcat speculation or not is conjecture.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

A Mystery Surrounding the Death of Patrick Kiernan of Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—An inquest was held on the remains of a man found in McKay's Lake on Saturday and an open verdict of found drowned was returned. The body was in too advanced a stage of decomposition to tell whether there had been foul play or not. On the body was found a receipt to Patrick Kiernan for $15, signed by Rochon & Champagne, advocates, of Hull, and dated March 16. The body is believed to be that of Kiernan, whom Rochon & Champagne say they last saw on [illegible], when he had about $100 on him. Foul play is suspected.

The British Government Decides to Support the Canadian Stand.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—It is announced to-day that the Government has decided to grant a subsidy to the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is hoped to make the new route a great source of advantage to English speculators.

M'GARIGLE'S WANDERINGS

A GREAT UNREST DISTURBS THE BOODLER'S SOUL.

He Revises for a Time in the Town Beside the Mountain, and then Hies Him to St. Catharines to Avoid the Vapid Questioning of Green-reeds Interviewers.

HAMILTON, Aug. 2.—W. J. McGarigle, the Chicago boodler, who escaped from the custody of Sheriff Matson while under sentence of three years, gave the Chicago reporters the slip at Sarnia and came to this city. The reporters were under the impression that he had gone to Toronto and they went there, but could find no trace of him. He arrived at the Royal Hotel last night and registered as William James, Toronto. He went to his room immediately after arriving here. To a reporter this morning he admitted that he was McGarigle. He declined to make any statement about his trip from Chicago, except to say that Dr. St. John, who was arrested for conspiracy in aiding him to escape, was perfectly innocent.

"How long do you intend to remain?" inquired the reporter.

"I will probably make this my headquarters," replied the boodler, "until everything is arranged satisfactorily in Chicago, which will not be long. I am being prosecuted by parties who think they are doing right, but they will find out their mistake before long and everything will be all right. I did not leave Chicago because I was afraid I would have to go to jail, but my health was so bad that I was obliged to leave. My lawyer expected to have the case ready for the Court of Appeal long ago, and I could not stand a delay of three or four weeks longer." McGarigle displayed no uneasiness while conversing with the reporter. He laughed at the idea of the detectives trying to take him back if he did not choose to go.

Dr. St. John on Bail.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Late this afternoon Dr. St. John succeeded in securing three bondsmen and was released from custody.

He Flees to St. Catharines.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 2.—McGarigle is said to have arrived here about 2.30 this afternoon. He was driven in a hack to the vicinity of St. John's homestead, on Ontario-street, where he got out of and dismissed the hack. He is supposed to be at present stopping with the St. John family.

Mr. Baxter Seeking Revenge.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Jas. Baxter, broker of this city, has issued a warrant for the arrest of the fugitive Chicago boodler, McGarigle, on a charge of conspiracy, and detectives have left for the West to execute it. The ground of the conspiracy is that at the time when the Baxter-Bills Silver Plume mining cases were attracting attention here, McGarigle, who was Chief of Police of Chicago at that time, had a tin-type photo of Baxter placed in the rogues' gallery there. Baxter sued the city of Chicago to have the same removed and also for damages, but the suit was not pushed. As the photo was removed, McGarigle stating that Pinkerton had furnished him with the photo and told him that Baxter was a confidence man and swindler, although he (McGarigle) knew nothing against his character.

A $100,000 FIRE.

A Conflagration at St Jean Baptiste renders Fifty Families Homeless.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Early this evening a fire broke out in the rear of Paquett's grocery store, on St. Hypolite-street, St. Jean Baptiste Ward, and before it could be got under control the buildings on both sides of St. Dominique, from Napoleon to St. Jean Baptiste streets, the west side of St. Hypolite and those in rear of the east side of St. Lawrence-street, were destroyed and about fifty families rendered homeless. This is one of the streets in connection with the drain of which charges of a boodle combine were made against the Road Department contractors, and the people throwing their goods into the open drain saved much of them from the fierce flames. The upper part of the police station was gutted.

Paquette, in whose place the fire originated, was insured for $3100, but in most cases there was no insurance. The families rendered homeless are mostly poor people. The buildings were largely wooden, a number being wood and brick, and a few being built entirely of brick. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

IN HONOR OF LAURIER.

Large Numbers Attend the Liberal Picnic at Somerset, Que.

SOMERSET, Que., Aug. 2.—The great Liberal picnic to-day, in honor of Hon. W. Laurier on his appointment to the leadership of the Liberal party, was attended by thousands of excursionists from all parts of the province, and many prominent members of the party from Ontario and other provinces. Among those in attendance were Premier Mercier of Quebec, J. D. Edgar of Ontario, and a large number of members of both the Dominion and Local Parliaments.

Excursion trains ran from Montreal, Quebec and other points, bringing large numbers. The picnic took place in the afternoon in a fine grove at Somerset, which was crowded. Mr. Laurier was received with the greatest enthusiasm. His speech in reply to an address from the Liberal clubs was the event of the day.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Angry Germans—Mr. E. F. Clarke For Mayor—Attacked by a Madman.

TORONTO, Aug. 2.

Peter F. Newman, a middle-aged German, keeps a saloon at No. 735 Michigan-avenue, Detroit. With him lived, up to ten days ago, his wife and two children, a boy and a girl. Among Mrs. Newman's acquaintances was George Fink, a married man with a family of five children, living at 834 Seventeenth-street. A few days ago Fink and Mrs. Newman and her two children disappeared from Detroit and came to this city, taking with them a considerable amount of Newman's household effects. Mr. Newman heard of the pair being in this city and came on here. Yesterday they were located at Heck's Hotel in York-street.

A warrant was sworn out against Fink for bringing stolen property into the Dominion and it was placed in the hands of Detective Black. Accompanied by Detectives Burrows and Stemsh and Mr. Newman he went to the hotel last evening. Fink and Mrs. Newman and the two children were there. Before entering the house Detective Black anticipated the meeting of the two men would not be a pleasant one and he searched Newman, with the result of finding a loaded revolver on his person. This was a very judicious move on the part of Detective Black, as the subsequent reunion of Newman at the destroyer of his home indicated.

Fink was locked up at Police Headquarters and a loaded revolver was also found on him.

After the arrest Mrs. Newman and her children escaped scarcely from the enraged father. They were reunited, and passed last night under the same roof. All of the parties to the trouble are Germans.

Mr. H. F. Clarke, M.P.P., starts to-day on a trip over the Canadian Pacific Railway. He will sojourn a while at Banff Springs, and may possibly go on to the Pacific coast. When Mr. Clarke returns in September it is highly probable that he will be struck with a Mayoralty boom. Several influential citizens have already asked him to run for the civic chair next year.

As Provincial Bailiff Waddell was yesterday transferring two fanatics from Goderich to London he was attacked by one of them and received several heavy blows in the face, blackening both of his eyes and covering him with blood. Mr. Waddell caught the fanatic upon by the throat, threw him down, and with the aid of assistance, which by this time had arrived, got him under control, and was able to take the two men to their destination. Mr. Waddell lives on Richmond-street west in this city.

Jack Maloney, an expressman, and a Cockney expressman, were the cause of keeping six street cars in a row on King-street, opposite the Meaning Arcade yesterday afternoon. Maloney was driving eastwards on the north side of the street, where he had no business to be, until the Cockney was going west. The place was crowded, the horses met and rubbed noses, but neither expressman would turn out. A crowd gathered and all traffic was stopped. Constable Geddes led the Maloney wagon to the south side, but when told to get in and move on Maloney refused, and he was promptly bowed to Police Headquarters. Everyone who saw the affair said it served him right.

Ex-Governor Robinson returned to the city on Monday evening from Muskoka, looking as healthy and athletic as ever in a natty suit of gray tweed. His Honor has lately come down for a few days and will return before Sunday to his summer home on Lake Rosseau.

The children of the Orphans' Home, Dovercourt-road, enjoyed a trip to Lorne Park yesterday. The party comprised eighty boys and fifty girls, with their teachers and the officials of the Home. They spent a pleasant day in the park. As the steamer came towards her moorings at the Yonge-street wharf, the little ones, joined by the other passengers, sang the National Anthem. At the park a variety of games were participated in by the children.

Drowning Accident at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 2.—A party of dancers who took part in the emancipation celebration here last night embarked in a small boat about 12 o'clock last night to cross to Detroit. One of the party stepped on the side of the boat, which capsized and the occupants were thrown into the river. Officer Nash of the Windsor police force, who was on the dock at the time, pulled off his hat and coat, and, jumping into the water, rescued four of the drowning party. Miss May Lewis of Clinton, Mich., aged 18, was drowned. The body is not yet recovered.

The Depth of Ingratitude.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—The Convent of the Grey Nuns in Hull was robbed of a quantity of blankets, etc., valued at about $20, last night by a man who had been taken in out of charity. His name is not known and he has not been arrested.

Buried With Military Honors.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—Robbie Grayburn, who was accidentally shot at East Templeton on Sunday, was buried to-day with military honors, he having been a member of the Governor-General's Foot Guards.

Russian Intrigue in the East.

BOMBAY, Aug. 2.—The Czar recently sounded the Ameer of Bokahara as to whether his subjects would assist Russia in the event of war. The Ameer replied that his subjects were Moslems and would rebel if he assisted Russia.

A proclamation of the Czar has been posted on the gates of Samarcand, promising that Russia will not interfere with the Turkomans and Urbeks provided Russian troops are allowed a free passage through the country.

Where Industry is Death.

GALLAKEN, Pa., Aug. 2—A Hungarian coke drawer went to work yesterday at the mines of the Blair Iron and Coal Company. Later a number of his countrymen sought him and murdered him for being a traitor to the cause of their strike.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held Monday, August 1st, at 4 p.m., in their own Hall. President took charge of devotional exercises. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. Treasurer's report accepted. Resolved, to forward to Mrs. J. W. Flavelle an expression of regret at her withdrawal from the Union, and of grateful appreciation for services rendered as Treasurer during the past year. After some discussion it was decided to have lunch prepared in their hall next Wednesday, for visitors who may favor them with a call. It was resolved to ask lady friends for contributions for said entertainment. A special meeting will be held (D.V.) next Monday afternoon to complete arrangements for Wednesday.

Obituary.

The late W. A. Morrow, whose death was announced in these columns yesterday, was amongst our best known and most highly respected citizens. He was born at "Fairmount," township of Cavan, fifty-two years ago, and was the second of the four sons of the late William Morrow. He lived on the farm till about twelve or fourteen years ago, when he removed to Peterborough. In the meantime he had married Mary Ann, eldest daughter of the late Daniel Hopkins, and sister of Mrs. Geo. A. Cox. On coming into town, Mr. Morrow entered the insurance office of Mr. Cox, having charge of the correspondence and collection department of the Eastern Ontario Agency of the Canada Life Assurance company. Mr. Morrow was a member of the school board for some time and some ten years ago he became secretary of the board, succeeding the late Charles Perry. In this capacity he gave great satisfaction by the careful and correct discharge of his duties, and his personal relations to the members were such that his familiar presence at the meetings of the board will hereafter be greatly missed. In religion Mr. Morrow was a devoted Methodist. He served the church faithfully and acceptably in several official capacities, as recording steward and representative to Conferences. But as a private member his unostentatious piety and consistent daily walk, particularly distinguished him. In politics he was a staunch Reformer. In his death the community loses a most amiable and respected citizen, whose memory will be cherished with fond recollections. He bore his long and tedious affliction arising from pulmonary disease, with true Christian fortitude and patience, and he died the death of the righteous. The funeral takes place from the family residence, Weller street, on Thursday, August 4th, at 4 o'clock p.m.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failedyou, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

An Open Letter.

I wish I had used B. B. B. sooner, which would have saved me years of suffering with erysipelas, from which I could get no relief until I tried B. B. B., which soon cleared away the itching, burning rash that had so long distressed me. Mrs. Edward Romkey, Eastern Passage, Halifax, N.S. 2w31d

Those who visit Turnbull's this month are Treated to rare Bargains in Remnants of all descriptions.

ONLY TWO BOTTLES.—Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report thrt some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both of the officers and the wife of a well known U.S.A.General had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm. eodw31

Broken Down.

"After suffering with dyspepsia, kidney disease, loss of appetite and pain in the head until discouraged, I heard of B. B. B., took two bottles and am happy to say I feel as well as ever." Mrs Rufus E. Merry, New Albany, N. S. 2w31d

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject of any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold in 50cts. and $1 bottles at John McKee's Drug store. eodw31

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

TORONTO, Aug 3.

Wilkesbarre lost its second game to the home team yesterday afternoon. The coalheavers occasionally touched up Baker's delivery rather lively, and the Torontos thereupon revenged themselves upon Warner, the visitors' twirler. The fielding of both teams was ragged and the game seemed to drag from the start. The features were McCormack's batting and Slattery's capture of Schweitzer's apparently safe hit to the outfield. Bubear Going Home.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Bubear, the oarsman, it is announced, will come to England immediately to prepare for the race with Gaudaur for the championship of England. Neither Bubear nor Gaudaur will go to Australia.

Spots of Sport.

Joe Lang, the Montreal oarsman, says he is ready and willing to row Wallace Ross any time a mile and a half for $500.

Montreal Gazette: Harry Gilmore will start West in a couple of weeks where he is expecting a go with a 120 lb. man, both to weigh twelve hours before the fight.

Winnipeg Caremen at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—The interest in Saturday's regatta increases as the time draws near and the crews begin to arrive. The Winnipeg senior and junior crews arrived this morning, and are a splendid looking lot of fellows. The senior four are in fine condition and the Torontos will find they have a big contract on hand to get away with them. Both crews were out on the river to-day and expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with the course. They are staying at the Russell, where most of the crews will be accommodated.

The committee has opened an office in the Russell, and visiting crews will do well to report to them on arrival. A grand stand to accommodate two thousand has been erected on Nepean Point.

THE ST. THOMAS DISASTER.

The Accident Owing to the Negligence of G.T.R. Employees.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 2.—The jury on the inquest in the late disaster in this city were locked in last night at 9 o'clock, and this morning at 2 returned their verdict, finding:—

First, it is quite plain from evidence adduced that the engineer was on that day, at all events, quite unfit for his duty, as for instance the speed at which he ran the train into the corporation of the city of St. Thomas without slackening at the proper places.

Second, the negligence of the conductor in not examining the air brakes before leaving the Port, which, had it been done, might have prevented the disaster which has brought desolation into so many homes.

Third, and further, had there been an inspector, as there ought to have been, at the Port, such serious consequences might have been averted.

Fourth, the drowning of the young lady, Miss Thomas of London, at Port Stanley, is another direct result of the disaster. If Mr. Larmour had accepted the offer of the Michigan Central Railway officials to send an engine to Port Stanley to relieve the anxiety of hundreds at the Port and taking them to their destination, the sad ending of a young life would not have occurred.

Fifth, another point to which we would call attention is the practice of the officials of the company in not providing enough seating accommodation for people on excursion trains. The evidence of one of the brakesmen went to show that there were so many children on the platform of the cars making a noise that he could not tell whether the whistle for brakes blew or not, and upon being asked if there was not room for them inside he replied in the negative.

Sixth, and further, that the said officials of the company allow their trains to run too fast in the city for the safety of the public.

Conductor Spettigue was committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter.

A FEARFUL EARTHQUAKE.

Terrible Scenes and Widespread Destruction in Ecuador.

PANAMA, Aug. 2.—A letter from Cuenca, Ecuador, dated June 23, furnishes the following: "At 6.38 o'clock this morning a terrible earthquake awoke the greater part of our citizens, and nearly all of them rushed into the streets without clothing. The movement was accompanied by a loud and fearful noise. In the streets and in the squares the people threw themselves on their knees, begging divine mercy. The curate, meanwhile, were exhorting the people to fly to the churches. The turrets of San Blas Church toppled over with a crash, and the walls of some of the churches have been severely damaged. Most of the houses have been destroyed, and the few still standing are damaged. Letters from Azogues report damage there, and the town hall is destroyed. Canar has also suffered loss.

At noon the earthquakes continued without cessation. All the bridges were damaged. The hospital is almost totally destroyed. The telegraph informs us that the shocks have been felt everywhere as far as Tulcan, but with less violence than here. A procession is now passing through the streets composed of all the ladies in the city and they are imploring the Almighty to appease His wrath.

Earthquake in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—The earthquake shocks of last night were felt generally in southern and central Illinois. At Jonesboro a rumbling noise was heard, and the shocks were of sufficient force to cause picture frames to fall from the walls. The time was 12.40 a.m.

Trevelyan Carries Bridgeton.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—An election was held to-day in the Bridgeton division of Glasgow to fill the Parliamentary seat made vacant by the resignation of Mr. E. R. Russell, Home Rule Liberal, who, at the last election, received 4304 votes against 3307 for the Conservative, Mr. Colin Mackenzie. The election to-day resulted in the return of Sir George Otto Trevelyan, the Liberal candidate, by a vote of 4654, Evelyn Ashley, the Conservative nominee, receiving 3353.

Accidental Shooting at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 2.—At the German Catholic picnic this afternoon Rev. Father Bergmann, while aiming at a target, accidentally shot Adam Marten in the hand, the ball entering at the side of the thumb and coming out at the back of the hand. The wound is a very painful one, though, of course, not at all serious.

French Respect for Katkoff.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—M. Lockeyer proposes that the French journalists send a delegate to represent the French press at the funeral of M. Katkoff, editor of the Moscow Gazette.

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

The Moon's Influence

upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnams" and no other. 6dw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

HOW THE SCOTT ACT WORKS

A Meeting of Prominent Temperance Men.

Inspectors Cochrane and Darling Present —The Scott Act Sympathizers Want Better Enforcement of the Act.

In response to circulars, which had been issued to the prominent temperance men of the county and those interested in temperance matters, announcing that Mr. Manning, Chief officer of the license branch of the Ontario Government, would be in Peterborough Tuesday afternoon, to enquire into the manner in which the Scott Act was being enforced in the County, about seventy-five prominent supporters of the Act assembled in the Y. M. C. A. hall to make arrangements for a better enforcement of the Act, and to enquire into the reasons why a more vigorous manner is not adopted in prosecuting violators of the Canada Temperance Act.

Mr. MANNING occupied the chair, and in opening the meeting said it was scarcely possible to appoint a government official without complaints being made. Complaints had been received occasionally from various places as to the failure of license inspectors to do their duty, and consultations, similar to the one about to be begun, had been held, and he had found that the whole trouble had often arisen from the people entertaining erroneous ideas of the duties of inspectors, and in the inspectors not understanding their own duties. He invited them to make any complaints they wished to, and ask any questions.

Dr. FIPE stated that the whole thing in a nut-shell was—the Scott Act was not being properly enforced in the riding.

Mr. WILLIAMS enquired if it was the duty of inspectors to lay charges for third offences, to which Mr. Manning replied that it was optional with the inspectors. He held that an inspector should avoid repeating first convictions, but there was also a trouble in laying complaints of third offences, as the parties lease their bars in order to escape punishment, and third convictions were accordingly more difficult to secure.

Mr. ROSSITER enquired if it was proper for the police and inspectors, in lodging a complaint, to ignore former convictions where the information had not been laid by them.

Mr. MANNING replied that they were not obliged to recognize such convictions.

Mr. EMMERSON wanted to know if, where second convictions had been made, was it proper to make the next complaint a first offence.

Mr. MANNING said that in such a case he would make it a second offence.

Dr. FIPE believed that the fines were inadequate to suppress the traffic. If only fines were imposed, these should be inflicted at short intervals. He wanted prohibition.

Mr. MANNING expressed the opinion that that could never be secured as long as liquor was allowed to be manufactured or brought into the country.

Dr. FIPE complained that prosecutions for violations of the Scott Act had not been made as frequently as they should have been, and Mr. Manning called the attention of Inspector Cochrane to the statement.

Mr. COCHRANE—$4,000 in fines have been imposed since May 1st.

THIRD OFFENCES.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE enquired if it was the settled policy of the inspectors not to go beyond second offences.

Mr. MANNING replied that that was entirely within the province of the inspector; but where the policy of enforcing imprisonment for third offences had been pursued, it had been found more difficult to enforce the law.

Mr. YELLAND was afraid the inspectors were not doing their duty. This brought up the difficulty of securing convictions for third offences, by the hotel-keepers nominally leasing their bars to their clerks or other persons.

Mr. WILLIAMS enquired if there was no means for breaking up these bogus leases, as had been occasionally done here.

Mr. MANNING stated that it was an extremely hard task to do so.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE said that so long as third offences were not pushed, the hotel-keepers could go on paying $50 and $100 fines and yet make money at the business.

Mr. MANNING replied that it did not necessarily follow that magistrates should fine $50 for a first offence and $100 for a second. He could fine to the extent of $100 for a first offence and $200 for a second. It was optional.

Dr. FIPE enquired if a magistrate had the power to change an indictment from a third to second or first offence. Mr. Manning replied that he had.

Mr. ROSSITER wanted to know if it was right for an Inspector to remain away from duty taking holidays, and to stay away from town Saturday evening and Sunday, when more drinking was done than at any other time.

That, said Mr. MANNING, was at the discretion of the inspector. If his agent or representative, [Mr. Manning afterwards explained that by agent he meant any friend or temperance man who would look after the infraction] were there it was all right. Anyway, Mr. Manning asked, if he was there himself, do you suppose the law would be violated under his very nose?

Mr. ROSSITER.—No.

Mr. MANNING.—Then how is he to prove his case?

Mr. ROSSITER—By seeing the amount of liquor that is being carted every night from our stations to the hotels about town, as he (the speaker) had seen being done night after night. If the hotel keepers knew he was in the habit of coming around often they would be more careful. And the number of drunken men about town showed that liquor was being sold freely.

Mr. MANNING thought that matter should be made known to the Inspector.

Mr. ROSSITER replied that it had, and brought up another matter. On the 20th of June, he said, the information in four cases had been handed the Inspector, and these had only been acted upon a short time ago.

Inspector COCHRANE explained that at the time he was busily engaged in working up some cases in another part of the Riding and could not take them in hand just then.

A LICENSE LAW.

Mr. D. B. GARDNER thought the Scott Act as at present worked was nothing but a license law. It would have no effect unless third offence complaints were pushed. If hotel-keepers are fined $50 or $100 they don't mind it at all. What he wanted was to see them sent to gaol. If the Act was not to be enforced, said he, let us have a license law. That was the feeling in this district, and the sooner the officials knew it the better.

Rev. Mr. WILSON thought there was a great difference between a license law and the Scott Act. The Act made these convicted hotel keepers criminals, while a license law would imply a participation in and sanction of their crime by the temperance people.

Messrs. MANNING and JAS. STRATTON also thought the same, the latter declaring that he would never go back to a license law.

Mr. GARDNER couldn't see what possible harm the stigma attached to a Scott Act conviction could do hotel keepers. It was no stain on their characters.

Rev. Mr. BENNETT also urged the enforcement of third offence complaints. There were difficulties in the way, but these had been overcome elsewhere, and why not here. A while ago, he said, he had published in the EXAMINER a report of an Inspector in New Brunswick, who had pushed the Act to a finis, and the result was that several of the hotel-keepers went out of business.

Mr. A. CLEGG.—There is a great misunderstanding somewhere. We believed that when the law said a third offence should receive such a punishment, it would be enforced; and we didn't believe that the Inspectors would have the option to say what offence it should be.

Rev. Mr. TOVELL.—What constitutes a third offence?

Mr. CLEGG—Out of over 100 cases only two were for third offences, and the question arises, when is a charge for a third offence to be laid?

THE INSPECTOR'S CASE.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE also pressed the question. Months ago Inspector Cochrane had promised to push the Act and lay charges for third offences, but he hadn't done so. Why had he not? (Applause)

Mr. COCHRANE—I did intend at that time to push the matter, but I was advised that it would be almost impossible to secure convictions for third offences.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—Who advised you?

Mr. COCHRANE—I don't know that I am obliged to tell that. But I was advised that it would be very difficult to enforce third complaints. There would be great trouble in fighting these leases, and if you put a man into gaol, the next week the bar would be let to some one else, and in a short time another men would have it, and so on. And while I am up I will just bring up another matter. At the time the Association first commenced prosecuting here they came to me and said, "now we don't care about you prosecuting very much. We will do the prosecuting." That didn't work very well, and they came back and said, "now you prosecute." I did prosecute quite a number of cases for first and second offences and if these gentlemen had attended the police court they would have heard some swearing that would have made their hair stand. If you put these same men into the box again to prove a third offence, do you think they will be any more truthful?

Mr. CLEGG wanted to know what discretion was allowed inspectors. Out of 107 cases last year, only one was a third offence. Was it not the duty of the government to instruct its inspectors to lay third charges when they should do so.

Mr. MANNING replied that that was the duty of the head of the department. If the Inspector should ask his (Mr. Manning's) advice, he would say, try it anyway.

COSTS OF THE CASE.

An enquiry was made if the inspector paid the costs of any cases lost by him. The reply came that all costs were paid between the government, town and county, each giving a third. Then, the question was asked, why did not Mr. Cochrane prosecute third charges if he had nothing to lose by it?

Mr. A. T. EMMERSON explained the action of the Association in the matter of prosecuting. At first the prosecuting party got half the fine; that was changed by an order-in-council, and, after prosecuting a little further, they found that the convicted parties used every means to get out of paying their fines. They had an appeal case on their hands which had cost them $400, so they gave up. He felt that the Inspector was not as prompt as he should have been.

Mr. COCHRANE stated that nearly all the convictions were due to himself. The recent chief of police and whole force did not assist him as was generally thought. He had done it all himself.

The matter of the authority of inspectors to search premises was brought up.

Mr. CLEGG knew that there was plenty of liquor in all the hotels. On the 24th May he stopped at a country hotel and saw the proprietor draw beer from a pump.

Mr. MANNING—I have no desire to shield the inspector; but do you suppose if he was there they would sell this liquor?

Mr. CLEGG—No. But could not he act upon the evidence. Could he not search when he has the presumptive evidence before his face.

Mr. MANNING—The whole question of search warrants has been surrounded with difficulty. First, you can only take out 20 gallons. If a man has four barrels, or 200 gallons, of stuff on his premises, you can only take away 20 gallons, so he has 180 gallons to go on with. And if a case is to be made out, the evidence must show that the liquor seized is the liquor with which the offence was committed. If charges can be substantiated without searches it is much better. Then about the beer pumps. If the Inspector should go into a bar-room on a public day, and say to the men, here, what are you doing here? The hotel keeper could point to the door and say, go. There is a general supposition that an Inspector has the right to enter the bar-room of an hotel; but he has not. The law gives him no right; his position gives him no right; and the hotel-keeper has the right to order him out.

A HIGHER OPINION.

Mr. Cochrane asked how many cases had been given him that he refused to prosecute.

Mr. ROSSITER.—I don't know of one; but it is the lapse of time between between the giving of information to the laying of the charge that we complain of.

Mr. STRATTON said his opinion of Mr. Cochrane had gone up considerably. He was under the impression, judging from the statements that had been made, that some 200 or 300 cases had been refused by Mr. Cochrane.

Complaints were made that information had often been given him and that he had been too slow in handling it.

Mr. MANNING.—You don't pay him for all his time. It is too small a salary for that.

Mr. CLEGG.—By holding the informations over, four convictions which could have been made, were delayed, and the hotel-keepers had the advantage of selling right along in the meantime.

Mr. MANNING.—The Inspector has the privilege of laying as many more informations between the date of laying an information and the trial of the case, as he chose.

Dr. FIPE.—That's just where we have always been defeated.

AN EXPLANATION.

Mr. COCHRANE explained that at the time he was given the information in these cases on July 20th, he had other county cases on hand, and could not take them up then. When he got through with the other cases, he found that more informations were ready; and as it was the policy of the Association to not have too many cases on hand at once, he had held the older ones over.

Mr. MANNING—But Mr. Rossiter says you extended the information from June 20th till July 12th, thus debarring them from laying another information in the meantime.

Mr. COCHRANE—Perhaps I did wrong in that, but I couldn't do anything else.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON said, that Mr. Cochrane should have the full sympathy of the temperance people, and it required that there should be strong support from the people generally before he could successfully prosecute to the extent desired by the Scott Act Association. It is questionable whether it was wise to press third offences when Lindsay, Port Hope and other surrounding places generally prosecuted for a first. These places prosecuting for first offences made it more difficult for Mr. Cochrane to meet the views of the local supporters of the Act.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—The majority of the people of this County mean Scott Act. Mr. Cochrane is, I know, in a difficult position, but he has not done quite as well as he should. There is a prevailing impression that the Scott Act officials, from the government down to the inspector, are not in earnest. They seem to think it is something to play with. But the people of this county are in earnest, and the general feeling is that the government should give more specific instructions to enforce the act.

Rev. Mr. WALLACE introduced a motion calling upon the government to specifically instruct its inspectors to lay complaints for third offences where they ought to.

Mr. COCHRANE objected—What grounds had they for assuming that he had done otherwise?

Rev. Mr. WALLACE—From the fact that of 107 cases last year only one was a third offence. Men have been fined repeatedly for first and second offences, and only one third offence has been charged. The Act as it was enforced at present was a howling farce! (Applause.)

Mr. MANNING—I think you are rather hard on the Ontario Government. That government was the only one to take up the Act in defiance of the opposition of a very large number of their own supporters. they have gone as far as the public opinion of the Province has supported them. They have taken up the position which, as a government, they were not called upon to take, only to conform with the sentiments of their supporters, and it seems hard to come down as its Inspectors had charge them with not having done all they might have done. Supposing they had left you to the tender mercies of the inland revenue officers? Now, we are not here constituted a public meeting, not as supporters of the government, but simply for the purpose of hearing complaints that may be made by the friends of the Scott Act, and hear the answers to be made to them complained. After this meeting is over and I have had time to digest what has been said, I shall tell the Inspector what I think. But I shall have to decline to put the motion. (Rev. Mr. Wallace's).

Rev. Mr. WALLACE gladly withdrew his motion upon this statement, and added that Mr. Manning should understand that that was the feeling in this county.

THE INSPECTOR'S SALARY.

Mr. Cochrane's salary was next discussed. It was admitted that he did not get enough to warrant his keeping a horse and devoting his entire time to the work. A subsequent motion settled the matter. With regard to the instructions of inspectors, it was shown that the government had given strict orders to push the Act.

A little discussion over the Ontario government's management of the Scott Act, brought out a statement from Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., that the temperance people should not put all the blame of the non-success of the Act on the shoulders of the local government. The Act as passed had been mutilated by the Dominion Government so that it made it much more difficult for the Inspectors to carry out strictly its provisions. The very essence of the Act was destroyed and then the local government was charged with not doing what it has been made almost impossible for to do. That they have shown a disposition to carry out the law is quite evident, and whatever success has attended their efforts has been secured in the face of the opposition of the Government which enacted the law and which, one would naturally expect, would be in sympathy with its enforcement.

Mr. MANNING thought it a wrong policy to threaten the Ontario Government, which alone had taken up the temperance question. It would be wiser and more encouraging to praise it for what it had done, and respectfully ask for stricter legislation. The best way to get along was to give people credit for being desirous to do right even if they don't seem to do all they can to an eye-witness. The fair way to judge of their Inspectors work was to compare it with others, and if it was found to be up to the average they could have no very great reason for complaint.

Rev. Mr. TOVELL expressed sympathy with Mr. Cochrane, and he wanted to know if there was no means of increasing his salary.

Some desultory discussion followed, Mr. Manning finally leaving the chair, which was occupied by Dr. Fife, President of the Association.

A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Manning and the following resolution unanimously adopted:—

Moved by Rev. Mr. Wallace, seconded by J. G. Wright, that this meeting desires to express its sympathy with the Inspectors in their endeavors to enforce the Canada Temperance Act, but that whereas although the Canada Temperance Act is in force in the county of Peterborough we regret to notice that intoxicating liquor is still very freely sold, and considerable amount of drunkenness still exists; and whereas considerable intervals have elapsed during which the Inspectors have laid no informations, that considerable intervals have at different times elapsed between the furnishing of information to the Inspectors and the laying of informations by the Inspectors, that in our opinion cases which ought to have been made third offences have been made second offences; this meeting, representing the Scott Act Association and temperance people of the county, respectfully but strongly urge upon the Ontario Government the advisability of securing on the part of their officers more prompt and efficient discharge of their duties; that to this end the Secretary of the Scott Association communicate with the government representing to them the desirability of increasing the salaries of inspectors in order to enable them to devote their whole time to the enforcement of the Act.

Personal

Messrs. J. Crane and O. C. Rowse are holidaying at the Thousand Islands.

Mr. John Millar is spending a few weeks in Kingston and vicinity.

Mr. John G. Adams of Greenpoint, New York, U. S. A., is in town for a few days.

Mr. R. J. Doyle, of Owen Sound, Manager of the Grange Insurance Company, is in town to-day.

Mr. R. J. S. McCallum, who left Peterborough about four years ago for Valparaiso, Indiana, to engage in the dry goods business, is here to spend a few weeks among his friends. He is accompanied by Mrs. McCallum and child, who are staying with their relatives in Lakefield.

An Explanation.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR.—I notice a communication in your issue of Monday, asking me to explain why I have cut off from Mrs. Daly and her dying daughter the weekly allowance from the town of one dollar and fifty cents. In reply I would state for the information of your correspondent and those interested, that the grant has not been discontinued but will be continued until the Council instructs me to the contrary. I am not in the habit of doing anything that would injure anyone or deprive them of what they are entitled to, much less a woman who has no one to provide for her and having the care of a daughter whose life may be cut off at any moment.

Yours truly,
JOHN McNAUGHTON.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,500,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years' extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

THE CROPS IN MANITOBA.

A BOUNTEOUS YIELD IN THE SOUTHERN PART OF THE PROVINCE.

While the Grain in the Neighboring Territory of Dakota Has Been Literally Burned Up, the Harvest in Manitoba is in Splendid Condition.

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—To-day being the Civic Holiday the departments were closed and the day was generally observed by the citizens as a holiday.

On Thursday last Mr. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, accompanied by Mr. Whyte, Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, H. H. Smith, Dominion Lands Commissioner, and Mr. McTavish, the company's commissioner, took a run into Southern Manitoba to inspect the crops. Mr. Burgess says they are in excellent condition and promise an abundant harvest. The rainfall has been quite sufficient for all purposes all through Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, if a narrow strip east of Regina is excluded. It is generally estimated that the yield of wheat will range from 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 bushels this year, or more than double last year's harvest. This has encouraged the settlers, the area of breaking being from fifteen to twenty per cent., and that per centage will likely represent the increment in the acreage sown.

THE IRISH LAND BILL.

The Measure Passes the Committee Stage And is Reported.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—In the Commons last night clause 21 of the Land Bill, the consideration of which had been postponed, was omitted. The remaining original clauses were disposed of. Mr. Balfour submitted the first of the Government's new clauses which empowers the court to rescind leases obtained since 1869 by undue influence. This clause and several minor clauses were agreed to and progress was reported on the understanding that the committee stage will be finished to-morrow.

Trevelyan's Victory.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Sir George Otto Trevelyan's victory is felt in Conservative circles as the severest blow the Unionists' cause has yet experienced. Intense interest pervaded the clubs last evening. Each side attached supreme importance to the election, as the first fought since the general election between a Gladstonian and a Liberal-Unionist, the other contests having been between Conservatives and Gladstonians. The successful candidate in a speech last evening said that his victory made it next to impossible for the Government to proclaim the Irish National League. The election, he declared, largely settled the Irish question. Henceforth Ireland must be treated in a spirit of conciliation, kindness and confidence.

Passed Through Committee.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The Land Bill passed through the committee stage in the House of Commons this afternoon.

State-Directed Colonization.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The sub-committee on state-directed colonization will recommend to the full committee the formation of a colonization board with Imperial and colonial members; that capital be raised by public subscription, with interest at 3 per cent., guaranteed by the Government for thirty years; that colonists who receive advances shall pay 4 per cent. after the first year, the security given being a rent charge, and that the colony be expected to give free land, the rent charge to be redeemed by the colonist within thirty years.

The Queen in Scotland.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The Queen will leave Osborne for Scotland, according to present arrangements on the afternoon of Wednesday, Aug. 24, as she wishes to be at Balmoral on Aug. 26, which is the Prince Consort's birthday. The Queen will probably visit the Dowager Duchess of Athole at Dunkeld House, Perthshire, about the end of next month, and from there Her Majesty is to make an excursion to Taymouth Castle, Lord Breadalbane's place, where she stayed with the Prince Consort during her first visit to Scotland in 1842.

The Irish National League.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The first meeting of the National League since the Coercion Act was put in operation was held in Dublin yesterday. It was announced that the receipts since last meeting amounted to £5200. The Lord Mayor declared that the league, if proclaimed, would continue its fight.

Killed By a Falling Wall.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 3.—While a dozen men were to-day removing damaged wheat from the ruins of the St. Anthony elevator, which was burned on July 19, the wall yielded to outward pressure and the great stone structure fell over upon the men, crushing them terribly and mangling them beyond recognition. The bodies of Gus Trown, P. P. Anderson, Thomas Dempsey, Ed. Markey, John Johnson and an unknown man were extricated from the debris. An additional victim yet alive was removed home.

A GATHERING OF EDITORS.

The Ontario Press Association Have a Meeting and Depart for Manitoba.

TORONTO, Aug. 4.

The Ontario Press Association held its annual meeting in the Rossin House Tuesday, President Wm. Watt, jr., of the Brantford Expositor in the chair. The attendance was large. In his opening address President Watt spoke of the improved position of the guild by reason of the legislation obtained at the last session of the Assembly in relation to the law of libel. In concluding his able address, President Watt said:

It is a matter of honest pride to be able to say that the press of Canada as a whole is independent, that it possess a rough and ragged independence of its own, won by hard work, by constant attrition, by a noble and manful desire to benefit the country and the locality it serves. It has accomplished a great work, but with sharp competition all along the line, and united interests on every side anxious to shape and control its power, there is fear for its future, unless its members duly recognize to the full the nobility and importance of its mission, and become imbued with an earnest desire to guard its freedom and protect its influence by the exercise of that trite but ever true maxim "Union is Strength."

These officers were elected: President, J. J. Crabbe, Argus, St. Mary's; First Vice-President, Mr. A. Patullo, Sentinel-Review, Woodstock; Second Vice-President, Rev. Dr. Dewart, Christian Guardian, Toronto; Secretary-Treasurer, W. R. Climie, Sun, Bowmanville; Assistant-Secretary, J. R. Trayes, Times, Port Hope; Executive Committee, John Cameron, Globe, Toronto; H. P. Moore, Free Press, Acton; R. J. Somerville, True Banner, Dundas; C. Blackett Robinson, Canada Presbyterian, and Henry Hough, Toronto.

At 5.15 the editors, their wives and their sweethearts, to the number of 50, boarded a special car attached to the Northern Railway express at the City Hall Station for their annual trip through Muskoka.

Hanlan and Teemer to Row in Toronto.

Articles of agreement have been signed between Edward Hanlan, champion oarsman of America, and John Teemer of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, for a race on Toronto Bay on Saturday, Aug. 13. The course will be three miles with a turn, on the Island side. Mr. Jas. Keenan of Boston was in the city yesterday, and signed the articles on behalf of Teemer. Mr. Hanlan signed the document himself, the witnesses being Mr. H. J. P. Good and Mr. Joseph Rogers. The articles call for a race on Toronto Bay, Aug. 13; no postponement. Mr. Hamilton Busby of The New York Turf, Field and Farm is named as the referee and stakeholder. Both contestants have deposited $500 with Mr. Busby, the value of the stake being $1000 a side.

ALLEGED BLACKMAIL.

A Prominent Lawyer of Ottawa Takes Action Against a Widow.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—A sensation has been caused by an action for criminal libel and attempted blackmail entered by W. H. Walker, a prominent lawyer here, against Mrs. Birkett, widow of the late James Birkett. The trouble arises out of the late James Birkett's connection with the Dominion Plumbago Company, in which he had $2500 worth of stock. After his death the Plumbago Company went into bankruptcy, and his estate, therefore, lost by the the failure. Mr. Walker, of the law firm of Walker & McLean, bought the assets of the company, but did not assume its liabilities.

Some time ago Mrs. Birkett, the widow of the late Mr. James Birkett, wrote Mr. Walker asking for $300. Subsequent correspondence, Mr. Walker claims, contained statements upon which is based the present charge of slander. The words specially complained of are contained in a letter to Mr. Walker and are as follows: "The man or woman who would quietly pick my locks and carry away $2500 I feel would be too respectable company with yourselves. Thou shalt not steal."

The cases were called in the Police Court this morning, but Ald. Durocher, who presided in the absence of Police Magistrate O'Gara, felt too zealous to try the case and postponed it until Monday, when the Magistrate will be here.

THE WAYS OF THE WEST.

A Stranger Tries to Introduce Them in Belleville and Comes to Grief.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 3.—A stranger giving the name of Charles Hayes stopped in the city yesterday and took up quarters at Dumesnil's hotel, corner of Pinnacle and Dundas streets. After imbibing freely he became hilarious, and, producing a Smith & Wesson revolver a foot long, wanted to clear out the place and run the shop himself. Police Officers Hayes and Cockins were notified and placed the man under arrest. Besides the revolver which was loaded, the officers found a box of cartridges and an ugly bone handled knife. He told the officers he came from Toronto, but when questioned, said he had only been there a few days and came from the West. He has the appearance of being a western cowboy. He stated to Ald. Diamond and Anderson, before whom he was tried, that he was a native of Los Angeles, California. The prisoner acknowledged carrying the revolver, but said it was no good, that he would allow any one to fire it at him at thirty feet, and suggested that the court use it on him as his sentence, and he would stand the consequences. The court was impressed with the idea, but declined that novel mode of dealing out justice, and the case proceeded according to the everyday mode of procedure. He then offered himself to the mercy of the court, and having no money was sentenced to fifteen days in jail. The gun was confiscated.

The Pharmacy Council in Session.

KINGSTON, Aug. 3.—The Council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy opened its session here to-day. Two hours were spent in transacting routine business, but the alleged "cooking" of the ballots at the election of councillors in February last was not mentioned at to-day's session.

A Big Peach Crop Promised.

HAMILTON, Aug. 3.—The peach crop is the heaviest ever known. Mr. Donohue's orchard, Stoney Creek, is so laden with this luscious fruit that he has been compelled to prop up the branches, and even then the trees are breaking down. Not only this one orchard, but every tree nearly in that neighborhood is like this. The plum and pear trees are also heavily loaded.

Fire in a Montreal Carriage Factory.

MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—A fire broke out in the carriage repairing factory of T. Gauthier, Lafontaine-street, early this morning. The factory was gutted and a quantity of stock destroyed. The loss will amount to about $20,000, partly covered by insurance.

Bidwell, the Forger, Arrested.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—George Bidwell, the forger, who was pardoned from an English prison two weeks ago and who arrived here a few days since, was arrested this afternoon by Central office detectives and taken to police headquarters. The charge against him has not been made public.

A Body Found in the Canal.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 3.—The body of a laboring man, about 40 years of age, was found in the canal, near Port Dalhousie, this afternoon. He is supposed to be James Conway, who formerly worked in the elevator at Port Dalhousie, and who has been missing several days.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—Messrs. John and Allan Gilmour were up before Recorder Champagne of Hull on the charge made by Father Paradis of stealing logs. The case was enlarged for a week at the instance of the prosecution.

WANTED IN MONTREAL.

IF CAPTURED THE AMERICAN BOODLER WILL BE TAKEN THERE.

Lawyer Greenshield and High Constable Bissonette Make a Flying Journey Through Western Ontario and Call at Bolton McCarthy's Residence Late Last Night—A Charge of Conspiracy.

TORONTO, Aug 4.

If the American detectives who are on Boodler McGarigle's trail cannot succeed in running him down or getting him across the line the Montreal police propose to take an active hand therein. Yesterday morning Mr. J. W. Greenshields, Q.C., and High Constable Bissonette of Montreal arrived in the city. Their stay was brief, and they took the 12.30 train for Hamilton, where they had a conference at the Royal Hotel with two Chicago detectives who are now there. McGarigle, it was learned beyond a doubt, was either in or near St. Catharines.

The Montreal lawyer and officer are understood to be acting in a double capacity. McGarigle is wanted in Montreal on a charge of conspiracy and a warrant was issued in that city for his arrest. It has been issued at the instance of James Baxter, broker of Montreal, who says that at the time when the Baxter-Sills Silver Plume Mine cases were attracting so much attention in the courts in that city McGarigle was chief of police in Chicago, and, as proved at the time, he lent himself to a conspiracy whereby Baxter's portrait, in the form of a tin-type, was placed in the rogues' gallery of Chicago for the purpose of injuring him in the cases here. As soon as Mr. Baxter learned that the photograph was placed there he took an action against the city of Chicago, first to have it removed and then for damages. The suit was not pressed inasmuch as the tin-type was removed, and Mr. Grinnell, the City Solicitor, offered to provide Mr. Baxter with any affidavits he might require as to the means which were adopted to secure a place among the rogues of Chicago. Affidavits were subsequently made by McGarigle, who swore that Wm. Pinkerton had furnished him with the tin-type, informing him that it was the picture of "Jim" Baxter, confidence man, swindler, etc. McGarigle further swore that he knew nothing against Mr. Baxter's character then, neither did the police under his charge. Mr. Baxter in his deposition charges Pinkerton, McGarigle, the Sills and others, with the conspiracy of having the tin-type placed there, and of procuring witnesses to swear that it had been there for ten years, whereas, in fact it had been placed there a few days before. The case came up in the Montreal courts, and is to be used against him in the above suits.

Mr. Greenshields, it is understood, will also assist the city of Chicago in having McGarigle extradited, should the other case fail.

When Mr. Greenshields and Officer Bissonette left Hamilton last evening, it is said they left their warrant in the hands of a local officer to have it executed should McGarigle drop in there. When the Montreal men returned to the city last evening they completed certain plans for to-day's work. At 11 o'clock last night they drove to Mr. Dalton McCarthy's residence in Beverley-street to consult with that gentleman, but were surprised when they reached the house to find that Mr. McCarthy was in England. They then immediately drove to the Queen's Hotel and went straight to bed. Of course they refused to see reporters.

Matt Pinkerton's Opinion.

PORT HURON, Aug. 3.—Matt Pinkerton, who has been at Sarnia for the past two days, says he positively does not believe that McGarigle ever stopped there. The man who got off the schooner Marsh was a blind and part of a scheme to insure his escape. Pinkerton says his appearance tallied with the boodler, but his statements when interviewed do not tally with McGarigle's. From his own experience Pinkerton is satisfied McGarigle continued on board the schooner Blake and went to Kingston. The boodler has friends in Sarnia, but Pinkerton says that is only for the purpose of further misleading his pursuers.

The Montreal Warrant.

MONTREAL, Aug. 3.—James Baxter, who had a warrant issued for McGarigle's arrest, received a telegram stating that the fugitive had been traced to St. Catharines. If McGarigle is arrested he will be brought here and extradition proceedings against him had here. One of the deputy chiefs under McGarigle has arrived here as a witness.

"Chet" Smith Gets a Year.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—"Chet" Smith, dramatic agent, who was charged with sending girls to disreputable concert halls at Hurley and other towns in the Wisconsin pineries, under the pretence that the places were respectable country theatres, was to-day sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

No Underground Route for Them.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The bill to allow the construction of a tunnel under the English Channel, which was introduced in the House of Commons by Sir Edward Watkins, was rejected this afternoon by 153 to 107.

Escaped From Cayuga Jail.

CAYUGA, Aug. 3.—Three prisoners, confined in jail here for robbery, escaped this afternoon about 2 o'clock. Jailer Murphy being absent from town and the turnkey engaged with other prisoners, they thought the opportunity to gain their liberty too good to let pass and quietly walked out through the gate. It was discovered that they had gone shortly after and the turnkey and sheriff's clerk followed them some distance, but failed in capturing them.

IN DANGER OF DESTRUCTION.

A Fire Started in a Field Threatens to Burn Essex Centre.

ESSEX CENTRE, Aug. 3.—A fire was started this morning three miles southwest of this village for the purpose of clearing a small piece of land. A stiff breeze commenced blowing about noon, which soon fanned the fire into an uncontrolable mass of flames, and rapidly spread towards the town consuming everything within its reach for a space half a mile wide. It reached the outskirts of the town about 3 o'clock, and before the necessary help arrived two families were burnt out, losing everything. The inhabitants became alarmed at the proximity of the fire to Drew's saw and stave-mill, and fought with desperation until it was checked.

The wind has fortunately abated considerably, and at this hour (8 p.m.) the fire is under control, but if the wind should rise again a great disaster can scarcely be averted. Everything is so dry that if the fire is not kept down half the town will likely burn. We are completely surrounded by bush fires.

SHOOTING AFFAIR AT QUEBEC.

A Man Threatened With Assault Uses a Pistol in Self-Defence.

QUEBEC, Aug. 3.—This afternoon about 2 o'clock Michael and James Buckley and one Lockro, all residing at Mount Pleasant village, made a combined attack on a man named McManus, in the employ of Mr. O'Leary on the aqueduct contract of the corporation of St. Foy. The latter and his father had already been victims of assaults by the Buckleys, against whom a warrant was issued some weeks ago and is lying unexecuted in the police office.

In the latter instance, however, McManus having, it appears, been long menaced by the Buckleys and being hotly pursued by the three men, felt himself justified in drawing a revolver and firing upon his assailants, when Michael Buckley fell, wounded in the knee. McManus at once gave himself up. All of the offenders were arrested and lodged in the jail. James Buckley, in attempting to elude the police, fell from a garret window and was picked up senseless.

FIREMEN'S GAMES.

DUNNVILLE, Aug. 3.—The firemen's jubilee held here to-day was a grand success, some ten companies competing. The races took place in the Driving Park this afternoon, where about 6000 visitors collected. The games were well contested, with the following result:

Hose Race, 300 yards—1 Caledonia, 2 Stratford. In this race Welland, through an error, did not score.

Hook and Ladder Race—1 Berlin, 2 Stratford.

Bicycle Mile Race—1 Stephens, 2 McDonald.

Trail Race—1, Capt. Patterson's team, Caledonia; 2, number 2 team from Caledonia.

Fancy Drill—1 Brantford Victoria Drill Corps.

100-yard Race—1 Robt. Hiscock, Caledonia; 2 R. C. Chewwright, Caledonia.

All seemed well pleased and satisfied with the result. The jubilee has proved a financial success and was one of the most successful gala days our town has ever had.

CRUELTY TO A CHILD.

A Hamilton Man and His Wife Charged With Illusing a Charity Girl.

HAMILTON, Aug. 3.—At the Police Court this morning John Scollard and Mrs. Margaret Scollard, his wife, were charged with assaulting and beating Harriet Costen, a 16-year-old girl who was sent out from one of the English children's homes to the Hamilton branch of the institution, and from there was put to service with Mr. Scollard. Harriet Costen's sister laid the complaint. She said that Mr. and Mrs. Scollard cruelly beat her sister and locked her up when every one else went out of the house. She also complained that she was not allowed to see her sister at Scollard's. The case was adjourned until next Tuesday in order that Mrs. Evans of the home here might be brought to court, she being an important witness.

Another Candidate for Discipline.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—It is rumored that the action of Rev. Dr. Curran in presiding over the meeting of guests at the picnic of 16th Assembly District, United Labor Party, last night, seated beside Dr. McGlynn, will result in his suspension by the church authorities. Archbishop Corrigan said this afternoon that he has the case under consideration.

HOT WEATHER AND HEALTH.

Peterborough has occasion to congratulate herself on the gratifying comparative absence of fatal diseases during the past terrible month of severe heat. However, the worst month is to come yet. It is probable that there will be an increased moisture of the atmosphere during August and the first part of September, and, if with that the hot weather continue, the consequences will be fatal to some persons. It will be noticed by readers of the daily journals, that there were, in some parts of the United States, many fatal cases of sunstroke, while Canada enjoyed remarkable immunity. The reason is given that the air of the United States, at the points referred to, was laden with moisture and thus rendered increasingly oppressive and exhausting. On the other hand the air of Canada, though warm, was clear and comparatively bracing. Medical men tell us that there will be probably an unhealthy season this fall and, to minimize the danger of disease and death, it will be necessary to pay the closest attention to abstinence and carefulness in diet, drink and cleanliness of person and premises. Well-water, especially, should be taken as sparingly as possible and that never without having been previously boiled. Boiling destroys the injurious effects of organic matter which it is feared is all too prevalent in our well-water, and destroys the germ liable to produce zymotic diseases, such as typhoid, etc. Acid and sub-acid fruits should form a liberal portion of the daily diet, and unripe fruits should be rigidly kept from children—adults who will not refrain from green fruit should take the consequences. Unripe fruits are a fatal factor in producing diarrhœal conditions which are usually so destructive of infantile life. Personal cleanliness and frequent bathing will keep the pores of the skin open and facilitate the excretary action of the skin, and assist the internal organs in carrying off effete matters, which, retained, tend to induce unhealthful conditions, and produce a favorable nucleus for the development of disease germs. Premises should be kept in a condition of the utmost possible cleanliness. All refuse or offal liable to decay will do so much more rapidly with the presence of great atmospheric heat and thus another source of disease is engendered. The Board of Health has its work pointed out to it, and its mandates should be fearlessly given and fearlessly carried out. Better a little grumbling at what may be considered too much zeal, than the sufferance of conditions tending to impair the health of the community and advance the death rate. Medical authorities forecast the probability of and danger of considerable disease of a typhoid type this fall. This probability and this danger will be greatly lessened, if not removed entirely, by strict and general attention on the part of our citizens to the laws of health.

THE Toronto Mail of the 28th says:—The Federal debt already represents a burden of over a million for every constituency in the Dominion, yet they do not seem to be in the least disturbed by this shameless auction of subsidies and appropriations that are to come out of the public chest.

Exceedingly warm and dry. Farmers report a hurried harvest, which is being well saved.

The account of the Battle of Lundy's Lane given in last week's EXAMINER, was very interesting to its readers. One of the most distinguished veterans taking part in carrying the colors there—viz, Capt Hancock—took up his abode here afterwards, and his remains now lie in Christ's Church Cemetery.

The Oddfellows' demonstration on the 9th and 10th will attract quite a few from here.

The cricket march between Peterborough Juniors and the Juniors here assisted by three of the Seniors, was one of the most interesting, and good form shown by both clubs, together with good conduct on the field. The long drive and bad crease accounted somewhat for the defeat of the visiting team.

The old time cricketers here say Peterborough always had a good club and have pleasant remembrances of the many contests during the last 25 years.

ACCIDENT.

While Mr. Peter Michels' milk rig was proceeding to the factory, Tuesday morning, the horses ran away. A lady, who was getting a ride up to the cross with the boy, is badly bruised up and the cap of her knee is broken. The boy narrowly escaped keeping his life.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY.

While Mr. John Scott, of Communication Road, was coming to the lake for a fish, in company with brother-in-law and brother, the hold-back gave way, the animal started kicking and threw all out but Jack, who kept in longer than it was safe. Then he was thrown out and bruised a little by the fall; the horse ran a couple of miles—the buggy was almost useless and was taken to Mr. Secco's shop in pieces.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

During the storm last week while Mr. C. McKonkey was working in Mr. Kelly's field the lightning struck a tree, and he was considerably shocked, but not seriously injured.

A NEW FISHING PLACE NO. 2.

An angling expert hailing from Peterborough, went on the lake to fish and fastened on what he expected was a wonderful 20-pounder, which succeeded in upsetting him out of the boat, but he hung on to that fish. Mr. George Westlake went out and saved that man and fish to shore. When they got the sea monster on shore it was found to be a bass, weighing five pounds. Not so bad for a green hand.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the large air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

The Sanian-Gaudaur Race.

The Associated Press asks the publication of the following:

"CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The report sent out by the Associated Press of the Gaudaur-Hanlan race, which took place July 23 at Pullman, Ill., in which J. A. St. John was charged with having ordered Gaudaur to lose, was incorrect in that particular and did Mr. St. John great injustice. The facts were that Mr. St. John ordered Gaudaur, regardless of the condition of the water, to obey the order of the referee and to win if possible. There is no reason to doubt that this race, like every other which Mr. St. John and Gaudaur have been connected with, was rowed strictly on the merits of the men. If was an error in judgment on the part of the referee to have sent the men out on rough water and in the gathering darkness. The oarsmen had no appeal from his order and were in no way responsible for the very unsatisfactory result."

Too Much Holiday for the Capitals.

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.—The exhibition lacrosse match to-day between the Capitals and Shamrocks was a surprise to the former, the Shamrocks taking three straights in fifteen, two and a half, and four and a half minutes, and giving the best exhibition of team play ever seen in Ottawa. The Capitals were a little weak Mallay being absent and two other members of the team having taken rather too much holiday before the game commenced.

The Frankfort Chess Tournament.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The international chess tournament has been concluded in Frankfort. Cook, Mackenzie of New York won the first prize, Englishman and Weiss divided the second and third prizes, and Bardeleben took the fourth prize.

Delaney, the jockey who rode Abraham in the steeplechase at Saratoga on Tuesday, was suspended for the balance of the season for his suspicious riding, the judges thinking that he did not try to win.

Gladstone on the Ocean Wave.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Mr. Gladstone, who goes to Hawarden this week, will start shortly for a month's cruise in Lord Wolverton's yacht Palatine. Mr. Gladstone will be in Scotland for some time during October, and is expected to visit Lord and Lady Aberdeen at Haddo, Lord and Lady Breadalbane at Taymouth and Lord and Lady Rosebery at Dalmeny.

As if by Magic.

This is always the case when Polson's NERVILINE is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world. Buy a bottle of Nerviline to-day and try its wonderful power of relieving pain of every description. Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in a house to meet a sudden attack of illness. Only 25c. a bottle. Sample bottles only 10c. at any drug store. 6dw31

An Old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly 30 years, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults. It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. 2w31d

A DYNAMITE THROWER.

An Attempt to Destroy a British Steamer at New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The Brooklyn Eagle says the police have unearthed a conspiracy aimed to blow up the British steamer Queen, of the National Line, this afternoon. He rowed up in a small boat alongside the Queen and threw a bottle containing some kind of explosive on board. An explosion followed which threw the man into the water. The bottle, however, did not explode as intended. The fellow was taken out of the fellow in a row boat. He had put out for the Jersey shore, but they captured him and brought him to police headquarters. He said he was one of a band of men who had adopted an organization having for its object the destruction with explosives of every vessel carrying the British flag.

The broken bottle was taken to Police Headquarters. It contained kerosene, naphtha and rags soaked in chemicals. The prisoner took it coolly. "I was thwarted in this," he said, "but there are plenty of others at work who will avenge the insult to American citizens and burn every vessel carrying the British flag." The prisoner gave the name of Conrad J. Mooney and said he lived at No. 207 Warren-street, Brooklyn. He was remanded until morning. Mooney told the police he formed one of a gang of men who had determined to burn every vessel entering the port carrying the British flag. The seizure of American vessels in Canada and the usurpation of all commerce by the English had induced him to join the band. A long double-edged knife was found in the man's pocket. The steamer was only slightly damaged.

THE EARTHQUAKE IN INDIANA.

The Earth Shake Five Feet. Much to the Horror of the Colored Population.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—A special from Evansville, Ind., says a gentleman from Hopkinsville says that the country about the scene of the earthquake is low and swampy, and almost inaccessible in places save by old beaten paths. Much of it is wild, and contains large dense woods. Golden Pond is a mere hamlet containing two settlements of negroes. On Monday night, about 6 o'clock, several of them felt the earth tremble, but thought nothing serious had occurred beyond a slight tremor, and after gossipping over it went to bed.

About 12 o'clock everybody was awakened by a sharp shock, and they had barely jumped to their feet when the earth, with a shaking, dizzy motion, suddenly sank a distance of five feet, carrying houses and terrified darkies with it. The negroes fell on their knees, and in frenzied tones prayed to the Lord to save them. A large area of tobacco and corn will be a total loss. Nearly all the cabins have been torn loose and are floating about in various parts, while household goods are mixed in inextricable confusion. Fortunately no lives have been lost, but the loss to property is incalculable.

'TIS A RISKY BUSINESS.

H. H. Powers of New York Lost $175,000 in Fourteen Days.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—H. H. Powers did not appear to-day, as was expected, but he sent money with which to pay back all the amounts received by him on Friday before he was compelled to lay down. A friend of his says that he has no money left and that the squaring of his accounts with Friday's purchases was all he could do. His great losses were in the stock market where he was operating on the bull side, and not in the privilege business. He lost $175,000 in the last fourteen days on his account in one office, and the last of his securities, $51,000 in Fort Worth bonds, he put up there in vain attempts to bull the market. At the office of Gould & Henry it was stated that neither member of the firm was down to-day and they had no statement to give out.

A BAD CHRISTIAN BROTHER.

In Custody for Stealing Gone From the Institute's Treasury.

QUEBEC, Aug. 3.—No little sensation was caused here this morning by the arrest of one of the brothers of the Christian Brothers' School, named Agathon Denamur, for the robbery of $600 from the treasurer of the institution. It appears that between Monday night and Tuesday morning the cash box in the school was broken open and $600 abstracted. Denamur left the school yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. He went to a certain clothing firm, and there divested himself of his robes, replacing them with a fine suit of grey tweed. He then made across the river, and boarded an outgoing Grand Trunk Railway train. The absence of Denamur aroused suspicion. A warrant was taken out and executed just as the train reached Chaudiere junction. He had over $700 in his possession. He was brought to the city and is now in the police station. He is 42 years old.

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

The Moon's Influence

upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The stock never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnam" and no other. 6dw31

HEATING
By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Heaters which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other heaters with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own heaters against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

Preparing for the Demonstration.

Mr. H. W. Watson has begun the decoration of the standing arch opposite the Golden Lion, and will proceed with the other arches at once. Something unusually brilliant is expected in this line. The decoration and internal arrangement of the Charlotte Street Skating Rink have also begun. The committee are determined to begin early and have everything done thoroughly.

Omissions.

A couple of omissions were made in the list of promotions in the Central School, published recently in the EXAMINER. C. Sheffield stood third among the promotees from Miss Nicholl's room to Mr. Scott's. The grammar paper of Arthur Simm was misplaced at the time of the examination, and his name was not, as it should have been, in the list of those who were advanced from Miss Perry's room to Miss Hall's.

A Drawing Card.

Probably the most drawing card the committee have secured for the Oddfellows' demonstration, beginning next Tuesday, is the advent of the Victoria Rifles' Band, of Montreal, comprising 45 pieces. This band is acknowledged to be the finest in Canada, each player being an accomplished musician, and the opportunities offered of hearing the best band and orchestra music ever rendered in Peterborough should not fail to attract immense crowds to the two promenade concerts to be given by the band in the P.A.A. grounds, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. In addition the Montreal Caution will give an exhibition drill and the Highland pipers in costume will render selections on their bagpipes and do sword and other dancing. The price of admission is only 25 cents.

The Insurance Rates.

A letter has been received from the Secretary of the Fire Underwriters' Association, asking for official notification of the town's compliance with the demands of the Association, as to the necessary additions to be made to our fire system in order to secure the desired insurance rating in class "B." These will be completed in a few weeks—the horses have been procured, and are stalled in the fire station, the completion of the electric alarm system is dependent upon the expected early arrival of the alarm boxes, and the Babcock extinguishers will also soon be here. The letter states that as soon as the demands are finally complied with, the town will immediately be placed in class "B." Mr. A. McNeil, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, went to Toronto this morning on business, principally in connection with this matter.

The Golden Lion.

Very often a mere alteration in the internal arrangement of a store will effect such an apparent increase of space and convenience that almost double the amount of business can be carried on. Such a change is being made in the already spacious "Golden Lion" store. The shop will be widened by several feet half its length, and the large staircase ascending from the middle of the floor in the rear placed against the wall at the right hand side, thus leaving a large space which will be used as the millinery show room, with a trimming room immediately behind. The whole upstairs will then be devoted to the carpet, house furnishings and dressmaking departments. This alteration will be of great convenience to lady purchasers, who will thus be able to buy everything in the millinery, dress goods or fancy line on the one floor. A large increase in business has rendered these changes necessary, and when completed the Golden Lion will, it is expected, have a greater extent of store-room than any in town at present. Mr. Fair reports a rushing trade even during this oppressive and anti-business weather, which he attributes to the low prices of his goods, and with the increased facilities to be secured by the proposed alterations he expects to "boom" this fall.

The Jack o' Clubs.

A series of startling war-whoops emanating from the whiskeyed throat of a short, squat, sturdy son of toil, who is well known about town as "the guinea pig" and to the police as "the Jack o' Clubs," frightened the people on George street a little before ten o'clock this morning into the belief that a murder was on deck somewhere. There wasn't, though. The howl was made by the aforesaid "guinea pig," (whose real name is not known to the police) writhing, struggling and shouting frantically in the firm grip of Acting-Chief Adams, who took his little man along with a great deal of trouble. It seems that the fellow had been annoyed by some boys with a large mud turtle, which he took away from them, but was obliged to release again on the interference of some by-standers, who had to use a little force. This aroused his ire, and he gathered a handful of stones and began throwing them about (or threatening to) recklessly, to the imminent danger of smashing the plate glass windows of McClelland's jewelry store. Acting Chief Adams was right there and laid hold of him. The "guinea pig's" boisterous bewailings quickly attracted a large crowd, which watched with much interest and apparent gusto the "fun," as they termed the contest. But right was might in this case, and the obstreperous prisoner was finally landed in the cells, bellowing like a bull, from a truck on which he had been carted half the distance. As the prisoner was in no state to undergo trial this morning, he was remanded till to-morrow.

A Screhead's Complaint.

The Toronto Mail says:—"On Monday, August 1st, at Peterborough the Peterborough Lacrosse Club defeated the Orillia Juniors, winning 4 games to Orillias 1; time of play about two hours. It was hardly by good play that the victory was won. The people of Peterborough who attended the match were treated to one of the worst exhibitions of slugging the Orillias have had during their experience as players, Stewart and Washburn of their team being so badly hurt that they will not be able to work for the next week. The Orillia Juniors played at a great disadvantage by three of their best players being absent, these accompanying the team to Ottawa. Both teams arranged to meet at Peterborough on Monday morning, but by some mismanagement the Seniors continued on their way to Toronto on Saturday night, the places of the above players having to be filled by boys who have not played even at practice before this season. If the Peterborough lacrosse team will accept a challenge to play a return match for a silver cup valued at $25, which will be supplied by the Orillia team, on grounds to be mutually decided on, against Orillia juniors proper, the latter will endeavor to convince them that they can play the game as it should be played." The screhead who wrote the above article knows as well as anyone that his statement about the "worst exhibition of slugging," etc., is the veriest buncombe. But 'twas ever thus. When a team gets beaten, innumerable are the excuses accounting for the defeat. If the Riversides, though, accept the challenge, they should make it a point to exclude from the Orillia Juniors any members of the Senior team, as the above article practically implies that the "two or three of their best players" were members also of the Senior team, and played against the Ottawa Capitals.

Total number of boxes 2054

The cable quotations were 50s. The bidding ran up from 8½ to 9 11-16 for Peterborough section by Mr. Brintnell, which was refused, the Peterborough men declining anything less than 10c. An offer of 9½ for Victoria section by Mr. Leary was also rejected. It was decided to hold another meeting next Tuesday to dispose of the cheese, the Lindsay men being granted the privilege of selling off the board in the meantime.

Mr. Cruess, of Lindsay, was dissatisfied with the prices offered for Victoria cheese, which was always below Peterborough. This was explained to him to be due to the fact that it cost 5c. more per 130 lbs to ship from Lindsay than from Peterborough.

Personal

The Belleville Ontario says:—"Mr. T. L. Bayeur intends selling out his fine stock of boots and shoes preparatory to leaving for Peterborough, where he has purchased the stock of Mr. J. J. McAleer, at a heavy reduction. Mr. Bayeur has been long and favorably known to the public in this city and county as a business man of integrity and probity. His career here has been that of an honest, upright man, and a large section of the public, with whom, personally, he has always been a favorite from his obliging, genial manner, will regret his departure, while they wish him every success."

Mr. W. A. Toshick, of Almonte, who formerly occupied a position in the firm of Fair & VanEvery, is in town. He is in poor health, and is en route to Muskoka to try the effects of the bracing climate of that district upon his weakened constitution.

The Guelph Mercury says:—"Mrs. W. J. Wiley, Mrs. A. Campbell and daughter, left this morning for Peterborough, to visit friends there."

Off to Grimsby.

About 400 persons attended the Firemens' excursion, by C. P. R., to Grimsby Park this morning. A special train of six cars conveyed them to Toronto, where the steamer Rupert was taken to the Park. The run from Peterborough to Union station occupied just two hours and twenty minutes—an unusually rapid run. The brigade band accompanied the excursion.

A New Bridge.

The Grand Trunk railway authorities, it is said, intend replacing the old wooden bridge over the river Trent at Campbellford with a modern structure of iron. The Herald says: "With the completion of the structure, we believe the train service is to be increased to twenty or thirty trains a day. Through trains will be run from Belleville, and the line will become an excellent outlet for the escape of freight moving east and west, covering the distance between Toronto and Belleville."

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,250,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years' extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

THE OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.

THE GOVERNMENT TO CALL FOR NEW TENDERS.

A Statement of the Revenue and Expenditure for the Month of July—The Work on the Welland Canal Enlargement Pronounced Satisfactory.

OTTAWA, Aug 4.—It is understood that the Government has decided not to entertain either of the two tenders received some time ago for the carrying of the Atlantic mail, neither of which conformed to the terms of the advertisement. New tenders will be called for, probably on Saturday. The terms of the advertisement will be similar to those of the present contract with the Allan Line, that is, for a weekly service between Liverpool and the St. Lawrence in summer and Halifax in the winter, but a higher rate of speed will be required than is at present obtained.

This has been the hottest day of the season, the thermometer climbing up to 96°.

Two hundred and eighty-three immigrants arrived at Ottawa last month, of whom 100 were laborers and eleven servant girls. The arrivals this year have been 1433, an increase of 329 over the same period last year.

The Ottawa River has reached its low water stage this year a month earlier than usual. The crops in this vicinity are suffering for want of rain. All grains are ripening too quickly. The hay crop was exceptionally large and good and potatoes promise to be better than last year, but are suffering for rain.

Mayor Stewart, who has just returned from a visit to Montreal, is delighted with the cremateries for refuse and night soil which he inspected and intends advocating the establishment of one or more for Ottawa.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, has returned from a visit of inspection to St. Vincent de Paul and Kingston penitentiaries, to which latter institution it was his first visit. There is no connection between his visit to Kingston, and the application for the release of Black, one of the five men sentenced some two years ago to imprisonment for life for rape committed on Miss Tubman of Ottawa. Application for the release of Black has been filed, but no action has been taken as yet.

There was a meeting of the Treasury Board to-day, and there will be a meeting of council to-morrow, as there is now a quorum of ministers in town, Messrs. Thompson, Costigan, McLelan and Caron.

The story telegraphed to certain American papers that a council was held at Dalhousie on Monday, at which the Behring seizure and matters relative to the fisheries were discussed, is somewhat spoiled by the fact that no council meeting has been held at Dalhousie at all.

The Gas Company here is cutting its rates down, owing to the competition of the Chaudiere Electric Light Company, which is putting the incandescent system into shops and private houses at the moderate rate of five cents per lamp per night, or ten lights for forty cents. A number of business places which have been using the arc system are substituting the incandescent.

Col. Chamberlin, Queen's Printer, and wife have gone to the eastern townships on a vacation trip.

The following is a statement of the revenue and expenditure for the month of July on account of consolidated fund: Customs, $1,537,607; Excise, $391,173; Post Office, $191,840; Public Works, including railways, $58,382; miscellaneous $28,078; total revenue, $2,207,080; expenditure, $2,776,584. Compared with the same month last year this is a falling off of about $300,000, which is almost entirely in Customs and Public Works, the former being $166,367 less than last July, which is accounted for by the fact that unusually large importations of iron were made in June, all contracts made prior to the increase of duties being rushed to completion, so as to get the goods into Canada before the expiration of the clause in the Customs Act allowing goods actually contracted for at the time of the change in duties to come in under the old tariff up to June 30. The expenditure shows a decrease of $170,364 from last July. The first month of the fiscal year always shows a deficit, as it must be remembered that the half-yearly payments of the provincial subsidies, amounting to about two million of dollars, are paid in advance in that month, besides which a large amount of interest on the debt is payable in that month.

Two hundred and twenty-three patents were issued last month.

The Welland Canal enlargement is virtually finished and has been found to work satisfactorily.

Several ranchers who have purchased large numbers of cattle in Montana to drive on to the Canadian ranges are endeavoring to get the Government to relax the recently passed regulations by which all American cattle coming into the Northwest Territories must be quarantined for ninety days. By these regulations two townships, one at Wood Mountain and the other between the international boundary and Milk River, have been set apart for such purposes.

A Sardine Fisher Seized.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 4.—Yesterday the captain of the steam cruiser Intrepid seized the fishing boat Gold Dust, belonging to Blanchard, sardine packer, at Eastport, Me., while taking in fish at Fair Haven, Deer Island. This boat has been running all season without having once complied with the law by entering and clearing at the custom houses. She was towed to St. Andrew's, and orders from Ottawa are awaited.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Organization of the Summer School—Committee on Sharpgard.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.

A Summer School of Music began its next annual session in the Normal School buildings last Monday. It has been established under the auspices of the Education Department, from which it will receive a grant. This step was taken owing to the general desire expressed by teachers and parents for better musical training, and singing in the public and high schools. The Summer School of Music is intended to instruct public school teachers in the art of teaching vocal music in their classes. Some time ago Mr. S. H. Preston, teacher of music in the Normal School, was appointed director with all necessary power to arrange the details of the session. The services of Mr. H. E. Holt, instructor of music in the Boston school, were secured. Mr. Holt took charge last Monday and will conduct the classes for ten days. His appearance in this province as the instructor of a totally new method of vocal teaching is likely to be followed by a revolution in the art of music teaching in the public schools of Ontario. His system has been adopted in the Boston public schools. His method is to discard the old system of teaching by note, and train the pupils to sing as the first preliminary to acquiring the art. After the vocal exercises the pupils are shown by notes what they were instructed to sing. In other words, the professor's method of teaching begins where the tonic-sol-fa and staff note systems end.

The present class is composed of about 150 teachers, hailing from all parts of the province. So delighted and impressed are they with Professor Holt's instruction and methods that at a meeting of the class held yesterday afternoon the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

That the Minister of Education be requested to establish examinations for teachers who teach music in schools to insure systematic methods and thorough teaching, and the certificates be granted only to those who have passed a practical examination.

A committee was afterwards appointed to wait upon the Minister to further the aim of the resolution. The class is also receiving instruction from Messrs. H. G. Collins and W. E. Haslam in their special departments.

High Constable Bissonette of Montreal was at the Queen's yesterday with an unbacked warrant for McGarigle. He was asked if any more Sheppard warrants were expected up shortly. "I do not think that there will be any more trouble for Mr. Sheppard," was the reply. "I was against any further action being taken myself, and would not have come up with the warrant at all only my orders were such that I had no recourse but to obey. I felt and feel extremely sorry for Mr. Sheppard myself, and if I saw him I would tell him so. There was no use pushing the matter any further. Quebec and Ontario want to live in peace with each other and avoid all causes of discord."

Last night it was reported that there was a considerable improvement in Mr. Booth's condition. Several times during the day there were glimpses of consciousness, the sufferer momentarily recognising persons around his bed, and then relapsing into unconsciousness. His vitality was also a little stronger. It is a fortnight to-day since he met with his accident.

Yesterday, shortly before noon, John Ryan, a laborer nearly 60 years of age and an old pensioner, met with a terrible death by falling from a building sixty-three feet high. At Queen-street and Northcote-avenue four large shops are in course of erection, and Ryan was here employed as a laboror by Messrs. Duthie & Sons, felt-roofing contractors. Whilst on the roof he either over-reached himself or stumbled just as a pailful of gravel was drawn to the top, his duty being to receive it. He gave a loud scream and in a moment after was laid a lifeless corpse on the gravel heap beneath. Death was instantaneous. The body was frightfully mangled. Ryan had only commenced work there that morning. His body was conveyed in an express van to his home in Hickory-street in the West End. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Sir Alexander Campbell is expected back from his summer trip on Sept. 1, and it is said he will entertain Lord and Lady Lansdowne during their visit for the opening of the Industrial Exhibition. It is hardly likely that the grounds will be in readiness for His Excellency. Some alterations are being made in the furnishing of the interior, and the drains have received a much needed overhauling.

Capt. Law, R.N., is the new A.D.C., and Mr. Vernon the Private Secretary. Both of these gentlemen are in England at present: but that important personage, the housekeeper, is in residence and busy superintending necessary alterations.

The Canadian Shorthand Society will hold its next annual meeting on Aug. 13. One of the features of the meeting will be a "complimentary tea," followed by a "complimentary concert" tendered by Messrs. Bengough & Brooks.

IN THE BRITISH HOUSE.

The Visit of Mgr. Persico, the Papal Envoy, to Ireland.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—In the Commons this evening Thomas M. Sandys, Conservative, asked whether the Government was aware that the object of Mgr. Persico in visiting Ireland was principally to make a political, though nominally a religious, enquiry into the condition of the country. His question was met with derisive cheers by the Parnellites.

Hon. W. H. Smith said the Government was not cognizant of a Papal mission, having had no communication from the Pope on the subject. So far as the Government was concerned Mgr. Persico was a private individual who was visiting Ireland for reasons best known to himself. [Parnellite cheers.]

King-Horman, in reply to Patrick O'Brien with reference to the alleged watching by a detective of Mr. P. A. Collins of Boston, denied that Mr. Collins had been watched. In accordance with the existing practice the baggage of Mr. Collins upon his arrival in Ireland was searched in common with that of other persons.

A New Scheme For Ireland.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a new Home Rule scheme purporting to have been accepted by the Liberal leaders. This scheme gives Ireland a national legislature and executive. There is to be no separation of Ulster. Irish members will continue to sit in the Imperial Parliament in their present numbers. The powers of the Irish Parliament shall be delegated, matters to be controlled in Dublin being clearly defined and also subject to revision by the Imperial Parliament. The appointment of judges to remain in office fifteen years is to be vested in the Imperial Government, and afterward vested in the Irish Government. The police are to be similarly treated. Customs and excise are to remain under Imperial control. The proportion of the Irish quota to the Imperial expenditure shall not be more than one-fifteenth. The land question is left to the Irish Parliament. It is doubtful whether this statement is official. The statement is valuable, however, as indicating the line of the amended policy of Messrs. Morley, Trevelyan and Harcourt, which is probably assented to by Mr. Gladstone, and satisfactory to Liberals generally.

A Retired States Consul Dies From Injuries Received in the St. Thomas Disaster.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 4.—Hon. Allen Francis, United States Consul, died very suddenly at 12 o'clock last night. This adds another victim to the list of the deaths resulting from the late railway accident. He was knocked down and seriously injured by the hose reel at that time. His death was quite unexpected, as he was apparently improving, and passed a good day yesterday. The immediate cause of death was some affection of the heart.

MOONEY MEANT MISCHIEF.

A DYNAMITER'S OUTFIT FOUND IN HIS TRUNK.

It is Believed He Made Chemical Experiments in the Bath-Room at His Boarding-House—He Says He is Employed by The Irish World.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Thomas J. Mooney, who threw a bottle containing explosives on the deck of the steamship Queen yesterday afternoon, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court. In his trunk were found two pieces of gaspipe, packages of powder, sulphur, phosphorous, crystals of chloride of potassium, several glass tubes and some blasting caps for Atlas powder, besides clothes and note books. Several yards of fuse and a box of draughtsmen instruments completed the list. The pipes were of heavy brass of unequal lengths, and at about one-third of the distance from one end of each was a cock which the police did not attempt to turn to-day. The shank of the cock was made of soft metal that could be eaten away by acid and placed in a smaller chamber and thus explode the contents of the larger. Capt. Gastlin, who made the examination, remarked, "Mooney was ready to blow up a fleet." He was remanded until this afternoon.

Mooney's room underwent careful examination, and an examination was also made of the bath room in which, Mooney's landlady said, he spent much of his time. The paint and tin were eaten by chemicals, and the place had undoubtedly been used as a laboratory. The landlady told the officers that her tenant occupied the room last Christmas and always paid his rent promptly. He said he was a collector for The Irish World. Mooney was brought into court at 2.30 p.m.

Twenty feet of waterproof fuse, taken from Mooney's trunk, was laid upon the desk in the Court, together with many glass tubes. The detectives said these were part of Mooney's "infernal mechanism."

Then Mooney said he was an inventor and that these were part of his experimental materials; that he is now engaged on a torpedo boat and that he had received letters from the Secretary of the Navy about the torpedo boat. He had, he said, also been in communication with the Secretary of the French Navy. He had not yet secured a patent and did not want his business exposed.

There were also produced in court a package of acid, a box of 160 triple force 25 calibre blasting caps, a package of sugar and a package of chlorate of potash and a brass faucet machine for filling lamps with acid.

"For every blow the English gave the American flag I will give another as long as I live," said Mooney.

He was locked up to await examination as to his sanity.

A WATER FAMINE IMMINENT.

There are Only Seven Inches of Water in the London Reservoir.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Engineer Stringer of the waterworks telephoned Chairman Muirhead at 8.30 last night that he had measured the depth of water in the reservoir and found it to contain only seven inches, and suggested that the commissioners at once order the cutting off of all lawn services, street watering and every service which could be dispensed with without occasioning public inconvenience. The water remaining in the reservoir at the hour named would not last half an hour in the event of a fire breaking out, and the citizens will thus see the dangerous position in which property is placed by the continuance of other than the regular domestic supply.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Two Accidents on British War Ships on the Downs.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The naval manœuvres took place to-day off the mouth of the River Thames. The attacking squadron operated on the Downs and with a force of marines and blue jackets who were landed from the vessels captured the entrance to the Thames and the river Medway. During the manœuvres a Nordenfeldt gun burst on board the torpedo boat Curlew, and several seamen were seriously injured. One of the guns on board the iron armor-plated ship Black Prince also burst and injured the seamen.

THE BURIAL OF DUPRETIS.

The Deceased Italian Prime Minister Refused the Rites of the Church.

ROME, Aug. 1.—The funeral of the late Prime Minister Dupretis took place to-day at Stradella. Twenty thousand persons were present. King Humbert and others sent wreathes of flowers to be placed on the coffin. There was no religious ceremony, the clergy having been ordered to refuse the rites of the Church, owing to the fact that M. Dupretis died without having received the last sacraments.

THE PURSUIT OF M'GARIGLE.

Bissonette Does Not Seem to Have Much Faith With Montreal Warrants.

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 4.—There has been considerable activity at Police Headquarters during the past two or three days respecting the fugitive McGarigle of Chicago, who was traced to this city, and is now not far distant somewhere on the line of the Welland Canal, awaiting the arrival of the schooner Blake, which reached Port Colborne this morning bound for the lower lakes. A host of detectives and reporters have been in hot pursuit, but so far their efforts have been in vain. The crime upon which the extradition of McGarigle would be sought is that of forgery, but so far as the public know there have been no steps taken to that end by those charged with the vindication of the law in Chicago. The case upon which he is sought now is a seven year old charge of defamation of character, preferred by a broker in Montreal named Baxter. The case is now revived for the purpose of holding McGarigle until such time as the Chicago people could devise means for his extradition.

Mr. J. N. Greenshields, Public Prosecutor of Montreal, and Mr. Bissonette, High Bailiff of the same city, arrived here from Toronto, and were met by a Montreal detective, who has been staying here since Tuesday last. They were armed with a warrant issued by the Commissioners' Court, and their object on arrival here was to get it endorsed by the proper authority. They applied first to Judge Senkler, but that gentleman declined to have anything to do with it, the case being no doubt considered somewhat fussy. They next tried Police Magistrate Comfort, but he too refused and fell back upon the ground that he would not endorse the warrant unless he was assured by the Attorney-General or his deputy that it would be proper for him to do so.

Greenshields and Bissonette then thought of getting some other local magistrate to endorse their warrants, but whether they did so or not we cannot say. What they did was to drive to Port Dalhousie, and left by the steamer Empress of India to consult the Deputy Attorney-General, Mr. Mowat being absent in England. So the case stands at present.

As to the whereabouts of McGarigle, measures have been so well taken to conceal his location, that none who assume knowledge on that point know anything about it. It is pretty well established that McGarigle arrived here on Tuesday afternoon and left immediately under friendly escort for Port Colborne, where he remained over night. Since then it would be a safe guess to locate him anywhere along the line of the canal, from Thorold up. Chief of Police Ouimette seems to have been pretty active in the affair, and his information of McGarigle's movements proved to have been very accurate.

That McGarigle can be held by the Montrealer's warrant is not probable, supposing it should be endorsed. His release upon a writ of habeas corpus would likely follow.

Pinkerton is Not After McGarigle.

HAMILTON, Aug. 4.—Mat Pinkerton, with his wife and child, left to-day for Niagara Falls. Just before leaving he told The World correspondent that his visit had nothing to do with the McGarigle case and that he was traveling solely for pleasure. He complained that great injustice had been done him in the press.

Mat Pinkerton, who is a cousin of the famous Pinkertons, is a fine-looking man, tall and dark complexioned.

A BIG FIRE AT BALTIMORE.

Several Business Establishments Burned Out; Loss $500,000.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 4.—Fire to-day destroyed the extensive cracker bakery of James D. Mason & Sons, with all its contents and machinery, and Henderson, Law & Co.'s cracker, cake and candy factory. William Schulte, foreman of engine 12, was killed, and Chief Engineer Hendrick was seriously injured. The flames spread to the stove warehouse of Liebrandt, McDowell & Co., which was destroyed, and to the agricultural warehouse of N. Whitman & Sons, the upper part of which was burned out. On the left side of the building in which the fire originated, the book and stationery store of T. Newton, Kurtz & Son, was burned, and all the upper floors of the grain and produce commission house of E. Bowns & Co., were destroyed. The entire damage is estimated at upwards of $500,000.

MURDER BY A BUTCHER.

A Horrible Occurrence in St. Ann's Market, Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—John Carroll and D. O'Connor, two butchers in St. Ann's Market, have not been agreeing very well lately, and this afternoon O'Connor went up to Carroll and said he was doing all the business and he had better close his stall. This roused Carroll, who seized a carving knife and rushed at O'Connor and cut his throat to such extent that he died immediately after. Carroll has been arrested on a charge of murder.

THE ANNUAL SESSIONS.

We have been requested to insert the following article taken from the Dominion Oddfellow of July 29th :—

"In a few days the Grand Encampment and Grand Lodge of Ontario will complete their annual sessions in the pretty town of Peterborough. This is the first time these bodies have met in the territory north of Toronto; and there is no doubt the event will be one of importance to the Order in general, but especially to those in this locality.

If we are to judge from the extensive preparations made by the Peterborough brethren, it is safe to predict that the occasion will be exceedingly pleasant for all who may be privileged to be present. Oddfellows and citizens will be united in extending to their visitors a warm-hearted hospitality. They will not simply leave the latch-string outside, the door will be wide open.

But the session will not be devoted to pleasure alone; though it will be a pleasurable one. There will be some work to do, which we hope will be well done. Important amendments to the Constitution will be presented both in the Grand Encampment and in the Grand Lodge, relating to the mode of electing officers. We have already expressed an opinion in reference to this matter, and do not intend discussing it now. The lodges have had opportunity to consider it; and there will be further opportunity for its discussion during the session. Whether adopted or not, there is no doubt that the thorough ventilation of the question will be a benefit. The good work of the meeting of any society is not always measured by the amount of legislation. The discussion of important questions, the dissemination of new ideas, the spread of knowledge, all these have an educational influence on the society which can only result in good.

Another grave question will come before the Grand Lodge in the consideration of the report of the special committee on Widows' Benefits. This is a matter of vital importance to the Order. Many lodges have suffered seriously from the effects of our Ontario custom of paying annuities; and some of the older have been compelled to compromise their annuitants in order to save themselves from bankruptcy. We cannot afford, for the reputation of the Order, to allow this state of things to continue. We understand that the committee will take strong ground against the payment of continuous unlimited annuities; and will recommend that, if paid at all, they should be limited to a certain number of years; and that special provision be made for them in the dues and admission fees.

Considerable time will doubtless be occupied in the election of officers, to say nothing of the time spent in talking it over before the election comes off. In the Grand Encampment, if we are to judge from the usual custom, the principal officers will move a step, with the exception of the Grand Scribe and Grand Treasurer who may remain where they are. It is quite possible, therefore, that Bro. Sinclair, of Petrolea, may be the next Grand Patriarch; Bro. Fraser, of Hamilton, Grand High Priest, and Bro. Moore, of Peterborough, Grand Senior Warden. For Grand Junior Warden there will doubtless be a number of worthy Patriarchs put in nomination. The retiring Grand Representative, Col. Oliver, has, it is said, been asked to accept a re-nomination for the position he now holds; and the names of the Retiring Grand Patriarchs, Bro. Frank Riddell, and P. G. P. James Woodyatt, are also mentioned in this connection. May the best man be selected.

In the Grand Lodge it has always been the custom to place the Deputy Grand Master in nomination for Grand Master, and the Grand Warden, for Deputy. No doubt that will be done on the present occasion; and whether there will be any opposition to Bros. Reid and Robinson we have not heard. Rumor has not mentioned any names in connection with the offices of Grand Secretary, Grand Treasurer and Grand Representative, other than the present incumbents. But there may be any number of candidates when election day comes. In regard to all these offices we have no candidates to recommend; but we have this advice to give: Let the office seek the man, not the man the office; vote for the man you think best fitted for the position, irrespective of personal feelings. The good of the Order should be the object sought, and not the benefit of any particular individual. Try to put in office men who will do the work of the position well, who will be a credit to the Order, and of whom no one shall have cause to be ashamed. If our readers will follow this advice, The Dominion Oddfellow will be proud of the new officers—no matter what their names may be.

Untagged Dogs.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

Who is it that walks the streets of our town without noticing the scores of dogs, often in droves, minus the tag required by law? No by-law is, I believe, more quietly and completely ignored by our police force, although the members of it have been directed to strictly enforce its provisions and to prosecute for neglect, and to destroy all dogs found untagged. As a result, an epidemic of poisoning may be expected, for people will be justified in doing something that will rid them of a pest that destroys their flowerbeds and renders night hideous.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. The Baseball Scores—Other Affairs in the World of Sports.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.

Binghamton's boy pitcher fared badly at the hands of the Torontos yesterday afternoon. They slugged his curves with a freedom that was astonishing, Kearns, Slattery and Shepherd knocking out homes, whilst the other members of the team rapped out singles and two-baggers. In the seventh inning ten men went to the bat, five of the seven runs scored being earned. The visitors managed to avert a shut out by scoring in the last inning through Decker's muff of Lyon's fly. The Canoeists at Stony Lake.

STONY LAKE, Ont., Aug. 4, via Lakefield.—Members continue to arrive at the Northern Division camp of the American Canoe Association. Mr. J. M. Irwin and Judge Weller of Peterboro are at a crib near the store. Mr. E. B. Edwards is at his house on Juniper Island. Mrs. Murton of Hamilton is also crib and Ladies' Bay with a party of ladies from Peterboro. Rev. Mr. Neale and his son, Dr. Charles A. Nolde, are here from New York State. Col. Harry Rogers, the Vice-Commodore in charge of the Northern Division, has his family on Mayeta Island. Four men are here from Kingston, and two from Hamilton. On Tuesday and Wednesday evening there were rousing camp fires at the main camp.

To-day there was a general cruise to Eel Creek.

To-morrow there will be a review of the fleet and an illuminated procession on the water in the evening. The races are fixed for Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

The Ottawa Regatta.

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—Everything promises well for the regatta on Saturday. Ryan of the Bayside, Toronto, who is the favorite for the senior single sculls, arrived this morning and was out for a spin this afternoon. The Winnipegs, senior and junior, Argonauts, junior, and Ottawas, senior and junior, were all out to-day. [illegible] appear pertinently satisfied with [illegible]

[illegible] which some parties [illegible] entirely disappeared, as the [illegible] and the current so slack that it is hard to tell which is upstream and which down.

The only drawback has been some slabs and sawdust, but as all the lumbermen have promised that no more slabs shall be allowed to go [illegible] after this race there will be no cause of complaint on that score.

Mr. Logie Rolled High.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—Robert Logie, of the insolvent firm of Logie & Co., was again under examination to-day, but it was confined to filing a statement of his speculations with one firm of stock brokers by which it appears that he was carrying on margin upwards of $1,300,000 of wheat, pork, etc. Other statements of a similar nature are to be filed.

As If by Magic.

This is always the case when Polson's NERVILINE is applied to any kind of pain; it is sure to disappear as if by magic. Stronger, more penetrating, and quicker in action than any other remedy in the world. Buy a bottle of Nerviline to-day and try its wonderful power of relieving pain of every description. Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is just the thing to have in a house to meet a sudden attack of illness. Only 25c. a bottle. Sample bottles only 10c. at any drug store. 6dw31

An Old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly 30 years, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults. It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. 2w31d

PARTY TUNES.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.

What at one time threatened to become a serious disturbance took place in front of the display and the playing of party tunes in the city last night. The Emerald Benevolent Union Band, which hails from over the Don, received an unfavorable [illegible] evidence that there were those [illegible] monts in the garge of yellow ochre and hope who are always to be found on the heels of a band. This in no way daunted the youthful drummers and fifers who played with spirit and disregarded the hootings of the Orange contingent. The police detected signs of a scrimmage and stopped a good number of unsympathetic hangers-on from crossing Don bridge.

Nothing serious occurred until a good part of Queen-street had been traversed, when an Orange contingent was met. The hootings were mutual and hearty, and it seemed as though "the fog of war" had come. At all events there was little more of peace and harmony, for the mob increased as the route entered more into the centre of the city. Yonge-street was crowded with the youthful disturbers, and the hooting drowned the music of the band. Then the mob surged round the performers and prevented their playing. The inevitable result occurred, and scrimmages became plentiful. Several encounters occurred in Yonge-street, King-street, Jarvis-street, Duchess-street and Queen-street; in fact, all along the line of march. No one appeared to be seriously hurt; and, whilst the mob took sides or watched the sparring, the band was enabled to get all the better along. In Queen-street six policemen appeared on the scene, and marched abreast behind the band, thereby interposing between them and the groaning crowd behind. Several ineffectual attempts were made to drive the mob back, but all seemed inclined to see more of the fun.

When nearly at the bridge over the Don the mob made a rush for this strategic point with the ostensible object of "holding the bridge" against the passage of the youthful Emeralds; but the police were prompt and energetic, and were there before the crowd. Allowing the band and their champions to pass, the constables drew up in line, and, brandishing their truncheons, turned the tables on the mob and disputed their passage over the bridge. This manœuvre had not been calculated on, and exasperation found vent in stone-throwing. No one appeared to be seriously hurt, but some persons were bruised and had their hats damaged. A parting volley of groans was given, and then the police worked the crowd back along Queen-street, where more wordy and fisticuff encounters occurred.

Another Canadian Jockey Killed.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—At the annual picnic of the Hackmen's Union here this afternoon Osborne Morton, the well-known colored jockey, was riding one of the horses in a race, when the animal stumbled and fell, throwing Morton to the ground. The next horse trampled on him. When picked up it was found that his collar bone was broken and he had received internal injuries, so severe that he died while being transferred in the ambulance to the hospital. Morton was the owner of several race horses and the thoroughbred sire Quito by which he made his living. Among his horses were Sir George and Tantrum, both being winners at the Quebec Turf Club meeting in June. Morton was about 45 years old. He has been in Canada about thirty years and has ridden many important races.

The Light House Supply Steamer Ashore.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 4.—The supply steamer Canada, which is supplying the Canadian light houses of the Upper Lakes, ran hard aground at Goulais Point, about fifty miles west of Sault Ste. Marie and sent here for assistance this afternoon, which will start at once to release her. The crew and passengers are perfectly safe and the Canada will probably be on her way again to-night.

Father Paradis Acquitted.

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—Father Paradis has won the first round in the log fight between himself and Gilmour & Co., the case brought against him for defacing marks having been dismissed with costs by the Hull Recorder, neither the prosecutors nor their counsel appearing in Court. Father Paradis announces his intention of pushing his case against the Gilmours for stealing logs.

Indians in War Paint.

AITKIN, Minn., Aug. 4.—One hundred Indians in war paint are camped near here trying to secure the release of the squaws who were arrested yesterday. The citizens near the camp are preparing for flight. Serious trouble is feared.

An Insurance Company Closing Out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Sterling Fire Insurance Company has decided to close up its affairs at once, owing to the demoralized condition of the insurance business. The company had a capital of $350,000. The stockholders will be paid in full.

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

The Moon's Influence

upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnams" and no others. 6dw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tally and all druggists.

N. WASHINGTON, M.D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR.—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and to-day the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all those troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

GREAT BONA-FIDE CLEARING SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, TRUNKS AND VALISES, IS BOOMING!

The Goods are Going Out Rapid. Our System of conducting the Sale meets with general Approval. ☞ Come with the Crowds.

Having decided to retire from the Boot and Shoe Business, I have placed my $8000 Stock of Boots and Shoes on the market at actual Cost. Ten Thousand Pairs of Boots and Shoes must be Cleared Out within the next TWO MONTHS. I have made arrangements to enter into another branch of business on Sept. 15th, and have decided to sell my entire Stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Valises, etc., AT ACTUAL COST. Remember this is a Genuine Clearing Out Sale, and Great Bargains may be looked for. Any Goods remaining on the above date will be either removed from Town or sold en bloc, as the Stock must be Cleared. The public have shown their appreciation of my way of doing business for the past five years. The Goods have always been marked in plain figures, and there has been only one price to all. Our prices have always been as Low as the Lowest. All parties attending this Clearing Sale will be able to see the Reduction at a glance, as the Reduced Price will be plainly marked underneath the Original Prices.

THE STOCK IS ALL FRESH AND WELL ASSORTED.

Come early and secure the Choice of the Stock at WHOLESALE PRICES. Our shop, from the Eighth of July, will be open every evening till Nine o'clock. Don't Mistake the Place: BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM, West Side of George Street, Sign of the RED FLAG.

School Board.

A meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening. The estimates for the year will be presented and dealt with.

Fruit Jars.

In canning fruit, it is absolutely necessary that you should have good reliable jars. These may be obtained at the very lowest price only at "China Hall."

New Dress Goods, new Check Plushes new Buttons and Trimmings, just arrived at Turnbull's.

KIDD is not trying to do the shoddy trade but the solid, substantial, first-class boot and shoe trade of the town, and he is doing it.

Sent to Gaol.

The "guinea pig" (alias Laurance Hill), who created such a disturbance on George Street yesterday morning was fined $5 or 30 days in gaol. He was given the thirty days in default of payment.

Cheap New York Excursion.

The next one of Mr. W. W. VanEvery's cheap excursions from Toronto to New York and return, will start on August 13th. Tickets good for 15 days. Fare, for the round trip, only $10.50.

At this season of the year all drinking water should be properly filtered before using. The best filter made is for sale at "China Hall" for only $5.00. Call and see them.

The Insurance Rates.

Mr. Pell, Inspector of the Fire Underwriters' Association, will probably be in town next Monday to hold a final test of our fire system, which, it is expected, will be fully completed by that time. If satisfactory, as no doubt it will be, the town will be placed in class "B."

An Invasion of Reporters.

Our town will be invaded by a whole bevy of reporters during the Oddfellows' Demonstration, Representatives from the Toronto Globe, Mail, World, and News; the Montreal Gazette, Witness, Herald and Star; from Belleville, Cobourg, Port Hope, and other surrounding towns, will all be here.

Change of Place.

The meeting of ladies interested in making arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting Cantons Militants during the Oddfellows demonstration, will be held in the Charlotte street skating rink, Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, instead of at the council chamber as previously announced.

Instantly Killed.

This morning Sandford Sowden, brother of Mr. Wm. Sowden, while working in the field not far from the village of Millbrook, fell from a load of grain and struck the hard earth in such a position as to brake his neck. Death resulted immediately. The deceased was about forty years of age and leaves a wife and children.

The Locks Line.

The first of October, it is confidently expected, will see the locks line in operation. The whole distance has been graded, and rails laid down from the Ashburnham connection to the Beaver Mead Creek bridge. As soon as the diamond at the intersection of the C.P.R. track, just a little east of the old diamond, can be laid down, the work of track-laying will be resumed. The piers for the iron swing bridge over the Otonabee are about complete, and are models of masonry.

After Pumpkin.

Yesterday afternoon a little bare-footed urchin entered a George street fruit store, and reluctantly releasing a copper, which he held tightly grasped in his hand, upon the counter with the question, "Say, how much o' that 'ere punkin is the winder 'll you give me fer a cent? and pointed to a rich, red segment of water-melon in the "winder." He got his cent's worth of "punkin," or water-melon.

Willow and Wicket.

A team of the local cricket club, composed of Messrs. H. Ray, E. J. Stratton, S. Ray, J. Stirling, C. J. Logan, W. A. Stratton, Max Hamilton, Thos. Rutherford, W. Hamilton, E Hall and another, are playing in To-Toronto to-day. It is to be hoped they will have better luck than last time.

The Napanee cricket club has again come out victorious in the Association matches for District No. II. They have to play off with the Torontos, the successful club of this district.

England is, verily, "the native heath" of cricket. A glance at the tallies of a few recent matches, gives phenomenal scores. In the match between Derbyshire and York, it would be thought that the scores of the two innings of the former, 129 and 107, would hardly be beaten in one innings, yet York did it with 153 to spare, the score being 399. The figures for the Sussex-Hants match were, for the two innings, 244 and 307, and 170 and 196 respectively. In Sussex vs. Notts. the former's first innings yielded 139. But the Notts team followed with a total of 515, to which Shrewsbury contributed 101, Barnes 160 and Daft 87. It may be noted that Pooy, who did the trundling for the Belmonts when they were in Peterborough, was at one time bowler for the Notts team. Gloucester, in the match with Lancashire, made the respectable score of 248 in its first innings, but the Lancashire lads followed with a total of 444, an average of 44, from which there was not a very wide departure in the individual scores of the several batsmen, which were consecutively as follows: 97, 16, 29, 19, 49, 65, 39, 15, 57, 9, 23, and extras, 27. This is what might be called good cricket.

The following from the Omemee Herald, by "our own reporter," referring to Wednesday's cricket match between Omemee High School and the Peterborough Juniors, is assumed to be sarcastic:—"The team is disgusted with the entertainment received, only two of the Peterborough players having courtesy enough to accompany them to dinner. The small boy was allowed to sell lemonade, mixed in the proportion of one lemon to a barrel of water, for the small sum of one cent, perhaps the money would have been refunded had the boys objected to the strength. Compared with Bethany the boys consider Bethany a city and Peterborough a country store at the north end of Muskoka. The talk of the boys around the scorers was simply disgraceful and does not speak well for the improvement of sports." The "reporter" also objects to the imposition of such men as Ray, Sherwood, M. Kincaid and Matthews, all "bearded men," except the latter, upon the team of "Juniors."

The Dog Nuisance.

The letter of 'Citizen' in another column in reference to the open and unrestricted breach of the dog by-law, is well worthy the attention of the authorities. Among the many by-laws which are dead letters on the by-law book of the town, that referring to dogs is the greatest farce in the matter of enforcement. It requires that all untagged dogs be shot, but there is no record, as far as is known, that a single untagged cur has met the fate he deserves. In this sweltering weather the danger of hydrophobia is great, and as "Citizen" points out, dogs are capable of being immense nuisances—flower beds are torn up or tramped down, and hard-working citizens are robbed of their sleep. Having overcome the effect of the heat and dropped to sleep the citizen is awakened and kept awake for hours by the hideous howling and barking of dogs. In the interests of the people every untagged dog should be shot on sight. If a dog is not worth a tag, he is worth, in a negative sense, powder enough to close his canine career. Let the by-law be observed or repealed. In the latter case the citizens can take the law in their own hands, and will willingly run the risk of possible unpleasantness for the certainty of satisfactory results.

Toot! Toot! Whoop! Ding! Dong!

The whistles shrieks, the bell rings and the train off—for Peterborough, who now boasts her railway king. Gough the King of Clothiers, has long been acknowledged. He now aspires to be a railway King and the King of Judicious Advertisers. This issue of the EXAMINER contains another of this broad sheet advertisements. A man who scatters printers' ink like this must thrive, especially when he makes bold bids for trade as that contained in his advertisement, which kindly see and read. You will see that the advantage seems to be all on your side, but in the his bread cast upon the waters returneth to him. He makes a name for fair and liberal dealing and he makes friends who stick to him forever after. Read Gough's advertisement on page two of this issue.

Runaway.

On Saturday evening, says the Lakefield Chronicle, as the Rev. Father O'Brien was proceeding from South Douro, when about a mile from this place his horse suddenly became frightened and commenced to kick and plunge. The rev. gentleman was thrown forward on the shafts, and received a slight kick on the jaw and had his arm hurt. The animal managed to free itself from the harness and broke into the woods, but was captured before it had gone far. We are glad say that the accident did not prevent Father O'Brien from attending to his clerical duties on Sunday.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

A Hamilton Man Accused of Causing the Death of Another by a Kick.

HAMILTON, Aug. 4.—The charge against Wm. Fletcher, for assaulting the late John Tompkins on May 23, was called before the police magistrate this morning. On that date the two men engaged in a fight in the Crystal Palace grounds when it was alleged that Tompkins was severely kicked by Fletcher. Shortly after the fuss Tompkins was taken sick and expired on June 22. Two witnesses swore positively that the deceased was kicked in the head by Fletcher, but Dr. Anderson declares that he died of delirium tremens. The prisoner was committed for trial.

Lewis J. Johnstone, charged at the Police Court to-day with assaulting two little girls named Emma Fair and Ann Nash was dismissed, though the testimony against him seemed pretty strong.

Last night the residence of John Templar of Copetown was ransacked by burglars and $75 worth of silverware stolen.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,300,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

SEIZURES IN BEHRING SEA

THREE CANADIAN VESSELS DETAINED BY THE AMERICANS.

There Is No Truth in the Statement that New Proposals Regarding the Fishery Dispute Have Been Made by the United States Government.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The Department of Fisheries to-day received the following telegram from the agent in Victoria, B.C.: "The Grace, Dolphin and W. P. Seywood have been seized in Behring Sea and sent to Sitka." Nothing further is known here except that the three vessels are Canadian. Further particulars have been telegraphed for, but nothing has been received yet.

It is understood that the three following private bills, passed at the last session of the Manitoba Legislature, all of which incorporate railways running to the boundary, have been disallowed; an act to incorporate the Manitoba Central Railway Company; an act to incorporate the Winnipeg and Southern Railway Company; an act to incorporate the Emerson and Northwest Railway Company.

Mr. Scarth, M.P., and Mayor Stewart of Ottawa will meet General Sherman and party at Sudbury Junction to-morrow and proceed with them in their trips over the Canadian Pacific.

It is understood that General Middleton has made a report on the Montreal Garrison Artillery difficulty, but the nature of his decision could not be ascertained to-night.

The council sat for about two hours to-day when it is understood only routine business was transacted.

An order-in-council has been passed reducing the Government proportion of the tariff on all transatlantic cable messages passing over the Government telegraph lines to the uniform rate of four cents per word.

No official advices have been received by the Government of any intention on the part of the Mormons to migrate to Canada. It is understood, however, that some of that body will shortly go over the Canadian Pacific Railway with a view to settling. The Mormons could not be allowed to establish polygamy in the Northwest, as under the English law, which is in force there, polygamy is a felony.

It is officially learned that there is not a word of truth in a London cable to The Globe to the effect that fresh proposals, emanating from the American Government, for the settlement of the fisheries question have been submitted. A member of the Government is authority for the statement that there will be no modification in the stand taken by the Federal authorities here.

Prof. W. Saunders of the Central experimental farm has returned from the Lower Provinces, whither he went to select a site for an experimental farm. He will report to the Minister of Agriculture.

Vian, the notorious convict in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, lately received twenty-five lashes for attempting to kill a guard. During the Hon. From the Gazette.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the following appointments:

R. W. Baxter to be accountant of contingencies, vice L. Cole Rose, superannuated.

James Gow of Windsor and John N. Moore of St. John, N.B., inspector of inland revenue, to be commissioners for administering the oaths of allegiance and office to inland revenue officers.

Orders-in-council have been passed creating the town of Tilsonburg into a port of entry for raw leaf tobacco; making new rules and regulations respecting the pay, etc., of officers in penitentiaries and amending the fishery regulations of Aug. 29, 1884, as relates to the herring fishing in Charlotte County, N.B.

Notices are given by the Canada Screw Company of the removal of its chief place of business from Dundas to Hamilton. By the British Canadian Loan and Investment Company of its annual general meeting at Toronto on Sept. 7. By the People's Bank and Halifax Bank Company of a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent.

Government notice is given of the establishment of a day beacon on Enterprise Reef at the east end of Vancouver Island, B.C.

Notice is given of an application to Parliament to incorporate the Ottawa, Morrisburgh and New York Railway and Bridge Company to build a railway from Ottawa to some point on either the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway (C.P.R.) or the Canada Atlantic to a point on the St. Lawrence near Morrisburgh, with power to bridge the St. Lawrence and the Ottawa near Ottawa, the latter to be a highway and railroad bridge, toll being collected.

AMENDING THE LAND BILL

THE QUESTION OF DEALING WITH THE PAYMENT OF ARREARS.

The Proposal of the Parnellites that the Courts Have Power to Diminish Arrears Does Not Meet with the Government's Approval.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Balfour announced that he did not expect to be required to make any communication to Parliament regarding the suppression of dangerous associations in Ireland. This statement was received with cheers by the Irish members.

Upon motion of Mr. Balfour to recommit the Land Bill for the discussion of certain amended clauses, Mr. Dillon urged that the Government should first explain the alterations they intended to introduce. He asked why nothing was proposed for dealing with arrears. The bill as it stood afforded no protection to tenants for whom the bankruptcy clauses had been designed. As those clauses had been dropped better protection for the tenantry became necessary.

Mr. Balfour said that the Government was willing to accept any workable proposal for dealing with arrears, provided debts to landlords be held equally as sacred as debts to shopkeepers and others. The bill gave considerable protection against arrears, though not ignoring or effacing landlords' debts. It was the largest measure of relief ever granted to any class of persons in any country. [Hear, hear.]

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt denied the value of the boasted equity clause. Though the payment of arrears might be spread over a number of periods, each instalment represented the payment on account of an exorbitant rent. It was nonsense to talk about dealing with all debts in the same way as with landlords debts. If the Government wished the bill to be a genuine measure of peace they would accept the proposal of the Parnellites, that the courts have power to diminish arrears.

Mr. Gladstone refused to admit the justice of drawing a parallel between arrears due landlords and tenants' debts to other creditors. They were about to declare many rents exorbitant, but Parliament was not going to say that traders had been charging exorbitant prices for goods. A tenant who obtained a decision from the court that his rent was excessive ought not to have excessive arrears carried forward against him. The bill was hardly a message of peace. It left the tenant to pay arrears which must overpower him. [Hear, hear.] The bill was in most respects of great value, but the Government's refusal to grant a reasonable concession on arrears would tend to destroy the beneficial effects of the measure. [Cheers.]

Mr. Smith contended that Mr. Gladstone was simply urging the Government to give away money belonging to other people, departing from principles that Parliament hitherto had steadfastly maintained. No debt, either to a landlord or to a trader, would be secure under a system which demoralized the debtor. No trade or commerce would long continue in Ireland if tenants were incited to violate their contracts and ignore claims recognized as valid throughout the civilized world.

Mr. Dillon's proposal was negatived, 180 to 129.

Mr. Balfour's motion was accepted and a section was added to the bill extending the term for the payment of arrears in instalments to the Land Commission.

THE GILMOUR-PARADIS CASE.

The Lumbermen Likely to be Worsted by the Priest.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The Paradis-Gilmour cases continue to attract much attention. The latest development is the arrest on a charge of criminal libel of Mr G. J. Tessier, publisher of Le Courier Federal, of Hull, made by Mr. T. P. Foran of Aylmer, Gilmour's counsel, who has been violently attacked by Le Courier and other French papers because he has taken an action against a priest. At Aylmer to-day Judge St. Julien committed Tessier for trial at the next court of Queen's bench.

The case of the Crown v. Paradis for forgery comes up to-morrow in Aylmer. In this issue there will likely be some trouble as to which magistrate will sit on the case. When the case came up on Saturday it was adjourned, Recorder Prentiss refusing to sit. The Crown Prosecutor, Mr. Fleming, insists that Recorder Prentiss has no right to refuse to sit on the case, as every magistrate in the county might do the same thing.

Messrs. Lemieux & Fitzpatrick of Quebec, who defended Riel, have written to Father Paradis and offered their services in connection with the Gilmour suits.

THAT MONTREAL WARRANT.

Mr. Greenshields Says Its Repudiation May Lead to Trouble.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—J. N. Greenshields returned to town to-day from St. Catharines, Ont., where he had gone to look after McGarigle, the Chicago boodler. Mr. Greenshields stated that owing to the judge refusing to endorse Judge Desnoyer's warrant for McGarigle's arrest he did not consider it worth his while to apply for a writ of mandamus, as in all likelihood if it was granted McGarigle would skip from place to place and the same process would have to be gone over time and time again. Mr. Greenshields is very indignant at the action of the western authorities, and he can only account for it by believing that it was owing to a desire to keep him at St. Catharines. He says the action will cause a feeling of distrust between the provinces. He thinks the least Canada can do is to assist the American authorities, for whom he was acting, and says that the last of the matter has not been heard of, as it will be just as well to bring the matter to a climax between province and province.

THE CREWLESS SCHOONERS.

How the Argonaut and French Fared After the Arrest of Their Hands.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 5.—The schooner Argonaut and Col. J. H. French, whose boats and seines were seized, arrived home to-day. Capts. Harris and Sprague say that after the boats were seized they left for home, coming out through the Gulf of St. Lawrence, keeping thirty miles off shore and sailing around Cape Breton. A dense fog prevailed and the cruiser could not see them. The captains and crews say that when the seines were set they were four miles from shore, but a strong current setting toward the land, carried them in shore. When the boats were seized they were outside the limit. They will refit and fish on this shore. No fish were brought in by either vessel.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Aug. 5.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers had a picnic at Lake Manawa. While one of the boats was returning from Manhattan Beach with a party of bathers on board she sprang a leak during a squall and sank. Four persons are missing.

A FEARFUL RAILWAY SMASH-UP AT MILTON.

A Runaway Train on the Hamilton and Northwestern Runs Into a Freight on the C.P.R. The Damage Estimated at $30,000.

HAMILTON, Aug. 5.—A special freight train, loaded principally with cattle, left this city at 3 o'clock this morning in charge of conductor Thomas W. McCabe. At a point about seven miles north of Milton some shunting had to be done and the train was left standing on the main line while the engine was detached and was engaged in shifting the cars on the siding. At this point there is a very heavy grade running right back to Milton, and soon after the engine left the train the brakes commenced to slip and the heavy train began, slowly at first, but with increasing speed, to make headway to the rear. It kept gathering speed until as it neared Milton it was going with terrific velocity. At the Canadian Pacific Railway crossing a special freight was in the act of crossing when the Northwestern train came thundering down, and a fearful collision took place. The two trains fairly coiled around each other, and rolled over until there was a small mountain of wreckage on the crossing. The cattle in the cars were buried under the wreck, and a large number killed and injured. The total damage to rolling stock and freight will, it is said, be over $30,000.

The only person injured was Conductor McCabe. He had been up all the previous night and was asleep in the van in the rear of the Hamilton and Northwestern train when it started, and probably was not awakened by the movement of the train. The car he was in bore the brunt of the collision, and was literally broken into splinters. McCabe was taken from the wreck in an insensible condition and carried to a house near by, where he received medical attention. His injuries are very serious. When he next showed signs of animation he became delirious and it was found difficult to make a proper examination to ascertain his condition, but it is feared that his spine is fractured. He is about 24 years of age and is very highly spoken of by the officers of the company. He is unmarried and has lived in Hamilton for the past three or four years. His parents live in Allandale.

As soon as the news reached here a wrecking train left for the scene of the accident and has been at work since about 6 a.m., but up to noon had not succeeded in clearing the wreck. The mail train going north at 7.20 did not leave until 9 o'clock. It ran up to this side of the wreck and there transferred its passengers to the train from the north, which is due here at 11.45, and after receiving the passengers, mails and baggage from the latter returned to the city at 12.30. It is expected that the track will be cleared in time for the afternoon train going north. Passengers who arrived on the noon train say the wreck presented a scene of indescribable confusion, the whole being piled in one vast heap composed of tangled rods, car wheels, splintered wood and crushed cattle.

The Stronghold of Outlawry.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A special from Moorehead, Ky., says a horrible affray is reported to have taken place yesterday at Dry Creek, nine miles from Moorehead. John Taylor, Tim Keeton, John Vance and Elliott Martin were on their way to court there as witnesses. They were met by a gang of men, masked and armed, who asked them what their business was. They refused to tell, when the maskers opened fire on them. After fatally wounding John Taylor and John Vance and killing Elliott Martin, they rode off. No reasons are assigned for the killing, save that these men's evidence might have damaged somebody connected with the murder of the young Logans.

THE CARPENTERS' STRIKE.

A Speedy and Amicable Settlement Expected—A More Amicable Feeling.

TORONTO, July 6.

Within the past couple of days the breach which, for eight weeks, has existed between the carpenters and the bosses, has been considerably narrowed. A better feeling appears to prevail, and a speedy settlement is looked for. The carpenters say that at last the bosses have shown a willingness to give them an audience and afford them an opportunity of fairly and squarely presenting their case and arguing the points at issue.

The result has been that the whole aspect of affairs has altered, and arrangements are made for a conference of delegates from both sides to-day. The meeting would have been held yesterday, were it not that some of the bosses who were on the Strike Committee were absent from town. The men are willing to accept the originally proposed tariff of wages for the remainder of the year, with nine hours of labor each day, or enter into an agreement for two years at 27½ cents per hour, or for three years at 30 cents per hour. It is evidently not from want of funds to maintain the strike that they are anxious for a settlement, as they have plenty of cash at their disposal. Eight weeks is too long a spell of idleness, and the men feel this.

It is to be hoped that the dispute will be amicably settled at once. If it is not there will be a general strike in the building trade next week. The trades federation plan has been decided upon—all that is required to put it into operation is a little formality as to nomenclature which will, it is expected, be gone through on Tuesday evening next.

57 TORONTO TOPICS.

Stranded in a Strange City—The Teachers' Gathering Next Week.

TORONTO, July 6.

A deaf mute called on the Mayor yesterday and through an interpreter told him a strange tale of hardship, alleged to have been the work of Miss Groom, of Hackney, London, England, who has been employed in the work of sending deaf mutes to Canada, to go into farming. He says that he is one of 45 who were sent out here by Miss Groom, who charged £7 each for a passage to Winnipeg, where there was no one to receive them. Miss Groom has a 400 acre farm near Wolseley on the C.P.R., and it is said that this was given either by the Dominion Government or an English gentleman for the purposes of placing deaf mutes there. They complain that they were never paid for their work, and in general say that they were badly treated. Some of them were shipped to Toronto from Winnipeg.

The Mayor has written to Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, protesting strongly against the shipment to Canada of such people.

Another case of dumping paupers in Canada is that of Henry Fletcher, a poor, miserable, broken up piece of humanity, who called on the Mayor yesterday and asked for relief. He said he came from Chatham, Eng., and had been "assisted" by a Dominion agent there.

Scarcely a day passes without at least one case like these. His Worship says that he would at once ship them back if he had the funds. A few, however, are sent back.

Hon. John O'Donohoe, Q.C., yesterday applied to Mr. Justice O'Connor, sitting in the Queen's Bench Division Court at Osgoode Hall, for a mandamus ordering the City Council to show cause why the Fleming Bylaw should not be quashed, as an informal and illegal act on the part of the corporation. Mr. O'Donohoe argued that the Council had no power to pass such a bylaw, and that being an illegal instrument it was practically worthless and inoperative. Several eminent barristers have given a very decided opinion against the legality of the measure, holding that the bylaw is not worth the paper it is printed on, and that the members of the City Council, in cutting off the liquor licenses, exceeded their legitimate powers.

His Lordship made the order called for, the case to be argued on an early date, not as yet fixed. This new phase of the question is creating quite a sensation among the parties deprived of their licenses, most of whom strongly censure the Licensed Victuallers Association for not having taken the matter up as a body. Mr. O'Donohoe is acting on behalf of several of the decapitated hotel men.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Ontario Teachers' Association opens in the Education Department building on Tuesday at 11 o'clock. At 2 o'clock Rev. Dr. Ormiston of New York will address the teachers, and during the convention addresses will be given by Prof. Holt of Boston, Miss Hughes of St. Louis, Prof. Clark, Trinity College; Rev. Dr. Sutherland and Rev. E. A. Stafford of Toronto.

The building fund of the Home for Incurables has been augmented by a donation from ex-Mayor Manning of the handsome sum of $1000. The ladies feel very thankful to their President for his generous gift and his unsparing efforts on behalf of the Home.

A distinguished party of Japanese dignitaries will reach Toronto Tuesday from New York on their way to Japan. The party includes seventeen persons, one of them being a veritable prince with an unpronounceable name. They will make the overland journey to San Francisco by the Canadian Pacific. One hundred and forty-three pieces of baggage comprise the party's personal effects, and the railway officials here have been instructed to look carefully after the Japs' comfort whilst in Toronto.

A Remarkable Surgical Operation.
From The Pall Mall Gazette.

Just twelve months ago a young man named Saunders attempted to murder his sweetheart in the streets of Huntington by stabbing her with a sword cane. For that offence he was sentenced to fifteen years' penal servitude. After a painful illness the girl gradually grew better, but she always insisted that a piece of the sword blade had broken off in her body, and was still there.

Prof. Humphrey of Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge, has just successded in extracting from the girl's body a piece of the steel blade, more than six inches in length. The most extraordinary fact connected with the operation is that, although the wound was in the girl's chest, the blade was extracted, broken end first, from her back. It must thus have turned completely round. Her recovery is considered to be almost certain.

Scott Act Cases.

ROTHSAY, Aug. 5.—Police Magistrate Lewis fined Owen O'Boyle of Drayton $50 and costs for an offence against the Canada Temperance Act, and Maurice Halley of Arthur was sent up for trial for obstructing the constables at Arthur on May 23 last while making a seizure of the goods of John Bushlin for a Scott Act fine. John Bushlin was fined on pleading guilty to an assault. Jeremiah Morris gave bail to appear when called upon for judgment, and a charge against E. J. O'Callaghan was enlarged until Monday next.

The Prohibition Fight in Texas.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 4.—The election returns on the prohibition question are coming in rapidly. All the counties in southern Texas are giving large majorities for the anti-prohibitionists. SETTING OUT IN LIFE.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

How few young people there are who realize the full meaning of 'setting out in life.' And how few there are who are capable of understanding the trials and cares and responsibilities of leaving the old home and going forth into the world of which they know so little. Some imagine they know every thing, know all the devious and difficult ways which lie before them. Some are afraid to venture, while others have no choice. They feel that wherever they go, and whatever befalls them, they cannot be worse off then they have been, and that there is the hope of doing better. The vast majority of the young look forward to the time when they can begin life for themselves. When they will be independent and free from the parents control. When they will be their own masters. They are tired of home and long to get away and do for themselves. But they know nothing of the coming hardships and oftentimes break down and become discouraged because they have not prepared themselves for disappointments and hard times. And where one succeeds a dozen fail, and fail principally because they had little experience and less energy and determination. They could not understand the advice of their fathers and the examples which nature sets before them of small beginnings, and slow and tedious building up. They never think that a house is built by first laying one brick and then another and another in slow and careful progress until the structure is finished. And they cannot wait. They want a house already prepared for them. They want ease and comfort. The very dread of hardships, and want overpowers them. And when you tell them of what their fathers did and how they began with nothing but their hands and their judgments to help them and how many years they passed in hard hard toil and how they had oftentimes to go without the necessaries of life, they are not willing ever to come to that. When this country was first settled it was settled by young men who left homes in other lands and travelled in fact many hundred miles through the wilderness, with nothing but an axe upon their shoulders and a firm resolve to fight the world and win a competency for themselves in after life. The progress which they made was slow, but it was sure. And by and by they could look around upon their possessions and see blooming fields and waving grain, and thank God that, with His help, they had the courage to persevere. And there are numerous instances of poor boys, destitute of everything but an honest heart and a good will, who by patience and perseverance have overcome every difficulty and won their way to independence and comfort. But their struggles were long and hard to bear. And they can at length look away back to the time when they often wanted a piece of bread and were without friends or home. But they had what is better than money, an indomitable will and they knew that the earth was full of goodness and plenty. And they knew that all this was theirs if they only resolved to win it. That is the way these pioneers succeeded, and in that way only can others do likewise. But people who are afraid or are too proud to work, and who are content to sit down and wait till something turns up, or who want others to help them, may just as well make up their minds that they will not succeed and that setting out in life is, with them, mere words without meaning. In the present day it is too much the custom to begin the new life with high notions and with expectations that can never be realized. Young people think that father must give up his hard earned substance to keep them in ease and comfort and that mother must leave her own home duties and come and work for them. They are too lazy and too proud to put their hands to the plough and not look back. Too lazy and too proud to look out for themselves. They must have servants and fine furniture and fine clothing, no matter who pays for it, and the wife must pass her valuable time in playing upon the piano and in looking sentimental and self-satisfied, as if the earth was all their own to use without care or toil. This kind of setting out in life will never succeed, and we need not wonder when we see so many half-starved, useless people around us, useless and half-starved because they are too proud to work. There are many persons in the far west to-day who would not have been driven there had they done right here. Many persons living on the very outskirts of civilization and settlement, and living in poverty and in constant fear and trouble, who need never have gone there had they only been wise in time and made the most of their opportunities when they could have done well. But this is the old story the world over. And it may be stated as a fact that young people rarely ever begin to apply themselves to do well until after they have wasted the substance given them and wasted their health and their opportunities. Then, when all is gone, they begin their up hill life, and the majority of them never recover themselves until the approach of old age, while some of them never succeed at all. Many of them look back in sorrow upon their past history, wishing they had been wise in time and had taken advice when advice would have done them good. Human nature is a strange compound of evil and good. But the evil, unfortunately, preponderates. We speak of the Indians of the forest and wonder at their thoughtlessness and want of care, while we, who ought to know better, shew no more forethought than do the Indians, who never had instruction or advice. Let me give a couple of illustrations of what I mean. Two neighbours had each a son. Each gave his son a liberal allowance with which to make a start in the world and giving them good directions and advice, they started and left home with every means of success. They both married and began life together. The one married a plain, careful woman, the other a woman fond of show and pleasure. The one with the careful wife took a small but comfortable house and purchased just enough furniture to satisfy their wants. The other took an expensive and showy dwelling and filled it with expensive and showy furniture. They went on quietly for a time, but it soon became evident that the showy man and wife were living far beyond their means, and that the other man and his careful wife were succeeding and were fast accumulating wealth. In a few years the fast living man and wife had wasted their substance and were poor and without a home, while the other man had possessions and wealth. Then began trouble with the spenthrift husband and wife and crimination and recrimination were of of daily occurrence. Finally the husband ran away and the wife went home again, a miserable and unhappy woman. She looked at the other man, prosperous and happy, and thought what she might have been had she and her husband but done right. But it was too late now. The mischief had been done and it had to be endured. The husband wandered far and farther away as if pursued by an evil spirit until he could go no farther. Laid upon a bed of sickness, he had time to think of the past. To think of good advice and good opportunities thrown away. He could see now what he might have been had he not been a prodigal and wasted his substance. He wondered where his foolish wife was and whether she and his parents were still living. His conscience gave him no rest. So, at last, he resolved, like the prodigal son that he read of, to go back to his kind old father and mother and ask their forgiveness and their encouragement for the time to come. He would do better. He would profit by the past and would work hard and redeem himself from the reproach which was cast upon him. He returned home and was forgiven, and again started out in life. He knew it would take years before he could hope to succeed, but that only served him to greater exertions. His wife had learnt a lesson too, and, by the aid of their mutual help, prosperity once more seemed to be near. So we will leave them, trusting that others may profit by their example. The world is full of cases of this kind. One can see them on every side. The only pity is that so many will rush to their ruin. Let others take warning, and resolve to set out in life with a full determination to do well, and if they follow out this resolve they will succeed and be happy. For the earth is full of all good things, which can be had for careful seeking. Now, the moral of all this is plain. Let people leave off drinking. Let them leave off gambling. Let them leave off seeking for pleasure, Let them leave off spending their substance in riotous living, and let them work to save and put to good use their earnings. Let them learn that the world is ready to give them abundance according as they show a disposition to obtain it. And, finally, let them live more for the future and less for the present, and then they will not have to complain of poverty and hard times. Let them work and save while they are young, and when they are old they will enjoy peace and comfort and happiness. And they will be able, from experience, to direct others in the paths of duty and of right. And there will be no more trouble, for the dark clouds will have vanished, and the sunshine of plenty will lighten their way and they will be happy.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passage, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

THE R. R. V. RAILWAY IN TROUBLE.

Difficulties in the Way of a Loan—Expected Abandonment of the Scheme.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—It has now transpired that the Government of this province have been unable to raise the money to build the Red River Railway. The stories that the Northern Pacific or other wealthy capitalists were willing to advance the necessary amount prove to be devoid of foundation.

On Monday of this week the representatives of the different loan companies doing business in this province met the Provincial Treasurer, who endeavored to negotiate with them a loan of $750,000 for one year. He admitted that owing to the disallowance of the Red River Railway Act and the Supply Act, the debentures of the province did not stand well in the money market, and that, rather than sell them at a low price, he thought the Government could fairly ask the loan companies doing business in Manitoba to come to their assistance and find the $750,000 required. He promised to give the whole of the assets as security for the loan, including a lien on their lands. The money would have to be borrowed under the Treasury Act, which enables the province to borrow money for any exigency, and this act so far had not been disallowed.

The managers of the loan companies would give no definite answer. They, however, undertook to make enquiries at their head offices, and to let the Provincial Treasurer know the result at an early day.

It is not likely, however, that the money will be forthcoming, as the loan companies doubt the legality of the proposition; and, moreover, they consider that the legislation of Manitoba for some years past has been in the way of hampering the large loan companies in this province rather than encouraging them.

The fact is now patent to every one, and the Government, more than any one else, that they cannot get the money for the proposed road from any of the railway companies, nor is it likely from any one else. The result will be that the Red River Valley Railway will not be constructed.

Farmer Bond's Experience With a Girl He Invited to Jump Into His Wagon.

HAMILTON, Aug. 5.—This morning while a farmer named Silas Bond was coming into the city he overtook a girl, a short distance behind whom was a man. The girl asked for a drive, saying she was bound for Port Hope, and Bond took her into his wagon. They had not gone far when she began pulling at his coat and vest and screaming. He put her out and drove on. Thinking she was an escaped lunatic he went back and met her walking along the road with the man. He then came to the conclusion that the two had put up a job on him and when they arrived in the city he had them arrested. They gave the names of Annie Burke and Edward Taylor.

At the Police Court this morning she said that after she got into the wagon Bond insulted her, and she screamed and got out as quickly as she could. She had never seen the man Taylor before, and was just coming into the city to get out a warrant for Bond's arrest. Sergt.-Major Smith said he had heard that the pair had been doing the same sort of thing for some time, and in various places, their object being a dishonest one. He asked for an adjournment that the matter might be investigated. Next Thursday was fixed upon as the day, and the prisoners were remanded.

An inquest was commenced this morning on the body of John Tompkins, who died about June 23 last and was buried, and five or six weeks after it was noised about that death was caused by a kick from a man named Fletcher, who has been committed for trial. The inquest was opened in the cemetery, the body having been taken up. The jury simply viewed it and adjourned. Dr. Anderson and Dr. Miller subsequently made a post mortem examination. The inquest will be continued to-morrow morning. Dr. Woolverton is the coroner.

THE MONTREAL MURDER.

Butcher Carroll Will Plead That He Stabbed Butcher O'Connor in Self-Defence.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—A coroner's inquest on the body of Butcher O'Connor, who was stabbed by Carroll, another butcher, was commenced to-day. Carroll has admitted that he stabbed O'Connor, but it is understood the defence will plead that it was in self-defence. The murder has created a great sensation here.

Suicide at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Aug. 5.—While two young men were bathing at Jones' wharf, La Canardiere, this morning, they observed a man come to the wharf with what seemed to be a bar of iron in his hand. He jumped into the water and did not rise again. A few hours later his body was found, but as yet the suicide has not been identified.

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

The Moon's Influence

upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling a man's foot, but gets to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnams" and no other. 6dw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Potatoes went at 25 c. a peck, and $1.25 a bag; cucumbers and corn at 10c. a dozen; eggs 14 c. a dozen and butter 23 and 24 c. a pound. The market was well attended.

An Interesting Game.

A feature of next Wednesday's (civic holiday) demonstration will be a baseball match on the Association grounds, beginning at 10 o'clock in the forenoon between Peterborough and either Ottawa or Fort Hope. Secretary Clarke is in communication with both clubs, one of which will engage itself to play. There is no other attraction for the forenoon, and a good attendance should be secured. The Ottawa club is one of the best in the province.

Educational Matters.

Regular Meeting of the Board—Amount Required for School Purposes—The Secretaryship.

Chairman Stevenson, and Messrs. Dumble, McWilliams, Muscoster, English, A. Rutherford, Weir, Wrighton, Burnham, T. Rutherford, Sproule and Stratton, attended the meeting of the School Board, Friday evening.

Miss Greenwood sent in a letter of resignation of her position of school teacher. The resignation was accepted.

THE INSTITUTE.

A letter was presented from Inspector Marling, of the Educational Department, mentioning a number of defects in the Collegiate Institute which must be repaired or the government grant could only be drawn in proportion to the equipment of the school.

Moved by J. R. Stratton, seconded by J. B. McWilliams, that the secretary of this board be requested to notify the Minister of Education that a properly qualified teacher will be employed by the board in place of Miss Greenwood who has resigned, that gas and water will at once be supplied the science master, and that the other matters referred to in the Inspectors report is receiving due consideration by the board and will be carried out at the earliest possible moment.—Carried.

Messrs. W. G. Morrow, John S. Dobbin and W. J. Hall applied for the vacant position of Secretary-Treasurer of the Board. Mr. F. E. Bell applied for the position, failing the appointment of the son of the late Secretary. The applications were all received.

An account of the Times Printing Co. for an advertisement, amounting to $4.50, was paid.

The report of the schools for June was presented:—

	Average Attendance.	No. on Roll.
Collegiate Institute	131	—
West Ward School	116	169
Central School	561	633

The report was received.

CONDOLENCE.

Moved by J. R. Stratton, seconded by Dr. Burnham, whereas Mr. W. A. Morrow, for ten years the efficient and respected Secretary-Treasurer of this board, has been relieved from his duties by death; resolved, that this board desires to place on record an expression of its high appreciation of his services and its deep regret at being deprived of his valuable abilities; that it tenders to his bereaved widow and family its earnest assurance of condolence and sympathy with them in their irreparable affliction, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Morrow.

Mr. RUTHERFORD made a few remarks, stating that a few days before his death he expressed his gratitude for the kindness always tendered him by the board. The teachers, too, who had had business relations with the deceased gentleman always found him honorable and obliging. Several members of the board, also, testified to the excellent character of the late Secretary-Treasurer of the board. The motion was unanimously adopted.

THE TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Mr. Rutherford enquired why the chairman of the committee on appointments had not reported on certain matters that had been referred to the committee. At a recent meeting of the Board a report had been presented to this Board in connection with certain increases of salary which were referred back to the committee. He believed that the increases then recommended had been paid to the teachers without the report being adopted by the Board, and while it had been approved by the committe, which was the whole Board, it required adoption of the Board to keep the affairs of the committee and Board straight. He also thought Mr. Smith's services should be recognized by a larger salary.

Mr. DUMBLE, chairman of the committee, then presented a report, as a matter of form, stating that the committee had no reason for changing its original report.

The formal report was adopted.

THE SCHOOL RATE.

The Chairman stated that the Secretary-Treasurer had made a demand for $12,000 upon the town council for school purposes during the year. Mr. Stratton presented a motion endorsing the demand.

THE SECRETARYSHIP.

Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Mr. Wrighton, that Mr. W. G. Morrow, son of the late Secretary, be appointed Secretary Treasurer of this Board, and that he be required to give bonds for the performance of his duties to the satisfaction of the Finance Committee; salary to be the same as the late Secretary of the Board.—Carried unanimously.

The Board then adjourned.

Willow and Wicket.

TORONTO VS. PETERBOROUGH.

Play was commenced shortly after midday in this match on the grounds of the Toronto Club, yesterday, says the Globe.

The Peterborough men won the toss, and ran up a score of 94 runs, to which W. A. Stratton contributed 40 in faultless style. He went in first and carried his bat all through the innings, a batting feat which is not often seen in a cricket match at Toronto. Stratton played very steadily throughout his innings and did not give a chance. He made some very pretty cuts. His average so far this season is 39, and he has played in ten matches. He is one of the most promising batsmen in this part of Canada.

On the Toronto side during Peterborough's innings, Dickey carried off the honors, bowling three wickets with three consecutive balls, and thus performing the "hat" trick. He took in all 6 wickets for 31 runs.

The Toronto men met with but poor success when they went in for their innings, being all disposed of for the paltry total of 37 runs.

Both Hamilton and Logan bowled well for Peterborough, the latter taking 5 wickets for 11 runs.

H. Ray fielded very smartly for Peterborough at cover-point, and was instrumental in getting rid of Rogers, who was run out by a quick return from him.

Dunn was the only man who succeeded in reaching the coveted double figures, he just managing to make 10 runs before being bowled by Hamilton.

Collins was very unfortunately run out after amassing 4, a fact which will tend to pull down his hitherto good average.

Hall made the bit of the innings, sending a ball clean over the pavilion for 6 runs.

The Peterboro' men commenced their second innings shortly after 4 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock, when play ceased, they had scored 37 runs for the loss of two wickets. The brothers Ray batted steadily and in good form. H. Ray hit Rogers to square leg during this innings, the ball going clean out of the ground. For this hit six runs were allowed. When play ceased he had put to his credit 17 runs and was still not out.

A severe thunderstorm broke over the ground about 5 o'clock, and this caused the game to be abandoned. Owing to its being a one-day match the game was decided on the result of the first innings. The Peterborough men therefore won the match by 57 runs. The score:—

Struck by Lightning.

Last night, about 6 o'clock, a violent thunder-storm passed over the northern part of the township of Smith. The lightning struck the barn of Mr. F. Armstrong, tenant of the farm owned by Mr. John Moore, 12th concession. The barn, with its contents, was rapidly and completely consumed. So swift was the progress of the fire, that is was found impossible to save even a load of wheat in the wagon standing on the floor of the barn. The contents comprised the whole of this season's crop, besides wagons, harness implements, etc.

Have Arrived.

Prof. J. H. Lopez, who met with such wonderful success in Lindsay last year, has arrived in Peterborough, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Needham. Mrs. Needham, as portrait and animal painter, has taught in the finest art schools of the East for the past seven years, and is considered one of the best teachers in that specialty. Have taken studio on Hunter street next door to Brisbin's feed store, where they will open Tuesday, Aug. 9th, a fine collection of oil paintings, Pastel, Crayon, India Ink, Water Colors; also decorative work in plush, velvet, felt, bolting cloth, etc., etc. All are cordially invited to call.

The Busy Turner.

The forthcoming visit of the Oddfellows keeps Mr. J. J. Turner busy as the proverbial bee; the profuse decoration of the town makes the demand for flags, bunting, etc., as brisk as possible, while the unusual demand for sleeping accommodations, creates a demand for supernumerary beds. Mr. Turner has supplied the Grand Central with fifty canvas cots, the most comfortable bed for hot weather, and other hotels are arranging for a supply suited to their wants. Next week will be a busy and stirring week in this busy and stirring town.

Church Chimes.

An exchange says:—Archdeacon Lauder, commissary, calls the attention of Anglican congregations to the celebration of the centenary of the colonial episcopate, ordered at the last meeting of the provincial synod. Its declaration points out that 12th August, 1887, is the hundredth anniversary of the first establishment of the colonial episcopate by the consecration of Bishop Inglis, first Bishop of Nova Scotia, to whom was entrusted the oversight of the British possessions in North America. A request is therefore made to hold a special commemoration service on Sunday, August 7th.

In the Charlotte Street Church to-morrow, at 11 a.m., Rev. W. H. Buckler will preach; at 7 p.m, Rev. F. H. Wallace, B.D.

Personal.

Mr. W. A. Macdonald, of the Farmer's Advocate, London, is in the County at present inspecting the quality of milk delivered at factories. He is visiting several of the factories upon the invitation of the managers, who have reason to believe that some of the milk supplied is being diluted.

Lieut. Harold W. Morrow, graduate of the Royal Military College, and son of Mr. R. A. Morrow, town, has elected to accept a commission in the regular army.

Mr. Charles T. Thompson, representing the Detroit Evening News, is in town to-day ascertaining the views of the leading public and business men of the town respecting unrestricted Reciprocity or Commercial Union with the United States.

Ladies, Attention!

Another meeting of the ladies proposing to assist in entertaining the visiting cantons next week, will be held in the Charlotte street rink, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mothers.

There are upon the skin of every human being, child and adult alike, 2,300,000 pores. Through these pores in the form of insensible perspiration, is expelled more than one-quarter of the nourishment taken into the system. The importance of keeping open these perspiration valves upon a child's body, is second only to that of promptly digesting the food eaten. It was to open the pores of the skin and to assimilate the food that Dr. Pitcher formulated Castoria. Loose bowels, constipation, fevers and eruptions which are so constant among infants and children, and which kill one-third of all children before they are five years old, arise principally from these two causes. It is from the wonderful results attendant upon the use of Castoria in regulating the stomachs and bowels and keeping open the pores of the skin, that Castoria acquired its world wide reputation. With plenty of water for the body, pure air for the lungs and Castoria to assimilate the food, there need be no unaccounted for sickness among children. Castoria is a vegetable prescription without morphine or other narcotic property. Thirty years' extensive use has given it a history never attained by another medicine. 4w30d

THE BLAKE AT KINGSTON.

ITS CAPTAIN REFUSES TO SAY ANYTHING ABOUT M'GARIGLE.

Two of the Schooner's Crew Secured to go to Chicago to Give Evidence Against St. John—The Fugitive Said to be Hiding at St. Catharines.

KINGSTON, Aug. 6.—This evening at 7 o'clock the long-looked-for schooner Edward Blake entered the harbor, and a crowd at once collected on the wharf opposite to which she anchored, it being well understood that detectives were on the qui vive to see her captain and crew.

The vessel had hardly come to anchor when a reporter climbed over the side of her and greeted Capt. Irwin. That person was not at all talkative. In fact he was inclined to be repulsive. He had seen a great many reporters, and had, he said, been bored to death by them. Besides he had been advised to stand no more interviewing. While the reporter talked with the captain, A. F. Holmes and Police Officer Snoddon of the city boarded the vessel and advanced. Holmes was the representative of Sheriff Matson of Chicago, and wanted a deposition from the captain to the effect that the Sheriff aforesaid was not a party to the escape of McGarigle. Capt. Irwin would not make a deposition of any kind.

It was then intimated that the crew might be willing to talk, and that some of them might be willing to accompany the detectives back to Chicago and give evidence in the case. The captain called the crew around him, repeated the statement of Holmes, adding that they were free to do as they pleased, but that if they went to Chicago they should be sure of their pay before they started. Mr. Holmes said the men would be handsomely paid; that any agreement that was made would be carried out to the letter; that it would be indorsed and approved by the detectives in the city. Then the vessel was pulled alongside the wharf. The captain was again approached and asked for information about the case, but spoke with great reserve. He admitted that he knew Dr. St. John, but had business with him only as an owner of the vessel. He was satisfied that St. John was innocent of wrong, so far as the escape of McGarigle was concerned. He had a passenger, but he passed by the name of Williams and was not suspected of being a convict, much less a convict of the importance of McGarigle. The captain said he would have no hesitation about going back to Chicago, and several of the sailors intimated that they would probably accept the proposition made to them by the detectives. One of the sailors said that before Port Huron was reached McGarigle was transferred to the schooner Marsh. They had taken him on the Blake at Chicago just before they sailed. The officers are desirous of securing the sailors as witnesses, and will get some if not all of them.

He is Still at St. Catharines.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—A special from St. Catharines says: McGarigle still remains hidden in St. Catharines. There is no warrant here for his arrest, and none is likely to come to hand for some days. The Baxter case has probably fallen through and will not be heard from again. Unless a forgery scheme works from Chicago, McGarigle will have peace and quietness. It is claimed there is an attempt to be made to kidnap him, under the management of a detective. He is well guarded, however, and his friends have no anxiety on this head. Fred St. John has been at Niagara Falls, and this gives a little color to the rumor that McGarigle has made his escape by the Suspension Bridge en route for Europe, but there is no truth in it. No communication from Washington authorities has been received by the Government in regard to McGarigle. The impression prevails in official circles that several of the minor offences with which he is charged are extraditable.

Bail Released on Bail.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Levi Doll, of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, said to be implicated with Dr. St. John in the escape of McGarigle, was brought into court this morning from a sick bed. Doll said he was yet very ill, but wanted to have the thing over with. The case was continued until September at the State's request, Doll being released on bail of $2000. It is said that four men were concerned in planning and aiding the escape, and that the two besides St. John and Doll will be arrested in a few days.

Witnesses Against St. John.

KINGSTON, Aug. 7.—The Chicago authorities secured two sailors of the schooner Blake named Yorson and Swanson, and left with them for Chicago. The men were guaranteed wages and expenses in charge of the authorities. Their depositions were taken before they left. Both state all they know about the shipping and departure of "Williams," whom they identify as McGarigle. They are principally secured to connect Dr. St. John with the escape of McGarigle. Capt. Irving persists that St. John is innocent. He is not afraid of anything the sailors can say.

The C. P. R. Short Line.

MONTREAL, Aug. 6.—The Canadian Pacific Railway new line to Toronto will not be opened for passenger traffic until Aug. 15, when the route followed will be from Dalhousie Station in this city via Ontario Junction till the west end station is completed. From the Ontario Junction the line runs by St. Polycarpe, Kemptville and Smith's Falls. This new route will be about forty miles shorter than the present Canadian Pacific Railway route and practically of the same length as the Grand Trunk Railway.

Lord Drummond's Burial.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Lord Drummond, the heir to extensive Scotch estates, who died at St. Luke's Hospital yesterday, was buried today in the tomb of the Ireland family, in Trinity Churchyard.

George Kesex Montifor Drummond, Viscount Forth, was born Sept. 3, 1858, and died estranged from his family. He eloped with his grandmother's maid and came to America. But for the kindness of John B. Ireland, his legal advisor, his remains would have been interred in potter's field.

Foul Play Suspected.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—The body of Capt. Hamel was found floating at the canal locks to-day. Foul play is suspected. When the body was recovered a portion of the coat on the left side had been rent away and a large piece of skin had been torn off his head. He was a resident of Hull, P.Q., and part owner of a barge. He had drawn $60 and had expended $30. He was a man of sober habits. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

THE HARTINGTON BANQUET.

Mr. Bright Declares the Almighty on the Side of Gladstone and His Policy.

London, Aug. 6.—The Irish Land bill passed its third reading in the House of Commons this evening. There was general cheering when the bill was passed.

Banquet to Hartington.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—At the banquet given to Lord Hartington by the Unionist members of Parliament, Mr. Bright, who presided, prefaced his remarks by saying that those who complained of their supporting the Tory Government were those cuddie who had been in, and wanted to be in again. He traced the history of the Gladstone Home Rule movement in terms of strong condemnation. Hugo Trevelyan, he said, admitted that if Mr. Gladstone's bills were presented he would oppose them. Mr. Gladstone expected to sweep the country. He had swept it, but did not [illegible] (Laughter). Mr. Bright strongly [illegible] the Parnellites, at least sixty of whom, he said, were maintained by dollars from the American Irish, who would dearly love to cause a war between Great Britain and the great American Republic. Mr. Gladstone had said that any scheme furthered by him must be acceptable to these men. While he was in that frame of mind there was an end of all hope of settlement.

Lord Hartington on rising was loudly cheered. He admitted that the Government had consulted the Unionists' leaders on the original draft of the Land Bill. They believed and hoped that pending the introduction of a larger measure it would be unnecessary to adopt a principle so full of risk and danger to the success of a great purchase scheme, as the principle of revision of judicial rents payable by silvent tenants. He continued: "We further believed that the equity and bankruptcy clauses would relieve insolvents, besides indirectly benefiting those who were solvent. But the dropping of the bankruptcy clause compelled the Government to adopt other alternative measure. Therefore I do not think we are in the least discredited by supporting and advising the Government in the conduct of the bill.

From Constantinople.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Morning Post says: "The joy of the Gladstonians is much diminished when they read the accounts of the banquet. Lord Hartington shows no disunity over the prospect of a coalition, and the Conservatives have no reason to dread it."

The News says: "Lord Hartington's intimation that he will join the Government during the recess takes precedence over every other political incident. He is probably awaiting the result of the Northwich election. If the Gladstonian candidate is elected, Lord Hartington will probably conclude that there is no help for it and that he must either seize the reins himself or see them dragged in the mud."

The Standard says it regrets that the banquet given to Lord Hartington by the Liberal Unionists last night did not precede the recent Parliamentary elections, and that it imagines a perusal of the speeches made at the banquet will shake the faith of even those who have the most confidence in Mr. Gladstone's lucky star.

The Times, commenting on the banquet, says it was a natural and proper compliment to a statesman whose services to the Unionists' cause have been of extreme importance and value.

O'CONNELL'S BIRTHDAY.

Celebration by the Emerald Beneficial Society at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 7.—One of the largest picnics held in Buffalo for many years was that of the Emerald Beneficial Association at Linwood Glen yesterday. The picnic was under the auspices of O'Connell Branch 7 of this city, in commemoration of the birthday anniversary of Daniel O'Connell. The societies present from abroad were Sarsfield 1 and Parnell 16 of Hamilton; O'Connell 2, Emmett 4, St. Patrick 7, St. Paul 8, Brockton 11, St. Patrick's 12 of Toronto; 13 of St. Catharines, 15 of Merriton and 17 of Oakville. Among those present at the grove during the day were: Grand President C. Byrnes, Grand Vice-President W. J. McLean, Grand Treasurer Angus McDonald, Grand Secretary W. H. Lane and Grand Marshal G. M. Vincent, Grand Chaplain Rev. F. P. Rooney, Rev. M. McQuilly and Rev. J. J. McCann of Toronto. George Vincent of Toronto was marshal of the procession. The day was given up to dancing.

CHARGED WITH SMUGGLING.

The Thousand Island Park Association Liable to Get Into Trouble.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Aug. 6.—The United States customs inspectors are causing a great deal of excitement at Thousand Island Park, in the St. Lawrence, by their efforts to stop the smuggling that has been going on for some time past. Meats, vegetables, grain and other articles have been brought from Canada to the park in considerable quantities without payment of duty. Last evening the officers waited on President Kinney of the Park Association and informed him that they had proof that a quantity of grain had been smuggled for the use of the association, and that it was drawn to the barns by teams belonging to the association. This would lay a large amount of property liable to seizure. The Park authorities offered to pay the duties on the grain to save trouble, but this will not be satisfactory to the officers, who claim to have evidence of many cases of smuggling at this point on the river. Further developments are looked for with much interest.

Mining in North Hastings.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 6.—Mining operations in North Hastings are booming now. H. J. Ritchie, President of the Central Ontario Railway, will open the Baker mine in a few days. J. H. McMillan, late superintendent of the same road, has bought a gold mine near Bannockburn, which he will operate at once. The ore will be sent to be crushed at Malone. The St. Charles mine is also to be opened at once.

THE MORMON PRESIDENCY.

Woodruff, President of the Twelve Apostles, Assumes Control.

SALT LAKE, U.T., Aug. 6.—The question of the successorship to the Presidency of the Mormon Church has been temporarily settled by the appearance of an address signed by Wilford Woodruff, President of the Apostles. He says: "As upon two former occasions in our history, the duty and responsibility of presiding over and directing the affairs of the Church of Jesus Christ in all the world devolves upon the Twelve Apostles. With the blessing of the Lord and the faith and prayers of His people we hope to do our duty until we, too, shall be laid to rest."

It has been thought by some that either George Q. Cannon or Joseph F. Smith, nephew of the original Joseph, would assume the leadership. Woodruff is in the regular line of succession, and his address, assuming control, would indicate there is to be no departure from the orders. Woodruff is 80 years old and a man of mediocre ability. He has been in hiding two years, and is still out of sight to all save the faithful. His presidency will not be as rigorous or popular as would have been Cannon's or Smith's. As a matter of course the Mormons will accept him. It is not probable a formal election will take place before next April, if then. The apostles, with Taylor at their head, ruled three years after Brigham Young's death before Taylor was chosen President.

THE HAWAIIAN REVOLUTION.

The King Signs the New Constitution, Which Deprives Him of Power.

PORT TOWNSEND, W.T., Aug. 6.—Advices by the bark Coluna, from Honolulu July 13, say ex-Premier Gibson escaped on July 13 on the bark John G. Sprockels. On that date he was acquitted of having defrauded the Government. The bark Sprockels was lying near the wharf with everything ready to set sail. A carriage which was waiting at the rear door of the court room conveyed Gibson, without a moment's delay, to the vessel, which cast off lines and headed for San Francisco. It required less than twenty minutes for Gibson to leave the court room and get on board the Sprockels.

Hazeltine, Gibson's son-in-law, is still in jail awaiting trial for being an accessory of Gibson. Business has been resumed. Capitalists who were holding back are investing money and a general feeling prevails that Hawaii has a stable government under which just laws will be enacted. King Kalakaua signed the constitution on July 30. This deprived him of all power but that of drawing his salary and granting pardons.

Anthracite Discovered at Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont., Aug. 6.—A discovery of anthracite coal has been made on the property of Mr. Nix, a farmer living about nine miles east of Campbellford. The quality is of the best and the indications of a large seam are good.

O'Donnell v. The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The statement of the claim in the case of Mrs. Frank Hugh O'Donnell against The Times for £30,000 damages for libel, for the paper's remarks about her in its article on "Parnellism and Crime," indicates that the leading Parnellites will be called to testify during prosecution of the case.

WHAT IS PHELPS' SCHEME?

DENIES THAT HE PROPOSED TO RENEW THE WASHINGTON TREATY.

No Information will be Given at Washington Regarding the Fishery Dispute until the Present Negotiations are Terminated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The State Department officials will only say as to the reports that negotiations relative to the fisheries are making favorable progress in London, that Minister Phelps is acting in accordance with instructions. Nothing will be said officially until the negotiations are terminated. Assistant Secretary Porter says that he has received here the speeches from Consul General Phelps in Canada but has not been advised that American fishing vessels recently seized there have all been released, as [illegible] reported.

Minister Phelps' Denial.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Minister Phelps makes an absolute denial of the report published in English newspapers to the effect that Mr. Bayard informed Lord Salisbury of Secretary Bayard's acceptance of this proposals to immediately renew the Treaty of Washington with the exception of the provisions for [illegible] with Lord Salisbury [illegible] was disposed to [illegible] the sentiment [illegible] some chance [illegible] the [illegible] Minister Phelps [illegible]

[illegible] charge will be a violation of the fishery treaty. It is stated that the customs and fishery officers have been on the lookout for the Perrin for some time. The schooner is owned in North Haven, and is commanded by Capt. Charles McDonald.

The Seizures in Behring Sea.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 7.—The Oregonian has the following special from Victoria, B.C.: The steamer Olympian, which arrived from Sitka to-day, brought the news that another lot of British and American schooners have been captured by the revenue cutter Rush and taken to Sitka, and that as the steamer was leaving the revenue cutter again hove in sight, having a number of schooners in tow. These in Sitka are the Victoria schooners Dolphin, Beck, Grace and W. H. Seward, and the American schooner Challenger of Seattle. With the schooners seized last year, this makes seven British vessels now in charge of the sealing authorities, and they will no doubt be added to, as it seems the intention of the Americans to seize every schooner that they can secure anywhere within the waters of Behring Sea.

It was not thought probable that such measures would have been taken in the face of the information received from Washington and Ottawa. However, lack of diplomacy or energy seems to have prevailed, and no decisive answer was given to the official questions made to the United States authorities in regard to the program they proposed following during the present season.

What makes the present seizures more inexplicable is the fact that the British schooners seized last year were ordered to be released by United States Attorney-General Garland.

MOONEY'S EXPLOITS.

The London Police Know Him and What He Has Done.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The police here claim that Mooney, who attempted to destroy the British steamer The Queen at New York, is well known to them. According to their story Mooney, who was formerly known as "Moorehead," caused the explosion at the Glasgow Gas Works in 1883, when several of his accomplices were imprisoned, and was also concerned in the explosions at the local government and Times offices. For this latter outrage an accomplice, named Melbermott, was imprisoned. Mooney then escaped to America, and subsequently attempted to blow up the Parliament buildings at Ottawa with dynamite. For this purpose he made use of funds which had been supplied to him by O'Donovan Rossa to be used in England. Mooney then got into hot water with the Canadian Fenians. Recently he has experimented with dynamite in New York. The blowing up of the Andre Statue, the police assert, was Mooney's work. They claim that he is affecting the insanity dodge.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Hanlan and Teemer—The Weather and Disease—A Settlement Imminent.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.

The long list of deaths by drowning in Toronto Bay this summer received two additions on Saturday. William James Lowe, a promising boy on the verge of 17, lost his life while bathing at the Eastern Gap. James Scott of 58 Alice-street was the other victim.

Delegates from the Carpenters' Union waited upon an appointed committee of the bosses on Saturday with the view of arriving, if possible, at an amicable settlement of the long-standing dispute. The conference lasted the greater part of the day, but no final decision was arrived at. The proposals made on each side will be submitted to those interested, and if approved of to-day or Tuesday, will terminate a strike which has lasted for eight weeks, to the serious loss of all concerned.

Hanlan has ordered two new boats, one from Halkie, the Boston builder, and the other from Warin of this city. The Halkie boat is now at Buffalo, but as the builder has not furnished the outriggers Hanlan has refused to accept the shell in its present shape. He is taking two spins daily, one of six miles in the morning and one in the afternoon over the course upon which the race is to be rowed. He also takes pedestrian exercise, walking from four to eight miles. He looks well and says he is feeling well. He is now down to weight—135 pounds—and consequently will not have to work off superfluous flesh. Enright has been entrusted with his preparation, and is giving the champion the benefit of his constant care and attention.

Hanlan will probably be unaccompanied on his journey to Australia. He says he is furnishing the bulk of his stake money in his forthcoming race with Beach, and can look out for his interests himself.

There were sixteen patients admitted to the hospital on Saturday, the greatest number in any one day for many years. Most of them were suffering from ailments which may be attributed to the long spell of exceptionally hot weather.

CANADIAN NEWS.

The salmon catch on the Pacific Coast this year was very small.

Mr. Erastus Wiman will be invited to speak on commercial union at Addington next week.

Thomas Milburn, a brakeman on the Grand Trunk Railway, had his head crushed on Friday while coupling cars.

A valuable discovery of anthracite coal is reported from near Mabou, in Inverness County, Cape Breton.

Captain Dyson, the Salvationist, has retired from the army ranks and will play as a professional ball player for the season.

Rev. R. H. Atwoham of Burlington has been chosen to the chair of Natural Science in the Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Penn.

The High Court of Ontario of the Independent Order of Foresters will sit at Hamilton on Aug. 15.

Peter McEwan of Mooroville, Middlesex, has been sent to jail for two months in default of the payment of a $50 fine for violation of the Scott Act.

Admiral Vigues of the French flagship La Minerve, now at Montreal, will take a trip to the Pacific Coast during the stay of his vessel in Montreal.

Cornelius Mahony, while attempting to board an excursion train at Hamilton on Saturday, fell but were the cars and the platform and was seriously injured.

Conductor McCabe, who was injured in Friday's accident on the Hamilton and Northwestern Railway is recovering. The road was blocked for twenty-four hours.

Rev. Sylvestre R. Perry, aged 65, the oldest priest in the province, died at Egmont Bay, P.E.I., on Friday. He has been billed for the last ten years, but continued in harness until four years ago.

Prof. C. A. Johnson, editor and proprietor of The British Lion, Hamilton, has a new hobby in which he asserts that an earthquake will demolish Toronto in November next. Hamilton will not be affected.

Two Orangeville men, driving on a recent Sunday, saw a wild hairy man bathing in the river near Credit Forks. Many other persons have lately seen such an individual wandering about in a nude state.

Mr. A. H. Harris, for many years secretary to Mr. J. L. Sergeant, Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, has been appointed Assistant District General Freight Agent, with headquarters at Hamilton, Ont.

The Finance Committee of the Frontenac County Council has decided to defend the suit of the Government against the County by the License Commissioners to recover $691.62 for the enforcement of the Scott Act.

In the case of John Tompkins of Hamilton, who died, it was believed from the effects of a kick by a man named Fletcher, the post mortem showed that death had not resulted from violence. Fletcher will accordingly be discharged.

THE FORGER MARKHAM.

A Paymaster of the British Army Awaiting Extradition at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Wm. Hogg Wolsley Markham, the forging paymaster of the British navy, occupies a cell with Carlisle, the wife murderer, in the county jail while waiting extradition. He said this morning that the Pinkertons had grossly misrepresented him in the published accounts of his connection with the woman Fiesole Sumner. He had been led into a shameful life with her, but had not squandered the $17,000 he secured from the forgery upon her. He said he would be able to vindicate himself in his trial, which will come off at Hong Kong, and until then proposes to keep very quiet. He has received remittances from English friends. His meals are served from the restaurants, and an impressive bookcase is filled with books and periodicals. He smokes choice cigars and has all the daily papers.

SIR JOHN AT ST. ANDREWS.

Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley Escort the Chieftain to Their Home.

DALHOUSIE, N.B., Aug. 7.—A private despatch from St. Andrews says that Sir John had a rousing reception on his way to St. Andrews. The International Steamship Company, an American line, placed the steamer Cumberland at his disposal and treated him with the greatest courtesy. At Eastport he was met by Governor and Lady Tilley, who proceeded with him to St. Andrews. On arrival there the town was en fete. He was met by bands of music, a procession was formed and proceeded to the residence of Sir Leonard Tilley. The town was decorated for the occasion by erection of arches and a large display of bunting. It is also stated that the arrival of the old Chieftain has brought good luck to the fishermen, one of them having caught a thousand fine fish yesterday.

MISS CASS' CASE.

She has Determined to Prosecute a Policeman for Perjury.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Miss Cass, the young woman who was arrested in Regent-street some time ago by Policeman Endicott, and whose case attracted great attention, has determined to prosecute the policeman for perjury. She claims that the perjury was committed during the police enquiry into her arrest. The hearing of Miss Cass' action against Endicott will begin on Monday.

A Young Woman Kidnapped.

QUEBEC, Aug. 6.—While a young man and woman, who were betrothed, were promenading in St. Sauveur the night before last, three men drove up in a carriage and, upon alighting, assailed the young man. Seeing the odds against him he made off to secure the assistance of the police. While he was absent the men kidnapped the young woman. No trace of the young woman or the three men has yet been found. The affair causes great excitement here.

The Governor-General's Movements.

DALHOUSIE, N.B., Aug. 7.—Lord Lansdowne arrived here Saturday morning, accompanied by his aide, Capt. Paterham of the Grenadier Guards. His Excellency had met his son, Lord C. Fitzmaurice, at Rimouski, where he was a passenger on the mail steamer Sardinian from Liverpool. They proceeded by the Admiral to Cascapedia. The Governor-General has had very good sport this season. He himself personally killed ninety salmon and the total bag of his party will amount to nearly 400. He intends to remain at his lodge until the end of this month.

A. O. U. W. of L. Insurance Scheme.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—A secret circular has been issued from the headquarters of the Knights of Labor to its members proposing a plan of insurance to which all knights who desire may belong, regardless of age, but membership is not to be made compulsory. The initiation fee is to be $2 and annual dues are to be $1. The assessments, from which a death benefit of $1000 is to be paid, range from 70c. for persons 18 years of age to $5.60 for those of 70 years, and assessments are only to be levied when the necessary sum of $1000 is not in the treasury, and money received from assessments is not to be used for any other purpose.

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1887.

MAKE THE TOWN TIDY.

As the EXAMINER has taken occasion heretofore to point out, this week the town will be inundated with visitors from every part of the province; and, as these will be representative men from the several communities, cities, towns and villages from which they come, it is necessary that they should receive a good impression of Peterborough. If they do so each one will become a living advertising agent in making known the resources, thrift, enterprise and push of the town. First impression counts for much, and very little individual exertion will give the town a neat and tidy outside appearance. Our street inspector has set an example in keeping the business streets tidy and clean, and citizens on residence streets should not be slow to follow it. If every person rake up the refuse, loose stones, weeds, grass, etc., that are apt to encumber our residence thoroughfares, the whole street will be clean and the effect, in improvement of appearance, will be surprising. This matter only involves a few minutes work on the part of each citizen, and it is to be hoped that all are public spirited enough to appreciate their duty in the premises. This suggestion applies to other little precautions that may be taken to improve the appearance of individual premises and, consequently in the aggregate, of whole streets. It is not necessary, perhaps, to urge these matters upon those citizens with whom tidiness is a second nature and it is only by way of "stirring up their pure minds" that the above hints are thrown out. If they are only acted upon the result will be such, as far as appearance go, as the people may be proud of.

ORGANIZED EVANGILISM.

The history of the world, inanimate and animate, reveals the fact that organization is necessary. This fact applies with no less force to human enterprises. Not only is organization necessary but all human concerns them the better with visible headquarters and rallying points. This is true of the visible church, and it must be so of coguate organizations having similar objects. This is particularly applicable to the Young Men's Christian Association. Their peculiar objects particularly require a place in which to organize, to work; a place in which to be found by those who seek the help of the Association, and by those who seek to help it. The moral aim of this organization is well known, but it has other objects which are thus described by one of its writers:

"On the physical side, we aim to make the young men erect, broad-shouldered, deep-chested, strong-limbed and clear-eyed; to make him familiar with the laws of health, and reverent in his care of that body which is the "temple of the living God!" We aim to drill his undisciplined mental powers; to incite him to study and thought; to create a taste for sound and instructive reading. We aim to free him from debasing social influences; to save him from moral degredation and ruin, and bring him into the light and liberty of a noble Christian manhood."

All this indicates noble aspirations worthy to be encouraged by every well-thinking citizen having the moral good of the town at heart. To more fully equip the Association for its work, permanent buildings under its control and management are one of the foremost considerations. In many other towns, less important, less wealthy, and less enterprising, such building have been provided. On another page of this issue will be found a cut of the new Y.M.C.A. buildings in Toronto, and the object of thus giving prominence to this subject is to arouse public interest in a similar undertaking in contemplation by the local organization. A start has been made, if the voluntary offer of liberal sums by public-spirited citizens, can be so regarded. So far not a dollar for the purposes of new buildings has been solicited. There is no doubt, however, that, if a systematic canvas were made, a generous response would be given. Every citizen interested in the moral improvement of the town would feel it his duty to forward such a work. The churches, especially, would be interested in promoting a Christian enterprise from which their membership receives so many accessions. It is impossible to estimate the amount of good work done by the Association in awakening moral convictions in the young men of the community, not to speak of deeper and more abiding results. Thus turned in the direction of a higher moral life, the avenue is opened for their entrance into the Church, the ark of moral safety. It is to be trusted that any appeal which may be made to the public, in the respect referred to, will be substantially recognized. Want of space at the present time prevents more elaborate insistance upon the importance of permanent headquarters for the local Association, but the subject will bear reference to with greater particularity, as the work of definite endeavor in the direction of procuring permanent Association buildings, suggests the advocacy of the press.

GOUGH

The Acknowledged Clothier of the Age.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy five cents.

All Medical Authorities

Agree that catarrh is no more nor less than an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nasal air passages.

Nasal catarrh and all catarrhal affection of the head are not diseases of the blood, and it is a serious mistake to treat them as such. No conscientious physician ever attempts to do so.

It is held by eminent medical men that sooner or later a specific will be found for every disease from which humanity suffers. The facts justify us in assuming that for catarrh at least a positive cure already exists in Ely's Cream Balm. eodw32

ONLY TWO BOTTLES.—Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both of the officers and the wife of a well known U.S.A. General had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm. eodw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject of any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold in 50cts. and $1 bottles at John McKee's Drug store. eodw31

IMPORTANT TO ALL

Who are Bald, or have Thin, or Grey Hair, or who are troubled with DANDRUFF.

DR. DORENWEND'S

GREAT GERMAN

"HAIR MAGIC"

Will be found invaluable for the hair and scalp. It cleanses the scalp of all Dandruff, invigorates the growth of the hair, and in cases of baldness where there are the slightest signs of roots left it will produce good crops of hair. It restores grey hair to its original color, and is an excellent dressing.

DO NOT DELAY, if your hair is in a weak condition, get a bottle at once.

J. McLEER'S

GREAT BONA-FIDE CLEARING SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES, TRUNKS AND VALISES, IS BOOMING!

The Goods are Going Out Rapid. Our System of conducting the Sale meets with general Approval. ☞ Come with the Crowds.

Having decided to retire from the Boot and Shoe Business, I have placed my $8000 Stock of Boots and Shoes on the market at actual Cost. Ten Thousand Pairs of Boots and Shoes must be Cleared Out within the next TWO MONTHS. I have made arrangements to enter into another branch of business on Sept. 15th, and have decided to sell my entire Stock of Boots, Shoes, Slippers, Trunks, Valises, etc., AT ACTUAL COST. Remember this is a Genuine Clearing Out Sale, and Great Bargains may be looked for. Any Goods remaining on the above date will be either removed from Town or sold en bloc, as the Stock must be Cleared. The public have shown their appreciation of my way of doing business for the past five years. The Goods have always been marked in plain figures, and there has been only one price to all. Our prices have always been as Low as the Lowest. All parties attending this Clearing Sale will be able to see the Reduction at a glance, as the Reduced Price will be plainly marked underneath the Original Prices.

THE STOCK IS ALL FRESH AND WELL ASSORTED.

Come early and secure the Choice of the Stock at WHOLESALE PRICES. Our shop, from the Eighth of July, will be open every evening till Nine o'clock. Don't Mistake the Place: BOOT AND SHOE EMPORIUM, West Side of George Street, Sign of the RED FLAG.

BASEBALL SATURDAY.

All the Scores—The Standing of the Three Leagues.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.

The Scranton "coal heavers" played two games on Saturday afternoon with the home team, and were defeated in both. Three thousand spectators were present and liberally applauded the players for their splendid stick work and brilliant fielding.

The First Game.

There was more of the former element in the first game than in the second, as Henry, the discarded Newark twirler, who occupied the box for the visitors, was as effective against the home team as a school boy would have been. Score:

Capt. and Mrs. R. F. Woofolk, their six children and Mrs. West, an aunt of Mrs. Woofolk, living near Macon, Ga., were murdered on Friday night.

A GREAT FIRE AT LONDON.

Two Persons Killed While Escaping from the Burning Building.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Whiteley's enormous drapery and general stores and warehouses in West-Bourne Grove and Queen's-road, Paddington, were partially destroyed by fire. The pecuniary damage is placed at $1,250,000. It is believed that there was no insurance on the property. This circumstance is said to be due to the occurrence of previous suspicious fires in the establishments owned by the firm.

A dreadful accident occurred while the fire was in progress. Several of the Whiteley employes and a score of firemen were crossing a bridge which connected one of the burning buildings with another, when the structure collapsed and threw its occupants down into the street, a distance of fifty feet. Three of the employes and two firemen were killed outright. All the others received terrible injuries, some of which, it is thought, will prove fatal.

Yellow Fever at Key West.

KEY WEST, Fla., Aug. 6.—Six new cases of fever have been reported since yesterday and one death. The record stands: Total cases to date 221, total deaths 45, total cures 42, still under treatment 73.

Have You Thought About It?

Why suffer a single moment when you can get immediate relief from all internal or external pains, by the use of Polson's Nerviline the great pain cure. Nerviline has never been known to fail in a single case; it cannot fail, for it is a combination of the most powerful pain subduing remedies known. Try a 10 cent sample bottle of Nerviline. You will find Nerviline a sure cure for neuralgia, toothache and headache. Buy and try. Large bottles 25 cents, by all druggists. 6dw32

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

N. WASHINGTON, M.D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR.—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and today the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all thus troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

The Usual Fifty.

Messrs. H. Calcutt, S. Ray and Robert Henderson, of Ashburnham, were each fined $50 and costs for an infraction of the Scott Act by Police Magistrate Edmison on Saturday.

Suspended

Both Cobourg daily papers, the World and Sentinel-Star in their Saturday's issues publish "valedictories" stating that for want of encouragement and patronage their daily publications would be suspended, after just four month's existence.

A New Hack.

Mr. Robert Redmond, recently in the employ of Mr. Geo. A. Cox, having procured first-class horses and hack, has set up business as cab-driver, and can be found at any hour of the day or night at Connors' livery stable, which has telephone connection.

Peterborough vs Port Hope.

Secretary Clarke has completed arrangements with the Port Hope baseball club for a match with Peterborough on the Association grounds Wednesday forenoon. The two clubs are about evenly matched, and an interesting game may be expected.

Nearly Finished.

The outside work on the new Dunford Block, Water street, with the exception of the painting is completed, Mr. Adam Hall having just finished putting on the excellent metallic roof which covers the buildings.

Mr. Thos. Bradburn's new eight-tenement brick terrace on Louis street, off Charlotte, will soon be ready for occupation.

A Narrow Escape.

Saturday about midnight a couple of young men, evidently under the influence of artificial hilarity, were driving along Hunter street, and in turning up George street ran against the sidewalk and were upset, the buggy alighting on top of them and breaking the seat. One of them, a young man, was at first thought to have been severely hurt, but the liquor in him preserved him from serious injury. The other man escaped unhurt.

Horticultural Show.

The fall exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, will be held in Bradburn's Opera House on Tuesday, August 30th. Entries can be made with the Secretary, Mr. J. D. Collins, at the Opera House, on August 29th, from 2 to 3 p.m.; parties at a distance may send their entries to the Secretary, P. O. box 1006, to reach him not later than the 27th. No entries will be received on the day of exhibition. Doors will be open from 3 to 5, and 7 to 10 p.m.

Correction.

The prize presented by R. Fair, Esq., merchant, viz: "Millinery goods valued at $6.00," is to be applied to a special prize in class 37, sec. 36, for the best display of ladies' domestic work.

Toronto Y. M. C. A. New Building.

The building of the Toronto Young Men's Christian Association, a cut of which is given here, was to have been formally opened next month, but the carpenters' strike has delayed the completion of the work. The building is on the south-east corner of Yonge and McGill streets, the lot being 66 by 196 feet. On the Yonge street front, besides the entrance to the Association rooms, are three stores, the rentals of which together with the revenue from a largely increased membership, will probably cover the current expenses of the Association. Besides the reading room, parlors and class rooms, there is a public hall seating 1200 and a fine gymnasium with bath rooms and a large swimming tank. Altogether the building makes splendid provision for every laudable want of the thousands of young men in Toronto. We hope the day is not far distant when Peterborough will do a similar thing for her young men, though of course on a smaller scale. The Young Men's Christian Association needs a home of its own with all these appliances, and would do far better work for the 1700 young men of our town if this need were supplied. The paper issued by the Association states that three subscriptions have been voluntarily made, and if the promise of some more good sized amounts were made the committee of the Association would probably feel encouraged to begin a canvass for a building fund.

Masonic Funeral.

The funeral of the late John Stewart will be held under Masonic auspices, Tuesday afternoon. Members of the order are requested to be at the lodge room at 2:15 p.m.

Hunting for Bear.

Tom and Alex, with a party of friends, spent Sunday at Stony Lake. In the evening they attended church, and while crossing through some forest en route, spied a large object on the branches of a tree. Tom declared stoutly that it must be a small "b'ar", and he was easily persuaded by the loquacious Alex. to ascend and make the capture. Tom shinned gracefully up the tree, but in about a minute's time slid to the ground again with the rapidity of lubricated lightning, and vouchsafed the startling intelligence that it wasn't a bear after all, but a porcupine. Proof of his statement was amply afforded by the number of "quills" sticking out from his clothes in every direction. With the assistance of a number of small boys who kindly lent their assistance, Tom was relieved of the very pointed tokens of the porcupine's friendliness. Tom says the next time he goes hunting for "b'ar" he'll let some other fellow do the tree-climbing.

On the way Minden, Persia, destined for Turnbull's Dry Goods Establishment, fine Astrachan Mantle Cloths and Trimmings the correct Material for Mantles this Season.

Scott Act Squibs.

P. M. Edmison has several Scott Act cases on hand this afternoon. They are being tried in Ashburnham.

The Port Hope Guide says:—"The Inspector has this week, notwithstanding losing two cases, raked in $400 in fines. Not a bad week's work." Not bad, truly; but the Peterborough Inspector (or magistrate) in just one morning last week "raked in" $800 in fines. How's that?

A correspondent of the Whitby Chronicle describing a tour of the back lakes, thus refers to an incident which occurred at Barleigh Falls:—"Our time for stopping here having elapsed, we again hurried to the boat upon the sound of the whistle. To our crowd of passengers were added two Scott Act Inspectors hailing from Peterborough. These men each carried a rifle, with gamebags slung over his shoulder, and represented themselves as being on a hunting expedition; but their true vocation had previously been made known to us."

Demonstration Dots

There are already ten entries for the Driving Park races on Wednesday afternoon, as follows:—

Lieut.-Gen. Underwood and staff will also arrive to-morrow.

The sessions of the Grand Encampment open to-morrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

The arches are well under way and will present a tasty and beautiful appearance.

The delegates for the Grand Encampment, which opens to-morrow, are expected to arrive to night.

The Montreal Cantons and the Victoria Rifles' Band will arrive in town at 5:30 to-morrow morning

The business men on George street will generally dress their premises en fete, and illuminate on Wednesday evening.

The ladies of the Commissariat Committee will meet at the Charlotte street rink this evening at 7:30 sharp.

Including the bands, the total attendance of the military branch of the visiting Oddfellows will number over three hundred, and the demonstration will doubtless be the finest ever held in Canada.

The knights who have the lead pencil for lance and the note book for buckler, that is, the press gang, will be lodged with the other soldiers.

Not only will the hotel accommodation be taxed to its capacity, but private citizens will meet with extra demands on their hospitality. Already several private individuals, in view of expected and unexpected visitors during Oddfellow week, have to contemplate the procuring of camp beds.

Citizens having the good name of the town at heart are hereby requested to join with the Oddfellows in decorating as much as possible in order to give the town a thoroughly gala-day appearance.

Ned Brown's "Fanny B.," g.m.; Wm. Clancy's "Royal Jim"; A. P. Morgan's "Little Ned," g.g.; Wm. McCrea's "Black Diamond," b.s., Beaverton; F. W. McCrea's "Mayflower," b.m., Beaverton; Geo. Briggs' "Dan O'Connell," Toronto; G. W. Curtis' "Valentine," c.s., Lindsay; A. E. Brown's "Park," Toronto; A. W. Hotman's "Nellie Wood," Toronto.

The Skating Rink is beautifully prepared as a palatial barracks for the visiting cantons. The main floor is beautifully decorated with evergreens, flags and bunting. The gallery have been converted into comfortable dormitories, and are equipped with 100 double beds, with luxurious mattresses, such as few soldiers have the opportunity of reposing upon. Thirty beds have also been placed in the Water street Roller Rink, and thirty more will probably be placed in the Firemen's Hall. The whole will comprise comfortable sleeping accommodation for 320 men.

The lodge of instruction, under the direction of the Grand Lodge executive, has been arranged through D.D.G.M. Henderson, and will be held in the Opera House on Thursday evening, August 11th. Mr. W. H. Cogswell, Grand Instructor, formerly of Ohio, now of New York, and admittedly the best "posted" man on the continent will have charge, assisted by way of illustrations by a specially instructed corps of twenty-two, who it is understood will act as "tagleses," a term which old military men will associate with the days of "general trainin's." The lodge of instruction will be under the control of the Grand Lodge but it will be open to all Oddfellows' qualified to sit in lodges.

Canoe Races at Stony Lake.

The Campers Have a Grand Time on Saturday—Arrival of the Commodore.

STONY LAKE, Aug. 6.—Proceedings this morning at the American Canoe Association meet opened with a sailing race, twice over a mile and a half triangular course. Seventeen started. The wind was strong and squally, causing three or four upsets. Eight of the seventeen finished in the following order: Samuel Britton, Lindsay, canoe Aurora, 1; Dr. Neide, New York, canoe St. Hubert, 2; Colin Fraser, Toronto, canoe Una, 3; W. A. Leys, Toronto, canoe Dawn, 4; Wm. Lister, Lakefield, canoe Wawa, 5; Robert Tyson, Toronto, canoe Isabel, 6; Jas. D. Graham, Lakefield, canoe Ripple, 7; Jas. G. Edwards, Lindsay, canoe Polly Ann, 8.

The Commodore of the A. C. A., Mr Robert Wilkin of New York, arrived this morning. He was met at the steamer by Vice-Commodore Harry Rogers and ex-Commodore E. B. Edwards, who paddled him to headquarters. All the canoeists were out on the water drawn up in two lines between which the Commodore passed. A salute of rousing cheers was fired off by each of the lines as the Commodore passed. After he landed the fleet paddled past him in review order.

In the afternoon paddling races were held in classes 2 and 3, the narrower canoes. Three entered with the following result: George Fitzgerald, Peterborough 1; Arthur Blade, Peterborough, 2; H. S. Greenwood 3. The course was 1 mile with a turn. It was a good close race, the winner's time being 11.20. For classes 4 and 5, wider beams, four Ubiques entered with this result: Harry F. McKendrick, Galt, 1; John N. McKendrick, Galt, 2; Allan Burgess, Norwood, 3; Colin Fraser, Toronto, 4. Harry won easily. He broke his paddle the first stroke. His brother John at once threw him another paddle which Harry caught and went on, scarcely missing a stroke. The thing was so quickly and adroitly done that the spectators cheered loudly. Both these races were for single blades only.

A hurry scurry race followed. The competitors ran fifty yards, swam out to their canoes, got into them and paddled to the finishing mark: Darcy Strickland, Lakefield, 1; H. J. McKendrick, Galt, 2; Jas. D. Graham, Lakefield, 3.

The weather was cooler to-day owing to the heavy rain and thunderstorm of yesterday afternoon and evening.

Two Lives Lost.

A Double Drowning Accident at Lindsay.

Lindsay was all excitement Sunday when it was learned that a double drowning accident had occurred the night before on Sturgeon lake, the two victims being well known residents of Lindsay. The story of the disaster is as follows. Late Saturday evening, Miss Carroll, who occupied a position in a store, accompanied by two young men, Tom Saunders and "Jack" Cameron, started in a sail boat for Sturgeon Point, whither Miss Carrol was going to join her mother and a camping party. She could not leave the store until a late hour, and the two young men volunteered to convey her to the Point. The night was dark and stormy, and shortly after entering the lake, a squall upset the boat near the light-house. Saunders, who was a good swimmer, placed Miss Carroll and young Cameron in as good positions as possible on the bottom of the up-turned boat, and started to swim ashore. He had not gone far, though, when he saw Miss Carroll throw up her hands and disappear beneath the waves. After a terrible struggle for life, he reached the shore, and managed to crawl to a farm house, where after making his presence known, he swooned away. This was about two o'clock in the morning. Restoratives were applied and Saunders was resuscitated. As soon as he could tell his story a search was began for those on the water, but no trace of them could be found. Cameron was 18 or 19 years of age; Miss Carroll about 22.

Personal.

A private letter received from Mr. J. S. Parker, who is now in England, gives the information that he will sail by the Sarmatian on August 18th, and reach home about September 1st, to resume his professional duties. During his visit to England he has taken two musical degrees—first, First Associate of the Guild of Organists, London, England, and second, F. S. Sc., (Fellow of the Society of Science), London, Eng. Before returning home he is to give an Organ Recital at the Royal Jubilee Exhibition to be held at Saltaire, York. Professor Parker is to be warmly congratulated upon the success which his exceptional musical abilities have won for him.

Mr. J. McD. Duncan, of Knox College, addressed the gospel meeting in the Y.M.C.A. rooms on Sunday night.

Judge Dartnell, of Whitby, is in town, the guest of Mr. C. H. Clementi. He leaves to-day for the A.C.A. camp to partake of the hospitality of Commodore Rogers.

Tale of The Thieves

Saturday morning, about seven o'clock, a message was received by the telegraph operator at the C.P.R. station here, stating that some thieves had broken into a freight car at Havelock, but had been caught and locked in, and that the train with the car was on the way to Peterborough. A messenger was despatched to find a policeman, and Acting-Chief Adams was soon on hand. As the train pulled into the station, the car supposed to contain the thieves was surrounded by the officer and a "posse" of men, and after calling upon those inside to surrender in the name of the Queen, etc., it was opened only to discover to the anxious vigilants that it was filled with sacks of rice. No trace of human beings could be found at all. And thus was a startling sensation nipped in the bud.

Peterborough Lodge No. 155, A. F. & A. M.

AN EMERGENT MEETING of the above Lodge will be held in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday, the 9th inst., at 2.15 p.m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late BRO. JOHN STEWART.

Members of Sister Lodges are cordially invited to attend.

An informal meeting of the above Lodge will also be held this Monday evening at 7.30 p.m.

Another Drowning Accident.

The Waters of Stony Lake Destroy a Second Life this Season.

Sunday evening two young men, Allan Eaton and Thomas Starr, of Norwood, met with an accident at Stony Lake, whereby the latter lost his life. The two men were in a canoe a short distance from land, just opposite the A.C.A. store. Eaton was in the stern of the boat, and, before he could regain his equilibrium, he was thrown out, with his companion, by a sudden lurch of the canoe. His theory is that Starr, who was unaccustomed to paddling, somehow missed his stroke, and the impetus given his body in making the effort caused the upset. Eaton grasped the boat, and looking around saw his companion floundering in the water several feet distant. Starr could swim very little, if at all. "Tom," shouted Eaton, "can you swim to the boat?" "Yes, I'm all right," came the reply, but after taking two or three strokes in that direction the unfortunate man sank below the surface. Eaton says he never rose again, but others who witnessed the accident and were hurrying to the scene state that his head afterwards appeared for an instant. Be that as it may, before any assistance could arrive he had sank to rise no more in life. The water was fifteen feet deep at this point. Eaton was rescued exhausted and terrified at the death of his companion within a few feet of him. Quickly the news spread and at once a crowd collected and began searching for the body, but up to half past seven this morning it had not been recovered. Starr was a young of about 19 years, an only son, in business with his father at Norwood, and had just arrived at the camp that day. His sudden death, following so close upon the recent drowning of Mr. Deeprose, has cast deep gloom.

An eye-witness of the whole affair, who was in a canoe farther out on the water, says that one of the men, presumably Starr, was standing up in the canoe, which went over in the twinkling of an eye.

Another one present on the occasion says that a gentleman who was standing on the dock with some others jumped into a canoe and paddled hastily towards Starr, reaching him just a little too late. In the clear water, though, the drowning man could be seen struggling several feet beneath the surface, sinking slowly, and a paddle was thrust down to him, which he made an effort to grasp, but the blade slipped from between the palms of his hands, and the last chance for life was lost.

Heavy Barley.

Some first-class barley was received at Stevenson's storehouse on Saturday. A bushel weighed 50½ lbs.—two and a half pounds heavier than the standard. It was grown by Mr. John Fowler of Smith.

Correction.

The report that the husband of the unfortunate Mrs. Murray accompanied her to Rockwood Asylum Kingston, is incorrect. The husband was not in this neighborhood at the time.

A Good Stroke.

Street Inspector Pope is clearing the streets and market square of all surplus mud and stones, so that when the visiting Oddfellows come they cannot help but admire the cleanliness and neatness of Peterborough's streets.

Ladies' Free.

Notice is hereby given that at the concerts given by the Victoria Rifles Band in the P. A. A. A., grounds, on the evenings of the 9th & 10th inst., the grand stand and seats will be free for ladies', gentlemen 20c. C. H. Clementi, Chairman of Concert Committee.

Second Class Teachers.

The following are the successful candidates who wrote at Peterborough in the second-class non-professional teachers' examination: J. Geary, M. O'Connell, H. Milne, L. Deanard and L. Udy. They are all from the Collegiate Institute, and all young ladies. It is expected that the results of the third class examinations will be ready for publication about the 15th August.

Steamer Golden Eye

Will leave Peterborough on Tuesday at 2 p.m., Wednesday at 4 p.m., Thursday at 8 a.m. Pic-nic parties can leave Tuesday and return Wednesday morning or evening, or wait over till Thursday, which will give them an opportunity for one or two days' fishing. Return tickets, 50c. 2d

He Felt Wet.

Capt. W. H. Cooper, of Toronto, late Chief of Police here, went out sailing on Saturday in Toronto Bay, and took with him, as ballast and companion, a 10-year-old colored youth. When near York-street wharf Capt. Cooper made his boat go about just as the lad was leaning over the gunwale. The boom hit the youngster and knocked him overboard. He could not swim, but Capt. Cooper threw him an oar, not being a swimmer himself. Tacking back the Captain picked up the lad and took him to the wharf where, on being asked how he felt, he replied, "Slightly wet."

SIR JOHN'S RETURN HOME.

HE WILL BE BACK FROM THE EASTERN PROVINCES ABOUT AUG. 20.

Sir Adolphe Caron and Gen. Middleton Will Visit British Columbia in September—The Proposed Fortifications at Esquimalt.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Sir John A. Macdonald will probably return here on Aug. 20. He was obliged to decline the invitation of the Conservatives of Prince County, P.E.I., to visit them, but in declining said: "A pleasure postponed is not abandoned, and I may be permitted to hope that I may be able to renew my acquaintance with the Island, so pleasantly begun in 1864, at no distant date."

Hon. Mr. McLelan left to-night for Winnipeg, where he will remain about a week, and then proceed to Victoria, B.C., at which place he expects to be joined by Sir J. Blackwood, Secretary of the Imperial Postoffice, who was to have left England on Saturday for his trip over the Canadian Pacific.

The Bell Telephone Company has finally decided to construct a telephone line this year between Montreal and Ottawa. The wire will be strung on the south bank of the Ottawa and the distance between the two points, as the crow flies, is not expected to extend ninety miles. It is expected that the service will be incorporated by Oct. 1.

Sir Adolphe Caron and Gen. Middleton will not leave for British Columbia before the beginning of September, previously to which Gen. Middleton will inspect the Infantry School at Fredericton, N.B., and inspect the camp at Aldershot, N.S. There is an erroneous impression abroad with regard to the extent of the proposed defences in British Columbia. They will only be built at Esquimalt where the Admiralty Yards and dry dock are located. The earthworks, it appears, will be constructed at the expense of the Dominion Government, and England will supply the armaments. "C" Battery will be established there. Victoria will be left unprotected.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau, writing to a friend in Ottawa, says that his health was greatly benefited by his trans-Atlantic trip.

It is understood that the Department of Militia, on the recommendation of the Major-General commanding, has decided to issue certificates to the Montreal Garrison Artillery, thereby terminating the unpleasantness which has existed for some time.

The Department of Public Works has commenced a survey of Ottawa River between Kettle Island and Grenville with a view to ascertaining how the channel of the river has been affected by the sawdust nuisance.

Mr. Walter Shanly, Chief Engineer of the Canada Atlantic Railway, is preparing plans for the proposed bridge across the St. Lawrence at Cotton Landing. It is expected that work will be commenced this fall.

ARCHBISHOP WALSH'S VIEWS.

He Thinks that Ireland Will Have Her Own Parliament Shortly.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.—The Sun to-day has a letter from its special correspondent now in Dublin which includes an interview with Archbishop Walsh on the probable effect of the Coercion Act. The Archbishop says he does not regard it as a political question, but as one purely social and economic, one that concerns the domestic welfare and the happiness of every household of the land. It is quite certain that the literal execution of the act would break up, root and branch, the National League and absolutely stifle any open demonstration of sympathy with Home Rule. It is probably quite as much on account of its harsh features, as for any other reason, that the Irish Nationalists look upon it as a measure that England would only fully adopt as an extreme resort.

The Archbishop attaching only secondary importance to this act, and looking upon the amended land bill as removing a large portion of the injustices of which the farmers complain, augurs happy prospects for the future. He thinks that in a year or two more an Irish parliament will again sit in the Parliament House in Dublin.

In the matter of evictions, which the Archbishop asks to be stopped, the fact seems appalling that for the three months ending on July 2 2,100 persons have been evicted. The Archbishop said he never went to Dublin Castle, which is the abode of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, except on public business, but he seemed to think it was probable in view of the expected improved order of things that he would in the future visit there socially.

AN ARID WASTE.

A Large Tract in the Northwest Sun-scorched and Destroyed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—A local paper says there is an area of perhaps 75,000 miles in the Northwest where the dust lies heavily upon the earth. The district is bounded by Madison on the north, Bloomington on the south, Lake Michigan on the east and the Mississippi River on the west.

It is within the limits of those boundaries that vegetation has lost its normal color, and the earth its moisture. Leaves are falling from the trees, the grass in the meadows has grown yellow and white and the streams are as dry as powder-horns. It has been nearly two weeks since a soaking rain fell in this district. The big bull thistle—the pest of nearly every farm—has at last succumbed to the fate of all vegetation. In southern Wisconsin there are thousands of acres where corn will not yield a peck an acre. The crop has been scorched and almost totally destroyed.

The Cruise to Marblehead.

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—The harbor of Vinegar Haven presented a fine sight at 7 o'clock this morning, when the yachts of the Squadron began their run of 110 miles to Marblehead, a race for which prizes had been offered by J. Pierpont Morgan, of the steam yacht Corsair, of $1000 for schooners and $500 each for first and second-class sloops.

The signal to start was given by the firing of a cannon on board the flagship at prompt 7 a.m., and the yachts, nearly all of which had been put to starboard in anticipation of the signal, now came grandly toward the line. All of the big sloops were handed spicedidly, and how closely the fleet got off together is shown by the fact that the twenty-first and last boat over the line was just eleven minutes behind the Puritan, the first over.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Midnight, Aug. 8.—A light breeze, which is gradually freshening, came off the land from the southwest at 10.30, and the racers improved it by hugging the shore. From the direction of the wind they were able to run with free sheets. The Volunteer was the first to move with a four knot breeze. She was leading the fleet by more than two miles. All the leaders caught, with the present wind, to be in Marblehead by 9 a.m. on Tuesday.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The E.B.V. Railway—The York Shrievalty—No Signs of a Settlement.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.

On Saturday The World published a special from Winnipeg announcing that the Government of Manitoba had not been able to raise the money to build the Red River Valley Railway, and that the Provincial Treasurer had asked the loan companies doing business in the province to advance $750,000 for the purpose. The despatch also said that the loan companies would not likely find the money.

Mr. Hugh Ryan of this city, whose firm has contracted to build the road, wired the substance of the despatch to Winnipeg and got the following reply yesterday:

Statement of Toronto World unfounded. Manitoba Government has all the money required to pay the construction of the Red River Valley Railway. The July estimate will be paid on Monday. A. A. C. LA RIVIERE, Provincial Treasurer.

The Mail of yesterday denied a rumor "to the effect that work on the Red River Valley Road had been suspended owing to want of funds. As a matter of fact, the money for the contractor's first estimates is waiting his order in the bank at Winnipeg. The road will be finished and operated; of this there is little doubt."

If the York Shrievalty case is not soon settled there will be bloodshed sure. The quiet week has developed half-a-dozen new candidates in the West Riding alone, among them a prominent resident of Maple, a chief among the merchants of Weston and Thompson Porter, ex-Warden. Dr. Gilmour, M.P.P., is alleged to be developing gray hairs over the trouble his aspiring constituents are bringing him. While G. B. Smith, M.P.P., and Partners are said to have locked the front door, and use only the rear shed window as a means of egress and ingress. Dr. Widdifield is believed to have the pull.

William Carroll, aged 30, and Frank Carroll, 23, brothers, were prisoners at Police Headquarters last night. Yesterday afternoon the Carroll boys were at the Humber and in the broad light of day forcibly relieved John Devine of 103 Euclid-avenue of his watch. Mr. Duck was notified of the theft and he interested himself in the matter. The Carrolls boarded the Canadian for the city, and the telephone being quicker than the steamer Detectives Black and Alf. Caddy were at the Church-street wharf and took the pair into custody. It is claimed one of them was seen to throw the watch into the steamer's furnace on the way to town. Mr. Duck deserves credit for the prompt manner in which he assisted the police in effecting the Carrolls' capture.

Fresh negotiations between the bosses and the striking carpenters tending to a settlement of the difficulties were begun yesterday, with the result that neither side would make any concessions. A settlement is consequently as remote as ever.

Edward O'Brien, a machinist, living at 32 Shaw-street, was locked up at the Agnes-street Station last night on the charge of forgery, O'Brien's alleged offence consists of forging the name of Capt. McSpadden, dealer in organs, to a receipt for $40 in payment of an organ. The prisoner some time since obtained an organ from the Captain on the instalment plan, and then offered it for sale to a Jew. The latter demanded from O'Brien a proof of ownership, thereupon he forged the receipt.

A BRUTAL AFFAIR.

The Mob Stops the Fight Between Regan and Henry.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The long-talked of prize fight between Johnny Regan and Tom Henry came off this morning early. The men fought thirty-eight rounds. The fight was declared a draw and was broken up by a mob. The scene of the battle was fifty miles up the Hudson River. Both men were in the pink of condition. Regan was the favorite, but Henry's backers stuck to their man to the last. Two hundred men witnessed the fight. Just before the contest opened Henry walked over to Regan's corner and bet him $300 that he would defeat him. The money was at once handed over. Both men weighed about 115 pounds.

The fight was under Marquis of Queensberry rules and two-ounce gloves were used. The stakes were $3000. Time was called at 3.30 o'clock and the battle began. In the first round there was some sharp fighting and Regan landed heavily on Henry's chin. Regan also got on to Henry's nasal organ twice. In the second round it was demonstrated that Henry was the quicker man of the two.

In the sixth round things began to get hot. Henry led with a terrific left hander, but he failed to get it in, and in return received a smasher on the cheek and stomach. Regan got in heavily on Henry's face, but the latter returned a sledge hammer blow on the line of the belt. Many of the rounds were tame and uninteresting, being characterized by simple sparring and dodging. It became evident, however, that Regan was fighting to win. Now and then he got in both his right and left with telling effect without apparently losing any strength, while Henry began to show that he was becoming tired.

At the end of the thirty-seventh round Regan changed his tactics and went in smash fashion. Excitement ran high, Regan kept at his man hammer and tongs. The friends of Henry did not like this and at once began to yell and howl. In a twinkling the ropes were broken down but the men kept at it. The din drowned the voice of the time-keepers. Regan was now fighting like a demon and pounded Henry in a most numerical manner. His face was covered with blood and he looked a weary man when he got to his corner.

The thirty-eighth and last round was fought amid the wildest excitement. The men had hardly faced each other when they went at it slap-bang. Then they clinched, during which Regan claimed Henry butted him. Once more they broke into the ring. It was almost impossible to distinguish the men who, however, kept pummeling each other the best they could. Finally both went to the floor. The mob surrounded them and acted in a most disgraceful manner. While the pandemonium was at its height the referee could be heard yelling that the fight had been declared a draw. As soon as Regan heard this he objected, but to no purpose. Henry also wanted to go on, but the mob assumed charge of everything.

The mill lasted two hours and forty-one minutes. Henry was so badly used up that he had to be carried on board the tug, while, judging from appearances, Regan could have stayed for an hour more. The referee's decision was admitted to be just, under the circumstances. The men will come together again very shortly.

An Attempt at Suicide.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Mrs. W. H. Williams, wife of a newspaper carrier, while laboring under the influence of whisky last night tried to commit suicide by cutting her throat with a table knife, and not succeeding with that jabbed herself in the stomach with a small file, but that also failed to have the desired effect. She was taken to the police station and locked up. Her wounds are not serious, and she was to-day committed to jail for safe keeping until she gets over the d.t's.

Defeat of Prohibition in Texas.

GALVESTON, Aug. 6.—The complete returns received by the Galveston News from 415 voting precincts in the state, including all the larger cities and places convenient to telegraphic transmission, and a few complete country returns, place the total majorities for state prohibition at 5351 and the total majorities against state prohibition at 60,305. This indicates that the amendment has been defeated in the whole state by over 100,000 votes.

The American Peace Memorial.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Mr. John Bright has signed the American peace memorial. In all 173 members of the House of Commons have signed the document and nine of them have consented to join the deputation which will take the memorial to America.

Chess-Players Banqueted.

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—A farewell banquet has been given to the chess-players who took part in the international tournament at Frankfort. The Secretary of the German Chess Union challenges the English and American players to a mass contest to be held on neutral ground in either Belgium or Holland. The challenge has been accepted and the contest will take place in 1888.

The Erring Brother Gets a Month.

QUEBEC, Aug. 8.—Donamur, the Christian Brother, who recently stole $600 from the Brotherhood, confessed his guilt and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment to-day.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

There is no truth in the report that Flood, the California millionaire, is dying.

Seventy-nine buildings at Millbrook, Kansas, were demolished by Thursday's storm; total loss $80,000.

There has been a heavy frost in the Northern part of New Hampshire, but no serious damage to crops is anticipated.

Three men were stabbed, one of them seriously, during a row in Church-street, Troy, on Sunday night. A German, a Frenchman, a Canadian, two Americans and an Irishman have been arrested.

THE OWNER OF THE BLAKE

THE CHICAGO AUTHORITIES GOING TO MAKE IT HOT FOR HIM.

They Are Collecting Evidence to Show that Conditions Planned the Escape of McGarigle and Will Make it an International Question.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—All the circumstances attending McGarigle's escape are now completely known to the proper authorities and the indictment of every one who aided him to get away is promised in advance. It is announced that a special Grand Jury is to be called without delay. Its first business will be the investigation of the conspiracy that cooled in the flight of McGarigle. The mint and petty job, the biggest steal the county suffered in any one transaction engineered by the boodlers, will then claim their attention.

But a doubt is expressed that Dr. St. John will be indicted for his share in getting McGarigle off. Two sailors from the schooner Blake, the vessel owned by St. John and on which McGarigle escaped, arrived here to-night to make affidavits against the doctor after identifying him. The purpose of these depositions is to complete the legal proof that will be in the nature of a demand on the National Government to take action. Affidavits of Canadian citizens both in Canada and the United States, showing that McGarigle, a citizen of this country, while under conviction of crime, was spirited off by citizens of Canada for the purpose of thwarting the ends of justice will be part of the evidence that will be sent before the Department of State at Washington, and if the authorities there can not under the law they will be urged to demand of the Canadian Government that McGarigle be delivered up. The matter is thus to be made an international question.

KATKOFF'S FUNERAL.

An Immense Crowd Gathers to Honor the Dead Editor.

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—The remains of M. Katkoff were conveyed to this city from Znamsky, a distance of twenty miles, for interment. The coffin was borne the whole distance alternately upon the shoulders of relatives of the dead editor, [illegible] Mr. Duck deserves the university, members of the press and peasantry. The body of the coffin was carried in front of the procession. There were 500 carriages in line. The [illegible] were dressed in white, with silver embroidery. Priests, bearing holy water, blessed every village through which the procession passed. The carriage halted at every church along the route where prayers were offered for the repose of the soul of the deceased. The procession gathered strength along the route.

Prince Dolgorouky representing the Czar, met the funeral train several miles from Moscow. Enormous crowds gathered to receive the remains. The funeral cortege entered the city at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and the remains were borne to a tomb in the Alexander monastery for interment. A heavy rain was falling when the body was being borne to Moscow.

THE COLONIZATION SCHEME.

The British Government Decline to Propose a Loan.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—In the House of Commons to-night Mr. W. H. Smith announced that the Government declined to propose that Parliament guarantee any loan in aid of colonization schemes. He did not see that any good would be obtained by inviting the colonial governments to co-operate in raising a colonization fund.

The question was asked what was the reason of the Government's refusal to submit a return showing the number of royal princes, or persons allied to royalty by marriage, who had posts in the public service and draw money from the public funds, and how many officers have been passed over by such appointment.

Mr. Smith replied that in the judgment of the Government such a return would be of an invidious character and ought not to be granted. [Radical cries of "Oh! but it must be granted."]

THE CHINESE BANKING PROJECT.

An Imperial Decree Issued Sanctioning an American Scheme.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 8.—M. Mitklemitz with two Chinese envoys started for Washington to-day, having secured an Imperial decree sanctioning the formation of a banking syndicate. The project now only awaits ratification in America. The immediate capital of the proposed bank will be 50,000,000 taels, the management having power to increase the sum. A dozen of the principal American banks will advance the money. Li Hung Chang will be Chairman with a joint American and Chinese management. The first work to be undertaken will be a railway between Pekin and Tien Tsin and Canton.

A Railway Company Ruined.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—It was reported in Cincinnati that the treasury of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad Company had been completely gutted by the Ives-Stayner management. A stockholder stated that the amount abstracted would probably exceed $3,000,000. The securities, it is said, were used by Ives and Stayner in the Baltimore and Ohio and other deals which they engineered.

Another Line of C.P.R. Steamers.

From The Victoria, B.C., Standard.

We learn that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the C.P.N. Company are negotiating for a new line of steamers from Vancouver to northern coast points, especially with a view to meet the requirements of the constantly increasing stream of tourists coming from the East. It is proposed to put on first-class steamers that will make the round trip in a few days. The objective point of the new line has not been determined, but it is very probable it will be some port in Alaska. Talks in connection with the report published the other day that the Canadian Pacific Railway had purchased steamers for a line to San Diego, it indicates the determination of that corporation to draw trade to its line from the entire coast.

Suits Against a Railway.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—Mr. Onesime Boisvert, of Farnham, has entered an action against the Central Vermont Railway Company for injuries received by his wife and himself in the White River Junction collision. Mr. and Mrs. Guevard of St. Ephrem d'Upton also claim $5000 as compensation for the loss of their daughter, who was their only support, and who was killed in the same collision.

THE PARADIS CASE.

Several New Features Develop as the Action Proceeds.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The case against Father Paradis for forgery was commenced in Aylmer on Saturday and continued to-day, and has already developed three new features; first, the exclusion of the press; second, an application for the arrest of Hon. James McShane, Provincial Minister of Public Works, and third, an announcement by Mr. McArthur, one of the magistrates sitting in the case, that he intended withdrawing from it on account of the course pursued by the prosecution, and the counter announcement by Mr. Foran, counsel for the prosecution, that he would procure a mandamus to compel McArthur to continue in the case.

The evidence so far has gone to show that in October last a check for $430, in favor of Michael White, Mayor of Aumond, was received from the Public Works Department of Quebec by Father Paradis, who endorsed White's name on it and got it cashed by Tremblay, at Bate & Co.'s, Ottawa. Father Paradis does not deny that he signed White's name, and has not yet had an opportunity of putting in evidence to show what authority he had for doing so. Most of the time of the Court so far has been taken up with quarrels between the lawyers. After a protracted wrangle to-day the case was postponed for eight days, during which time a new summons to appear will be served on Hon. James McShane.

If McArthur persists in his determination to withdraw from the case and Foran in his to get a mandamus compelling McArthur to remain, a lively time is expected when the Court meets again.

A Jeremy Diddler's Exploits at Brockton.

DRESDEN, Ont., Aug. 6.—T. A. Rawlins came here in May to manage the local agency of a Toronto brokers firm. He was of pleasing manners and considerable [illegible]. All went "merry as a marriage bell" till Mr. R. took a trip to Detroit and was absent several days. He had been spending his employers' money and was dismissed. [illegible] that he had also been imposing on others. He owed a hotel bill and numerous others, and had borrowed where he could. Unexpectedly he returned, stating that he had a lucrative situation offered in Petrolia, and would make everything right all round as soon as possible. A young man who had endorsed a draft for John Rawlins' father in England had it returned dishonored. Mr. R. never went to Petrolia, but stole a finger-ring, a hat and a pair of shoes before leaving the Clifford Hotel here. The only tidings of the fugitive since are several bills forwarded from St. Thomas for collection.

Counterfeit Money in His Boots.

PORT HURON, Aug. 8.—Last night George Beacraft of Port Huron was arrested in Port Edward, Ont., for passing counterfeit money. He was handcuffed and chained in the depot until this morning, when he was taken to Sarnia jail. He had in his boots and on his person several hundred dollars in counterfeit "twos" and "fives" on the Dominion Bank of Canada. Beacraft has been under arrest several times for the same offence, the last time being about four months ago in this city, but the officers failed to convict him then.

A Competitor for American Wheat.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Mr. Simonton, Director of Agriculture of the Northwest Provinces of India, has issued a note on competition between Indian and American wheat. He says India possesses means to compel America to withdraw her hostile tariffs and open her markets to British industry, but is burdened by higher railway freight charges, excessive handling and apparently (though not really) inferior quality. He advises London merchants to use their influence with the railways.

Sale of Timber Limits.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—The lumbering firm of Hardman & Co. have purchased from Messrs. Gilmour & Co. their fine pine limit on the Kippawa for $188,000. Messrs. Hardman & Co. intend working this new limit extensively this winter and expect to nearly double their cut.

A Good Report.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The returns issued by the Board of Trade show that the imports during the month of July decreased £400,000 compared with the corresponding month last year, and exports increased £700,000 as compared with those of July, 1886.

CABLE ITEMS.

The wheat crop is good and Russian harvest reports are satisfactory.

The parting of the Emperors at Gastein on Sunday is said to have been most touching.

The women employed in the Imperial tobacco factory at Sicia, Austria, have gone on strike.

Krupp donated $200,000 to the benefit of his employes, to which sum his son Frederick added $170,000.

Baron Billing, late French ambassador to Sweden, while visiting friends in Alsace was expelled from the province.

The price of wheat in the Vienna market fell to a lower extent on Saturday than for twenty-three years, a centner selling at 7 florins.

Mr. Gladstone will not attend the Welsh National Eisteddfod at the Royal Albert Hall, at which it was announced he would preside.

A farmer named Custy was shot and mortally wounded in the highway near Knals, Ireland on Sunday. The crime was of an agrarian character.

It is rumored in Vienna that Prince Ferdinand will start for Bulgaria immediately with the intention of formally abdicating the Bulgarian throne.

The German Government is constructing strategic railways towards the frontier of Holland, and is suspected of having designs upon that country.

Gerly's jewelry store, Lambert & O'Brien's oil stores and Robins' photograph shop, Grafton street, Dublin, were burned yesterday. Other buildings in the neighborhood were damaged. Loss, $200,000.

Change Wanted.

From The Omaha World.

First saleslady—Marie!
Second Saleslady—I am here.
"Are you busy?"
"Yes."
"Where is the other saleslady?"
"She has not come in yet. What do you want?"
"I want some one to go and ask the cashier if she can change a one hundred dollar bill for woman."

A Railway Boycotted.

DUBLIN, Aug. 8.—The West Clare Railroad has been boycotted, owing to hatred of Traffic Manager Sullivan. Placards have been posted warning the people not to patronize the road until Sullivan is dismissed. Persons who travel by this line, the placards say, will be in danger of being shot.

Cholera at Malta.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A despatch from Malta says that seven new cases of cholera and two deaths from the disease were reported on the Island to-day.

The Juniors' Rejoinder.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I notice in Friday's EXAMINER an extract from the Omemee Herald as to the recent cricket match between the Omemee High School (?) and our Juniors. The redundant verdancy of the author of the article in question is truly refreshing this hot weather. As to the lemonade question. There was not a drop of this article sold on the grounds during the match. There were, however, some young urchins, who had brought water on the grounds, and who by way of joke asked couple of our boys a cent a glass for it, but not any of the Omemee men. If, however, unknown to us they did, it exemplifies in a striking degree, their greenness when they could be taken in by such youngsters as they. As to the objection to the "bearded men" on our team, there was not one. We, however, did have Hugh Ray to fill up a vacant place on the team owing to the illness of one of our boys. How does this contrast with their conduct? We went there on the express representation that not one of their number was older, than 18 and on getting there found Bradburn, Shepard, McCrea, Lindley, Thompson and another youngster 23 years old. All with the exception of the last mentioned man, were bearded men. Then their grounds—swamp rather! Fancy playing cricket on a concession road—no wonder, not being used to such a crease, we got beaten, and no wonder they got beaten here, because they all were in a state of stupid wonderment at the excellence of our grounds, the like of which they never, probably, saw before. In other respects our treatment was very hospitable and kind, but so was ours of them, and nothing would have induced us to say anything about the state of affairs in Omemee had we not been so grossly insulted by the uncourteous specimen styling himself "Our own Reporter." In conclusion we beg to say our boys are willing to play their best 2nd eleven, bearded men and all, any time, on any grounds but the concession road in Omemee. What an exhibition of umpiring that was at the game, on the part of the umpire hailing from classic Omemee. His ideas as to the game—most peculiar ones too—must have originated with himself, and, judging of him by his umpiring, we should say his character is of an extremely eccentric and erratic disposition. He does not appear to know even the elementary principles of the game, and that terribly extortionate charge of 1 cent per glass of water—which he, with others of the team, complain they so rashly and recklessly had to pay—seems to have completely unnerved him, for he appeared very weary. Some of his decisions were rank, and we trust that the next time a game is played, the gentleman they bring along to act in that capacity will be something more than a mere ornamental figurehead.

I remain,

Yours etc.,

FAIR PLAY.

Ennismore.

WEATHER NOTES.—Another month of extreme heat has come and gone, hotter than the one just closed. I believe that a hotter one is not on record in Canada. Our lowest temperature any time during the day, or what we style our coldest, was on the 10th, standing at 72° in the shade; our hottest on the 16th, standing for over three hours at 95°; but taking the 4th at sunrise being 75°, at 3 p.m. 92°, and at sunset 85°, averaging 84°, while the 16th at sunrise, being 60°, at 3 p.m. 95°, and at sunset 85°, averaging only 80°, while the month at sunrise and sunset averaged 69°. Rain fell on 10 days to the depth of 2 inches and 41/100 of an inch; this may seem large, but when it is remembered that on the 2nd, during the heavy storm of rain and hail, accompanied with wind and thunder, it fell 1 inch and 33/100 of an inch, in fact all our rain during the month has only been local showers. We had thunder on 6 days, but sometimes little rain. On no occasion has it inclined to frost, only once, on the morning of the 7th, was the thermometer down at 52°. Fog, only once—on the morning of the 21st. First cutting of barley on the 9th, and fall wheat on the 11th, both being very early. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely:—South west 8 days, south east 5 days, west 7 days, north west 6 days, north 1 day, south 3 days and north east 1 day.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

All Medical Authorities

Agree that catarrh is no more nor less than an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nasal air passages.

Nasal catarrh and all catarrhal affection of the head are not diseases of the blood, and it is a serious mistake to treat them as such. No conscientious physician ever attempts to do so.

It is held by eminent medical men that sooner or later a specific will be found for every disease from which humanity suffers. The facts justify us in assuming that for catarrh at least a positive cure already exists in Ely's Cream Balm. eodw32

ONLY TWO BOTTLES.—Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both of the officers and the wife of a well known U.S.A. General had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm. eodw31

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject of any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold [illegible] bottles at John McKee's Drug store. eodw31

The Baseball Scores—The Yachts at Kingston.

TORONTO, Aug. 2.

Toronto lost the two games played yesterday, the defeats being in both instances due to wretched field work. The morning game at Hamilton was a contest between Shepherd and Jones, and although the Hams' south-paw twirler was effective, the Toron'o pitcher was equally so. Unfortunate errors at critical points and a wrong decision by Umpire McLean gave the home team a victory which it did not win upon its merits. Score:

THE YACHTS AT KINGSTON.

A Sail-Over for the Aileen—The Garfield and the Iolanthe also Winners.

KINGSTON, Aug. 2.—The weather was fair for the regatta, with a southwest wind, which held for the day. There were not many entries for the different classes.

Owing to the Atalanta's centre-board not being finished, the race was postponed for one hour, and as she was not ready at that time the Aileen sailed over the course and took first money. The Oriole lay at anchor, and Commodore Geodergham entertained a party of ladies and gentlemen on board at lunch.

The race in class one was between White Wings and Garfield. After a most exciting run the Garfield won by three minutes. The White Wings lost her bobstay and horn.

There was a spirited race in class two. The Iolanthe beat the Merle badly, with the Cyprus third and the Laura fourth.

The Verve lost her bowsprit coming from Oswego and could not repair in time to race.

The Vivid took a large party around the course, and Commodore Mott entertained a party on his yacht. The representatives of the different boats were dined by Commodore Carruthers to-night.

The Oriole and the Aileen leave for Toronto to-morrow night. The other yachts leave for Belleville.

An Old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly 30 years, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults. It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. 2w31d

Keep Your House Guarded.

Keep your house guarded against sudden attacks of colic, cramps, diarrhœa, dysentery and cholera infantum. They are liable to come when least expected. The safest, best and most reliable remedy is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. 2w31d

MORE TROUBLE EXPECTED.

The Present State of Affairs in the Sandwich Islands Unsatisfactory.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—A despatch to the Tribune from San Francisco regarding affairs in the Sandwich Islands, says there are signs of trouble in the near future. While everybody admits that a change of Government was absolutely necessary, conservative men are beginning to question the stability of a Ministry elected by an armed revolutionary league, bound by oath, and acting in secret. There is also evidence of internal dissensions within the league, which is now running the Government through the figurehead Cabinet. It is asserted that few, save the leaders, know what is going on behind the scenes, and that most of the members are being used as tools to further the ends of men who find personal profit in the turn events have taken.

A MOTHER'S SACRIFICE.

She Loses Her Life While Attempting to Save Her Drowning Son.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—To-day Mrs. Brennan, residing at 79 Nazareth-street, along with four children, went over to St. Helen's Island. After landing they betook themselves to the militia department's enclosure, which is situated to the left of the landing stage. Here Mrs. Brennan's little son, 10 years of age, went to bathe, when he was swept away by the strong current. His mother, seeing her child's danger, jumped in, only to meet her own death, as the current is so strong at this particular place that bathing was strictly prohibited. Mrs. Brennan's sister called for help which arrived too late to save the lives of mother and son, who were both drowned. The bodies were recovered.

THE DEATH OF CAPT. HAMEL.

An Inquest to be Held Into the Circumstances Surrounding It.

OTTAWA, Aug. 2.—An inquest was opened today on the body of Captain Hamel, found at the entrance to the canal yesterday, and adjourned until Wednesday in order that a post mortem examination may be made. The body is greatly decomposed, but shows marks of violence, and there are strong suspicions of foul play. He was last seen about half-past 10 on Friday night standing near the lower lock with a Frenchman from Hull. At that time Hamel was known to have about twenty dollars in his pocket, but when the body was found there was no money on it.

Smuggling at Thousand Island Park.

WATERTOWN, Aug. 2.—The United States customs inspectors are causing a great deal of excitement at Thousand Island Park, in St. Lawrence County, by their efforts to stop the smuggling that has been going on there for some time past. Meats, vegetables, grain and other articles have been brought from Canada to the park in considerable quantities, without the payment of duties. Last evening the officers waited on President Kinney of the Park Association and informed him that they had proof that a quantity of grain had been smuggled for the use of the association, and that it was drawn to the barns by teams belonging to the association. This would lay a large amount of property liable to seizure. The park authorities offered to pay the duties on the grain to save trouble, but this will not be satisfactory to the officers, who claim to have evidence of many cases of smuggling at this point on the river. Further developments are looked for with much interest.

A Cable Pool Forming.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—An official of the Western Union Telegraph Company said today that three weeks ago a representative from each of the cable companies met and endeavored to agree upon a plan to restore rates. That other meetings have been held and that the consummation of the plan is near. The rate about agreed upon is 35 to 40 cents a word and Wednesday may see established the strongest cable pool ever formed. The existing hitch is said to be the large share demanded by the Commercial Company, but it is said Mr. Mackay is about to yield a point or two.

The O'Farrell Libel Case.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Mr. John O'Farrell, advocate, having deposed in the Police Court that he had no share whatever in the odious murder of D'Arcy McGee, with whom he claims to have been on terms of great intimacy at the time of his death, the Canadien publishes an explanation in which it insists that the despatch published by Free Ottawa had no reference to Mr. O'Farrell. The latter expresses his intention of proceeding with the prosecution.

Fire Statistics for July.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The New York Daily Commercial Bulletin's fire record for July shows the fire loss in the United States and Canada to have been $14,622,250, against $20,080 in July, 1886, and $9,587,500 in July, 1885. This is just double the average loss in July for the past twelve years. The total loss for the first seven months of 1887 was $76,928,100, against $63,600,000 for the corresponding period of 1886.

An Operatic Singer Robbed.

PARIS, Aug. 2. Madame Ellulni, a former queen of operetta, while travelling in a coach with two attendants, had a valise, containing valuables said to be worth $160,000, stolen. Madame Ellulni had left the coach temporarily in order to relieve the horses while going up a hill, and during her absence the valise disappeared. A male attendant, named Abda, has been arrested on suspicion.

Have You Thought About It?

Why suffer a single moment when you can get immediate relief from all internal or external pains, by the use of Polson's Nerviline the great pain cure. Nerviline has never been known to fail in a single case; it cannot fail, for it is a combination of the most powerful pain subduing remedies known. Try a 10 cent sample bottle of Nerviline. You will find Nerviline a sure cure for neuralgia, toothache and headache. Buy and try. Large bottles 25 cents, by all druggists. 6dw32

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6dw32

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

N. WASHINGTON, M.D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and today the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all thus troubled the advisability, or consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

The Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1887.

LOCAL NEWS.

Don't Miss the Promenade Concert by the Victoria Rifles Band To-night.

Short by Ten.

The town clock at the hour of eleven last night tolled a solitary one. The works regulating the hammer evidently need oiling.

We have notice of a Monster Methodist Excursion and Picnic to Belleville and the famous Massassaga Point, to be held on the 17th. Excursionists take the morning train. d32

Funeral Sermon.

The funeral sermon of the late W. A. Morrow will be preached in the Charlotte street church next Sunday evening by Rev. Mr. Wallace.

Remanded.

Walter Kerr was found in a state of helpless intoxication by P. C. Pidgeon last night. In the absence of Police Magistrate Dumble, Mayor Stevenson occupied the magisterial bench and remanded Walter for one week.

In Enlarged Form.

Yesterday the EXAMINER appeared in a slightly enlarged form, which it is hoped will fully meet with the extra demands on our space during demonstration week. The price will be the same, 2 cents per copy.

Lacrosse.

The "Riversides" play the Millbrook lacrosse club to-morrow (Wednesday) morning and the Athletes of Madoc Thursday morning. Both games will be played on River side Park.

Civic Holiday.

Proclamations have been issued announcing to-morrow, Wednesday, Aug. 10th, as civic holiday. It is to be hoped that the merchants will endeavor, as far as possible, to comply with the requisition.

Suits made to order promptly, and at Prices to please everybody, at Turnbull's

A Test.

At seven o'clock this evening the fire brigade will hold an "exhibition drill" of hose-laying and the general efficiency of our fire system. Citizens need not be unnecessarily alarmed when they hear the fire bell at that hour.

The Dead Found.

The body of Thomas Starr, drowned Sunday evening in Stony Lake, was recovered about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon in fifteen feet of water, near where the accident occurred. The remains were taken to Norwood for interment.

Moving Westward.

The two story house on the Chamberlain estate, close by the market, on Charlotte street, is to be removed to the vacant lot across the creek on the same street, to make room for the fine building which will soon be in course of erection on its site. Mr. McCarty has the contract for moving the house with two other buildings on the same estate

Buying Goods.

Messrs. George and Ed. Dawson have returned from Toronto and Montreal, where they have been purchasing dry goods for the fall trade. They will re-open business in their improved Hunter street premises in about two weeks with a stock of dry goods, fancy and staple, unexcelled in town.

With Masonic Honors.

The funeral of the late John Stewart took place at three o'clock this afternoon with Masonic honors. The 57th Batt. band, and about 50 members of the Order escorted the remains to the cemetery. Several of the visiting Oddfellows who were also members of the fraternity joined the procession. The funeral was well attended by the general public.

Demonstration Dots

Remember the promenade concert in the P.A.A.A. grounds this evening.

Lieut. General Underwood, of Covington, Ky., arrived at 11.50 this morning and was conducted to the Oriental Hotel.

There was quite a crowd in town to day, but by to-morrow morning all the visiting brethren will be here and all outsiders who will attend the demonstration. A big crowd is expected.

The remainder of the Cintone will arrive this evening by the 6.42, 8.50 and 10.50 trains. All will be entertained at the Charlotte street rink

Baseball To-morrow.

To-morrow morning, beginning at 9:30, Peterborough and Port Hope baseball clubs will wrestle on the diamond in the Association grounds. Port Hope's club this season comprises some good material, being narrowly defeated by Belleville, the best club in this section. Peterborough will be represented by probably the strongest team that has ever graced the diamond here. Galley and Fitzgerald will be change pitchers, and Billings, Callahan and Landy change catchers. The home team will probably be as follows:—Battery, Galley and Billings; bases, Motherall, Landy and Callahan; short stop, Fitzgerald; field, Moore, Brennan and Flign. Game will be called at 9:30 sharp.

The Second Days' Races.

Canoe Racing at Stoney Lake—Exciting Entries and Fine Sport.

STONEY LAKE, August 8.—Sunday was a quiet day in camp. Mr. R. Cayley, of Trinity College, conducted service on Sunday morning, and members of the Anglican Choir of Lakefield conducted the singing, which was heartily joined in by the congregation. In the evening sacred songs were sung around a large camp fire at the main camp. Both morning and evening the scene and the occasion were solemn and impressive. The canoes which brought the morning congregation were counted as they lay around headquarters and the total was 101. Most of them brought more than one occupant.

To-day has been a most successful racing day. The races were witnessed by a large number of spectators, many of them ladies, and both the sailing and paddling events were remarkable for the closeness with which they were contested, as will be seen from the time given.

In the sailing race for decked canoes, sail and ballast unlimited, course three miles, following is the order in which the first five men arrived and their time: Dr. C.A. Neide, 1 hr., 3 min. and 37 sec.; W.A. Leye, Toronto, 1.9.46; S. Britton, Lindsay, 1.11.09; Robt. Tyson, Toronto, 1.14.30; S.J. English, Peterborough, 1.14.35. The wind was light and fitful. There were ten starters, and the others came in in this order: H.A. Morrow, J. G. Edwards, Wm. Lister, Darcy Strickland and J. Z. Rogers.

In sailing race for open canoes, sails and ballast unlimited, course three miles, started seven minutes after the last race and sailed simultaneously, following is the order in which the first five arrived and the time they occupied in the race: Colin Fraser, Ubique Club, 1 hr. 19 min. 35 sec.; W. Reid, Bobcaygeon, 1.15.30; J. E. Hawkins, St. Louis Club, 1.40; H. F. McKendrick, Galt, 1.45; Jas. D. Graham, Lakefield; John N. McKendrick, A. J. Wright, —— McGachan of Lindsay, and W. A. Fraser.

The buoy was fouled by Reid, Hawkins and H. F. McKendrick, who will be ruled out therefor. The first five in each of the above races are to sail against one another to-morrow in another race.

Paddling race, 1 mile, any blade, classes 2 and 3—Dr. Douglass, Lakefield, double blade, 10 min. 34 sec.; A. Blade, Peterborough, double blade, 10.40; H. S. Greenwood, Peterborough, double blade, 10.49; Percy Strickland, Lakefield, double blade, 0; Darcy Strickland, Lakefield, single blade, 0; Geo. W. Strickland, Lakefield, single blade, 0.

Personal.

Mr. Chas. W. Gregory, of Toronto, representing the Dominion Oddfellow, is in town attending the sessions of the Grand Lodge. While here he purposes making a canvass of visiting brethren with the object of placing the official organ of the order in the hands of each brother. We have no doubt but that he will be successful as the Oddfellow under its present management has been greatly improved.

Mr. Jas. G. Morgan, of Windsor and Detroit, with a full supply of Oddfellow regalia, paraphernalia and other things appertaining to the outfit of Oddfellows of all degrees, arrived in town yesterday and is quartered at the Oriental Hotel. A room has been placed at his disposal in the Court House, where all members of the Order are made welcome to an inspection of his wares. He will be happy to receive a visit from all the brethren.

A Smashing Runaway.

Charlotte street is again to the fore in the line of accidents. This morning about ten o'clock the horse attached to Winch's meat express, driven by two lads, Paddy Curran and Jimmy Lasher, became frightened at a passing train and dashed down the street at a terrific pace. Young Curran handled the reins well, but his little strength could not stop the horse's career. At the corner of Aylmer street the runaway collided with Giles' vegetable wagon, which is damaged considerably, scattering corn, cucumbers, etc., in all directions, and starting off the horse hitched to it. It was, however, stopped after running about half a block. The shock upset Winch's cart, and both lads were thrown headlong to the ground, the horse breaking loose and continuing up Aylmer to Simcoe street, where it was stopped. The boy Lasher was picked up unconscious and carried into the Queen's hotel. It was feared at first he was seriously hurt, but fortunately he sustained no injuries beyond a severe shaking up. Curran landed on his face about ten feet from the wagon, cutting his chin badly, but started up immediately after his horse. The meat wagon was considerably damaged also. The lads' escape was almost miraculous.

Annual Session of the Grand Encampment, I.O.O.F.

Opening Session—Officers and Members Present—Report of Proceedings—Arrival of the Victoria Rifles' Band—To-morrow's Demonstration.

Every train yesterday and last night brought to town the delegates to the annual session of the Grand Encampment here. Early this morning the Victoria Rifles' Band, Montreal Canton Militant and three Highland Pipers in costume, accompanied by a number of Oddfellows of that city, arrived via C. P. R. The uniformed visitors were conducted to the Charlotte street skating rink, where breakfast was served. At nine o'clock the 57th Batt. band, Victoria Rifles' Band, Highland Pipers and Montreal Canton escorted the Grand Encampment representatives from the Oriental hotel up George street to the Court House.

The 18th annual session of the Grand Encampment of Ontario, I.O.O.F., was opened in the Court House at 9 o'clock, Frank Riddell, of London, Grand Patriarch, presiding. The following grand officers were present:—

GRAND PATRIARCH'S REPORT.

Grand Patriarch Frank Riddell of London in opening his annual address said:—PATRIARCHS,—From the west we have travelled eastward since last we met, and our march has been one of progress. The town of Peterborough, whose hospitality we enjoy today, we trust will be benefitted by our labors, and this section of our jurisdiction receive an impulse which will tell in the coming year.

The Good Shepherd has watched over and protected us, and by His permission we are assembled in our fold again to express our gratitude for past mercies and ask wisdom for our future guidance. May our counsels receive His divine sanction, and the prosperity, which has followed us thus far, be continued, if not increased, in years to come.

In placing before you, for consideration, my official acts since last session, I may express my appreciation of the honor you then conferred upon me, and assure you, though great has been the responsibility, I have endeavored to do my duty in every instance to the best of my judgment. Any errors or omissions I leave to the kind forbearance of my brethren.

Patriarchs, I extend to you individually the right hand of fellowship and bespeak for you, during our discussions, the best of good nature and regard for each other, that our united efforts may be productive of the greatest possible good in the limited time at our disposal.

The Grand Patriarch went on to say that during the past year he had instituted three new encampments: Galt Encampment, No. 62, in the city of Galt with six charter members and eighteen initiates, Simcoe Encampment, No. 63, in the town of Simcoe, with fourteen charter members and Ivy Encampment, No. 64, Cobourg. He reported the probable resuscitation of Banner Encampment, No. 43, Harriston, Owen Sound, No. 45, Owen Sound, and that Ontario, No. 11, Oshawa, which had been dormant during the year had again got to work and elected officers.

The order had made satisfactory progress during the year and a net gain of 200 was reported, and the reports of subordinate encampments nearly all had a hopeful strain. All the District Deputies had performed their duties in a satisfactory manner. The Grand Patriarch had appointed as auditors, P.G.M. James Smith and P.G.P. E. E. Robinson, of London. A dispensation had been granted to Charity Encampment, No. 5, Stratford, to receive into membership brothers from Mount Forest (Banner Encampment No. 43, being dormant). Dispensations had also been granted several Encampments to confer more than one degree the same night. A dispensation had been refused to allow Wellington Encampment, No. 31, of Guelph to confer the degrees thereon on members of the fourth degree, to make them eligible to promotion for a new Encampment.

The Grand Patriarch closed his address with the following words: Before closing my report I desire to express my warmest thanks to Grand Scribe Dawson, Grand Treasurer Baltz, and my brother officers for their support and assistance during the year. I desire also to tender my sincere thanks to all members of the Order generally, wherever I have met them, for the kind and courteous manner in which I have been received by them.

I submit the foregoing brief resume of my official work for the year for your judgment and approval. It has been a year of unusual prosperity in our Order and unbounded rejoicing at the jubilee year of Her Most Gracious Majesty, the Queen.

GRAND SCRIBE AND TREASURER'S REPORT.

Bro. M. D. Dawson, Grand Scribe and Treasurer, in the opening words of his report said:

PATRIARCHS,—No more fitting place could have been selected than the ancient but beautiful town of Peterborough for our annual gathering. Long before this Branch of our Order had an existence in Ontario, an Encampment of Patriarchs had a Tent erected here and flourished for many years, but hard times came upon them, and like the red man of the forest, their fire was quenched—they went out of existence. Still the memories of the past were upon them, and when some of the old Patriarchs made an application for the erection of a new Encampment under the Independent Order, they insisted that an old and venerated name, Mount Hebron, should be given them. Their wish was complied with, and about the beginning of November, 1883, a start was made. They promised then that their progress would be "onward," and faithfully they have kept their word, for, from that time to the present, every single return has reported an increase in membership and interest. We are glad to assemble and partake of their generous hospitality on the banks of the Otonabee, and take a view of the numerous lakes which are said to abound in the county of Peterborough. We know that the town has an extended fame for its hospitality, and the members of the Order for more than six months past have been moving heaven and earth to give the Representatives a welcome that they will not forget. We accept the welcome in the same generous spirit in which it is given, and trust that its pulsations may be felt throughout the whole Order.

This branch of the Order, he continued, was in a flourishing condition, though there were some weak tents, owing to unwholesome localities or being too near other encampments.

The charters and effects of the following Encampments should, be submitted, be recalled, as they were practically without an existence, viz: Peel, No. 34, Dufferin, No. 41, Banner, No. 43, and Wilday, No. 44. Peel had not reported for two years, Dufferin had not paid capitation tax for three terms, Banner had not made a report since June, 1884, and Wilday had sent no returns since December, 1883.

PROGRESS.

The following figures indicate the progress of encampments during the six months ending June 30th, 1887:

Initiated	162
Admitted by card	12
Reinstated	5
Total	179
From which deduct:
Withdrawn by card	8
Suspended for non-payment of dues	66
Deceased	7
Total	81
In resse for the last six months	98

The following summary from the Returns will give our membership and standing on December 31st, 1886. I have left out the membership of Encampments that have not reported:

Number of members, as per last report	2870
Initiated during the year ending Dec. 31st, 1886	312
Admitted by card	62
Reinstated	1
Total	3776

Deceased	20
In membership, Dec. 31, 1886	3016
Number of Patriarchs relieved	221
Number of weeks sickness for which Benefits were paid	1134
Amount paid for burying the dead	$ 290 00
Amount of special relief	7 75
Amount paid for relief of Patriarchs	1615 34
Total amount of relief paid	$1913 09
Invested funds of Subordinates	$27658 34
Total amount of Annual Revenue	9187 01

FINANCIAL.

The Grand Scribe reported that the finances of the Grand Encampment were in a very flourishing condition. The lesson that they were taught in Ottawa, and the beneficial legislation and self-denial of the Patriarchs at that and subsequent sessions, have given a fund to fall back upon in any emergency. All their debts were paid, their stock and supplies were in a healthy state, and after the mileage and per diem of the present session were paid, they will have to their credit a good sum.

GENERAL.

The correspondence during the year had been large. The reports contained extracts from correspondence, giving encouraging details of the thriving condition of several Encampments. In concluding his report the Grand Scribe said:—"I desire to thank the District Deputy Grand Patriarchs and Scribes for their punctuality and promptness. In some few localities I have had great difficulty in getting in returns, and in a few instances entirely failed in getting answers to my communications. The promptness and energy of the Grand Patriarch in the exercise of his executive ability has been to me a source of strength. His generous assistance and courtesy during the year were worthy of a large heart. He shirked no duty and has the satisfaction of having had a most successful year. I regret that my report is not more complete, but its entire preparation has been done in a sick room and in very feeble health. I therefore ask the kind consideration of the Patriarchs.

The following is the report of the Grand Treasurer, Rev. Edmund Baltz, of London:—

PATRIARCHS,—Having been elected Grand Treasurer at the last Grand Encampment, held in August, and as the Financial year closes on the 31st of December in each year, I have much pleasure in submitting the Receipts and Expenditures during that period.

A GATHERING OF TUTORS.

OPENING DAY OF THE 27TH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The Part that the Lady Pedagogues Take in These Meetings Not a Prominent One—Dr. Ormiston of New York Receives an Evening Ovation from Old Friends.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Ontario Teachers' Association opened yesterday morning in the Normal School Theatre. The interest in such gatherings is year after year growing, as is evidenced by the increase in the number of delegates and their high standing as a rule in the teaching profession. The importance of the deliberations of the society is fully recognized by the Education Department. The suggestions made on school law amendments are carefully considered by the Minister of Education, and it is safe to say that unless against public policy they find their way, sooner or later, into the educational statutes of the province. The intelligent teachers of the country are in the only position where any undue friction in the educational machinery is felt. They come daily in contact with difficulties which legislation might mitigate, if not abolish, and to them the department looks for reports in that direction.

The number of delegates at this year's meeting is beyond the average. They hail from all parts of the province and represent all sections of elementary and secondary education. So far the number of lady delegates is not large, and the part which they take in the deliberations of the meeting is not extensive. This may be accounted for by the fact that representation which the lady teachers of the province as a body receive on the annual program. This year not a single lady is put down for a paper, essay or discussion, which is the more surprising owing to the prominent part which lady teachers take at the local associations. The delegates are generally a fine looking body of men, and so far as books are concerned they are a credit to their profession. Amongst them there are some good debaters, who will have an opportunity of airing their views on the numerous and interesting topics to come before them.

The convention will elect its officers to-morrow. According to past usage, the presidency goes to one of the three secretaries in rotation. The name of Mr. J. H. Smith, Public School Inspector for the County of Wentworth, is spoken of as the coming man for this office. Dr. Dewart's name is also mentioned.

An Interesting Bill of Fare.

The bill of fare provided for the present convention will prove more than usually interesting. Leading teachers and educationists are set down for papers on subjects pertaining to the theory and practice of teaching, as well as essays and lectures on literary and scientific topics.

At 11 o'clock President H. J. Strong of Goderich formally declared the convention opened after devotional exercises. The business at the morning session was of a routine character. The report of Treasurer W. J. Hendrie showed a balance to the credit of the association of $588.

The convention was resumed at 2 o'clock. Before calling on the first speaker President Strong alluded, in feeling terms, to the great loss the country sustained by the death of the eminent teacher, Dr. Tassie. He also referred in a few sympathetic words to the death of Mr. John McIlride, who was a member of the association and at one time a zealous teacher.

The Aim and Scope of Public School Education.

Inspector James L. Hughes of Toronto read an admirable paper on this subject. He said that the defects of educational systems and the mistakes in educational methods had resulted from erroneous views or indefinite conceptions regarding the true aim of education. The first principle he laid down was that the true aim of education can only be realized by first having a clear conception of the great truth that man is vastly greater than knowledge. He then showed that true education should result in a conscious growth towards the divine source of light and knowledge and power. Schools should aim to make a man's education symmetrical. In treating of this he laid it down that schools should make our bodies more powerful, more enduring, more graceful, more expressive and more skilful in accomplishing the will of our minds. The physical gymnast may be sometimes more useful to mankind than a mental one. A boy who attends a school in which the mental powers are alone paid attention to is not receiving the true essentials of education. It is a sacred privilege of man to make the best possible use of his body; therefore it is the duty of a teacher to see that the pupils are trained in such gymnastic exercises as will give an easy and graceful carriage to the frame. More physical exercise such as is got by a boy on a farm is no reason why teachers in rural districts should dispense with gymnastics as a part of school work.

Amongst other things, Mr. Hughes said that a teacher should not expect his pupils to study the whole sixty minutes out apart for any subject. The monotony and drudgery of such a system of instruction he condemned as distasteful to pupils and teacher. There should be a break in the school study by the introduction of gymnastic exercises at such time as the teacher, in his judgment, will decide upon.

At considerable length Mr. Hughes next maintained that intellectually the schools are responsible for communicating knowledge, giving power to acquire knowledge, preserving and developing a desire for knowledge which leads to systematic study through life, and a thorough training in and by the use of knowledge. The highest duty of the teacher is the moral training of his pupils. He should train them to respect law and obey it, and develop their will-power by continuous practice in overcoming the weakening tendencies in daily school work.

In conclusion Mr. Hughes said: "If we get a true conception of the grandeur of the beings placed in our charge and the great work we may accomplish in them and through them, we will surely know that, however humble our positions, and however inadequately our efforts may be appreciated by our fellowmen, the results of our labors will stand forever, not in a marble record, but in an ever-widening conquest over error, and victory for truth."

Mr. Hughes dealt with his subject in a masterly manner and kept the attention of the convention riveted throughout the reading of the paper.

Dr. Ormiston at the Evening Meeting.

The presence of Dr. William Ormiston of New York, at one time a prominent Canadian educationist, at the evening meeting brought out a large audience of teachers and others. Mr. Strang opened the proceedings by delivering what is usually called the President's address. Mr. Strang is a teacher of some thirty years experience, and is known by his fellow-teachers as thoroughly upright and conscientious, as well as being a faithful and successful teacher. His address last night was rather too pessimistic in tone and not in keeping with his usual tact and judgment. The fearlessness and honesty which he displayed in criticising the policy of the Education Department, when standing along side of the Minister of Education and his officials, was admired by even those who did not agree with the tone and line of his remarks. After dealing with the system of examination in vogue, with which he found faults, especially with some of the papers prepared for candidates for second-class certificates, he pitched right and left into some of the text books in use in the public schools. The recently authorized text book in arithmetic was faulty in typography. The authorized history was utterly unsuitable for the preparation of pupils to pass examinations. Mr. Strang touched upon the scripture lessons prepared for the use of schools. He thought that a great deal of nonsense was uttered by the opponents of the book, and yet he felt the lessons were in many cases defective. If the book were prepared under the direction of a committee of the Teachers' Association instead of being handed over to an outsider, the results would have been different. He also found fault with a system of education with a political head to govern its development. He suggested a return to a modified form of the former council of public instruction. The agitation for an Ontario college of preceptors fell flat on the country. The only hope for education in Ontario was to have a council elected by all the classes engaged in the work of education.

At this stage of the president's address Dr. Ormiston, accompanied by Principal Caven of Knox College, entered the hall. The distinguished visitors were received with rounds of applause.

The President then introduced the lecturer of the evening, Dr. Ormiston. The Doctor was in fine form and immediately proceeded to make himself at home with his audience. He began by sketching the circumstances which led him to enter the teaching profession fifty years ago in Canada. This gave him an opportunity of placing before the meeting the condition of education in this country before its organization by the late Dr. Ryerson. He eulogized the achievements of the late Superintendent of Public Instruction as an educationist. He was a true patriot, a masterly teacher and an accomplished scholar. If he had any fault, it was that he did too much. Monuments may be erected in his honor, but his real memorial is in the hearts of all true Canadians. He was proud of the system of education in this province for universality adaptability, buildings and the class of men in charge of them.

The rev. gentleman then went on to speak of the teacher and his mission. He should be spotless in character, enthusiastic in spirit and a thorough master of the subjects which he teaches. The lecturer would rather have a first-class teacher carry on his instruction under a tree than the most elegant school-house with a turnip in charge. The teacher was in a threefold relative position. He was the servant of the state, and of course must train the children to be patriotic and obedient citizens. He would rather see mischief-producing teachers in Siberia than in school-rooms. Canadians should be taught to be proud of their country. If a Scotchman is proud of Scotland, with its mossy banks, mountains and rivers, why should not Canadians be proud of such a country as is theirs! But upon a man who is not proud of Canada, with its fertility, illimitable resources and public institutions!

In their relation to trustees the Doctor advised the teachers to insure their confidence and endeavor by honest work to gain their esteem. In speaking of the teachers' relation to their pupils, Dr. Ormiston gave valuable suggestions as to how to gain their confidence and thereby promote their educational welfare. He condemned the giving of prizes, but plod eloquently for the appreciation of any thing well done by children. All fault-hearing should be reproved, espionage should be discountenanced, as it degrades the teacher and pupil.

After alluding to the financial and social status of the present generation of teachers, the rev. lecturer brought his eloquent and instructive address to a close by a eulogy on Canada, and by expressing the great pleasure it afforded him to revisit the scene of his former labors. His concluding words were almost drowned by the tumultuous applause which greeted his peroration.

Dr. Kelly of Brantford and Mr. Buchner, Public School Inspector in Eastern Ontario, two former pupils of the Doctor, moved a vote of thanks to the lecturer. This he right the Minister of Education to fact, and in a fifteen minute speech he dealt eloquently with educational topics. He eulogized Dr. Ormiston, declaring that Canada was proud of his career in Ontario and in the United States.

The High School Section.

The High School section of the association was organized in the forenoon by the appointment of Mr. John Millar of St. Thomas Collegiate Institute as chairman and of Dr. Birchard of the Brantford Collegiate Institute as secretary.

The chairman laid before the meeting a series of resolutions advocating increased Government aid to high schools and collegiate institutes. The preamble of the resolutions points as a justification for such aid to the increase in the number of high schools, masters and pupils since 1873, when the grant to secondary education was amended. They deal also with the increase in the annual salaries paid to masters and the additional work imposed upon high schools through the preparation of teachers, university matriculants and pasmen. Reference is made to the regulations of the department which require an efficient staff of teachers, suitable building and modern school appliances.

FIRE-SWEPT MICHIGAN.

The City of St. Ignace Has a Narrow Escape From Destruction.

ST. IGNACE, Mich., Aug. 8.—This city had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire last night. A fire in the woods a couple of miles west of the city was fanned into a roaring storm of flame and smoke by a gale from the west which swept everything before it. The city was immersed in smoke during the whole night, and sparks and cinders fell in every portion of the town. Trees were blown down on nearly every street, and only a change of wind to the northwest saved the city.

Sandusky in Danger.

PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 9.—Sandusky, Mich., has just been reached by telephone. Carson's Hotel and barn, with a dozen other buildings, have been destroyed at a loss of about $12,000. With the assistance of people from Carsonville and the surrounding country the fire was got under control, but the whole country for miles around is dense with smoke and seems to be all on fire. Fences, telegraph and telephone poles are burning, and the people are all engaged in fighting the flames. Unless rain comes before long it is feared there will be a repetition of the fires of five years ago.

Fire in the Lumber Piles.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Aug. 9.—Fire broke out in the lumber on Stimson Bros.' dock at Lakeside at 11 o'clock this morning, destroying $30,000 worth of lumber; all insured. A favorable wind and hard work by the fire tugs of the Lakeside department and a steamer from here saved the mill.

While this fire was burning two other lumber fires started. One in the shingle piles on the docks of F. Alberts & Co., at North Muskegon, loss and insurance not obtainable, and one on the east dock of Hackley & Hume, destroying $40,000 worth of lumber; insured. This fire is still burning, but under control.

Farmers Fighting the Flames.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Aug. 8.—Forest fires are again raging in this section, destroying much valuable pine and standing timber and burning fences and barns. The farmers are fighting the fires to save their homes and stock. A heavy smoke hangs over the village.

Miss Cass Seeking Justice.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A summons for perjury has been issued against Policeman Redaedt at the instance of Miss Cass, who was arrested by him on the charge of being an improper character. Counsel for the defendant hints that the case will develop sensational revelations.

WARSHIPS ON OUR COASTS

WILL BRITISH VESSELS HELP TO GUARD OUR FISHERIES?

Canadian Life-savers Rewarded—The Writs for Charlevoix and Dorchester—The Efforts to Defeat a Candidate for Ottawa County.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—In conversation with a prominent official of the Fisheries Department to-day with reference to the despatches from Halifax, to the effect that the Imperial men-of-war of the North Atlantic Squadron would shortly join the Canadian cruisers in protecting the Canadian fisheries, he said that while he was not aware of any official notice of the instructions given by the Imperial authorities to the officer commanding the squadron having been received by the Department of Fisheries, still he would not be at all surprised if the story of such intended action was true, and by so doing the admiralty would only be continuing the policy adopted in 1870, when British war vessels co-operated with the Canadian cruisers in protecting the fisheries. There are at present three British war ships at Halifax, and it would not at all be surprising if one of them was detailed to cruise around Prince Edward Island, with reference to the fishing. The same officer said that the reports continued to be most satisfactory. The mackerel continued to school inshore, and Canadian fishermen inside the limit were catching from four to five times what American fishermen were doing outside it. The Americans will be practically debarred on the Canadian catch by reason of the bill and prices will undoubtedly [illegible]

[illegible] Board of Trade has notified the [illegible] Secretary, that the United States Government has, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, awarded a medal to Capt. Geo. Ritchie, of the barque Bachelors, of Yarmouth, N.S., in recognition of his brave conduct in saving life from the American ship Saratoga on Nov. 25 last. The Department of Marine has also received information that the United States Government has awarded a medal to Capt. Charles W. Mason and Mate J. M. Dyer of the barque Latona of St. John, N.B., for humane services in rescuing the crew of the wrecked American schooner Sarah H. Rice on Nov. 21 last.

The statement freely telegraphed from here that writs for the Charlevoix and Dorchester elections have been issued is premature. The writs have not yet been issued.

Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron returned to the city to-day.

Hon. Mr. Carling will probably spend two weeks more at Dalhousie.

Hon. Mr. Foster is not expected to return before the first week in September.

The Ottawa County Liberals will hold a convention in Hull on Aug. 16 to select a candidate for the Local Legislature. Present indications are that the old candidates, Cormier and Rochon, will run again.

All female employes at Eddy's match factory, Hull, have been temporarily thrown out of employment by the closing of the factory for repairs and alterations and putting in new and improved machinery. The men engaged in the factory have been kept on and put at other work.

The water in the Ottawa continues to fall and the lumbermen are beginning to find their supply at the Chaudiere running short. Eddy's small saw mill has been closed down during the day so as to get enough power for the large mill, and is run only at night.

The White Cross Society is shaking itself together and preparing for an onslaught on the traffickers in little girls. The society will not prosecute, but will collect evidence, on which the authorities will be asked to proceed.

THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

The Cabinet will Decide on Thursday Regarding the Proclaiming of it.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Mr. W. H. Smith continues his non-committal style of answering questions about the business of the House of Commons. Nobody knows exactly what will be done, but the belief among members is that most of the measures the Government are trying to pass will be dropped. What is called supply—that is, the business of passing money votes—was never so backward. Whatever else is left undone, money must be had. The House is thinning, and will thin still faster next week, but the Irish, who view with indifference the approach of Aug. 12, remain in force. Not a man of that party will leave till it is known whether the Government mean to proclaim the National League or not. The duration of the session perhaps depends as much on that as on anything.

The Proclaiming of the League.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A prolonged sitting of the Cabinet Council was held to-day to consider whether or not to proclaim the Irish National League. The meeting was adjourned until Thursday, when a decision will be given. The majority of the members are against proclaiming the league.

A section of Unionists, headed by Mr. Chamberlain, insist that the Government amend the Land Bill in the House of Lords, so as to give county courts the power of compounding arrears.

Where Rain is Greatly Needed.

HALIFAX, Aug. 8.—The drought is unprecedented. Rain has not fallen in many parts of the province for ten weeks and the country is scorched up in many places. The cattle are being fed on hay. Rivers, streams and wells which were never before known to be dry are dry now. The Cape Breton hay crop is the lightest ever known.

The Restless Russ.

BOMBAY, Aug. 8.—Parties of Russians are traveling the country around Badakshan. They have not been molested and are acquiring a knowledge of the roads. They are making strong endeavors to gain the good will of the inhabitants. Three thousand Russians have arrived in the Kurgantapa District.

The Crown Prince's Health.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Crown Prince Frederick William underwent another operation by Dr. Mackenzie for the growth in his throat yesterday. The results of the operation were good. The Crown Prince returned to Cowes to-day. His general health is excellent and his voice improving.

AN UNFOUNDED CHARGE.

The Scotlands of Hamilton, Charged with Cruelty to a Child, Acquitted.

HAMILTON, Aug. 9.—The charges brought by Mary Ann Canton against John Scollard and his wife Margaret, for cruelly ill-treating Harriet Canton, were disposed of at the Police Court this morning. The complainant found fault because she was not allowed to see her sister, and two or three witnesses who were called swore that the girl Harriet was cruelly beaten and kicked about the place. Mrs. Wilson, residing next door to Scollard, was the main witness as to the cruelty. For the defence, the girl herself swore that she was not ill-used, but that Mrs. Wilson had put her up to steal things out of the store. The reason why Mary Ann Canton was not allowed to see her sister at Scollard's was that the governor of the Children's Home from which Harriet Canton was taken by Mr. Scollard thought it best that they should be kept apart on account of the character of the older sister. The charges against Mr. and Mrs. Scollard were dismissed.

John Stoneman, who pleaded guilty some weeks ago of having broken into the store of William Bell, MacNab-street, and stolen a revolver, was this morning brought up for trial at the Police Court. He was shown to be a bad one, having been sent to jail about six months ago for larceny. He was sent to Central Prison for twelve months.

MOONEY IS INSANE.

He Boasts of Perpetrating Dynamite Outrages in England.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Doctors Fitch and Field, examiners in lunacy for the Department of Charities and Correction, reported that they had examined Thos. J. Mooney, the alleged dynamiter, and found him to be insane.

Mooney, the dynamiter, stated last night that he was the individual who blew up the Local Government Board in London, and was the first man to use dynamite against the English Government. He also said that no Irish society had anything to do with the attack on the steamer Queen.

The Fortifying of Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 8.—It is semi-officially stated that recent articles in the German press imputing to Denmark plans of campaign against Germany because of her action in fortifying Copenhagen have produced astonishment among the Danish Ministers. The Ministers point to the fact that it is a matter of common knowledge that the erection of forts in and around Copenhagen has no other object than that of securing the neutrality of Denmark, and say that the Government is resolved, under no circumstances, to abandon the work.

A Woman Defies the Police.

DUBLIN, Aug. 9.—Alice Barry defied the police who went to execute a writ of eviction against her at Knockside, County Antrim, to-day. She barricaded her house and with the assistance of some friends defended it for a long time against the large force of officers who attempted to take it, by storm, and who were many times repulsed by volleys of stones and streams of boiling water thrown upon them. The police finally captured the house by a charge with fixed bayonets, but not until many of them were hurt and badly pitchforked. Five of the defenders of Alice Barry were placed under arrest.

Blaine Arrives at Dublin.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—James G. Blaine, with his wife and daughters, are in Dublin, where they arrived last evening. Mr. Blaine intends to spend some time in Ireland, as he desires to take a quiet look around and examine into the condition of the country. He says his experience thus far of European society has not reconciled him to the order of things on this side of the ocean. Among the institutions of Great Britain he misses the spring and servo characteristic of America.

Mr. Ives Shirks the Meeting.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Shortly before noon today the committee appointed to investigate Henry S. Ives' management of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway met to listen to any statement which Ives might have to make. At noon Ives had not appeared, and his partner expressed doubts as to whether he intended to make any statement. After some delay the resignations of Presidents Stayner and Ives were received and A. S. Winslow of Cincinnati was elected President, and Christopher Meyer of New York, Vice-President.

Oil to Prevent Baldness.

Letter to the Editor of The London Standard.

I read with interest your leading article criticising Dr. Jackson's theories on the above subject. Rightly or wrongly, Dumas has said that Orientals are ahead of us in everything, and your readers may be curious to know how it is that Orientals, whose intellectual activity is great, prevent the onset of alopecia. In spite of Dr. Jackson, they bathe their heads two or three times in the day, but, as a preliminary measure, anoint the hair with perfumed oil. The result is an abundance of glossy hair. Of course, when the hair follicles have dropped off nothing can be of any avail, but the above preventive method of treatment may be worth consideration.

A GRAND DEMONSTRATION.

Great Gathering of Oddfellows in Peterborough.

An Immense Crowd of Visitors in Town.—This Afternoons' Sports.—The Decorations and Illuminations.

The weather to-day was all that could be wished for a demonstration of this kind. By midnight last night every Canton Militant and band had arrived and were lodged at the skating rink, where they were entertained handsomely. This morning excursions arrived in town from every direction, and it is estimated that fully 10,000 people are here.

At nine o'clock the officers and representatives of the Grand Lodge were escorted by the band to the Court House, where the annual session was begun. A report of the proceedings will be found elsewhere.

THE DECORATIONS.

Beginning at lower George street the first noticeable feature is a large banner bearing the words "Welcome to Peterborough" stretched across the street near the C. P. R. station, in front of Mr. A. McNeil's residence flanked on either side by cordons of flags and illuminations. Then at the market square the evergreen arch is nicely decorated with flags, banners and painted emblems of the Order, bearing on one side the inscriptions in large letters "Welcome" and The Mystic Chain"; on the reverse is the motto "Deeds, not Words, do Good." Another evergreen arch midway between Hunter and Simcoe streets, the handsomest decoration in town, bore on one side the mottoes "Organized Benevolence" flanked by "Mercy" and "Unity"; on the other side, "Weighed, Not Wanting," and "Justice" and "Truth." This arch was beautifully decorated with flags and banners, and several large emblematic paintings, which were brought out in bold relief against the green. The arches and painting were in charge of Mr. H. W. Watson, and no one knew better than he how to make the most of the opportunity. Otonabee lodge had a large banner, inscribed with the emblems of the Order, stretched across the street in front of the lodge room, corner Hunter and George streets. In the middle of the intersection of Brock and George streets was a large floral pyramid, surmounted by a Union Jack, while between the tops of the buildings on each corner of the street were suspended cordons of red, white and blue bunnerette, forming a lofty square of fluttering color.

Besides this there was a general decoration of the streets with Union Jacks, bright hued bunting, etc., among which were mingled a few Stars and Stripes. The street presented a glittering, gorgeous appearance that has seldom been equalled here.

An exceptionally beautiful floral decoration suspended over the doorway of Mr. Jas. Alexander's store was much admired. It was the three links, emblematic of the Order, formed of flowers.

THE ILLUMINATION.

Tuesday night the streets were thronged with crowds, who were delighted with the illumination. Nearly every store was ablaze, while several beautiful gas designs were conspicuously handsome. McAndrew & Noble had a Jubilee design of a crown, encircling the letters V.R., and surmounted by the figures 50. The up-town C.P.R. ticket agency was handsomely illuminated with Chinese lanterns and gas; outside over the doorway was a pretty gas decoration comprising the three links, surmounted by "Welcome." Inside the links were the letters C. P. R. At Chamberlain's restaurant a circle of gas light enclosed three links of flame. Mr. H. LeBrun's mammoth horse shoe, the sign of the store, was illuminated by a horse-shoe of gas-light. The electric light tower at the corner of Hunter street was in operation, and an extra light in front of Habilment Hall was intended to show off the beauties of the south side of the arch. The arch is erected by the Gas Company was in operation for a short time. It will shed its beautiful light over the street again to night. In the Court House Park the Jubilee tower made things brilliant.

By to-night it is expected other illuminations will be added to enhance the general attractiveness of George street.

NOTES.

Several foreign bootblacks are doing a thriving business.

The members of the Castons and bands stationed at the rink are a jolly set of fellows. They enjoyed themselves immensely last night—or appeared to, judging from the noisy hilarity proceeding from that direction.

The visitors praise the arrangements made for their entertainment while here. The hotels are taxed to their utmost, and it is only by careful management that accommodation can be secured for all.

Many of the visitors spent yesterday inspecting our factories and various industries. They all think Peterborough "the finest town in the Province."

Fakirs are abundant and seem to be doing a heavy business.

Six special constables have been appointed to maintain order to-day.

Very few of the stores are open to-day, Civic holiday being pretty generally observed.

A BRILLIANT ESCORT.

At ten o'clock a brilliant escort, composed of the visiting Cantons, headed by the 57th Battalion band and the band of the Victoria Rifles, escorted Lt.-General Underwood, of Covington, Ky., Deputy Grand Sire of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and staff to the Grand Lodge meeting in the Court House, where the distinguished officer was received with all the honours.

The Lindsay Disaster.

Lindsay has been all excitement since the terrible drowning accident of Saturday night, chronicled in Monday's EXAMINER, by which Miss Carroll and Mr. Cameron lost their lives. All day Sunday and Monday every available steamer, yacht, canoe and skiff in the neighborhood were impressed into the service of finding the bodies. On Monday dynamite was used without success. By Tuesday a more systematic search was being conducted, but up to last night no traces of the drowned were discovered.

Victoria Rifles Band Concert.

There was an attendance of about 600 persons present at the Promenade Concert of the Victoria Rifles on the P. A. A. A. grounds, Tuesday night. The grounds were splendidly lighted by electric light, and a grand programme of music was magnificiently rendered. Space will not admit of a detailed notice of the programme, but every number was given with a perfection of execution seldom equalled, and the auditors were delighted, as shown by loud applause. The imitative selections were particularly excellent. The Highland pipers delighted lovers of their music with several pieces and the dancing of the fling and sword dance. The concert was a splendid treat, and to-night the grounds will doubtless be crowded to listen to an entirely new programme by the same band. The pipers will also be on hand, and the Montreal Canton will give an exhibition of fancy military movements. No one should miss this great musical entertainment. The grounds will give accommodation to everybody. Admission, 25 cents.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. READY FOR THE RACE.

Hanlan in Fine Condition—Arrival of Teemer—The Course.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.

Interest in the forthcoming race for the rowing championship of America between Hanlan and Teemer is increasing as the day for the event draws near. Teemer, who has been training for four weeks past at Geneva Lake, N.Y., reached the city by the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday afternoon. He was met at the depot by the Reception Committee and escorted to the Toronto Rowing Club's boat house whence he shortly departed to row to the Island "to remove the cinders from his eyes," as Trainer Plaisted put it. He was favorably impressed with the course. He left his boat—a new Huddick—at Hanlan's boat house and returned to this side at 6 o'clock. He will take two daily spins—one at 10 o'clock in the morning and another at 4 in the afternoon. Hanlan will also do his practice work at about the same time, and thus an opportunity will be afforded the public to watch the performances of the oarsmen, and compare their styles.

The course over which the race will be rowed is six miles, three miles, with a turn. It has been measured time and again. The starting point is just opposite Hanlan's boat-house and the turning buoys will be placed about sixty yards east of Ward's wharf. The Mascotte will carry the referee and press representatives. Mr. Hamilton Busby, who is named in the articles of agreement as referee and stakeholder, has not yet accepted the position, but as his declination has not been forwarded, it is regarded as a foregone conclusion he will accept. He will have in a certain contingency, a most difficult position to fill. Teemer, as Keenan declares, will not row if the water does not suit him, and in the event of the referee ordering him to row he will allow Hanlan to take the stakes. Teemer is a smooth water man and has always been averse to rowing on any other water except at regattas, where he received a stipulated amount for rowing.

Oarsman Teemer's Record.

Teemer is 23 years of age, 5 ft. 8½ in. high and weighs 164 pounds. He is symmetrically built, and looks what he is, one of the best of the first-class oarsmen of the period. He lives at McKeesport, Pa., a town fourteen miles from Pittsburg, and commenced rowing at an early age. In 1881 he defeated John Powers at Pittsburg in working boats, and in the following year took to a shell. His first venture in a match was on the Monongahela River with Monoyan, whom he easily defeated, but in his second race over the same course with Rees Ryerson he was beaten by an accident.

In 1883 he was a participant in the principal regattas throughout the country, meeting with varying success. It was at Pullman that year that he won the consolation race in the fastest time on record for a three-mile race. The time was 20.14 and it remained a record till Teemer lowered it at New Orleans in 1885 to 20.01½.

His first important match race was with Conley at Pullman, over a 3-mile course in 1884, which he won, and subsequently he again outrowed that oarsman in a 3-mile race on Quinsigamond Lake, Me. He then turned his attention to Ross and vanquished the stalwart New Brunswicker at Oak Point in a 4-mile race for $2000. His next race that year was with Gaudaur, when he undertook to give the Orillia man, who was then domiciled in St. Louis, five seconds' start in a 3-mile spin for $500 a side, over the Creve-Coeur Lake course near St. Louis. The race resulted in a dead-heat, but in the row-off Gaudaur outrowed him, his boat being broken.

In 1886 he won first money in the regatta at New Orleans, beating a field of such good men as Gaudaur, Hosmer, McKay, Lee and Peterson, covering the 3-mile course, as before stated, in 20.01½. His last race last season was with Hanlan, whom he defeated, at Pleasure Island for the championship and $1000 a side.

In 1886 he parted with the championship, losing his title and his stake money to Gaudaur at Pullman. He then went to England and competed in the Henley sweepstakes race, beating Peshkes and Matterson in the first two trial heats, but was afterwards defeated by Beach. With Hosmer as his partner he defeated Biglow and Lee in double sculls, allowing the Englishmen 12 seconds' start, and afterwards disposed of Perkins and Godwin on the same terms. He also participated in a four-oared race in England at that time and was successful.

This year he has done little rowing, having been taken at the Boston regatta, July 4, through his boat sinking just after the start. On July 12 he won the Lake Quinsigamond regatta, beating Hamm, McKay, Conley and Ten Eyck.

Such is the outline of the career of the young sculler who proposes wresting the championship from Hanlan. He was never in better condition, form, pace, and though not beautiful of what he will be opposed, himself an confident of winning. He is staying at Bingham's Hub Hotel.

Have You Thought About It?

Why suffer a single moment when you can get immediate relief from all internal or external pains by the use of Polson's Nerviline the great pain cure. Nerviline has never been known to fail in a single case; it cannot fail, for it is a combination of the most powerful pain subduing remedies known. Try a 10 cent sample bottle of Nerviline. You will find Nerviline a sure cure for neuralgia, toothache and headache. Buy and try. Large bottles 25 cents, by all druggists. 6da32

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6dw32

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

Catarrh of Years' Standing Cured.

N. WASHINGTON, M.D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and today the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all thus troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

WELCOMING THE VISITORS.

On behalf of the local Oddfellows the following address of welcome was delivered by Bro. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., P.G. of Peterborough Lodge, No. 111:

To the Grand Master, Grand Officers and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. of Ontario:—

BRETHREN.—The pleasing duty has been assigned me, on behalf of the Oddfellows of Peterborough, of extending to you the most cordial welcome it is possible to express in words, on the important occasion of your visit to this town, for the purposes of holding your Annual Grand Session. While this occasion, in a fraternal sense, is to be counted one of the most auspicious society circumstances, to the local members, and one which I beg to assure you, they fully and heartily appreciate, it has, I am happy to say, a far wider and more general significance.

We of Peterborough count it an especial good fortune that our town should be selected as the annual rendezvous of the Provincial world of Oddfellowship during the Jubilee year of Her Most Gracious Majesty's reign; for you need not to be assured that among the high and noble principles embraced in the tenets of our society that of loyalty to the throne and person of our Sovereign is paramount, and that the Oddfellows of Canada are composed of men who can claim the proud distinction of not requiring to yield first place to any other class or community in these respects.

The Oddfellows of Peterborough, with the frankness which the truth demands, also beg to assure you, brethren, that they have so exemplified our principles in a society sense and so lived them in their personal capacities that they have earned the general respect and good will of the community, so that the cordial welcome you receive from us will not differ from that of our citizens generally, except in the respect of the peculiar conditions and sentiments which the bond of brotherhood engenders.

We shall consider ourselves honoured by the presence in our town for several days of a body of men who, while they may not represent in the most extended, or in any specific sense, the wealth and commercial importance of our province, can yet claim the prouder distinction of representing its moral worth, and the widest and most beneficent practical application of the crowning Christian grace, charity, which covereth the multitude of sins; gives comfort in sorrow; gives relief in distress; gives hope in despair.

Again, brethren, I make you thrice welcome to Peterborough, and the freedom of the privileges of local Oddfellowship; and here permit me to express the wish and hope that the sessions of the Grand Body may be marked by that harmony and good feeling which are characteristic of its meetings, and that the result of its labours may redound to the permanent benefit of our Society and the advancement of the noble principles upon which it is founded.

On behalf of the citizens of the town, His Worship, James Stevenson, M.P., Mayor of the town, P.G. Otonabee Lodge No. 13, delivered the following address of welcome:

To the Grand Master, Grand Officers and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. of Ontario:—

GENTLEMEN.—As representative of the citizens of the town of Peterborough in my capacity of Mayor, I have the greatest pleasure in giving you a most cordial welcome. The town is justly proud of its commercial importance and business thrift, but I assure you that it also appreciates the honor it has received in being selected as a meeting place of your Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment, and you are hereby confidently assured that so far as intention and earnest effort can avail, you shall be accorded the heartiest possible hospitality.

I am happy to say that, in response to the intimation of the Chairman of the Reception Committee, the body over which I have the honor to preside, unanimously and cordially identified themselves with the Oddfellows of the local societies, and were pleased at the opportunity of assisting in arrangements to make your stay among us as comfortable and entertaining as our good will and united efforts can effect. In this action, I am certain, we receive the sympathy and support of all the citizens of the town.

Both in my official capacity and as a member of your society, I have noted with gratification and interest the important position which the Oddfellow Order occupies in the community both as a social element, binding together a loyal brotherhood, by bonds that appeal strongly to the best sympathies and impulses of the human heart, and as a systematised beneficence which gives relief to the suffering, and which is, in the sublime language of Holy Writ, "a very present help in time of trouble." As Mayor of the town, and personally charged to a considerable extent with the dispensing of charity, I have occasion to know that evidences of the unostentatious but persistent and systematic benefactions of the Oddfellow Society are encountered on every side, and that to them is due the fact that many worthy objects of benevolence are not only substantially aided, but are spared the humiliation, so often associated with the enforced acceptance of civic assistance.

Having all these considerations and others too obvious to need mention in view, it gives me great pleasure, on behalf of all classes of the citizens of Peterborough, to extend you, gentlemen, a most cordial welcome to the town and its hospitalities. I feel confident that the next few days will, in the amplest manner, verify my assurances of welcome. I trust that your deliberations may be attended with success, and that, when you shall have completed your business and returned to your homes, only pleasing recollections may be associated with the visit of your Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment to Peterborough.

Gentlemen, accept at the hands of its Mayor, the freedom of the Town of Peterborough for the coming week.

Rev. F. H. Wallace delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the citizens, emphasizing that given by the Mayor. John Ormsby Donagh, Grand Master, made most effective and eloquent replies to the several addresses.

THE GRAND MASTER'S REPORT.

Grand Master Donagh in beginning his report said:—

BRETHREN,—For the first time in many years the Grand Lodge has left the beaten track of [illegible] and by the kindness of the Mayor and by the [illegible] Society Gods are permitted [illegible] Annual Session in the goodly town of Peterborough. The year just closed has been marked by slight, though steady, progress. Our membership, by way of the [illegible] Report, stands at 15,000, for R.P.D., has increased to 15,168. The reports received from the D.D.G.M.'s and my own observations enable me to say that harmony and good feeling have prevailed generally throughout the jurisdiction. There have been but few appeals or disputes of any kind, and in view of the numerous competitors who divide the field of Oddfellowship, we have reason to be thankful for the prosperity we enjoy.

The past year has not added very many new names to the roll of Lodges. It can hardly be expected that many new Lodges will be instituted during the next few years. Almost every town or village of any importance has been occupied, and we must now look to the strengthening and conserving of the Lodges we possess rather than for any rapid increase in numbers. During the year six new Lodges have been instituted, and one defunct Lodge has been resuscitated.

Tottenham Lodge, No. 255, in the village of Tottenham, County of Simcoe, October, 13th 1886.

Grand Valley Lodge, No. 256, in the village of Grand Valley, County of Dufferin, February, 4th 1887.

Credit Lodge, No 258, in the Village of Erin, County of Wellington, March 22nd, 1887.

Charity Lodge, No. 129, in the Village of Sunderland, County of Ontario. Re-opened May 17th, 1887.

Thamesford Lodge No. 248, in the Village of Thamesford, County of Oxford, May 19th 1887.

Lyndon Lodge, No. 259, in the Village of Lyndon, County of Wentworth, July 20th 1887.

Meaford Lodge, No. 260, in the Village of Meaford, County of Grey, August 1st 1887.

On July 28, 1887, Jubilee Lodge, No. 13, D. of R., was instituted at Chatham by Rev. Bro. N. H. Martin, P.G.M. It started with forty-three charter members, and flattering prospects of success.

The charters of Port Stanley Lodge, No. 95, and of Cypress Lodge, No. 187, Bradford, had been reclaimed during the year, and Brougham Lodge, No. 155, Bissell Lodge, No. 51, and Grey Lodge, Durham, practically dormant lodges, had been revived.

Six new halls had been dedicated during the year.

There were only three appeal cases to be considered by the Grand Lodge.

Several Lodge halls, at Bracebridge, Listowell, Napanee and Port Perry had been destroyed by fire—the latter the third time within a few years. Circulars had been issued to subordinate lodges insisting on proper security for treasurers. The sixty-eighth anniversary of the founding order had been duly and generally observed.

ODDFELLOWSHIP AND TEMPERANCE.

In his respect the Grand Master dwelt with considerable emphasis upon this subject. His words were:—

"I have granted the usual number of dispensations to hold pic-nics and entertainments under the auspices of the Order, coupled always with the provision that no intoxicating drinks should be used in connection with them. This wholesome rule I am glad to say, has been generally observed, but I have noticed in some cases a disposition, to regard it as an unwelcome restriction and interference with personal liberty.

It should be a matter of pride to every Oddfellow that in 1823—years before any of the great temperance societies were organized—Oddfellowship took a giant stride in advance of the social customs of the day, and by the "Maryland Reform" abolished the host, the beer-mug and decanter from the lodge room or its precincts.

Again and again has the Sovereign Grand Lodge re-affirmed this law, and declared that while "total abstinence" is not enforced, "temperance" is a cardinal principle of the Order.

And though it has refused to pass a law prohibiting dealers in intoxicating liquors from obtaining membership in the Order, it has laid emphasis upon the fact that it is left to local lodges to determine by the ballot what is meant by good moral character.

I have received during the year reports which show instances in which lodges have suffered material injury, and have lost standing and influence by a too careless watching of the outer door, allowing persons to slip through, who by their actions have brought discredit upon the institution.

Temperance sentiments have undoubtly made great progress during the past few years. Many societies which formerly celebrated their annual gatherings by dinners at which liquors were allowed have substituted cold water, and gained thereby the approval of the community. Oddfellowship cannot afford, even if no higher end were to be served, to lag behind public sentiment on this question, and if we would command the respect of the public, improve our members morally and intellectually, and fulfil the mission of the Order by warring against vice in all its forms, we must adhere closely to the wise and wholesome restrictions which have been thrown around us in regard to the use of intoxicating liquors.

Oddfellowship and the bar-room have nothing in common, and the pure robes of our Order must never be smirched by the touch of the saloon."

The report referred feeling to the bereavement suffered by Dr. Campbell, Grand Representative, Bro. Robinson, G.W., and Bro. Marten, J.P., G.M., by the death of their wives. The Grand Master gratefully recognized the assistance of his associate Grand and Deputy Grand officers and bore testimony to the excellent work done by the Dominion Oddfellow. After a graceful allusion to Her Majesty's jubilee year, the Grand Master closed his exhaustive report by invoking the Divine benediction upon the labours of the Grand Lodge.

GRAND SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Grand Secretary King, in obedience to the laws defining his duties, submitted his twenty-first annual report, embracing the financial and statistical working of the Grand Lodge in all its departments. The result of the year's labours were very satisfactory; the goal of 15,000 membership, steadily aimed at for several years, had been reached and passed, and the number of lodges had been steadily added to, while the benevolent and charitable features of the Order had been dispensed with a liberal and generous hand.

The report necessarily dealt with several matters covered by the Grand Master's report, and a large part of his report referred to matters of purely society interest.

STATISTICAL.

The number of members of the Order had increased from 13,861 in 1882 to 14,847 in 1886; the number receiving sick benefits from 1439 to 1668. During the past 32 years, the age of the Grand Lodge, $454,432 had been dispensed in relief, or an average of $1.28 per hour. In 1836 the total number of lodges was 12 and of members, 605; in 1866, the lodges numbered 211, and the members, 14,847. In 1863 the total yearly revenue was $3,174.60; in 1886, $126,536.10; in 1856 the benefits amounted to $299.00, and in 1886 to $45,507.13. There were 1524 members initiated in 1886. The total assets of Lodges amounted to $558,534.29.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Bro. Wm. Badenach, Grand Treasurer, submitted his report, showing the receipts for the year to be $6,988.32, and the total expenditure, $7,129.52, which, with the surplus last year, left a balance on hand of $8,611.59.

THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT.

The Closing Proceedings of the Annual Session.

Election of Officers—A Distinguished Visitor—The New District Deputies.

The Grand Encampment resumed its business at 2 p.m. The following officers were elected after a very close ballot:—

GRAND PATRIARCH.—John Sinclair, Petrolia.

GRAND HIGH PRIEST.—Abner Fauer, Hamilton.

GRAND SENIOR WARDEN.—J. T. Hembrooke, Toronto.

GRAND SCRIBE.—M. D. Dawson, London. (re-elected by acclamation.)

GRAND JUNIOR WARDEN.—John A. Macdonald, Arnprior.

The following officers were appointed later on at the installation of the elected officers.

GRAND SENTINEL.—H. G. Jackson, Montreal.

GRAND OUTSIDE SENTINEL.—W. D. Lawrence, Newmarket.

GRAND MARSHALL.—B. Wilson, Ridgetown.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

The Deputy Grand Sire, General Underwood, was introduced to the Grand Encampment and received the honors of the Order. The General made an excellent address which was listened to with interest by all.

Various sub-committees presented their reports, containing no matters of public interest.

A notice of motion submitted by Past Grand Patriarch John Welsh, of Stratford, changing the modus operandi of the election of officers was brought up and voted down.

The Committee on Petitions reported on the petition presented in the forenoon, signed by over 40 members of Otonabee Lodge, Peterborough, praying for the establishment of another Encampment here. The report stated that it was not in the power of the Grand Encampment to grant the request, and recommended a sufficient number of the petitioners to obtain the Royal Purple degree and then apply to the Grand Patriarch for dispensation. The report was adopted.

THE ANNUAL SESSION.

A sub-committee was appointed, in compliance with a request, to ascertain the cost of holding an annual session of the Encampment in the city of Montreal, to report at the next session.

The exemplification of secret work was performed most satisfactorily by Bros. Oliver and Welsh.

The installation of officers was performed by Past Grand Patriarch Riddell.

Unanimous votes of thanks were passed to Past Grand Master Riddell for his efficient services; also to the Oddfellows of Peterborough, Mount Hebron Encampment in particular, for the use of the court room for holding the annual session, and for the many courtesies received by the visiting brethren while in Peterborough at the hands of the local Oddfellows.

The retiring officers conveyed regrets at severing their official connection with the Order, and the newly elected officers thanked the brethren for the implied confidence and honor conferred upon them in electing them to their responsible positions.

An adjournment was made from 6 to 7.30 for tea, and the session was finally brought to a close at 9.30 p.m.

DISTRICT DEPUTY GRAND PATRIARCHS.

Interesting Statistics.

Mr. C. D. Macdonald, town clerk, has compiled a tablet of figures showing the value of assessed property in Peterborough, the amount of property exempt from taxes, the number of supporters of public and Catholic schools and their assessments, and other interesting particulars, from the last assessors' roll. The total value of property in Peterborough is estimated at $4,189,810; the amount exempted from taxes, $363,400.

Good Time.

The fire brigade had a test last night at seven o'clock. In just 1 minute and 16 seconds from the first alarm, (the quickest time yet) a stream was playing from a George street hydrant, and in a short time two others. The trial was witnessed by a large number of strangers, who are so ready to praise Peterborough's fire system as the town itself.

THE CANAL AT THE SAULT.

A LARGE BUSINESS WAITING FOR THE CANADIAN ROUTE.

Ottawa Will Not Suffer by the Opening of the Short Line Railway Between Montreal and Toronto—The Official Bulletin Damaged by Fire.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—Mr. John Page, Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, leaves to-morrow for Sault Ste. Marie with a view to inspecting the site of the proposed canal there, and it is understood that shortly after his return the plans for the work will be completed and tenders called for. It is proposed in constructing the new canal to make provision for the utilization of the magnificent water-power at the Sault, and it is anticipated that the rent of sites for flouring mills and other manufactures will go a long way towards defraying the cost of maintaining the canal, which will, of course, have to be free, as all tolls on the St. Mary's Ship Canal on the American side were abolished a few years ago. The traffic on the American canal this year has taxed its capacity to the utmost and there will undoubtedly be large business waiting for the Canadian canal by the time it is completed.

Ottawa will not be left on a siding after the opening of the Short Line between Montreal and Toronto, as although the through trains will, of course, go straight on from Smith's Falls, arrangements have been made for trains from Ottawa making connections at Smith's Falls. The Atlantic and Pacific express and Western freight trains will still pass through Ottawa.

It is understood that during his stay in Paris Hon. Mr. Chapleau will make arrangements for the representation of Canada at the great exhibition to take place in Paris in 1889.

A one hundred and thirty acre farm in the township of Goulburn, a short distance from Ottawa, has been sold for $30,000, which is believed to be the highest price ever paid for a farm of the size in this vicinity.

The damage done to the official debates by the recent fire at Woodburn's bindery has proved to be much more extensive than was at first supposed. It seems that all the English edition of 600 copies had been "picked up" for binding and was only awaiting the completion of the index. Of these 600, about 500 or 520 can be utilized, but the remainder are so much scorched that they are practically useless, and the entire debates will have to be reset. This will involve a loss of about $4000 to the insurance companies, with which the Government holds policies for about $3000. The French copy of the work is comparatively uninjured. No delay in the delivery to the members need be occasioned by the re-setting, as there are enough good copies to supply all the English-speaking members with their copies. It is rather curious that only last session an effort was made by the Auditor-General to discontinue the practice of insuring the debates while in process of manufacture, but fortunately the Joint Committee on Printing determined to renew the policies. This is the fourth bindery fire since the Government offices were removed to Ottawa by which heavy loss has been sustained. The parliamentary printers, McLean, Roger & Co., were notified this afternoon that the debates would have to be reset. This will necessitate their employing a number of extra hands, as their regular staff is just about commencing on the annual report of the different departments.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, with Mrs. Thompson and family, will leave for British Columbia to-morrow night.

Miss Francis Richards, the painter, sails for Liverpool by the Vancouver to-morrow. She will proceed to Italy to complete her professional training.

The Siamese Princes Leave for Home.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Prince Damawongse and the four little Siamese Princes, with their suite, left this morning on the Albany boat for Albany. They will go to Niagara Falls and thence across the continent to San Francisco, stopping at some of the principal cities en route. At San Francisco the party will separate, Prince Damawongse with the four little Princes going to Siam, and the Siamese Minister and his wife returning to London to reside.

Where Prohibition is Unpopular.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 10.—Willis McSloanson, a school teacher near Habattaua, Jackson County, found his school guarded by a mob yesterday morning, who refused him admission on the ground that he was a Prohibitionist. McSloanson opened another school. The anti-prohibitionists installed a new teacher and the pupils divided according to their parents' views on the question.

THE TEACHERS AT WORK.

SECOND DAY OF THEIR CONVENTION AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

What the Various Sections Found to Talk About—A Lecture on the Kindergarten System—Rev. Dr. Sutherland on the Reflexions of Religion and Education.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.

The general meeting of the Ontario Teachers' Association was continued yesterday morning in the Normal School Theatre at 9 o'clock. It is worthy to note the punctual habits which the teaching profession inculcates in its members. Long before 9 o'clock the delegates wended their way to the meeting-place, and at the hour appointed every section was organized with nearly all the members present for the work of the day. The usual calm which characterizes the atmosphere surrounding a teachers' convention was disturbed in more than one instance yesterday.

The Convention at Work.

The association met in the theatre of the Normal School at 2 o'clock. In the absence of the President, Mr. Brebner, P.S.I., West Lambton, occupied the chair. The Minister of Education had a seat on the platform throughout the afternoon, and listened to the discussion with much attention. The President introduced to the convention Miss S. E. Hughes of St. Louis, who discussed "The Kindergarten System of Teaching as Applied to Children in Primary Classes." She defined this system as aiming at developing the child physically, spiritually and mentally. Miss Hughes took her audience with her step by step in all the processes of imparting knowledge by the Kindergarten method. These were, briefly, that the child advances necessary for a Kindergarten school. Miss Hughes is at home with her subject, and her exposition of a method of instruction gradually gaining popularity in Ontario justified her excellent reputation as a Kindergarten teacher.

The last topic of the afternoon was a paper by R. McAllister of Toronto on "The Improvement in the Training of Our Teachers for their Professional Work." He emphasized the necessity of the teacher having ample knowledge of all the subjects in the school curriculum. The skilled teacher must have a knowledge of the science of education so as to give him more confidence as an instructor. He should have a knowledge of the best method of teaching. The paper referred to the condition of county model schools. It advocated a longer term for such schools, and that the Principal should be relieved of teaching elementary subjects.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland Talks About Religion and Education.

There was an evening meeting at 8 o'clock. President Strang in the chair. The session was entirely devoted to the reading by Dr. Sutherland of an able deliverance on "The Religious Element in Education."

After a few introductory words, the reverend gentleman began by denying that there is any antagonism between religion and culture. No subjects are so important as God, duty and destiny. If man were only a superior animal something might be said in behalf of a purely secular education. An education which excludes the religious element is untrue. If it is important that man must think it is better that they should think correctly. Man should think from the Christian standpoint. A man who does not see God as the regulator of the universe does not think truly. Such a man is not a safe teacher. An education which excludes the religious element tends to atheism and infidelity. It is of the greatest moment that the child should be taught correct maxims, as whatever bias is got in early life affects man throughout his days. An education which excludes religion is fraught with danger to the state. We have only to look to such countries as Egypt and Greece to be impressed with the truth of this statement. Despotism might govern without the safeguards of religion, but freedom never.

What is meant by the religious element in education? The religious education. Not sectarian, as some would have us believe, though it would be better for a boy to be taught by a sectarian if a godly man, than a professor who excludes God and the Bible from his lectures. It means such a recognition of God as will inspire the opening of school with prayer and the reading of Scripture. It also means the inculcation by the teacher of the fundamental principles of Christian morality. Nothing more, nothing less, will satisfy the case.

Prof. Huxley said that there must be a moral substratum in the education of a child, and there is no book that can give this as well as the Bible. It makes a great difference to a child whether he is told in studying biology that God is the source of all life or that this is caused by spontaneous generation from blind matter.

"The future of Canada," continued the Doctor, "depends on the kind of education which is imparted to the present generation. The real question between secularist and the Christian of to-day is no longer the inspiration of the Bible, but rather shall the secularist have control of our public schools. The influence of the teacher depends more upon what he is than what he knows."

Dr. Sutherland concluded his paper with these words addressed to the teachers: "The influence you exert in moulding the moral character of your pupils will depend upon the extent to which you are yourselves imbued with the principles you teach. If the fruit of your labor does not immediately appear you shall reap hereafter with abundant increase.

"Take heart! The Master builds again,
A charmed life old Oromaze hath;
The tares may choke, but the grain
Is not for death."

The thoughts expressed by Dr. Sutherland were subjected to some criticism and discussion by leading teachers. This subject will be fully discussed at to-day's meeting.

Important Notices of Motion.

Important notices of motion were given at the afternoon meeting and will be discussed to-day. That referring to religious instruction will create the debate of the convention. Those for and against the purpose of the resolution are understood to be refreshing their knowledge of theology and the battle promises to be fierce and long. The fray really opened last night, the first gun being fired by Dr. Sutherland.

Mr. Alexander of Galt:

That in the opinion of this association the demand for such a change in the school law, as will make it obligatory on teachers to give religious instruction in schools is unreasonable; that it is expedient to leave the whole question of Bible reading and religious instruction as the law has left it for many years to the public opinion of each school district; and that until the clergy give the present system a fair trial by generally availing themselves of the opportunities afforded them by the present law of giving religious instruction to pupils in the public schools, any attempt on their part to agitate for a change should be discountenanced by all who desire to see our non-sectarian educational system kept free from sectarian controversy.

Mr. Wismer of Parkdale:

That in the opinion of this association only one system of music should be taught in the public schools of Ontario.

The Public School Section.

The meeting of this section was held in the Egyptian Room at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The section was called to order by the chairman, Mr. R. Coates, Burlington. Mr. J. A. Hill, Dundas, read a paper on "The Teacher as a Factor in Moulding Character." The paper was an able one.

Mr. S. B. Sinclair of Hamilton read the next paper entitled "The Blending of Kindergarten With Public School Work." He said at the outset that the sun does not rise upon a people blessed with greater educational advantages than we in Ontario enjoy. "If," said he, "we are to maintain this proud position we must seek for the weakest link in the chain, and, having found it, 'ring out the old and ring in the new.' We have not reached the acme of perfection in our school system. By far the most exposed point in our educational armor is to be found in our management of the child during the first four years of public school life, that is, prior to the age of 8."

After a careful investigation of the work of the kindergarten in the United States, especially in Oswego and county normal schools, he was thoroughly converted to that system. All who had tried the system were enthusiastic in its favor. The gifts, songs, games, the home-like charm, above all the home-culture, was the best possible physical, moral and mental gymnasium which had ever been offered to young children.

An interesting discussion followed, in which R. Alexander of Galt and others expressed approval of the sentiments of the paper.

The Committee on Public School Studies was re-appointed to report to next year's convention.

A Committee on the Public School Grammar was appointed to report to-day: Mr. Monroe, Mr. Wark, Mr. Van Slyck, Mr. Cappl and Mr. Duncan.

Increased Government Grant to High Schools.

The High School section resumed the discussion of the resolutions on the increase of the Government grant to high schools. Mr. J. Millar of St. Thomas presided. The speakers were unanimous on the necessity which existed for such grants. Some of those who took part in the discussion pointed out that in their respective towns there was a feeling growing in strength that high schools are getting to be too burdensome to the municipalities. The Minister of Education was present by invitation during the discussion. He declared himself thoroughly in sympathy with the purport of the resolutions. The Legislature was, however, opposed to the setting apart of any further grant for high schools. Until a legislature could be elected favorable to larger grants to secondary education, high school masters and trustees ought to appeal to the county councils. He had intended his intention of introducing a bill at the next session of the Legislature making it compulsory on trustees to impose a specified fee on pupils attending high schools.

R. Dobson of the Picton High School read a paper on "The Relation of Teachers to Trustees."

The Musical Association Formed.

The adjourned meeting of the pupils of the summer school of music was held yesterday afternoon to hear the report of the committee appointed to draw up the constitution. R. W. Wishart presided. It was decided to call the association the Ontario Teachers' Normal Music Association. The report of the committee on constitution and by-laws was adopted with a few slight amendments. The object of the association is specified to be the improvement of teaching music by applying correct teaching principles. A conversazione will be given to-morrow evening, with Mr. Cobbin as musical director.

THE LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET.

A Speech Which Leads to the Belief That the Empire will be Suppressed.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The Lord Mayor's annual banquet to the Ministers was given at the Mansion House this evening.

Premier Salisbury in a speech said that the Government had done everything to give effect to the country's mandate to preserve the unity of the Empire. [illegible] had been placed at the disposal of the Government by [illegible] the country [illegible] Ireland. Ample [illegible] Government will [illegible] League). Regarding [illegible] that England must [illegible] stability in that country before the British troops are withdrawn. Egypt must be free from internal sedition and safe from external attack.

Three Ocean Cables Broken.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Several of the cable companies are suffering from broken cables. On July 28 the French cable parted off the grand banks. The steamer Mackay-Bennett, leased for the purpose, reached the scene of the break yesterday. One of the Western Union cables was interrupted some time ago and the steamer Faraday has just left this port to repair it. One of the Anglo-American cables broke last winter in mid-ocean. A steamer has just been dispatched to the scene and an effort will be made to pick up and repair the broken wire.

THE HEBRIDES QUESTION.

France Will Withdraw When England Explains Her Policy Regarding Egypt.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—Le Paris announces that the English Government has requested of M. Flourens, Minister of Foreign Affairs, that France name a date for the evacuation by France of the New Hebrides and that M. Flourens in reply declined to do so until France should be informed of the nature of England's policy in regard to Egypt and as to the neutralization of the Suez Canal.

England Will in No Wise Consent.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Sir James Ferguson stated in the Commons this afternoon that England had never acquiesced in the presence of French troops in the New Hebrides. He added that the English Government were unwilling to believe that the French occupation of the New Hebrides would long continue and declared that the Government would in no wise consent but the withdrawal of the French from the New Hebrides should be postponed until an agreement respecting the neutralization of the Canal had been reached.

A REVIVER OF SCANDAL.

The Origin of the Story Connecting a Lawyer With the McGee Murder.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—A correspondent of The Free Press, writing about the D'Arcy McGee murder story, which appeared in The Boston Herald a short time ago, implicating a Quebec lawyer on the strength of what was styled the "death-bed confession" of young Trotter, rather spoils the story by stating that Trotter could not very well have made a "death-bed confession," as he is not yet dead, but very much alive and has been for some years an agent of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It is believed that the revival of this old story owes its origin to Mr. Charles E. George, late city editor of The Free Press, who during his residence in this city displayed a wonderful faculty of invention in the matter of news. A few days days after the death of the late E. J. O'Neill, who was a detective at the time of the McGee murder and worked up the case, George told The World correspondent that O'Neill had left in the hands of the manager of one of the banks doing business here, a sealed document, which was to be given to him, George, a certain number of days after O'Neill's death. This document, with the contents of which George professes to be partially but not wholly acquainted, would, he said, show that Whelan was not the man who shot McGee, but that it was some party in Quebec. Little credence was placed on the story of any posthumous statement by O'Neill, but George told the same story to others, and there is no doubt but that the revival of the story, for it is by no means new, owes its initiative to George. He is now in Little Rock, Arkansas, and may have published the yarn in the paper in that city with which he is connected.

Blocking Mr. Norquay's Scheme.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—Regarding the rumor that the Canadian Pacific Railway was going to change their transfer point in connection with the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway from Emerson to Gretna, Vice-President Van Horne said to-day that it was true, and that the Canadian Pacific Railway was making the arrangements in expectation of Norquay's new line being a fact.

Prince Ferdinand's Progress.

ORSOVA, Aug. 10.—M. Natschevitch, the Bulgarian Prime Minister, accompanied by the members of Prince Ferdinand's suite, has reached here, where he will remain until the arrival of the Prince. It has been arranged that Prince Ferdinand shall land and receive the addresses as the new ruler of Bulgaria at all Bulgarian ports between here and Rutschuk.

THE LONG DROUTH ENDED.

RAIN COMES TO THE SUN-BAKED NORTHWESTERN STATES.

It is Followed, However, by a Wind Storm Which Does Incalculable Damage, Destroying Houses, Barns, Fences and the Standing Crops.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 10.—Last night's storm spread pretty generally throughout the northwest according to reports received at the railway offices and the Government Signal Station. At Milwaukee, Green Bay and St. Paul the rainfall was a quarter of an inch, but at Duluth and Lacrosse only a trifle of rain was reported.

Rain was reported this morning from the Hastings and Dakota Division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. The long drought in this state may be considered as broken.

Reports from the lumber districts, where forest fires were raging, are to the effect that rain has checked the progress of the flames and given relief for the time being. Specials from the interior of the state indicate that the wind storm which accompanied the rain was very violent and that much damage has resulted in consequence.

In the vicinity of Waupaca hay-stacks and barns were burned on all sides. A number of the new buildings on the farm of John Burnham were completely demolished. Franklin Johnson, a farmer living two miles south of Waupaca, was buried under the debris of his barn and killed. At Portage a large number of buildings on the fair grounds were demolished and the corn crop in that section was ruined. A number of bridges were swept away. At Hudson a number of buildings were uprooted. A tornado passed over the Horicon marsh, which was filled with hay makers when the storm struck and tents, wagons, hay stacks, etc., were all flying in every direction. One report says 12 men were killed, but it has not been verified.

Ignatius Jantz, a farmer, was killed by lightning near Ripon. Apple and other trees in the path of the storm were stripped of their fruit. At Marquette, Michigan, a house in the barn of J. F. Wehoff destroying it, together with several head of live stock, a barn, 20 tons of hay, nine acres of wheat and a lot of farming utensils.

PRAIRIE FIRE NEAR CHICAGO.

A Spark From a Locomotive Causes a Great Conflagration.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—A prairie fire, which promises to be a great damage, started near the corner of 39th and Blanchard-avenue, a mile west of the Union stock yards, about 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Town of Lake fire department has gone to the scene. The fire started from a spark from a locomotive. It is not known yet whether many buildings are in danger, but the inflammable condition of the grass makes the fire a serious matter.

As seen from the city the fire appeared to have spread out over two miles in width. So far as could be judged no buildings had, up to 2.30, fallen a prey to the flames, but of this there was no certainty.

A TRAGEDIAN SUED.

Theatrical Manager Hayden Says Keene Owes Him Money.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—William Hayden, theatrical manager, is suing Thomas A. Keene, better known as Thomas W. Keene, the tragedian, for the recovery of $7000. Hayden claims that while Keene was employed by him as a star he loaned him $5000 and paid $2000 on an obligation incurred by Keene.

The latter says he was not an employe but a partner of Hayden's, and to-day his counsel asked to have a receiver appointed to compel Hayden to render an accounting. Decision was reserved.

Firemen Killed by Falling Walls.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10.—A most serious accident occurred this morning about 9 o'clock in this city. The walls of the ruins of Bishop & Spears' peanut warehouse fell at that hour and carried with it a portion of Aikins & Co.'s wholesale grocery house. In the ruins were buried a number of firemen, two of whom were taken out dead. Another is buried beneath the debris. A spectator is dying at the city hospital and several firemen are at their homes suffering from severe injuries. The firemen were engaged playing water on the smouldering ruins when the walls crashed down, burying them.

A Breach of Promise Case Settled.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—An arrangement has been arrived at in the Langworthy breach of promise suit by which Mrs. Langworthy will receive $20,000 and all costs. The respondent also agrees to pay $200 annually for the support of the child of the relator, born while she lived with the respondent. This suit was brought by Mrs. Langworthy against Mr. Langworthy for the restitution of conjugal rights. The respondent pleaded that there had been no marriage and asked for a declaration of nullity of marriage.

Shot by His Brother.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—A young man named Charles Watson, aged 22, was this evening killed by a shot from a revolver in the hands of his brother Alexan, a youth of 19. The shooting is believed to have been accidental. The youth has, however, been taken into custody.

A Kentucky Unpleasantness.

OWENTON, Ky., Aug. 10.—J. M. Bourne, during the hearing of a case in court, charged his nephew, James Bourne, Jr., with false swearing. On their way home the nephew demanded a retraction, which was refused, an altercation ensued and J. M. Bourne shot and killed his nephew.

The Hidden Snake.

I saw a lilac bush—a splendid thing,
With scented plumes it was divinely fair,
And bees and butterflies and humming birds
In numerful gladness reaped a harvest there.
I spread the branches wide and looked within
A long drawn breath of incense sweet to take,
And there, half hidden mid its inmost leaves,
I saw the subtle features of a snake.

And there I learned a lesson, grim but true,
Our lives are often like this lilac tree;
Outside our blossoms flourish in the sun,
And our external life is fair to see.
But part the clustered foliage of our hearts,
And lay their hid and inmost secrets bare,
How oft beneath the shadows you will find
A snake, all merciless and venomed hiding there.

The resolutions of Bro. Welsh relating to amendments of the constitution were referred to the Legislative Committee.

The jurisdiction of Quebec was represented by the presence of Grand Secretary H. A. Jackson, Grand Chaplain, W. Marriage, and Past Grands, J. B. Dorge, C. J. Briggs, Jas. McLaughlin, J. J. Reed, A. D. Dowse and A. McGregor.

The grand lodge then adjourned to take part in the afternoon's demonstration.

THURSDAY, August 11th.

The Grand Lodge went into session this morning at 9 o'clock. Up to ten o'clock the time was occupied with routine work and the reference of matters to committees.

At ten o'clock the Grand Lodge took up the discussion of Bro. Welsh's amendment to the constitution, in favour of making officers elective by the vote of the Past Grands instead of at the Grand Lodge as now obtained. The amendment was defeated by a large majority.

Peterborough's Prime Cheese

A Big Price for Cheese—Said to be a Ring.

At Tuesday afternoon's meeting of the Cheese Board the following cheese, all colored, the last half of July make, were boarded:—

PETERBOROUGH.

Westwood	189	Keene	172
Westminster	171	Warsaw	93
Lakefield	76	Lily Lake	57
Norwood	160	Trowerse	160
S. Dummer	132	North Smith	125
Central	60	O. Grove	60
Pleasant	73	Otonabee Union	56
Melrose Abbey	60	Pine Grove	60
Glenthorne	66	C. Smith	66
Myrtle	54

VICTORIA.

Bobcaygeon	90	North Ops	40
West Ops	56	Cambray	65
Mariposa	70	Starr	54

The cable quotations were 54s., 6d.

There was the usual attendance of buyers. Bidding began at 10c., and closed at 11½., Mr. Warrington's offer at that figure for the whole board being accepted. At first the representatives of Trowerse and Cherry Grove refused to sell, one of them alleging that the price was insufficient. They asked for the privilege of selling off the board, but this the board were in no way disposed to allow. Finally they accepted.

The sudden jump in prices from last week is the cause of much comment among dairymen, one cheese man asserting that it was the work of a "ring" who were trying to corner the market. He prophesied, though, that they would meet the same fate as the speculators in the big Chicago wheat deal of a few weeks back, but he feared it would also be the ruination of the cheese industry in this section.

It is expected that by the next meeting, two weeks hence, the buyers will be ready to make contracts for the season's supply.

Lines of Sympathy to Mrs. Thomson,

Widow of the late Robert H. Thomson, 21 Feeley Avenue, Chicago, Ill., the game gentleman whose name is coupled with the St. Andrew's Society of Peterborough in the dedication of my book of Poems, shortly to be issued from the press.

Relentless Death, how cruel thou must be,
Pity and mercy are unknown to thee;
The dearest ties that bind or love entwine,
Are quickly severed by that hand of thine.
The widow's tears, her anguished, aching heart
Can't stay thy stroke, nor thy dread blow avert.
In vain she strives her husband's life to hold—
Thy ruthless hand soon lays that love at one cold.
Your dreaded hand brought anguish and despair
Into the quiet home of that aged pair,
Slaying that husband who, for thirty years,
Was her chief comfort in her joy or tears.
Remorseless Death! how could you take away
That loving husband, her delight and stay,
Leaving her friendless in declining years,
To sit and shed the widow's bitter tears.

Dear Madam, it would ill become my part
To probe afresh the deep wound in your heart.
Or fan grief's embers, smouldering in your breast.
For him you loved, now in his grave at rest.
No words of mine, no sympathy most dear,
Can ease one sigh or check the rising tear;
No earthly friend can ease your grief and pain,
Nor bring your loved one back to life again.
I know your thoughts—but sadly fail to claim
The power or language to express the same.
Awake or sleeping, troubled fancy strays
Back to the pleasures of your wedded days;
His love-toned friendship woke your heart to cheer.
Their lingering sound still murmurs in your ear.
His noble soul, his love, his art imparts
An undying impress on your sorrowing heart.
When misfortune and joy rang through your happy home.
His merry laugh back to your mind will come;
Or when affliction seized your frame or mind,
His words and hands, so gentle, helping, kind.
You now partake your morning meal alone,
Your table partner, and his talk, is gone.
How long the day seems, which once gave you delight—
Rejoicing, waiting his return at night.
You watch the clock at six with tear-dimmed eye,
Listening for footsteps—but they all pass by.
The tea is prepared, his evening slippers there—
Wait not for him; not yet his empty chair.
Your separation, grieved one, can't be long—
Near eighty years you have joined earth's busy throng.
Since God has taken your loved one away
His heavenly arm will be your shield and stay;
Look not on earth for solace for your grief.
Trust not in friends—they cannot give relief.
The only balm to mitigate your loss
Flows from the crossbeams of the bloody cross.

I knew your husband only through his pen,
But found him one of earth's most noble men.
Five years' experience bound us to each other—
I feel his loss as keenly as a brother.
Our correspondence on this earth must end;
Cold, still and lifeless lies his ready hand.
His heart true mates ring of his manly love,
Paralyzed by death, refuses now to move.
No more the mail will weekly bring to me
Letters of friendship from his heart so free;
His sudden, sad and unexpected end,
Deprives me of a true, believing friend.

Cold is the grave that holds him,
Cold now his heart and hand;
While on earth no heart beat warmer
As a husband and a friend.

WILLIAM TELFORD.

Harwood.

The annual pic-nic of the congregation of Rev. Father Sweeney, Harwood, will be held at Idyl Wild on Wednesday, August 24th. The steamer Golden Eye is chartered for the Peterborough section. She will leave the wharf and return at a convenient time. Boats will also leave Harwood, Keene and Hastings; all will arrive at Idyl Wild when a splendid days' enjoyment will await them. All the usual pic-nic attractions will be presented. The grand attraction of the day will be a contest for a gold-headed cane between two popular young doctors, Dr. Collins, of Peterborough, and Dr. Edmondson, of Harwood. Tickets per Golden Eye round trip, 50 cents. Admission to Idyl Wild, free. Further particulars furnished by posters.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business, and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

No Tidings of the Thistle.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Although it is sixteen days to-day since the Thistle sailed from Greenock for this port, and she is now probably not more than 600 miles away, no steamship has yet reported seeing her. This is easily accounted for if she took a southern passage, all the steamers running between New York and English ports now take the extreme northern passage. With the exception of the storm on July 27, during which she Umbria met her big wave, the weather has been particularly fine.

Spots of Sport.

The sloop Puritan has arrived at Boston in tow. She carried away her topmast during the recent race and will have a new one made.

Arrangements have been definitely made for a race, $500 a side, between Ross, Hosmer and McKay, to be rowed on rowing trigolens at the Casino, Cottage City, Mass., on Wednesday, Aug. 17. Hubear, the English oarsman, will probably take part.

Bicycling in England.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—At Grimsby to-day Temple beat Lees in a quarter mile bicycle race by five yards, his time being 40. 2-5 secs. Temple also beat Lees in a mile race.

An Old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly 30 years, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults. It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. 2w31d

Keep Your House Guarded.

THE BISHOPRIC OF HALIFAX.

The Clericals and Laymen Cannot Agree on a Candidate.

HALIFAX, Aug. 10.—There is complete deadlock in the Provincial Synod of the Church of England on the election of a new bishop. After sitting all day the synod adjourned to night without having completed its labors. Four unsuccessful ballots were taken on the candidates nominated, who are Bishop Sullivan of Algoma, Bishop Perry of Iowa, Archdeacon Gilpin of Halifax, and Canon Brigstacke of St. John.

The support of the lay delegates centered on Bishop Sullivan and that of the clerical delegates on Archdeacon Gilpin. The result of each ballot was almost the same, Gilpin securing a large majority of the clergymen and Sullivan a large majority of the laymen.

Finally forty delegates were appointed to consitute a special conference and endeavor to overcome the difficulty. Those met to-night, when Gilpin's friends proposed that the names of the Archdeacon and the Bishop of Algoma be dropped, and that either Bishop Perry of Iowa or Dr. Lobley, formerly Principal of Lennoxville College, Quebec, be recommended to the Synod. If neither of these were acceptable they proposed that the appointment be left with the Archbishops of Canterbury and York. The conference adjourned till to-morrow morning without deciding what to do.

A TRAVELER'S TALE.

But it is Defective, Because the Bite of the Giant Spider Rarely Produces Death.

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 10.—Particulars of a strange duel have been received here through the arrival of W. C. Martins, a wealthy coffee merchant, from Mexico. Senor Victoria, a mining speculator, and Senor Pedraso, an extensive ship owner, of Tampico, met at a ball given by one of the chief ladies of Spanish society. The gentlemen, while heated with wine, quarreled in the presence of the lady whom both admired. Victoria challenged Pedraso. The latter accepted the challenge, and stipulated that the duel must take place in a dark room. As he had the choice of weapons, he demanded that Victoria should meet him in a room, in which there should be placed one hundred tarantulas of the most poisonous kind. Accordingly they met, and when the door of the room was opened some hours later both men were found dead, and the floor of the room was covered with the bodies of the poisonous spiders. A few of the tarantulas were found alive.

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

The Body of a Stratford Lawyer Found in the Lake at Cobourg.

COBOURG, Aug. 10.—Mr. Edward Beatty mysteriously disappeared from his father's house a few days ago, and no further trace of him could be found until yesterday morning when his hat was discovered floating in the harbor. Boats have been out grappling and this evening found his body. It is generally believed that he committed suicide. Mr. Beatty was a son of Dr. Beatty of this town and lived in Stratford, Ont., where he practised law.

Another Concert at Port Carling.

PORT CARLING, Aug. 12.—The visitors at Port Carling and vicinity held a second concert last evening in aid of the fund being raised to build an awning on the dock for the comfort of tourists waiting for boats. Those who took part were: Mrs. Barber, Mrs. Bigelow, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Holland, Mrs. Clark, Miss Blackund, Miss Green, Rev. Dr. Bewart, Prof. Farringer and Messrs. Lee, Atkinson and Russell. Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow acted as chairman. At the conclusion Mrs. Hanna entertained the performers.

Bush Fires Near Caledonia.

CALEDONIA, Ont., Aug. 10.—Bush fires between three and four miles square have been raging on the Indian Reservation, about three miles from here, this last few days, destroying everything in their way. It is reported this evening that two Indians, one squaw, several houses and considerable stock have been burned. The air is dense with smoke in this village and it is feared that if the hot, dry weather continues the fire will reach here, as it is spreading fast.

A Fe Items Tried for Theft.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The Russian Princess Vransoroki and her companion, Mlle. Tenune, have been tried before a police tribunal for stealing from shops in the Louvre. The Princess was discharged, but Mlle. Tenune was found guilty and sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

The Murdered Butcher.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—The coroner's jury on the body of Dennis O'Connor, the butcher murdered in St. Ann's Market, to-night brought in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a stab in the neck from a knife in the hands of Terence Carroll.

The Crown Prince's Illness.

The Victim of a Crank.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 10.—E. C. Whittles, business manager of The Day, who was shot down in his office by Fred A. S. Ferry, the crank, who took offence at a published article, died from the effects of his wounds this morning.

Have You Thought About It?

Why suffer a single moment when you can get immediate relief from all internal or external pains by the use of Polson's Nerviline the great pain cure. Nerviline has never been known to fail in a single case it cannot fail, for it is a combination of the most powerful pain subduing remedies known. Try a 10 cent sample bottle of Nerviline. You will find Nerviline a sure cure for neuralgia, toothache and headache. Buy and try. Large bottles 25 cents, by all druggists. 6d w 32

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so-called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6d w 32

HEATING.

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

N. WASHINGTON, M. D., Throat and Lung Surgeon, Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—I am pleased to be able to state to you that I am now free from Catarrh. It is almost incredible that in so short a time I could have been cured of Catarrh, which has affected my health for years. A little over two months ago I took treatment from you, and to-day the Catarrh is entirely cured. Your treatment is simply a marvel. I will heartily recommend any of my friends personally, and would suggest to all those troubled the advisability, of consulting you immediately. Accept my many thanks. Yours etc.,

Matrimonial.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Chas. Leonard of the law firm of Dumble & Leonard was united in marriage at St. Michael's Church, Belleville, to Miss Nellie O'Brien, of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard are down the St. Lawrence on a wedding tour. The EXAMINER gives its heartiest congratulations.

Thanks to the Newmarket Boys.

This afternoon the EXAMINER had the pleasure of a serenade by the Newmarket brass band, which played, in capital style, the "Grand Waltzes". For their numerical strength the boys supply splendid music. They made a musical tour of the town, to-day under the escort of Mr. Samuel McIlwain, of the canton Newmarket and formerly a resident of Peterborough.

Oddfellows!

There will be an exhibition of team work by the "Toronto team" under the management of Bro. W.H. Cogswell at the Opera House, Peterborough, this evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Members of the Grand Lodge and all visiting brothers are cordially invited to attend. It is to be hoped that all Oddfellows desirous of becoming acquainted with the work will endeavour to be present; such an opportunity is seldom given for seeing the work correctly done.

A Marked Compliment.

A representative body of Canton Toronto, Patriarchs Militant, while parading down George street this morning met brother Henderson, Chairman of the Reception Committee, stopped and gave three rousing cheers and a tiger in recognition of the zeal, willingness and courtesy with which he had performed his duties in giving information and assisting to promote the comfort and enjoyment of visitors. Mr. Henderson gave a suitable acknowledgment of the compliment.

Our Military Visitors.

The visiting cantons and bands all left town last night and this morning. Last night Lieut-General Underwood was present at a meeting of the officers, and was profuse in his compliments of the efficiency and esprit du corps of the Ontario regiment of cantons. That six out of ten cantons should turn out at a demonstration was a higher percentage than could have been obtained in any state of the American Union. The military demonstration of Wednesday was one of the most successful and brilliant events in the history of the Canadian regiment of Patriarchs Militant, and reflects the highest honor on the enterprise and capabilities of Peterborough. The cantons and bands were highly delighted with the splendid quarters provided by the local committee at the skating rink and the committee have to acknowledge their great obligations to the ladies who rendered such valuable assistance. They feel that without the help of the ladies on the occasion their efforts would not have resulted in the remarkable success which attended the entertainment department of the demonstration.

A GRAND DEMONSTRATION.

A Memorable Event in the History of Peterborough.

An Immense Gathering of Oddfellows and other visitors—Ten Thousand People Witness the Demonstration—Fine Sports and Prize Winners—The Promenade Concert.

The excursions from Campbellford and Port Hope swelled the already large temporary population of the town. The former excursion brought between four and five hundred persons. All day long the streets were thronged, different movements of the Cantons the playing of bands and the general hum of festivity making numerous attractions. But in the afternoon the crowds became jams and the sidewalks were impassable, while the street was a

MASS OF CARRIAGES AND VEHICLES

of every description. After 12 o'clock not a single horse could be found in a stable. Everybody was abroad eager with expectancy, and the brilliant scene that awaited them which certainly was no disappointment for the demonstration was the most brilliant and successful affair of the kind ever consummated in Peterborough. At 2.45 the roll of drums and the blast of cornets in the distance showed that the Cantons were leaving their headquarters on Charlotte Street and moving to the rendezvous, the Central Park. The several cantons, headed by the Fifty-seventh Battalion band and by other bands at intervals, marched up George street. Proceeding to the park, procession was formed with military promptness, and moved down George street in the following order:—

Peterborough Band.
Commandant, Lieut-General Underwood, of Covington, Ky., and Staff, mounted.
Canton London.
Newmarket Band.
Canton Newmarket.
Canton Hamilton.
Victoria Rifles Band.
Three Highland Pipers.
Canton Mount Royal, (Montreal.)
Oddfellows Band, Belleville.
Canton Toronto.
Canton Ottawa.
Members of Otonabee, Peterborough and Visiting Lodges.
Members of Encampments.
Representatives to Grand Lodge.
Representatives to Grand Encampment, and and Grand and Past Grand Officers.

The march of the cantons was a gay and brilliant spectacle. The marching was irreapproachably correct and the necessary movements to pass the arches, etc., were performed with unequalled military grace and precision. The Toronto canton was conspicuous by its peculiar marching, formation that of a cross, the central portion being formed by men in single file while the cross beams were represented by chevaliers on either side marching in column, the banner of the canton being placed at the intersection. At different points this formation elicited loud applause The long line of Oddfellows following and the grand music of the several bands all combined to make the sight a brilliant and memorable one. The procession marched down George street to the Driving Park, followed by a crush of carriages and foot passengers, and about five thousand spectators poured into the grounds to witness the remainder of the proceedings.

THE RACES AND GAMES.

THE CANTONS' MANŒUVRES.

The Cantons drew up in the enclosure formed by the race track and performed a magnificent series of fancy movements in succession, the more intricate and beautiful eliciting loud applause. During these evolutions music was supplied by the visiting bands, the Oddfellow's Band of Belleville being conspicuous for amount and quality of music. An interesting feature of this part of the programme was the presentation to the several Cantons of the beautiful flags supplied by the local committee.

PRESENTATION OF FLAGS.

The Cantons were drawn up in line facing the grand stand, and Miss Daisy Hamilton, daughter of Hon. Robert Hamilton, escorted by Lieut. Col. Underwood and staff, made the presentations with unassuming grace. As she presented the banner to the Montreal Canton, she received in turn a beautiful purple bannerette.

THE RESULT.

The magnificent appearance and military excellence of the visiting cantons evoked the military feeling in Peterborough and the result was the issuing of a charter for the formation of Peterborough Canton, No. 10, with the following officers and men:—

CAPTAIN—A. McNeil
LIEUTENANT—Jos. Mills.
ENSIGN—Andrew Macfarlane.
CLERK—R. J. Kidd.
ACCOUNTANT—S. Clegg.
CHEVALIERS—Messrs. D. H. Moore, R. J. Lee, H. W. Watson, R. R. Hamilton, Jas. Hendry, H. Long, R. Hamilton, Wm. Galley, J. S. Farris, Thos. D. Workman, R. W. Ball, James Long, W. J. Minore, Thos. J. Emerson, R. B. Smith, W. H. Ford, J. W. Mein, W. H. Morris, J. L. Maud, John Fraser, Edgar Page, W. H. Dayman, C. H. Clementi, Geo. Stevenson. The equipment of the canton has been ordered, and the active organization will follow at once.

THE PROMENADE CONCERT

in the evening was another splendid entertainment furnished by the splendid band of the Victoria Rifles, a programme similar to the one the night before being presented. During the evening Lieut.-Gen. Underwood delivered a brief and pleasant address. He felicitated the Oddfellows on the success of the demonstration, and was high in his praises of Peterborough. He was surprised to see so thrifty and prosperous a city. As one time he thought Toronto was Canada, but his visit to Peterborough had undeceived him. Peterborough, he believed, had more plate glass than Toronto. The General was profuse in his compliments to the beauty of Peterborough ladies, and they were as good as they were beautiful, as shown by the

It is only echoing the general opinion to say that in the quality and variety of the entertainments, and the taste, order and cleanliness shown in the culinary arrangements at the rink, the Peterborough ladies have surpassed anything ever seen at similar demonstrations. The managers of the Peterborough demonstration are to be congratulated on the entire and superb success of a meeting that will long be remembered."

The Last Days' Races.

Closing of the Races of the A. C. A. Meet at Stoney Lake.—A Brilliant Tournament.

STONEY LAKE, Aug. 9.—The programme of the canoe races is being carried through very smoothly and very successfully under the management of the following officers: Regatta Committee—Roland C. Strickland, Lakefield, Chairman; Jas. G. Edwards, Lindsay, and John H. McKendrick, Galt. Referee—Dr. Douglas, Lakefield. Judges—Judge Weller, Peterborough, and Geo. W. Strickland, Lakefield. Starter—Jas. Graham, Lakefield. Clerk of the Course—Wm. M. Graham, Lakefield. Timekeeper—J. Harstone, Lindsay. The following races were concluded yesterday:

Combined paddling and sailing race, six alternate half-miles of paddling and sailing, twelve entries. W. A. Leys of Toronto won after, a very close tussle with Britton and Colin Fraser. The order of arrival at the home buoy and the time taken was as follows: W. A. Leys, Toronto, 1hr. 1 min.; Colin Fraser, Toronto, and Ubique, 1.2; Samuel Britton, Lindsay, 1.3.45; W. Jarod, Bobcaygeon, 1.7.10; J. G. Edwards, Lindsay, 1.7.40; J. G. McMillan, Lindsay; J. N. McKendrick, Galt; Darcy Strickland, Lakefield; J. K. Fee, Lindsay; Harry H. McKendrick, Galt. Speers and W. A. Fraser did not finish.

Paddling race, two men in a canoe, classes 4 and 5, open canoes, single blades; decked canoes, double blades; five starters, all open canoes. This was a magnificent race. The distance was one mile with turn. The time was very fast. P. W. Strickland, Lakefield, and H. S. Greenwood, Royal Military College, Kingston, 7 min.; John H. McKendrick and Harry F. McKendrick, Galt, 7 min., 3 sec.; Samuel Britton and A.F.D. MacGachan, Lindsay, 7 min., 4 sec.

Man overboard race, half a mile under sail. At a signal each skipper lowers his sail, jumps overboard, regains his position and sails to the finish. Seven entries, four finished. Harry F. McKendrick, Galt, canoe "Doubtful", 1; Robt. Tyson, Toronto, canoe "Isabel," 2; Samuel Britton, Lindsay, canoe "Aurora", 3; W. A. Fraser, canoe "Enid," 4. The canoes carried only mainsails, so as not to lose time in lowering the mizzens. They came bowling along before a stern wind with booms to starboard and the shore on the left. The expectant silence of the spectators was broken by the loud bang of the chairman's gong, followed by a great splash as seven men leaped overboard. Colin Fraser upset his canoe in trying to get in, and she lay right across the bows of W. J. A. Read's canoe and prevented Read from finishing, though he had got back very quickly into his craft. Burgess' canoe got away from him and he had to swim for her.

The tournament closed the day's sport. Ten canoes, each containing a spearaman and a paddler, were ranged in two lines of five, facing one another. The spears had stout bamboo shafts and large stuffed heads like a large boxing glove. At a signal the lines advanced. As the canoes passed one another, the spearsmen, standing up forward, engaged in fierce thrusts and parry. If each escaped the canoes wheeled, returned and the combat continued until one or other was knocked into the water or his canoe capsized. The survivors then engaged one another till only one was left. That one was John H. McKendrick, of Galt. Cheer after cheer broke from the spectators as his last antagonist went swimming.

In the evening an illuminated procession of canoes took place. Twenty-eight canoes gaily lit by Chinese lanterns, were gliding over the calm waters, forming line, wheeling about, moving in single file and executing other manœuvres at the command of Vice Commodore Harry Rogers. The sight was a most beautiful one.

A Four Innings Game.

Port Hops and Peterborough Baseball Clubs Play.

The non-arrival of the Port Hope baseball club on the 8:15 train Wednesday morning, owing to their missing connection, deferred the game of baseball called for 9:30 a. m. on the Association grounds between Port Hope and local club, until 10 o'clock, by which time they arrived on the excursion train from that town. The 57th Batt. band played the crowd over to the grounds, and after a long wait game was called by J. McKee, a Port Hope umpire. The teams were as follows:—

Port Hope.		Peterborough.
Mulhall	second base	Landy.
Haseman	third base	Flagg
Murphy	catcher	Billings
Campbell	pitcher	Galley
Harden	centre field	Brennan
Meldrew	first base	Metherall
Stephens	rigat field	Fitzgerald
Edmonds	short stop	Kincaid
Doherty	left field	Moore

The game, on Port Hope's side, at least, was virtually one of the battery, very few strikes being secured off Campbell's curve delivery. Galley pitched well for Peterborough, but his straight throws were frequently pounded by the visitors and very often nipped up in the field. Peterborough's fielding was almost perfect, in fact a little better than the visitors'. Between the bad umpiring, though, and Port Hope's heavy batting, the home team got the narrow end of a 5-0 score. McKee's umpiring was away off on strikes and balls, otherwise he gave general satisfaction. The home team was batting a little better at the close of the game, and they would no doubt have made a good showing had it been concluded.

The Port Hopes had to quit play at 11:30 in order to catch the down train for home to play Cobourg in the afternoon. As only four innings were played it was declared "no game"; and the Port Hopes were, in consequence, out just fifty per cent. of the gate money. There were about 200 spectators.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Port Hope	0	1	0	1—5

Harvey.

OBITUARY.—It is with the deepest regret that the death is announced of Miss Elizabeth C. Chase, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chase, of Harvey, after a lingering illness of consumption. The deceased was attended to the teaching profession; and in order to enrich the education she had set up, and enroll herself a professional teacher, proceeded to spend the winter of 1885 in Toronto, and pursued the course of study which brought forth the fruit of death. Having attained her ideal, she not only laboured ardently as a teacher, but gladly assisted in every good work. Finding unable to attend to her duties any longer, she remained at home since last Xmas., where her kind friends administered to her every need. Thinking that a change of climate and surroundings might in some measure recruit her failing health; she visited, in the month of July, her friends, in New York State, accompanied by her sister, where they remained about three weeks. She attended public worship in the church on Sabbath July 31st against the wishes of her parents, who remonstrated that she was too weak. On Wednesday morning, August 3rd, she was taken more seriously ill, and at seven o'clock of that evening her spirit had taken its flight to be with the Redeemer in whom she had trusted. In life she was amiable and amicable; joyous and jovial and won the affections of all who knew her. Although only in the 21st year of her age we feel satisfied that in her was fulfilled the prophetic words, "The child shall die an hundred years old."

"Virtue, not rolling suns, the mind matures, The man of wisdom is the man of years."

The most sincere sympathy and commiseration is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Chase and family by the whole community; and in expression of which they almost without exception followed the remains of the departed to their last resting place.

It might as well said here that this is only one of many manifestations of fellow feeling and oneness of aim of the people of Harvey although separated by denominational differences.—[COM.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject of any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold in 50cts. and $1 bottles at John McKee's Drug store. eodw31

ONLY TWO BOTTLES.—Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report thrt some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both of the officers and the wife of a well known U.S.A. General had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm. eodw31

All Medical Authorities

Agree that catarrh is no more nor less than an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nasal air passages.

Nasal catarrh and all catarrhal affection of the head are not diseases of the blood, and it is a serious mistake to treat them as such. No conscientious physician ever attempts to do so.

It is held by eminent medical men that sooner or later a specific will be found for every disease from which humanity suffers. The facts justify us in assuming that for catarrh at least a positive cure already exists in Ely's Cream Balm. eodw32

Full Government Deposit for the Security of Policy Holders!

During the year 1355 applications for $2,722,450 were received, upon which were issued 1259 policies for $2,590,950, and seven policies for $16,350, which had lapsed for non-payment of premium, were revived. This is a volume of new business amounting to nearly $60,000 over that of any former year, and sixty per cent. in excess of that done by any other Canadian Company in the same period of its history.

ABSTRACT OF REVENUE ACCOUNT AND BALANCE SHEET.

Income for the year 1886	$194,249 29
Expenditure (including payment to policy-holders of $37,067.68)	107,748 94
Assets (including uncalled Guarantee Fund)	667,151 98
Liabilities to policy-holders	313,698 00
Surplus for security of policy-holders	353,468 98

THE SEMI-TONTINE RETURN PREMIUM PLAN

Provides that should death occur prior to the expiration of the Tontine period the whole of the premiums that have been paid will be payable with, and in addition to, the face of the policy—thus securing a dividend of 100 per cent. on the premiums paid, should death occur during said period.

THE COMMERCIAL PLAN.

The large number of business and professional men who have taken out large policies on the Company's Commercial Plan, show the demand for reliable life insurance relieved of much of the investment elements which constitutes the over payments of the ordinary plans, is not confined to men of small incomes, but exists among all classes of our people.

For four hours they fought like fiends and for hours the victory hung in the balance. Earth was the only weapon with which the foe could be fought, and as the attempt was made to smother it out. There was no pick or shovel to dig it up, no buckets or barrows to carry it, and as desperate were they that they dug their fingers down into the earth, which a long drought had baked almost as hard as stone, and heaped the precious handfuls thus hardly won upon the encroaching flames and with this earthwork, built handful by handful, kept back the foe. While this was going on the other brave men crept underneath the wrecked cars beneath the fire and the wooden bars which held as prisoners so many precious lives and with pieces of board, sometimes their hands, beat back the flames when they flashed up alongside some unfortunate wretch who, pinned down by a heavy beam, looked on helplessly while it seemed as if his death by fire was certain. And while the fight was thus going on the cars of the workers were filled with the groans of dying men, the anguished entreaties of those whose death seemed certain unless the terrible blaze could be extinguished and the cries of those too badly hurt to care in what manner the end were brought about, so only it could be quick. So they dug up the earth with their hands, reckless of the blood streaming out from under their finger nails, and heaping it up in little mounds, while all the while came heartrending cries, "For God's sake don't let us burn to death." But finally the victory was won. The fire was put out after four hours of endeavor, and as the last sparks died away a light came up in the east to take their place and dawn came upon a scene of horror.

While the fight had been going on men had been dying, and there were not so many wounded to take out of the wreck as there had been four hours before. But in the meantime the county had been aroused, help had come from Chatsworth, Forest and Piper City, and as the dead were laid reverently alongside of each other out in the corn field, there were ready hands to take them into Chatsworth, while some of the wounded were carried to Piper City. One hundred and eighteen was the awful roll of the dead, while the wounded number four times that many. The full tale of the dead cannot, however, be told yet for days.

Chatsworth was turned into a morgue today. The town hall, the engine house and the depot were all full of dead bodies, while every house in the little village has its quota of the wounded. There was over 100 corpses lying in the extemporized dead houses, and every man and woman was turned to an amateur but zealous nurse. Even in a lumber yard the noise of hammers and saws rung out on the air, and busy carpenters were making rough coffins to carry to their homes the dead bodies of the excursionists who, twelve hours before, had left their homes full of pleasure with expectations of the enjoyment they were going to have during the vacation, which had just begun.

When news of the disaster was first flashed over the wires prompt aid was at once sent. Dr. Steele, chief surgeon of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railway, had come on a special train and with him were two other surgeons and their assistants. From Peoria also came Doctors Martin, Baker, Fleugler and Johnson, and from every city whence the unfortunate excursionists had come their physicians and friends hurried out to help them. From Peoria had also come delegations of the Red Men and the Ancient Order of United Workmen, members of both societies being in the ill-fated train, and so after 8 o'clock in the morning there were plenty of people to do the work that needed such prompt attention.

In the Town Hall was the main hospital, and in it anxious relatives and sorrowing friends sat and fanned sufferers' faces. Down in the dead house fathers, husbands, brothers, sisters, wives and children tearfully inspected each face as it was uncovered, and sighed as the features were unknown or cried out in anguish when the well known features, sometimes fearfully mangled but yet recognizable, were uncovered. The entire capacity of the little village was taxed, and kind-hearted women drove in from miles to give their gentle ministration to the sufferers.

No sooner had the wreck occurred than a scene of robbery commenced. Some fiends of unspeakable miscreants, heartless and with all animal instincts were on hand and like the ghouls who throng a battle field the night after conflict and flock from the dead, so last night did these human hyenas plot for the dead from this terrible accident, and take off the shoes which covered their feet. Who these wretches are is not known. Whether they were a band of pickpockets who accompanied the train or were lurking in the vicinity cannot be said. The horrible suspicion, however, exists, and there are many who give it credence, that the accident was a deliberately planned case of train wrecking, that the bridge was set on fire by miscreants who hoped to seize the opportunity offered. The fact that the bridge was so far consumed at the time the train came along and the added fact that the train was an hour and a half late is pointed out as evidence of a careful conspiracy. It seems hardly possible that man could be so lost to all the ordinary feeling which animates the basest of the human race, but still men who will rob the dead, men who will steal from the dying and will plunder the wounded held down by the broken beams of a wrecked car, whose death by fire seemed imminent, can do most anything which is base, and that is what these fiends in human form did. They went into the cars when the fire was burning fiercely underneath and when the poor wretches who were pinned there begged them "For God's sake help me out," stripped them of their watches and jewelry and searched their pockets for money. When the dead bodies were laid out in the corn fields these hyenas turned them over in their search for valuables, and that the plundering was done by an organized gang is proven by the fact that this morning in the corn field many purses all empty were found in one heap. It was a ghastly plundering, and had the plunderers been caught this afternoon they would surely have been lynched.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—4 a.m.

There was one incident of the accident which stood out more horrible than all of these horrible scenes. In the second coach was a man, his wife and a little child. His name could not be learned to-day, but it is said he got on at Peoria. When the accident occurred the entire family of three was caught and held down by the broken woodwork. Finally when relief came the man turned feebly and said: "Take out my wife first; I'm afraid the child is dead." So they carried out the mother and as a broken seat was taken off her crushed breast the blood which welled from her lips told how badly she was hurt. They carried the child, a fair-haired, blue-eyed girl of 3, and laid her in the corn field dead alongside of her dying mother. Then they went back for the father and brought him out. Both his legs were broken but he crawled through the corn to the side of his wife, and, feeling her loved features in the darkness pressed some brandy to her lips and asked her how she felt. A feeble groan was the only answer and the next instant she died. The man felt the forms of his dead wife and child and cried out, "My God, there is nothing more for me to live for now," and taking a pistol out of his pocket, pulled the trigger. The bullet went surely through his brain, and the three dead bodies of that little family are now lying side by side in Chatsworth waiting to be identified.

There have been many guesses as to the origin of the fire which wrecked the bridge and caused the accident, but so far they are nothing but guesses. The most probable one is that a spark from the furnace of the engine of a train which passed two hours before caused the blaze. The season has been very dry hereabouts. For a long time almost no rain has fallen and so the wooden work of the bridge was like tinder and a live coal dropped on it would fire it at once. Another and startling theory is the one of train wrecking. This is an awful one to contemplate, but it has its adherents. They point to the fact that there were lots of thieves about, to the additional fact that they seemed to be members of an organization working together, and the diabolical heartless-

DEATH'S AWFUL GRIST.

100 KILLED AND OVER 400 MANGLED AND WOUNDED.

An Excursion Train on the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, Bearing Over Nine Hundred Passengers, Plunges Through a Bridge—Heartrending Scenes of Death and Destruction—What Was Done to Relieve the Injured.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The Chicago Times' special from Forest, Ill., says: All the railway horrors in the history of this country were surpassed three miles east of Chatsworth last night when an excursion train on the Toledo, Peoria and Western Road dropped through a burning bridge and over 100 people were killed and four times that number were more or less badly injured. The train was composed of six sleeping cars, six day coaches and chair cars and three baggage. It was carrying 960 passengers, all excursionists, and was bound for Niagara Falls. The train had been made up all along the line of the Toledo, Peoria and Western road, and the excursionists hailed from various parts in Central Illinois, the bulk of them, however, coming from Peoria. Some of the passengers came from Canton, El Paso, Washington and in fact all stations along the line, some from as far west as Burlington and Keokuk, Iowa. A special and cheap rate had been made for the excursion and all sorts of people took advantage of it.

When the train drew out of Peoria at 8 o'clock last evening it was loaded to its utmost capacity. Every berth in the six sleepers was taken, and the day cars carried sixty people each. The train was so heavy that two engines were hitched to it, and when it passed this place it was an hour and a half behind time. Chatsworth, the next station east of here, is six miles off, and the run there was made in seven minutes, so the terrible momentum of those fifteen coaches and two engines shooting through space at the rate of a mile a minute can be understood. The train did not stop at Chatsworth and sped by the small station with lightning speed. Three miles east of Chatsworth is a little slough where the railroad crosses a dry run about 10 feet deep and 15 feet wide. Over this was stretched an ordinary wooden trestle bridge, and as the excursion train came thundering down on it, what was the terror of the engineer on the front engine when he saw that the bridge was on fire. Right up before his eyes leaped the bright flames and the next instant he was among them. There was no chance to stop. Had there been any warning it would have taken half a mile to stop that onrushing mass of wood, iron and human lives, and the train was within 100 yards of the red-tongued messenger of death before the fire flashed the fatal signals into the engineer's face. But he passed over in safety, the first engine keeping the rails. As it went over, the bridge fell beneath it, and it could only have been the terrific speed of the train which saved the lives of the engineer and his fireman. But the next engine went down and instantly the deed of death was done. Car crashed into car, coaches piled one on top of another, and in the twinkling of an eye nearly 100 people found an instant death and fifty more were so hurt they could not live. As for the wounded they were everywhere.

Only the sleeping coaches escaped and as the startled and half-dressed passengers came tumbling out of them they found such a scene of death as is rarely witnessed and such work to do that it seemed as if human hand were utterly incapable. It lacked but five minutes of midnight. Down in the ditch lay the second engine, Engineer McClintock and Fireman Applegate having been badly injured. On top were piled the three baggage cars, one on top of another, like a child's card house after he has swept it with his hand. Then came the six day coaches. They were telescoped as cars never were before, and three of them were pressed into just space enough for one. The second car had mounted off the tracks, crashed through the car ahead of it, crushing the woodwork aside like tinder, and lay there resting on the tops of the car seats, where every passenger in the front one was lying dead and dying underneath. Out of that car but four people came alive. On top of the second car lay the third, and its bottom was smeared with the blood of the victims. The other three cars were not so badly crushed, but they were broken and twisted in every conceivable shape, and every crushed timber and beam represented a crushed human frame and a broken bone.

Instantly the air was filled with the cries of the wounded and the shrieks of those about to die. The groans of men and the screams of women united to make an appalling sound, and above all could be heard the agonizing cries of little children as in some instances they lay pinned alongside their dead parents. And there was another terrible danger yet to be met. The bridge was still burning and the wrecked cars were lying on and around the fiercely burning embers. Everywhere in the wreck were wounded and unhurt men, women and children whose lives could be saved if they could be gotten out, but whose death, and death in a most horrible form, was certain if the twisted wood of the broken cars caught fire, and to fight the fire there was not a drop of water and only some fifty able-bodied men who had presence of mind and nerve enough to do their duty. The only light was the light of the burning bridge, and with its aid the fifty men went to work to fight the flames.

A CHILD STEALER SENTENCED.

The Woman Who Attempted to Steal Farmer Bond sent to Jail.

HAMILTON, Aug. 11.—Elizabeth Ike was arraigned before the Police Magistrate this morning charged with having on Saturday last stolen the child of Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly. Mrs. Donnelly said that the child was taken from her on Saturday and she did not get it again until Sunday night, when it was brought to her in the cells. She knew that Mrs. Ike had taken it. Police officers testified to having searched for Mrs. Ike and the child all Sunday. Late at night Sergeant Cassell found them in a lodging house on Hurlburt-street. Mrs. Ike told him that the child was her own. When asked what she had to say, Mrs. Ike said she took the child because Mrs. Donnelly was lying drunk on the roadside near the Valley Inn, and she was afraid that the child would be killed. She was found guilty of the offence with which she was charged and sentenced to six months in the Andrew Mercer Reformatory.

Annie Burke and Edward Taylor were brought up this morning on a charge of an attempted robbery of Silas Bond last week. Evidence was adduced to show that the prisoners passed off at their boarding-house, on the stone road, as uncle and nephew —that the girl always appeared at the boarding house as a boy. She is a short, thick-set, repulsive-looking girl with short hair, a bullet head and capacious mouth. With her hat off she would pass anywhere for a boy and would easily deceive even a detective. The girl in female attire accosted Mr. Bond and asked for a ride —the man in the meantime was to be the indignant rescuer of outraged innocence. No sooner had Bond taken her into the buggy than she grabbed him and tried to go down in his pockets. The girl was sent to the common jail for sixty days, and the man was told to get out of the city as fast as his legs could carry him.

Walter Scott, a brakeman on the Northern and Northwestern Railway, was killed near Milton last night by falling under the train. He belonged to Ellicottsville, N.Y.

A $1000 FIRE AT ST. GEORGE.

The Crawford Block and a Dwelling Adjoining Destroyed.

ST. GEORGE, Aug. 11.—A fire broke out in the Crawford block here about 4 o'clock this morning and completely destroyed it, also the dwelling house of R. Snowball, sr., adjoining. The block was occupied by J. Richardson & Co., general merchants; A. Campbell, bakery, and J. J. Elliott, tinsmith. The origin of the fire is unknown. It started in the rear of the tinshop, and the lower flat was a mass of flame before anyone noticed it. J. J. Elliott, an employe, was nearly suffocated, and had to escape through a window. A stiff breeze was blowing and the fire soon spread to F. Coulton's harness shop and S. F. Smith's dwelling. The latter, however, was saved by great exertions. A shower coming on saved other buildings in close proximity from catching from the showers of sparks, otherwise the fire would have had a clear sweep of the business portion of the town. The loss will probably exceed $16,000.

Following is an estimate with the amounts of insurance: J. Richardson & Co., stock damaged by removal and burned, insured for $2000; J. S. Crawford, on building, $2000, insured for $2000; J. J. Elliott, stock and household effects, $1800, insured for $1200; A. Campbell, stock and household effects, $1000, insured for $900; F. Coulton lost his book of accounts; B. Bell, buildings, $700, covered by insurance; R. Snowball, dwelling, insured for $1300. The companies interested are the Waterloo, Mutual, Gore, British American, Citizens' Economical and Globe Mutual.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A Lodger Loses His Life in a Tenement House Fire in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—A distressing fire occurred on St. Dominique-street at an early hour this morning, whereby a family was burned out and a boarder burned to death. Before the arrival of the brigade two men, at the risk of their lives, dashed through the flames and saved two men and a child. The house was occupied by Mrs. Jean Baptiste Oulette, who let out furnished rooms to single gentlemen. One of these, named Albarry, a Belgian by birth, occupied a room in the attic. He was in the habit of reading by night, and Madame Oulette states she had often warned him of the bad habit. He had gone to bed last night slightly under the influence of liquor, and had no doubt continued his nightly practice of reading. It is supposed he fell asleep and upset the lamp; but he paid dearly for his pleasure, as he failed to escape, and was found by the firemen lying in the charred remains of his bed, burned to a crisp. Loss about $1500; not covered by insurance.

A MAN OVERBOARD.

A New York Lawyer Loses His Life in the St. Lawrence.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—The passengers on board the Quebec going down the river last evening were startled on hearing that a man was overboard. It seems that Mr. E. D. Cowles, a leading lawyer of Wall-street, New York, and Vice-President of the Laurentian Fish and Game Club, has been visiting this city for some days in search of health, he having been suffering from a painful disorder, which has caused him to be subject to fits of despondency and general ill-health. Yesterday, however, he was around the city in company with intimate friends, one of whom is from New York, and appeared to be in much better spirits than usual. About 9 o'clock he disappeared from the steamer's deck. Whether he jumped in or fell in is a mystery. The sad occurrence took place near Lavaltrie. Deceased was a son of the late Judge Cowles of New York.

THE CHARRED HOUSES AT CHATSWORTH.

CHATSWORTH, Ill., Aug. 12—4 a.m.—Charred houses and hospitals make up to-night what has been the peaceful village of Chatsworth. Of 800 merry excursionists journeying by here to the Falls of Niagara twenty-four hours ago, fully half that number have since passed through a maelstrom more fearful than all the whirling waters that they were traveling to see.

Eighty-four of their blackened, mangled corpses are scattered in the depot, schools and engine houses here and at Piper City, or are being carried on trains in all directions to their homes. One hundred and thirteen bandaged, moaning cripples are stretched on all the available mattresses, beds, chairs and floors in this vicinity, struggling for a little lease of life. The streets are filled with crowds of anxious seekers for friends and relatives and with other crowds of bustling people hurrying for medicines, slowly bearing rude pine coffins to the trains, or talking earnestly of the horror.

Mr. Arch. Croswell and wife of Peoria were on their way to visit their parents in Kankakee with their 6-weeks old boy. Mrs. Croswell occupied a seat in the front end of the car next to the door. Mr. Croswell, being unable to get a seat with his wife, took another position a few yards back. When the concussion came the front end of the car was crushed in and Mrs. Croswell killed. The baby was found in the centre of the car with but slight injuries. It was taken to a farm house near by and cared for.

THE M'GARIGLE CASE.

A Bench Warrant Will Issue From Montreal for His Arrest.

KINGSTON, Aug. 11.—The schooner Blake cleared for Chicago this morning, having on board Mates McGiffin and Cooney, and Sailor Gallagher, who had made the memorable voyage from Chicago with Williams, alias McGarigle on board. Rushford, a Kingstonian, did not reship. It is said by the authorities, who speak by the book, that the vessel will only go to St. Catharines, and will lie up there until the present affair has blown over.

A Bench Warrant for McGarigle.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—McGarigle, the Chicago boodler, is to be indicted before the Grand Jury on a charge of conspiracy and a bench warrant will be issued for his arrest. It is said that Crown Prosecutor Greenshields says that a territorial magistrate, residing in Ottawa, will be appointed, who will not refuse to indorse a warrant when the law authorizes him to do so.

"ANNEXATION."

Farm and Home, an agricultural paper published at Springfield, Massachusetts, says that it recently asked its Canadian readers for their opinions regarding the plan of annexing Canada to the United States. Out of 910 answers, 700 are opposed to the idea, and 210 are in favor of it. There is evidently a wide difference of opinion on the subject among the Canadian people. On this side of the line the same is true, Canada's debt being one of the objections raised. Most of those who have voted have simply said "yes" or "no". One reader at Alwa, Ontario, says: "I believe it would greatly advance the interests of the farmers and every one else, unless our numerous officials—for truly we are a much-governed people." Another writes from Wentworth county, Ontario: "Positively and decidedly 'No'. But I am strongly in favor of commercial union and brotherly intercourse." The latter opinion is frequently expressed, and a minister at Digby, N.S., well expresses his feeling in this way: "We greatly like your people as neighbors and visitors, and will not object to annexing you." A few favor a closer compact with Great Britain and her colonies to the exclusion of all outside interests, and frequent preference is expressed for United States laws and principles. A most decided reply is from Yarmouth, N.S.: "We answer with a No and a big thump. There are sixty families in this village, and only two 'soft heads' are for annexation." The vote received may be tabulated, as follows:

For Annexation.		Against Annexation.
Ontario	132	Ontario,	70
Quebec,	18	Quebec,	10
Nova Scotia,	60	Nova Scotia,	630
Total,	210	Total,	700

The Farm and Home will, in all probability, have its "Canadian" readers for some time to come. There seems to be little fear of their becoming "American" readers. Annexationists are not a numerous body in Canada. There are, of course, some persons in every community who, when hard times come and everything does not go smoothly, cast about for any remedy but the true one. Of this class are probably the 210 mentioned in the above table. They are perhaps thriftless and instead of depending upon their own exertions and entering into the race of life with activity and energy, sit down and fold their hands and cry out for annexation to cure the ills which hard work and thrifty methods would alleviate. There are hard times and business depression under Yankee rule, and there will be discontented persons under every system of government. If a poll were taken of the 210 annexationists, whom the Farm and Home parades, we venture to assert that the great majority of them would belong to the class of unthrifty, lazy and improvident as we have pointed out. The man who labors late and early and compels the work of his hands to supply his wants is sure, except under peculiar conditions, to succeed, and he will have no time to pine over his imaginary ills and, to long for some political change to supply that which he is unwilling to work for. The value of a table like the one above is very small. For the reasons given, the persons appearing as in favor of annexation are not citizens with a stake in the country sufficient to establish a bona fide right, on their part, to pose as British subjects. There are large numbers of "Americans" in Canada, and they would naturally desire a political alliance with their native land. It safe to say that there are very few Canadian born British subjects among those who are represented as having voted in favor of annexation to the United States.

Dominion and Industrial Exhibition.

The secretary of the Dominion and Industrial Exhibition Association informs us that the entries for the forthcoming exhibition, which opens at Toronto on the 6th September, are far in excess of those of any previous year. The exhibition takes the additional title of Dominion this year in consequence of having received the Federal grant for 1887 and the managers are endeavoring to make it as much a Dominion gathering as possible. Rebates of freight are given to distant exhibitors and Manitoba, Algoma and the Maritime provinces are being induced to contribute collections. Fully $40,000 has been expended in buildings and improvements this year. In the way of special attractions there will be given at intervals during the exhibition, equestrian performances in the horse ring, aeronaut ascensions with double balloons, performing on the trapeze while ascending, and a brilliant pyrotechnic display by C. F. Pain, who superintended the fire works at the Queen's Jubilee at London, England. Following the latter named performances there will be a scene representing the seige and capture of Pekin, enacted on the grounds with English, Chinese and French soldiers and marines, with scenery and costumes. The Governor-General will open the exhibition on the 6th, and the grounds and buildings will be lighted each evening with 200 lights.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

THE SUPREME KNIGHTS, S. OF T.

The Annual Reunion at Grimsby Park—Election of Officers and Reports.

GRIMSBY PARK, Aug. 11.—The Supreme Command Knights, S. of T., hold their annual reunion to-day. Representatives were present from Clarmont Command No. 7, Hamilton; Wellington No. 2, Guelph; York No. 3, Toronto. The officers and members wore their full regalia. The reports of the Commander-in-Chief and the Adjutant-General showed that financially this, the third degree of the order, is in a flourishing condition, a good balance remaining on hand.

The Supreme Commander reported that the Supreme Council of the United States and Canada had been adopted this day and the membership of the degree will in future be divided into two grand armies, one representing the United States and the other Canada. There was no report from the Surgeon-General, as there has been no death in the degree since its institution over two years ago. A recommendation that the beneficiary system be altered to the pension plan was adopted. Some minor amendments to the constitution were also made, and the Commander-in-Chief was authorized to confer the degree work on the American brethren.

The election of officers resulted: Commander-in-Chief, W. W. Buchanan, Hamilton; Major-General, Geo. H. Lees, Hamilton; Adjutant-General, J. H. Sand, Hamilton; Chaplain-General, Rev. A. M. Phillips, B.A., St. Marys; Surgeon-General, B. E. McKenzie, Toronto; First Aide-de-Camp, Rev. J. W. Bell, Minnedosa, N.W.T.; Second Aide-de-Camp, C. Steele, Guelph; Com. of the Guards, P. H. Sewart, Barrie.

End of the Teachers' Convention.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.

The Ontario Teachers' Association met yesterday afternoon, President Strang in the chair, and concluded its business. The election of officers resulted:

President—J. H. Smith, Ancaster.
Recording Secretary—R. W. Dunn, Toronto.
Corresponding Secretary—D. A. Hunter, Woodstock.
Treasurer—W. J. Hendry, Minico.

An Old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly 30 years, is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults. It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhœa and dysentery. 2w31d

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A THIEVES' FROLIC.

A Gang of Roughs Terrorize an Excursion Party on a Steamer.

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—A gang of thirteen pickpockets and general thieves went to Put-in-Bay yesterday morning on steamer City of Cleveland. Their conduct on the way was such that the officers of the boat put them ashore and refused to let them return on board. As a result they took the steamer Alaska on her return trip. During the voyage pandemonium reigned, in some cases pistols being drawn. Peaceable men were robbed, insulted and threatened with violence. The women passengers were greatly alarmed, and although the officers of the boat did all in their power to restore order the riotous conduct lasted during the whole trip.

When the steamer reached [illegible] stopped in midstream and sent two boats ashore. In fifteen minutes two patrol wagons filled with detectives came down to the dock. The officers got into the boats and rowed out to the Alaska. A thorough search of the boat was made, and when she came alongside the dock an hour later eleven persons were brought off and taken to police headquarters. Among those arrested were Martin Forbes of Toronto; John Byers of London, Ont.; Robert S. Rodgers of Hamilton, Ont., and Thomas Mullen, Windsor, Ont. Two of the gang on the approach of the police jumped overboard. One, said to be the ringleader, reached shore and escaped. The other was taken off one of the blades of the paddle-wheel. Ex-Deputy Sheriff Downs and George Campbell of this city were badly beaten by the gang. A large amount of cash was found in the pocket of one of the gang.

DON'T FOOL WITH THE CATARACT.

The Consequence of Walking on a Slippery Log at Niagara Falls.

BUFFALO, Aug. 11.—J. F. Neville and Peter Harkness of Montreal started out yesterday morning to take in Niagara Falls, going first through Goat Island to the Horshoe Falls. Close to the brink beyond the Terrapin Bridge are three logs and beyond them a large rock which Neville wanted to visit. He started out on the slippery log, but came back and took off his shoes and stockings, saying he would reach the desired spot if he perished in the attempt. He started out again. He reached a point where a green slime covered the logs, and there he slipped off and fell into the rapids. In an instant he was swept under the logs, which he caught hold of, but, being under water, was obliged to let go, and was dashed against the third log, which he caught hold of and hung on with his feet projecting over the brink. Finding Neville could hold on Harkness ran for assistance. He found a teamster and they, making a noose of the harness, drew Neville to the shore. He was nearly exhausted and was put in a hack and driven to Mrs. McGarigle's, where he was stopping.

NEW YORK TRADE RETURNS.

An Increase in Imports and a Great Falling Off in Exports.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The imports of foreign goods at this port for July were nearly $30,000,000. In only three instances in the history of this port did the July imports exceed this amount. The gain is very largely in free goods, the total of which was nearly $7,300,000 in merchandise and over $2,000,000 in specie. Of the merchandise more than $4,000,000 consisted of coffee attracted here by the ruling high prices. The exports for July were valued at $20,338,868.

While the imports at this port for seven months have increased over $22,000,000 the exports have fallen off $30,000,000, a change of $38,000,000 in the balance of trade. From the returns of New York commerce just given for July it is estimated that the total imports of the country for the last month were upwards of $57,000,000. The total exports should be somewhat in excess of that amount, but they will probably fall several millions below it.

OPPONENTS OF PROTECTION.

The Knights of Labor Will Demand Changes in the U. S. Tariff.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—The Times says for some time individual members of the Knights of Labor have been whispering that they hardly think protection protects the working people, and many are the queries sent to the big officials of the order asking if it would not be better to abolish the duty on many commodities required for the workingmen. These questions have set the members of the order into a thinking disposition. It has been learned from an authentic source that while the more prominent men of the organization are not fully decided in the matter they are inclined to favor abolishing the present tariff on many things. This disposition has already taken such definite shape that the officials are seriously thinking of issuing a manifesto to that effect.

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

Demonstration Echoes.

Said a stranger in canton uniform this morning.—"This is the hardest town to leave I ever struck." He finds it almost impossible to tear himself away from the enjoyments of the town.

Mr. Hardy, leader of the Victoria Rifles Band, said that the 57th Batt. Band was, without exception, the best brass band he ever met.

Not an arrest for drunkenness and disorder was made by the police during the demonstration.

You will find at Turnbull's the far-famed Alexandre Kid Gloves, cut to fit the hand, every pair warranted.

Lodge of Instruction.

One of the most interesting affairs in connection with the Grand Lodge Session was the lodge of Instruction held in the Opera House last night. It was conducted by Bro. W. H. Coggswell, of New York, the acknowledged best exponent of the floor work of the Order. The exposition given of subordinate lodge degree work was a revelation to many members of the Order, some of whom say it was worth all the rest of the session to them. The exemplification was conducted by the aid of the "Toronto team of 24 members, who kindly consented to allow themselves to be made useful for the occasion and who were unusually expert and well informed. The Past Grand was Bro. Burton; Noble Grand, Bro. J. T. Hornbrooke; Vice Grand, Bro. R. Maxwell; Conductor, Bro. J. W. St. John: Inside Guard, Bro. F. Cooper; Outside Guard, Bro. J. Munroe. All these gentlemen performed the share of work falling to their positions with great expertness and clearness and to the high edification instruction and entertainment of the very large number of Oddfellows present. The Outside Guard, Bro. J. Munroe, was also very proficient in his duties. Bro. C. W. Gregory, in his several characters was conspicious for the excellence of the work exemplified by him, his powers of delineation being expressive and dramatic. The parts taken by others were also exceedingly well done. The paraphernalia worn and used was kindly loaned to the Toronto Team by the Oswego Lodge, N.Y., and was superb having cost $900. The Peterborough and other brethren had an opportunity rarely presented of seeing work properly and effectively done. It is understood that Bro. C. W. Gregory intends visiting subordinate lodges to give instruction in the work in connection with the Dominion Oddfellow. If such be the case, he cannot fail to meet with success. At the lodge of Instruction Bro. Mowry, N.G. of Otonabee Lodge, occupied the chair, and the stage of the Opera House was filled with some of the prominent members of the order.

Proceedings of the Annual Session of Grand Lodge.

Afternoon Session—Presentation of Reports—Election of Grand Officers—Selection of Place—Exchange of Fraternal Courtesies.

THURSDAY, August 11th.

At 2 p.m. the Grand Lodge resumed.

After routine the Committee on the state of the order reported favourably of the general status of the Oddfellow Society. The report was adopted.

The report of the Judiciary Committee was submitted and adopted.

HER MAJESTY'S JUBILEE.

The Queen's Jubilee Committee reported in reference to the sending of a congratulating message to Her Majesty and the following was agreed upon and cabled:—

To Her Majesty Queen Victoria:—

The Grand Lodge of the I.O.O.F., of Ontario now in session desire to extend to your Majesty their sincere congratulations upon your being permitted to enter upon the Fiftieth Year of your glorious reign, and to express the hope that your Majesty may long be spared to reign over a loyal and patriotic people.

Sgd., J. ORMSBY DONOGH,
Grand Master.

Grand Lodge Rooms, Peterborough.
August 11th, 1887.

A congratulatory message was received from the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia and replied to, and a message sent to the Grand Lodge of Manitoba now in session.

ELECTION OF GRAND OFFICERS.

The election of Grand Officers took place by ballot. The competition for the coveted places of honor was keen, and resulted as follows:—

JOHN O'DONOGH, Junior Past Grand Master.

J. R. REID, Grand Master.

E. R. ROBINSON, Deputy Grand Master.

R. W. BELL (M.D., Peterborough,) Grand Warden.

J. B. KING, (re-elected) Grand Secretary.

Wm. BADENACH, (re-elected) Grand Treasurer.

CL. T. CAMPBELL, (re-elected) Grand Representative.

CHARLES PACKERT, (re-elected) Grand Auditor.

The remaining Grand Officers are not elective but nominative, and will be appointed after the installation of the elective Grand Officers this afternoon.

NEXT PLACE OF MEETING.

The town of Barrie was selected as the next place of meeting of the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Session adjourned at 6 o'clock.

GRAND MASTER REID.

Mr. J. R. Reid, the newly elected Grand Master, is a resident of Brockville. He is a native of Brooklyn N.Y., and is 32 years of age—a young man to occupy the high position he has reached, the fact, however, giving evidence of the possession of unusual abilities, pre-eminently fitting him for the position. He is of mixed Irish and Scotch parentage—his father was a native of the North of Ireland and his mother of Scotland. He came to Canada thirteen years ago, and has since resided in Brockville where he is manager of the Brockville Steam Confectionary Works. He first became associated with Oddfellowship nine years ago, and his promotion has been rapid and upward. He has satisfactorily filled all the positions in the subordinate lodge he belonged to. His first visit to a Grand Lodge was in the city of Toronto in 1882, and the second when that body met in Ottawa in 1883, when he was appointed Grand Marshall. He did not attend the Grand Session the following year at St. Thomas, but in 1885 at Hamilton he was elected Grand Warden. At London he took the next step—to the chair of the Deputy Grand Master and yesterday he mounted the highest round of the ladder and took his seat in the chair of the Grand Master. His election is a popular one and there is no doubt that he will make a most efficient head officer of the Grand Body. In religion he is a Presbyterian and a conscientious, total abstainer. As an Oddfellow he is well acquainted with the duties of his position. He has filled important positions on the Legislative Judiciary and other committees of the Grand Lodge, is young, energetic, active, courteous and possessed of that charming modesty which is the frequent accompaniment of latent ability and real merit. The history of the order contains few, if any, instances of a more rapid rise by force of merit than Grand Master Reid. The positions he has filled and now fills were not and have not been reached by dint of wire-pulling, but came to him as a fitting recognition of merit and ability for their incumbency. His rapid and almost uninterrupted advance to the highest position in the gift of the Order, is evidence of sterling ability and loyalty to the Order, and an intelligent and untiring interest in the promotion of its welfare. The EXAMINER has great pleasure in extending its congratulations to Grand Master Reid.

GRAND WARDEN BELL.

Robert William Bell, M.D., Peterborough, who was yesterday elected to the important position of Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, I. O. O. F., is a native of Carleton Place, Lannark County, where he was born in 1851. In 1868 he entered McGill College, Montreal, graduating in medicine in 1873. He practiced several years in Carleton Place and, in 1876, removed to Peterborough. Dr. Bell is a Presbyterian in religion, and one of the Board of Managers of St. Andrew's Church. He is an enthusiastic volunteer, holding the position of Major and Adjutant of the Peterborough Rangers, and has for several years been secretary of the Peterborough Rifle Association.

His Oddfellow record begins in January 1874, when he became a member of Stella Lodge No. 123, Carleton Place, at its institution. He joined Brock Encampment, Brockville, the following year. He was elected to represent the above lodge at the grand session of 1876, St. Catherines, and he was at that time appointed Grand Chaplain, in which capacity he attended the next session in Belleville. Having removed to Peterborough, he joined Peterborough lodge 111 in May of 1878, but subsequently withdrew and assisted in the resuscitation of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, in 1882, visiting the Grand Lodge in Toronto that year to successfully present the petition for that purpose. Dr. Bell attended the Grand Lodge as representative of Otonabee Lodge in 1883, '84 and '85, serving every year on important committees. In 1885 he was appointed Grand Marshall. In this capacity he attended the Grand Lodge in London. This year he was again elected representative of Otonabee Lodge and as intimated above elected to the position of Grand Warden. It will be seen that Dr. Bell has been an active and energetic Oddfellow. He has served the Grand Lodge every year since 1876, either upon most most important committees or as a Grand Officer and his present election may be justly regarded as a recognition his abilities and active interest in the promotion of the welfare of the Order. He is possessed of excellent executive ability, makes a most efficient and valuable Grand Lodge official, and is eminently fitted by virtue of his abilities, knowledge of Oddfellowship, and sterling worth of character to ascend the easy grade, which, by the unwritten law of the Order, leads from his present position to the incumbency of the chair of the Grand Master. Dr. Bell was elected solely on his merits. He did not solicit a single vote and did not receive the substantial benefit of the support of a large array of available past Grands. The EXAMINER joins the host of personal friends of Dr. Bell in Peterborough in heartily congratulating him upon the gratifying mark of esteem which has been conferred and which we are certain he will in worthily and modestly wear during his term of office.

The mileage and per diem rates were fixed at 5 cents per mile one way and $2 per day. A resolution was adopted expressive of kind appreciation of Mrs. Capreol's encouragement of Rebekah work last night, and the finance committee was instructed to provide for the expenses of the Toronto "team".

A resolution of thanks was passed to Ontagatakie Lodge, Orange, for the loan of the elegant paraphernalia used last night.

At 11-15 the Grand Secretary assisted the Grand Representatives in the exemplification of secret work.

The Grand Officers were instructed to take legal advice to ascertain the rights of the Grand Lodge in respect to supreme control over its subordinates, in regard to the distribution of funds by subordinate lodges.

Two important appeal cases were settled.

The Patriarchs' Militant.

Make Themselves Patriarchs' Triumphant.—How they Impressed the people—How the Ladies Treated Them.

The parade of the Cantons Militant in the streets of Peterborough, on Wednesday, was one of the finest displays of military bearing, brilliancy and manoeuvre ever seen in this town or in fact in any place in Canada. The display received the general appreciation of the eight or ten thousand spectators assembled from all points of Canada and several States of the Union and was universally conceded to be in advance of anything of a similar character ever taking place under the auspices of the Order. Judges in military matters were particularly struck with the military bearing and perfection of Ontonoais Canton, No. 9, which not only won public applause but the personal commendations of Lieut.-General Underwood. The London Canton was facile princeps in the fancy military movements at the Driving Park, though all the other Cantons were not far behind. The several finely executed movements elicits rounds of applause from the thousands of spectators present.

THE DAUGHTERS OF THE REGIMENT.

The visiting Cantons and their tair entertainers at the Skating Rink barracks composed a happy family. Most of the Cantons as bodies left yesterday, with the exception of the Newmarket Canton and stray and susceptible members of other Cantons, who deserted the ranks rather than forego the pleasure of basking in the sunlight of the smiles and being fed at the dainty hands of the daughters of the regiment. The chevaliers, every one of them, are delighted both with the abundance and excellent quality of the food provided, and also with the assiduous solicitude with which the ladies ministered to the wants of that most important part of a man's anatomy, his stomach, though at the same time they, in several instances, played havoc with their hearts. In recognition of their obligations, the several Cantons expressed their appreciation of the kindness they had received in the warmest terms. Capt. Briggs, of the Canton Mount Royal No. 7, said that he felt he only voiced the opinion and feeling of the entire Cantons battalion when he said they were more than satisfied—with the committee, the ladies and every body. Their quarters were superb, ahead of anything he had ever seen for the purpose, and all that Mount Royal wanted was to get the Peterborough brethren in Montreal, and he added, "we will—well—make it hot for them. "We have been used splendidly and won't forget it." A German member of Canton Newmarket, was enthusiastic—"I nefer enchoyed meinselluf so big in my live." This canton takes the palm for gallantry. They left town last night, but before leaving their quarters they had valedictory parade. The ladies who had waited on the chevaliers, were mustered and drawn into line on one side of the rink floor—"dressed by their right"—and the chevaliers on the opposite side as though they were going to dance Sir Roger de Coverly. The Newmarket boys then marched in front of the little regiment of vivandieres and several ly shook hands with them in token of farewell, some of the younger and more susceptible showing in their faces evidence of a heroic struggle for the suppression of a desire to adopt a warmer mode of salutation. The canton then gave three rousing cheers and, a tiger for the ladies, formed in rank and, headed by their fine band, marched to the station and took the 6.42 C.P.R. train for home.

In the evening the rink was converted into a ball-room, and a pleasant few hours were spent in dancing. The Fire Brigade Band orchestra furnished music. Dancing was kept up to the little hours, the guests being composed of the lady waitresses who had cared for the visiting chevaliers and a numerous detachment of visiting Oddfellows. At the conclusion of the dancing the Oddfellows formed themselves into a committee of janitors, kept ward and watch till morning and escorted several departing Oddfellows to the early morning trains.

The Fleeting and the Abiding.

Peterborough this whole summer and especially the past week, has been a scene of festal activity. The town has covered herself with glory and her reputation has gone abroad throughout the length and breadth of the land. These demonstrations pass away, and nothing but the memory remains. Belleghem and his furniture still abide, and their reputation for first rate quality corresponds to the reputation of the town. His place of business—his spacious warerooms with their immense and varied stock—is one of the show places of the town. His factory is a busy hive of industry where all ordered work receives the promptest and most artistic attention. Visitors think the people of this district should appreciate an establishment like Belleghem's. And they do. All who want first class furniture are sure to go to Belleghem's.

The Art Union.

The Art Union Exhibition on Hunter Street attracts a daily quantum of visitors, principally ladies, who seem to appreciate thoroughly the excellent productions of the brush shown there. Prof. and Mrs. Lopez and Mr. and Mrs. Needham, the artists in charge, are forming a class for instruction in oil painting, with most encouraging prospects. They make a specialty of figure and animal painting. Their plush painting and iridescent work are greatly admired.

Sudden Death.

Mr. J. F. Williams, Brougham, Mara Road, during on Saturday, of Albuminuria.

It is with feelings of deepest regret that we chronicle the [illegible] on Saturday [illegible] Mr. J. F. Williams, a highly [illegible] resident of this place. He had been attending to his business as usual on the Friday previous to his death and had not complained of being ill. About 10 o'clock he started [illegible] and was going to bed at eleven. Between nine and two o'clock on Saturday morning he suddenly rolled over in the bed, awakening his wife, who spoke to him but received no reply. She quickly discovered that and found him writhing in the agonies of an apoplectic fit. Drs. Peterkin and Ford were immediately called in, but medical aid proved of no avail. He never regained consciousness. About four o'clock death relieved him from his sufferings. Deceased came here from Deseronto about a year ago, and during his short residence among us made a host of friends. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church. He was also a member of the Masonic order and at one time master of the Bradford Lodge, A.F. & A.M. The bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their sad affliction. The remains were followed to the C.P.R. depot on Monday by a long procession of sympathising friends, where they were placed on the noon train and taken to Perth for interment in the family plot in Elmwood cemetery. The suddenness of the death has cast a gloom over the whole neighborhood. A man in the prime of life, stricken down without a moment's warning, furnishes a subject worthy of grave reflection.—Norwood Register.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Eyre, and son, Robert, of Brockville, have been visiting friends in town, during Oddfellow week and returned home this morning.

The EXAMINER had the pleasure of a call this morning from Mr. Hal. B. Donly, editor of the Norfolk Reformer, Simcoe.

Mr. K.W. King, of the Barrie Gazette, and P. G. Barrie, Lodge No. 63, gave us a call to-day.

Mr. W.J. Valleau, P. G. Barrie, Lodge No 63, some time connected with the Dominion Telegraph Office in Peterborough (about 1876) gave us a call to-day

Mr. J. A. Baker, proprietor of the Napanee Standard, Mr. E. A. Morden, of Picton, and Mr. Jno. A. Sexsmith, of Napanee, called at the EXAMINER office to-day. They are attending the annual session of the Grand Lodge, I.O.O.F.

Mr. J. R. Reid, of Brockville, the newly-elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows, is the guest of Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., during his stay in town.

Mr. W. H. Cooper of Toronto, ex-chief of police, is in town to-day.

A large camping party, comprising about twenty persons under the leadership of Mr. A. E. Dixon, left town for a two weeks' outing at Stony Lake.

Mr. James T. Johns, of the Ottawa Free Press, and member of Canton Outaouais, No. 9, gave the EXAMINER a call to-day.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

No rain of any consequence has fallen here for many days, and the earth is crisped and ready for fire to destroy vegetation. A spark from the locomotive set the dry grass burning in the field west of Keene station, last week, and now the whole field is a blackened waste.

Burnett's steam yacht "Sunbeam" towed a scow-load of lumber and lath to Keene wharf on Tuesday, for Mr. Geo. Read, who is converting the old Presbyterian church into two residences.

The trustees of Keene School have had the school house newly shingled, and are also taking steps to secure an acre and a quarter of land north of the school for play grounds, etc.

A social yachting party to Foley's Point for dinner, and sailing generally as amusement, took place on Tuesday of this week, and was a pleasant affair.

Tuesday last week, Aug. 2nd, the 'Beaver' with Capt. Harris took a company of excursionists on an investigating tour of Rice Lake generally. Leaving Keene pretty early in the morning, they went west to the Otonabee river, up which they sailed for some miles, then returned and went west to Bewdley, where they dined.

Next, Gore's Landing was visited, and the canoe factory of Herald's inspected. Some fine specimens of boats were in stock. Then the merry party went eastward, sailing swiftly with the current down the lake, past exquisite panoramas of island and shore, which spread out on either side, like painted pictures.

Hastings was reached about 6 p.m., after a delightful trip down the river, and the happy crowd were ready to be amused with everything. The Trent River bridge swinging slowly and ponderously round to let the little steamer pass, the various craft on the river, the train from the east, all helped to vary the scene and charm the eye of the amiable tourists.

Homeward bound, with tea on board, and as the vessel neared the familiar shores songs, rounds, speeches, replys, jocularities of all sorts and species ruled the hour, and Keene was reached to the strains of the Queen's Anthem in royal style. The day was a well spent and joyous one throughout.

Mr. Charles Massie, of Seymour East and the Misses Mather, of Menie, were among the guests at the water party given by Dr. and Mrs. Massie, on Tuesday the 2nd inst.

Mrs. Weldon, of Lindsay, and Mr. Roberts of Fenella, were also among the excursionists.

Oddfellow Cards.

The EXAMINER has the necessary emblematic cuts for the cards of members of the Oddfellow Order and Encampment. Every Oddfellow will feel the need of personal cards in his exchange of courtesies with the visiting brethren next month. Gentlemen requiring cards will do well to place their orders at once to save disappointment and a rush of orders towards the last.

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject of any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold in 50cts. and $1 bottles at John McKee's Drug store. eodw31

ONLY TWO BOTTLES.—Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report thrt some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both of the officers and the wife of a well known U.S.A. General had been cured of Catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm. eodw31

All Medical Authorities

Agree that catarrh is no more nor less than an inflammation of the lining membrane of the nasal air passages.

Nasal catarrh and all catarrhal affection of the head are not diseases of the blood, and it is a serious mistake to treat them as such. No conscientious physician ever attempts to do so.

It is held by eminent medical men that sooner or later a specific will be found for every disease from which humanity suffers. The facts justify us in assuming that for catarrh at least a positive cure already exists in Ely's Cream Balm. eodw32

NUMBERING THE DEAD.

KILLED AND WOUNDED IN THE GREAT RAILWAY DISASTER.

The Railway Officials Estimate the Dead at 84 and the Wounded at 100—The Bodies of the Victims Rifled of Valuables by Thieves.

CHATSWORTH, Ill., Aug. 12.—The track will be cleared for trains by noon. All the bodies have been removed from the wreck. President Leonard said that so far as the railroad officials could estimate there were about 84 killed and 100 seriously wounded. There were many who were slightly injured of whom no record had been obtained. Leonard said as near as he could ascertain the train was making 30 miles an hour at the time of the accident, which was not an excessive rate of speed, as the track was in good condition. The bridge, an ordinary 15-foot wooden structure, was all right at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when a train passed over it, and half an hour later the section men inspected it under orders in advance of the excursion. It was all right then. As to the liability of the company or to the future of the road President Leonard could not say anything. The first things the officials would do would be to devote their attention to the care of the victims. It was a blow which would of course be serious to the road, but that was nothing compared with the death and injury of human beings. Mr. Leonard said he could in all conscience say that he believed the road had provided every reasonable and customary safeguard. With the consent of the coroner, President Leonard has arranged that all unclaimed bodies will be cared for, and placed in coffins and conveyed to Peoria, where with all their effects they will wait identification.

Notwithstanding the contrary opinions expressed by the railroad officers, a survey of the wreck early to-day confirmed the belief that several bodies were still under the debris of the smashed engine and cars. The horrors of the wreck seemed deepening early this morning instead of lessening. Added to the pitiable spectacle of the dead and the miseries of the dying, a stench, sickening and foul, was issuing from all the places where the corpses of the victims yet remained. No picture of the horrible occurrences immediately succeeding the accident could equal in revolting details the scene at the Toledo, Peoria and Western depot here to-day. The west end of the little structure is a tool-house and lumber room, where, stretched on the floor in coal and rubbish, were seven unidentified bodies.

This morning new facts apparently showing the catastrophe to have been the work of an organized band came to light, and the company find them worthy of serious investigation. Supt. Armstrong said to the Associated Press reporter that the more he investigated the more it appeared to him that the bridge had been set on fire. The burned grass in its immediate locality was not of a nature that seemed likely to admit of the bridge catching from it. He had observed many thieves at work and had stopped them while despoiling the wreck of property and money. Instances of the robbery of the dead will be brought to his attention. The excursion had been extensively advertised and the time it would pass over the bridge was well known. Citizens say that a gang of suspicious fellows have been loitering around Chatsworth for some days.

CHATSWORTH'S DAY OF BLOOD.

Terrible Scenes in the Temporary Hospitals in the Illinois Village.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A special from Forest to The Times says: "As fast as the wounded were brought into Chatsworth from the wreck they were taken directly to the Town Hall, which had been turned into a temporary hospital. Beds and cots were brought in from the neighboring houses with the necessary bedding and the sufferers were cared for by loving hands. Torn and bleeding human beings in all stages of suffering lay around the rooms moaning and crying with agony, while doctors and nurses were binding up their wounds. Bloody clothing, torn and covered with mud, lay around on the floors in heaps, with car cushions or rug trousers and blankets on which they had been brought from the wreck. Many patients were under the influence of ether or chloroform, while their faces, ghastly white and teeth tightly clenched, showed the suffering which they were undergoing, while partially oblivious to the fact. Blood was everywhere on the floors, walls, clothing and hands of the wounded as well as those who were caring for them. As the day wore away and the ghastliness shadows lengthened into the evening, the scenes changed somewhat. The wounded had been dressed and bandaged and most of them rested quietly enough, overcome by mental and physical sufferings. Lamps were placed around the halls, their light carefully shaded, and the scene was strongly suggestive of the interior of a hospital on the field of battle.

In one corner of the lowly hall lay John C. Stein, a resident of Jersey City, a large and powerful man. Both of his legs were broken and he had received such internal injuries as rendered his recovery doubtful.

On the upper floor a handsome woman, about 30 years of age, stylishly dressed, lay on a couch. She was Miss Hattie Brenner of Farmington, Ill., and was on her way to Niagara Falls with several of her relatives. In the party was a young man named Walters, also of Farmington, and to whom she was engaged to be married. He had been badly injured and lay near her on a bed attended by a couple of surgeons. While Miss Brenner was physically unhurt by the wreck, yet the fright and knowledge of her lover's injuries has rendered her insane.

In the depot at Chatsworth and in the unoccupied store used as a morgue the scene was suggestive of a slaughter house. Stretched out on the floors in different directions were the corpses of men, women and children dressed in the clothing in which they had met their death. In the empty storeroom were counted twenty-seven corpses at one time. Their clothing was torn and dishevelled and their stiffened hands and arms in the majority of cases were crossed over their breasts. The heads of the dead were generally mangled in the most frightful manner and were always covered by some article of clothing. The face of a young woman who was lying on the floor of the depot had been so beaten in by the cruel car timbers that recognition was out of the question and her brains and the flesh of her face were a pulpy mass in which dribbled her long red hair. She was not identified. A man with a heavy dark mustache, and who was apparently 35 years of age, had been struck in the face by some object which had torn away his jaw and the side of his face exposed. A 5-year-old boy with a chubby face and curly hair looked contented and smiling. His legs alone were broken, but the flesh was so mangled that it bore the appearance of raw beef. His chest was also crushed in.

Nearly every corpse was mangled or disfigured. The faces of some of the dead were black as though they had died from suffocation, while others were as ghastly white.

When the body of Edward L. Adkins was examined by one of his friends neither his pocketbook nor his gold watch could be found, although he was known to have started on the trip with a large sum of money. The only cash found on his person was $30, which he had hidden in the watch pocket of his trousers. S. H. Smither of Forkshaven, W. Va., informed a reporter that he saw a man who was pinned down by one of the cars offer several persons near by $100 and his gold watch and chain if they would release him. The persons to whom he appealed helped him out of the wreck as soon as they had assisted some women who were caught by the timbers.

Opening of the Inquest.

FORREST, Ill., Aug. 12.—In his testimony before the coroner's jury last night Superintendent Armstrong, of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, testified that he was on the ill-fated train. The bridge was only partially demolished when the witness first saw it, the stringers at both ends having gone down. Dirt and brush were thrown on the flames. The engine set fire to nothing, and only one car and a Pullman were slightly burned. Witness met the section foreman near the wreck after the occurrence, and the latter said he went over the section at 5.30 on Wednesday and there was no fire then. Witness had warned him to have the section hands go over the section after quitting work, knowing that the excursion train was going over the road that night. No train went over the bridge after 5.30 on Wednesday. Witness counted the tickets before reaching Chatsworth and found that there were a few over 600 persons on the train. About a week ago the grass along the right of way near the bridge had been burned off. The train was running, he judged, thirty-five miles an hour at the time of the accident. Engineer Sutherland told him he saw a very small blaze before reaching the bridge but thought it was from a few leaves burning outside the track. The engineer also told him he did not see the fire until he got directly over the bridge, and then he called for brakes, but it was too late to avoid the accident. Witness saw one or two persons examining the pockets of the dead. He was informed by those making the search that they were seeking for their relatives. He saw no one robbing the dead or cutting off the fingers of the dead to secure finger rings.

J. H. Markley, Master of Bridges and Buildings, testified that he inspected the bridge in May last. Its condition was good. Witness examined the bridge yesterday and found nothing left but a portion of the partially burned cars and a few pieces of small timber. The ashes were burned off close to the ground. Three or four of them were sticking up two feet above the ground. Witness thought it would take two hours for such a bridge to burn. Other bridges on the road had been on fire this year, but had been seen in time to prevent accidents.

At the morning session some decidedly significant testimony was given. Timothy Coughlan, the section foreman, testified that he had four men helping him on his six and a half miles. He received orders on Wednesday to go over his section and see that the bridge and tracks were all right. Coughlin went to the east end of the section and burned the grass along the track for half a mile. He burned a piece a little over half a mile from the wreck and put the fire out. He examined the bridge about 5 o'clock and found no smoke about it, and otherwise it was all right. About 3 weeks ago the grass under the bridge had been cut away for ten feet from the bridge timbers, and he had no idea how the bridge could have caught fire.

Christopher Ennis, the Road Master, said he went over the road on Wednesday from Fairbury to Gilman. He went over the fatal bridge just before 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He was on the rear of the car and said that the bridge was all right. There was no fire or smoke about the bridge. Ennis said: "My opinion is that the bridge was set on fire by somebody. My train was the last train over before the special, and if there was fire the men would have discovered it. The bridge could have burned in two or three hours. About three years ago two attempts were made to ditch the 10 o'clock train at that bridge and we kept a watchman there for six weeks. Obstructions were piled on the track. It is a very lonesome place, far from any house."

Among the dead at Piper City are C. P. Van Law of Galesburg, who died last night; Miss Pearl Adams of Peoria, and Mrs. Valentine of New York.

The Officials Roundly Denounced.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A special from Chatsworth says there were very few stimulants or in fact medical appliances or assistance of any kind on the ground. A man from Piper City brought a demijohn of whisky; but the railroad seemed to have done practically nothing. Men from Chatsworth who worked all night at the wreck were refused passage on the train going back to the village, and had to tramp home in a half fainting condition for want of food. The people are very bitter against the company, and say that the officials, whether from demoralization, or excitement, or from absolute pigheadedness acted most inhumanly in many cases, and treated the wounded most shamefully. There was nothing to hinder the officials from running trains back and forth eastward to Gilman and westward to Chatsworth all through the night, carrying away the wounded and bringing back supplies, but nothing of this kind was done.

The fact that the dry prairie grass grew right up to the line was, or should have been, known to the officials, and the fact that the wooden trestle work across the culvert was burned by the sun until it was inflammable as tinder was also known or should have been. If ordinary precautions had been observed the accident would not have occurred.

A CRANK'S AWFUL CRIME.

A TORONTO TOBACCONIST BLINDED BY A VITRIOL THROWER.

The Young Man's Terrible Experience in His Father's Cigar Store—Edward Graham, a Comparative Stranger, Causes Him to Suffer the Most Damnable Agonies.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.

Toronto has had cases of vitriol throwing, but undoubtedly the worst took place shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning in the cigar store of Louis Sievert, in the basement of the Dominion Bank, in Yonge-street. Mr. Sievert also has a cigar store in King-street in the basement of The Mail building. The victim of yesterday's terrible affair was Louis Sievert, jr., aged 23, who was associated with his father in the business, and who boards with his parents at 59 Queen-street west, and the dastard was a man who registered at Police Headquarters as: "Edward Graham, aged 40, no home, clerk, English, $1.14 found on his person."

Story in Command.

Sievert had not been down in the store long, and, business being slack as such an early hour, he sat in his easy chair behind the window and [illegible] the door reading a paper. Graham, who had been [illegible] the store several times [illegible] of the day, [illegible] Sievert, entered and walked [illegible] counter fronting in front of the [illegible] door. [illegible] I show you [illegible] and threw down [illegible] was unlocked but closed. As he reached there Graham raised his right hand and without saying a word threw fully two ounces of vitriol into his face and then walked quickly out, laying upon the counter a queer tin article which had contained the burning fluid. Sievert raised an agonizing cry and felt the sight leave his left eye. Notwithstanding this he groped his way outside the counter, and staggering quickly to the door, exclaimed to Robert Gamble, who was passing: "That man has thrown vitriol in my face. Chase him!"

The Pursuit and Capture.

Mr. Gamble looked around for an officer and saw Policeman Patton standing at the north-east corner of King and Yonge streets. He yelled to Patton, who ran to the shop door where Gamble was supporting Sievert. Then being told that the fiend ran towards Colborne-street, he followed. Mr. Alexander Foley, city traveler for J. Shields & Co., who was passing Sievert's and noticed the young man and Graham there, joined in the chase. Graham ran as fast as he could across the stone pavement of Yonge-street, then along the east side of Colborne-street, down which he turned. Patton followed at a good pace and nabbed him at Scott-street. He started with him to Police Headquarters and meeting another policeman said that his prisoner had thrown vitriol, and told him to go to the shop. Hearing this Graham said: "I didn't throw anything on him." That was all he said on the way to the station

Mr. Sievert's Injuries.

As the policeman started off after Graham, Mr. Gamble, who had been supporting Mr. Sievert, led him to E. Hooper's drug store. There he was taken into the dispensing room and fixed in an arm chair with pillows under him, his feet resting on another chair. He suffered excruciating agony as he lay there moaning and writhing before the attendants and a few friends who had been admitted. Mr. Hooper and his clerks pulled off his collar, tie, coat and vest, which were burned in many places by the vitriol, leaving a dark red stain. The white satin tie had holes eaten into it as if by rats, while down the front of his trousers were red marks which hissed and foamed when water touched them. Steps were at once taken to ease the poor fellow's pain. Cooling lotions were applied, and though Sievert was suffering terrible agony he bore it bravely.

His Terrible Sufferings.

Once when the top of his head was touched he writhed like a snake and cried: "My God, I'm burning up!" Later, when he felt easier, he said: "Oh, if I had a revolver I'd have shot him dead!" and more than one voice said that it would have been justifiable. By his condition it was judged that the fluid must have struck him full on the forehead and top of the head and then flowed down his face. The top of the head, his face and neck were all burned, and so were both hands to above the wrists, these evidently being burned when he threw up his hands to protect himself.

Dr. Cook was summoned by telephone, and when he arrived he found the young man still suffering terribly. He asked for a drink and was given some soda water, but he spat this out foaming, showing that some of the vitriol had entered his mouth. His sufferings were heartrending, and while he was thus writhing in the throes of agony his father entered, and gazing at his son burst into tears and could scarcely be controlled. A lotion of whiting and oil was spread over the young man's face and head, giving him a ghastly look. Dr. Cook gave him two hypodermic injections of morphine, which eased the pain, and did everything possible to make him comfortable.

During all this while the young man was perfectly conscious and inquired pitifully if his injuries were likely to prove fatal. He was much reassured when told that they were not. He said he felt the greatest pain in the left side of the face, and on the top of the head, which, he said, was "burning like a fog-horn." He felt no pain in his left eye, but could not see out of it. With the right he was able to recognize those he knew. It was an awful sight, and the remark of Dr. Cook that the man who did the deed should be crucified was echoed by all present.

Mr. Sievert's Statement.

While being treated in Hooper's Mr. Sievert told what he knew of Graham. He said that he was acquainted with him for only a week past, and that Graham had been in the habit of entering the shop nearly every day, buying a cigar and chatting pleasantly. He had stated that he was in Toronto at the time the Thirteenth Hussars were here, and served as cook with them. It was thirteen years since he left, and he had traveled much abroad. He was talking of going to Montreal. Sievert says he had an idea that the man was a little "cranky." He had no reason whatever to assign for the cause of the terrible deed.

At 9.30 the ambulance drew up in front of the door, and Mr. Sievert, carefully wrapped up, with his head swathed in linen, was lifted in and removed to the Hospital. During the day he suffered much pain, but the surgeons were in hopes of saving his eyesight. His face, however, will be greatly disfigured. In the afternoon Constable Keany took Graham to the Hospital, where Mr. Sievert fully identified him as his assailant.

The Fiend's Statement.

On examining his clothes the detectives found that Graham's coat, hat and vest and the lining of one of his pockets were burned with vitriol, as were also his fingers. The only information he could give was that he was passing the store when young Sievert rushed out and ran against him. He says that he comes originally from Cardiff, Wales, where he worked for Richard Whiteside, a ship broker, and that he has been in this country only six weeks. Before he came out, however, he worked in the Union Bank, London, England, as an assistant cashier. He landed in Montreal and failing to obtain work drifted to Ashburnham, a village across the Otonabee River from Peterboro. From that he came to Toronto. Enquiry shows that on Wednesday and Thursday nights he stayed at the Bay Horse Hotel, Yonge-street. He was quiet there, paid his bills and was not observed to drink.

In the Police Court.

At 11 o'clock, the court room being crowded, for the news of the occurrence had quickly spread, Graham, minus his coat, was ushered into the dock to answer to the charge of felonious wounding. The front of his head is somewhat bald and the rest covered with a short cut crop of iron gray hair. He has a moustache of the same color. His features are sharp and he bore rather a frightened look. The clothes he wore are quite new. Just before entering the pen he had partly admitted his guilt by asking Detective Hebburn, "What do you think I'll get for this?" In reply to a question as to whether he was ready to go on with his trial he first said "No" and then "Yes." Ald. Baxter, who was presiding, remanded him for a week, to await the result of Mr. Sievert's injuries.

The receptacle in which Graham carried the vitriol is a peculiar one. It consists of what looks like two small toy tin teapots without handles or spouts, about two inches high and soldered on to a piece of tin about 6x3 inches. They have tin lids with cork rims and when fastened down the contents could not escape. "Lou" Sievert is well known in Toronto, and there is throughout the whole city a general feeling of sympathy for him.

Last night the doctors at the Hospital had made up their minds that Sievert would positively lose the sight of the left eye. The sufferer was doing well under the circumstances. For hours last night crowds of young men gathered in front of the cigar store and gazed curiously within on the scene of the outrage.

The liquid used by Graham was oil of vitriol or sulphuric acid.

THE VENTUREBOME PRINCE.

Ferdinand Issues a Manifesto to the Bulgarian People.

WIDDIN, Aug. 12.—Prince Ferdinand has issued a manifesto in which he says: "Having been elected sovereign of the Bulgarian people, I consider it my sacred duty to set foot at the earliest possible moment on my new country in order to devote my life to the happiness, greatness and progress of a loving people. I am convinced that they will support my endeavors to realize a glorious future for Bulgaria."

Austria Opposed to the Prince's Course.

VIENNA, Aug. 12.—Major Labeso, who is accompanying Prince Ferdinand, has been compelled to resign his commission in the Austrian army under pain of arrest. Count Zichy, who went with Prince Ferdinand to Orsova, asserts that Count Kalnoky, the Imperial Minister of Foreign Affairs, wrote on Tuesday to Prince Ferdinand exhorting him in solemn and even harsh terms not to go to Bulgaria. Count Kalnoky is going to Ischl to consult with Emperor Francis Joseph on the situation. Prince Ferdinand embarked at Turnseverin on the steamer Orient for Widdin.

HUDSON'S BAY AND BEHRING SEA.

Lieutenant Gordon's report confirms others which have alluded to the complete possession which the Americans have taken of the whale and other fisheries in Hudson's Bay. Other investigators have gone beyond him in their expostulations, and have pointed out that considerable trade is done with the natives in articles that have paid no duties to the Canadian Customs. In his report, however, mention is made of the use of explosives by the Americans, and he urges that this should be abolished, and that a close season of five years should be given to prevent the extinction of the whale. In their methods of fishing the Americans are in one respect like Indians; rather worse than Indians. They fish the place for all it is worth while they can, and let the future take care of itself. It is in this way that they have destroyed so much of their own fishing grounds, and it is in this way that they would destroy the Canadian fisheries also, if they were allowed. It may be that our own fishermen are not much better, but our laws for the preservation of the fish are at least better, or better enforced than those of the Americans, with the result that we have fish and they have not. The Ottawa Government, that seldom do anything in Canada's interest until they are forced into action, should devote some attention to Hudson's Bay. In the Behring Sea, which is by nature far less a mare clausum than Hudson's Bay, Canadian vessels, sealing or trading vessels, are seized in the most high-handed way, and their crews tried by a burlesque judge, under the control of the Alaska Fur Company, sitting on some Alaskan glacier, who, when he feels so disposed, communicates the proceedings of his frigid court to the Attorney-General at Washington. The Canadian Government do not seem to obtain redress either for past outrages or immunity from seizure for future voyagers, but they calmly allow the Americans the free and exclusive use of Hudson's Bay and do not take the trouble either to collect Customs duties on the articles traded with the natives ashore, or to regulate the manner in which the creatures of those waters may be killed.—Montreal Herald.

ACCORDING to the Health Journal, ten persons out of every 76 die suddenly, the death rate from consumption among women is very much greater than among men, and the deaths from suicide among men are four times greater than among women. Dr. Crothers, in that journal, says that among the children of clergymen there are six times as many idiots and feeble-minded children as among the children of lawyers. Dr. Playter suggests that while this rule may hold good in Europe, where the clergy do not represent the brain and vigor of the educated classes, it would not hold good in North America.

Discovery of Coal.

(Campbellford Herald.)

The public mind of this locality is just now absorbed over the supposed discovery of coal in Rawdon township, and the result of the mining now being done is looked forward to with great interest.

The deposit is situated on the farm of Mr. Charles Nix, about ten miles east o Campbellford. At the spot which has attracted so much attention, there is a spring from which, for years past, has come up small particles of coal. It affords a watering place for cattle, and Mr. Nix first noticed the coal when frequenting the spring sixteen years ago. Last year he related what he had seen to Dr. McCrea, of Campbellford, whose curiosity was aroused, and he requested Mr. Nix to keep the discovery a secret. The Dr. visited the spring and was satisfied that there was coal somewhere in that locality. Some weeks ago he contracted for the purchase of upwards of thirty farms in that neighbourhood, which he stated were to be devoted to a stock farm, his nephew of New York State, being largely concerned in the scheme. It turns out, however, that it is a stock of coal that he hopes to reap from the speculation.

Pieces of coal were blasted out, and the Dr. took them to Pittsburgh, Penn., and subjected them to the analysis of an experienced man who said they were better than anything in Pennsylvania, and different from anything he had ever seen. While returning home he placed the specimens before a geologist in Toronto for his inspection, and that gentleman expressed his surprise at its superior quality; but he could not credit the story of it having come from Rawdon until Dr. McCrea assured him he himself had seen it taken from the ground.

Encouraged by the reports thus received of the purity of the coal, the Dr. determined upon exploring further, and this week a gang of men has been set to work to open up the coal mine. Experts from Toronto are expected to visit the place shortly, to give their views regarding the existence of coal.

[This is "important if true." The geologists however, will not be disposed to take much stock in the story or the company. When they say there is no coal in a certain region they mean it, and they are generally correct.

Harvey.

COUNCIL.

The Harvey Council met at the Clerk's office on Monday, August 8th, pursuant to adjournment.

Members all present. After routine a by-law was passed to provide for levying the rates and taxes in Harvey, for County, school and township purposes,—County levy, $769.68; Township, $909; S.S. No. 1, $200; No. 2, $300; No. 3, $256; No. 4, $175; No. 6, $150; No. 7, $220; No. 8, $400.

A by-law was passed assenting to the provisions of the County by-law No. 598, assuming all the bridges over one hundred feet in length.

A by-law was passed re appointing William Irwin as collector of taxes in Harvey for 1887.

The sum of $3.25 was ordered to be paid to Daniel Ward for repairing crossway on beat No. 37.

Messrs. Hicks and Ingram were appointed to go and examine for a road north from Gilmour's depot to the boundary, on Thursday, the 11th August.

On motion passed, the Council adjourned to meet at the Town Hall on Monday, the 3rd day of October next.

CROP PROSPECTS.

The crops in Harvey are light, wheat and peas are far below the average, oats are pretty fair, and potatoes and root crops are more promising.

The late spring and continued drouth dried up the cereals, causing an early harvest all in a heap. Farmers are busy harvesting oats and peas.

Our Mr. Hicks, Overseer, is busy with his gang of men, opening up another link of the government road between lots 20 and 21, concessions 14 and 15, Harvey. When completed it will shorten travel for a large number of settlers.

One of our new settlers, Wm. Graham, had the misfortune to lose a valuable three year old colt by a sharp stick piercing its body.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.
